682. Wheelwright's work—wheels, axles, tyres, breaks, tools, and materials.
683. Machines and tools—lathes; punching, shearing, rivetting, planing, morticing, moulding, and tenoning.

Class.
684. Saws of all kinds
685. Blacksmiths' work.
686. Stonebreakers, brickmaking, tiles, drainpipe making machinery.
687. Bricks, tiles, drainpipes, including all apparatus connected with draining of land.
688. Bread and biscuit making machinery.
689. Sugar making Machinery—mills, boilers, vacuum pans, centrifugal machines.
690. Ice-making machinery.
691. Aërated water and bottling machines.
692. Weaving and cloth-making machines.
693. Printing, type-making, ruling machines, and machinery connected with printing.
694. Fire-engines, extincteurs, pumps, cranes, gauges, registering instruments.
695. Harness and saddlery.
696. Farriery and tools appertaining thereto.
697. Models of all kinds.
698. Locks of colonial manufacture.
699. Sewing machines.

SECTION VII.—FOOD: FRESH, PRESERVED, OR IN VARIOUS STATES OF PRESERVATION.

Class.
700. Cereals—wheaten flour, 1st and 2nd quality.
701. Malt, barley meal, pearl barley.
702. Oatmeal.
703. Maize meal, maizena, maize malt.
704. Buckwheat meal.
705. Rice meal.
706. Arrowroot, tapioca, sago, or any other farinaceous preparation.
707. Bread, pastry, and biscuits.
708. Fatty substances—Lard, and best method of preserving butter, milk, and eggs.
709. Meat—Preserved meat not less than 28 lbs.; cooked ditto; salted ditto; spiced ditto. Prices to be stated on certificate of entry.
710. Essences and extracts.
711. Salted fish; dried ditto; fresh ditto (preserved); trepang or beche-de mer, isinglass.
712. Preserved fruits, in syrups.
713. Preserved fruits, in water.
714. Jams and jellies.
715. Candied fruits.
716. Preserved fruits—process not specified.
717. Dried fruits.
718. Preserved vegetables.
719. Nuts—Walnuts, filberts, almonds.
720. Condiments—Pepper, red, white or black.
Ginger, (dry): capers, olives, &c.; mustard, curry powder, sauces, spices, coffee, tea, chocolate, cocoa, or substitutes.
721. Pickles.
722. Honey in comb and bottle.
723. Beehives, and things pertaining to bees.
724. Confectionery.

Fermented and other drinks.

725. Ale, draught.
726. Porter, draught.
727. Ale, bottled.
728. Porter, bottled.
729. Cider, perry, and others.
730. Spirits.
731. Cordials.
732. Syrups.
733. Aërated waters.
734. Mineral waters.
735. Vinegar—Malt or wine.

SECTION VIII.—ARTIZANS' PRIZES.

☞ These prizes are intended to encourage the exhibition of specimens of superior workmanship in wood, metal, stone, leather, &c., and can only be competed for by the actual producers thereof.

Inventions.

Class.
736. In order to encourage mechanical genius, known to exist to a much greater extent than is generally supposed, silver medals will be awarded for the invention of the highest economical value—mechanical, chemical, or other—such having been discovered within the year.

Workmanship.

Class.
737 In order to encourage excellence of workmanship, bronze medals will be awarded to Colonial workmen, for work executed during the last twelve months, in wood, metal, textile fibres, leather, or other materials. Competitors need not be members of the Society; nor will they be charged any fee for entry of exhibit.

SECTION IX.—SCHOOLS.

Prizes will be awarded to Public Schools and children attending schools under the Council of Education, under the following regulations:—I. Certificates of merit will be offered for competition among the children of each school, the objects of competition being—

Class.
738. For girls—Plain needlework.
739. Fancy needlework and embroidery.
740. For boys—Mechanical contrivances.
741. Wood carving.
742. Collections of natural history, viz.: Wild flowers (dried); stuffed birds, insects, shells (collections), in which beauty of arrangement will be as much regarded as excellence of specimens.
743. Drawing (open to both boys and girls).

A bronze medal will be awarded to the school taking the greatest number of such prizes.

Each school is to be limited to one exhibit in each of the above named classes.

Exhibits intended for competition will have to be selected by the Local Boards, and forwarded to the Exhibition Building, with full particulars connected therewith.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT OF THE BOARD OF REVENUE ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE SALT DEPARTMENT FOR 1877-78.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.—MIS. REVENUE.

Calcutta, the 26th September 1878.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The Report of the Board of Revenue on the Administration of the Salt Department for 1877-78.

THE receipts of the year show an increase of Rs. 7,64,417 over those of 1876-77, and that notwithstanding a falling off of Rs. 31,753 in receipts from golah rents. Under all the other headings, viz. duties on imported and excise salt, rowannah fees, and miscellaneous receipts, there was an improvement amounting in gross to Rs. 7,96,170. The receipts of the last five years stand thus—

	Rs.
1873-74	2,59,92,661
1874-75	2,64,87,143
1875-76	2,53,41,925
1876-77	2,56,90,656
1877-78	2,64,55,073

2. The following table shows the stocks, imports, manufacture, and clearances for consumption of the last five years :—

	1873-74.	1874-75.	1875-76.	1876-77.	1877-78.
	Mds.	Mds.	Mds.	Mds.	Mds.
Stocks at commencement of year	23,25,766	20,59,418	20,87,317	41,53,880	42,50,816
Imported and manufactured during the year	78,41,600	82,88,081	1,00,24,736	82,66,990	64,63,127
Cleared for consumption	79,44,247	81,99,389	79,14,513	81,07,022	84,82,362
Wastage, &c.	1,63,704	60,793	43,660	63,032	1,03,213
Balance at close of year	20,59,418	20,87,317	41,53,880	42,50,816	21,28,566

3. There was a further decrease in imports during the year, as the heavy stocks received in 1874-75 had still to be worked off. The imports by sea of 1877-78 were only 62,92,141 maunds, against 78,58,142 in 1876-77 and 97,00,310 in 1875-76. This decrease in imports occurred both at Calcutta and Chittagong, but was attributable in the case of the latter port to local stagnation of trade and distress arising from the cyclone of 31st October 1876. The importations into Calcutta fell off from every port except Bombay. The continued falling off in the imports from continental Europe, Egypt, and the Arabian and Persian Gulfs is an unsatisfactory feature in the returns of the last few years. Chittagong took the bulk of its supply as usual from Great Britain, but 23,698 mannds were this year also received by it from Madras. Balasore had an import of 5,992 maunds from Madras, the first time for many years that salt has been imported into that saliferous district.

4. The clearances of salt for consumption stood thus—

	Quantity. Mds.	Duty. Rs.
Sales of imported salt from shipboard ...	54,59,877	1,69,59,194
Ditto ditto from bond ...	26,51,799	82,78,811
Sales of excise salt	3,70,686	10,03,065
Total ...	84,82,362	2,62,41,070

5. The increased consumption indicated by increased clearances is very satisfactory. From the returns of internal trade which are now being compiled in this office, it would appear that the most marked increase was in Behar, where the average consumption of the population rose to nearly the same standard as that of Bengal generally, being this year upwards of 10lbs. per head after making all allowances for export beyond the province. The general increase in consumption throughout Bengal in a year of very high prices is a certain sign of the prosperity of the agricultural classes, and a proof that the profits arising from the sale of their crops at abnormal rates have to some extent reached them and remained with them.

6. It will be seen that the stocks in hand at the close of the year had fallen nearly to the figures of 1873-74 and 1874-75. They are probably as low as they can be with safety in view of the increased consumption likely to follow the reduction of duty. Any disturbance of trade in Europe, or any accident to the Suez Canal, might have very serious effects on the Bengal supply of salt, and it is desirable to have at least four months' consumption in hand.

7. The manufacture of excise salt was very slack during the year, the total outturn being 1,70,986 maunds, against 4,07,975 manuds in 1876-77. The decreased outturn in Balasore was owing to failure of the manufacture—a fact which also accounts for the import to that place of Madras salt. In Pooree the trade was a losing one owing to the competition of Ganjam salt, and it was only kept up at all by the anticipation of the relief which the Government of India has since given by raising the duty on Ganjam salt and paying the cost of preventive establishments in Pooree from Imperial Funds. The actual demand for country-made salt was brisker in the 24-Pergunnahs and Pooree than in 1876-77, while the sales were smaller in Cuttack and Balasore.

8. It is impossible to compare profitably the consumption of salt for 1877-78 in the saliferous tracts within which the rowannah system is in force with the consumption of previous years, owing to the reduction of the area affected by that system, which took effect on the 1st April 1877. Wherever it has been found possible to compare the consumption of the two years in the same area, the result is to show an increase, with the single exception of Noakholly, where there was a decrease owing to the effects of the cyclone upon the circumstances of the people, and possibly to illicit manufacture for home consumption by the sufferers from that calamity.

It is too soon as yet to judge properly of the effects of the modifications and limitations of the rowannah system referred to above. The Board, in paragraphs 27 to 32 of their report, discuss this so far as the available information goes. It would appear that, as regards Midnapore, the 24-Pergunnahs and Backergunge, both in the still protected tracts, and in the districts as a whole of which these form a part, there has been an increase of consumption, or at any rate no falling off. Chittagong shows an increase of consumption in the protected tracts, though there was a decrease in the district as a whole. Noakholly, as already noticed, shows a falling off. The population of the protected tracts, as now defined, in Cuttack and Balasore being unknown, no proper comparison can be made. The Collector of the 24-Pergunnahs thinks that the measure has given a stimulus to legitimate trade. The Collector of Noakholly is not in favour of the withdrawal of the restrictions, and it has in fact been found necessary to extend the rowannah system again to certain parts of this district. In Cuttack the excluded area is very insignificant, and the change can have had little effect either way. In Pooree the Collector anticipates more illicit manufacture, but there are not sufficient data as yet for the formation of a trustworthy opinion. The Collector of Balasore believes that there has been no injurious effect upon the revenue, but a great part of this district is still under the rowannah system. After another year's experience a better judgment will be possible than can now be formed.

9. The number of seizures of salt in the saliferous tracts was 821, against 860 in the previous year, and the quantity seized was 2,894 maunds, against 878 maunds. But owing to the failure of one heavy case in the Howrah district, in which 1,231 maunds were released, the amount confiscated was only 671 maunds as against 411 maunds in 1876-77; 492 maunds were under attachment at the close of the year. It is stated that, apart from the Howrah case, the results are on the whole favourable to the police; for, while fewer petty cases were prosecuted, they detected a larger number of a more important character.

10. The number of fresh prosecutions under the salt laws instituted during the year was 1,122 as against 1,591 in 1876-77. In 1,057 out of 1,134 cases brought to trial in the year convictions were obtained, the figures for the previous year being 1,520 out of 1,599. The percentage of convictions was 95·3 against 96·5. Rs. 6,584 were realized as fines, against Rs. 9,223 in 1876-77: 48·2 per cent. of the realizations were paid away as rewards.

The decrease in cases instituted occurred in Midnapore, the 24-Pergunnahs, Backergunge, Noakholly, Pooree, and Balasore. In Howrah, Jessore, Chittagong, and Cuttack there was an increase. The decrease was chiefly in cases of illicit manufacture, and of neglect to certify sales or losses on rowannahs. In Pooree and Noakholly, however, the net decrease arose from the number of breaches of technical rules, there being an actual increase in illicit manufacture, as there was also in Chittagong. The high prices of food in Noakholly and Chittagong after the cyclone no doubt tempted the people to manufacture illicit salt. Generally speaking, the offences under the salt law are not serious. The following statement shows the number of cases of illicit manufacture in each district:—

Midnapore	122	19
Howrah	6	7
24-Pergunnahs	495	364
Jessore	1	.....
Backergunge	.....	9
Chittagong	123	244
Noakholly	26	82
Cuttack	6	1
Pooree	2	16
Balasore	8	8

Judging from the punishments, most of the cases were petty. The very small number of cases in the Orissa saliferous tracts, as compared with the 24-Pergunnahs and Chittagong, is remarkable. The sudden falling off in Midnapore leads to a doubt whether the police have done their duty properly in 1877-78.

11. The return of salt conveyed into the interior shows an increase of 99,086 maunds in the quantity leaving Calcutta by water, and of 3,47,349 maunds in the despatches by rail; the total despatched by rail and river being 79,41,633 maunds, against 74,95,198 maunds in the previous year. These figures are, however, incomplete, and do not show the whole export from Calcutta inwards. This will be given more fully in the report on internal trade.

12. The falling off in the demand for bonding accommodation in Calcutta has received the attention of the Board and Government, and steps have been taken to make the incidence of the charges for rent more equitable with reference to the amount of storage required by each bonder, so as to induce the trade to make more use of the Government warehouses.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

A. MACKENZIE,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL GENERAL REPORT OF THE PRESIDENCY DIVISION FOR THE YEAR 1877-78.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.—MISCELLANEOUS.

Calcutta, the 25th September 1878.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The General Administration Report of the Presidency Division for 1877-78.

MR. R. L. MANGLES was Commissioner throughout the year. The report is submitted by Mr. Peacock, his locum tenens.

2. Annual tours.—The Commissioner of the Presidency Division finds his work at head-quarters too heavy and multifarious to admit of his leaving Calcutta for any length of time. Mr. Mangles made, however, very thorough inspections of the three sudder stations of his division—of the Bongong sub-divisional office, of the Calcutta Collectorate, and of the toll office at Dhappa. None of the district officers were a sufficient time out in camp. Mr. Hodgkinson, the Collector of Moorshedabad, was altogether only 32 days on tour, the Collector of Jessore, Mr. Page, only 45 days, and the Collector of the 24-Pergunnahs 48 days. The Lieutenant-Governor cannot accept the excuse of want of leisure for the neglect of such an important duty. Even when he was on tour, Mr. Hodgkinson is reported by the Commissioner to have done little besides inspecting the sub-divisions of Lalbagh and Rampore Haut, and a few police-stations. Even if pressure of work at head-quarters could be admitted as an excuse in the case of district officers, it cannot certainly be allowed in the case of the sub-divisional officers, who can take all their work with them. Very few of them seem to have done a proper amount of mofussil inspection, and Mr. Reily, of Lalbagh, never attempted to go out at all. Commissioners must specially impress upon their subordinates that each district officer should be in the interior of his district at least three months in each year, and each sub-divisional officer at least four months. The tours need not always be crowded into the cold weather. In many districts of Bengal the rains are the best time at which to travel. District officers are quite losing their hold over the people from their habit of never seeing them except in court or in office. No district officer can possibly be efficient who does not know his district well, and who has not, by moving freely about the country, learnt something of the village life of the people. There has been a great change in this respect in late years, and it has been attended with the worst results.

3. Weather and crops.—The rainfall was full and sufficient up to the middle of October, and the early and late rice crops were at least average. But owing to the want of showers later on the cold weather crops proved short. In the 24-Pergunnahs jute cultivation is extending, especially in Baraset, as also is the cultivation of sugarcane and the date-palm. The indigo crop was poor both in Nuddea and Jessore. In Moorshedabad the yield of all the crops was fair.

4. Public health.—The year was generally an unhealthy one. In the 24-Pergunnahs malarious fever was unusually prevalent, particularly in the Barrackpore and Barripore sub-divisions. Measures were being taken for the examination of the drainage and water-ways, obstructions in which were supposed to have led to the outbreak. In various parts of Nuddea the same aggravated fever showed itself, and various drainage projects were consequently started. Along the banks of the Navagunga in Jessore the same disease committed great ravages, and here the people blamed the want of inundation to cleanse and fill the tanks. Moorshedabad is always feverish, and last year the district suffered more than ever. Cholera showed itself in every district, but seldom became epidemic. Small-pox was only occasionally heard of. Vaccination has done much for the Presidency Division in stopping small-pox.

5. Material condition of the people.—The year was one of progress and increased prosperity, especially in regard to the lower classes, whether ryots or artizans. The latter are able apparently in districts near the Presidency to share in the growing prosperity and gains of the former. The best proof of the generally improved condition of all classes is, as Mr. Peacock remarks, the way in which they have stood the high prices of the past year—prices actually higher than those assumed in 1874 as famine rates. Moorshedabad is, perhaps, the most backward district in the division; but even here, as elsewhere, the ryot is in a much more independent and well-to-do condition than could have been hoped for twenty-years ago. He is everywhere, however, reckless and improvident, ready to sell off all his grain while prices are high, and to squander the proceeds, and never getting out of debt to his mahajun and zemindar. There is a general agreement among the district officers as to the depressed condition of the middle classes on moderate incomes. "Too proud" (writes one officer) "to soil their respectable hands with honest labour, but not too proud to live a life of dependence on others, their field of occupation remains limited in extent, while their numbers increase. What their future will be it is difficult to foresee; but even now their existence is so precarious, that they feel the pressure of high prices of food more than their humble, but more useful, brethren." The Commissioner hopes that these classes are beginning themselves to recognise their position, and to turn their attention to trades and other means of earning a livelihood opposed to their traditions of caste and family.

6. Emigration and immigration.—So far as the resident inhabitants of the Presidency districts are concerned, there is no emigration in the division. Through Calcutta, however, pass the thousands who seek employment in the colonies or the tea districts. To them no special reference need here be made. There is also a great local influx of labourers to the Sunderbuns at harvest time from the districts around. But the immigration of buna coolies to Nuddea and Jessore is ceasing with the gradual closing of the indigo factories.

7. Prices of food and wages.—The average price of common rice in the 24-Pergunnahs during the year was 13 seers 13 chittacks per rupee, against 18 seers 7 chittacks in 1876-77. In Nuddea prices were as high as 10 seers 7 chittacks in the sudder station. In Jessore the average was 14 seers 9 chittacks, and in Moorshedabad 15 seers 3 chittacks, or nearly as high as in 1873-74. Other articles were dear in proportion, and the wages of labour followed the rise in most parts of the division.

8. Manufactures.—There is little new to add to the very full descriptions given of the manufactures of this division in former reports and reviews. The manufacture of indigo in Nuddea is becoming less profitable every year, and the plant will soon be grown only on chur lands. The crop seems too precarious for large capitalists. The cultivation of tobacco, on the other hand, is spreading. A new steam silk filature has been opened at Plassy. In Jessore the sugar manufacture increases, while indigo dwindles. Silk in Moorshedabad has again fallen back to a depressed condition.

9. Trade and commerce.—Trade in all country produce was abnormally brisk in 1877-78. It seems to have tempted some of the more respectable and hitherto uncommercial classes in Jessore to form petty companies or take shares in shops—a movement which the Lieutenant-Governor would like to see followed in many other districts. This is one of the most hopeful signs of the times, and occupation of this sort will gradually, it is hoped, absorb the numerous classes who are disinclined to, or incapable of, labour, and are unable to obtain appointments as clerks and writers. The details of traffic will be dealt with in connection with the Report on Internal Trade.

10. Public feeling.—The Turko-Russian war naturally attracted more attention about the Presidency than in the remote interior. The sympathies of the people, both Hindu and Mahomedan, are said to have been pro-Turkish. Taxation is the subject that most occupied the people's thoughts, and the general testimony goes to show that the road cess and public works cess, collected in a manner understood by the classes affected, and, in the case of the road cess at least, spent upon objects in which they take an interest, are much less unpopular than the license tax. The license tax is, however, viewed by the land-owning class with some satisfaction, as falling upon a class that has hitherto escaped from its due share of the fiscal burden. The Vernacular Press Act naturally excited much discussion; but, as Mr. Peacock observes, "it is not easy to say how far the feeling against it is that of the people themselves, or is a mere echo of the newspaper productions on the subject." Probably outside the class whose ambition it is to write, and those whose trade it is to agitate, the Act excites very little real interest of any kind.

11. Public Press.—The Presidency Division is, of course, strong in its newspaper press. There has certainly been a more moderate style of writing in the vernacular papers since the passing of Act IX of 1878. The Commissioner observes—"The change certainly came not before it was wanted. After all the most mischievous action (of the former style) was the effect it had on native officials, many of whom have an almost morbid dread of being attacked in a newspaper. The effect in this respect was undoubtedly very bad as tending to incline too great a subservience to local feelings or opinions, and to diminish self-reliance and independence."

12. Administrative changes.—The Chowkidari Act has been introduced with success into the greater part of the division. It is said to be popular with the people as a rule, and to have done much good by improving the position of the chowkidars and the control over them of the district officers. The Commissioner thinks that the bench system in the interior might now be still further developed by permitting selected Honorary Magistrates to sit without stipendiary assessors to try cases. The Lieutenant-Governor would be willing to try this if Mr. Peacock will submit definite proposals to the Judicial Department. The operations under the Land Registration Act have gone on smoothly, and the objects of the Act are being gradually appreciated.

13. Police and crime.—The crime returns may be held to point to decided improvement in the police of all four districts of the division. There is a satisfactory decrease in serious crime, and even the high prices of food have not had the effect of increasing materially offences against property, while there is, on the whole, an improvement in the results of trial. There were, however, some unfortunate failures in serious cases, and though it is said that the class of men in charge of police-stations has much improved, they are still far from being efficient detectives.

14. Civil Justice.—District Officers would make this part of their reports more interesting and full if they were to consult more freely in regard to it with the District Judge. At present the information given is very meagre, and indeed the Magistrate of the 24-Pergunnahs has made no attempt to give any information at all. In the other districts the standing complaints are repeated about the delays and expense of civil and specially of rent suits, and the corruption of the peons and process-servers.

15. Land Revenue.—Taking the division as a whole, the collections of land revenue were 93·2 per cent. of the demand, against 91·8 in 1876-77 and 90·1 in 1875-76. The improvement is in Calcutta, Moorshedabad, and the 24-Pergunnahs, while Nuddea and Jessore show a falling off, Nuddea being the worst of the two. The collections on Government estates were better than in 1876-77, but heavy arrear balances still remain unrealized. The settlement work done in Nuddea, Jessore, and Moorshedabad seems to have been very insufficient, and the number of pending cases in all these districts is far too large. The relations of landlords and tenants are described as satisfactory, but a more speedy process of realizing rents is much desired by the zemindar.

16. Excise.—The total excise revenue of the division was Rs. 20,87,924, against Rs. 18,97,382 in 1876-77, showing an increase of Rs. 1,90,542. The largest increase was in Calcutta, where there had been a serious falling off in 1876-77, and the next largest in the 24-Pergunnahs. The revenue was Rs. 2,43,057 in excess of the average of the last three years. The demand was collected in full, no remissions being required. The increase is generally accounted for by the prosperous condition of the people; but it is very unsatisfactory to see a steady increase in the consumption of ganja. The duty has been raised again this year both on ganja and opium, and it may be hoped that this will check the consumption of those drugs. The Commissioner believes that in this division much has yet to be done to check illicit practices and raise the Government revenue to its legitimate amount.

17. Salt.—The local manufacture of salt in the 24-Pergunnahs fell off considerably, the outturn being only 18,023 maunds, against 34,004 in the year preceding. The limits of the tract under the rowannah sections of the salt law were considerably reduced during the year. The police did good service in detecting cases of illicit manufacture and evasion of the law.

18. Stamps.—The stamp revenue rose from Rs. 49,72,693 to Rs. 53,95,690. Of the increase, Rs. 1,53,623 came from telegraph stamps, Rs. 1,21,059 from judicial stamps, and Rs. 55,638 from postage stamps. The increase in telegrams was caused by the Madras famine and the disturbed state of affairs in Europe.

19. Monetary matters.—The transactions of the savings banks and money order department continue to be very trifling. But there was large use made of currency notes for purposes of remittance, the demand being in Jessore and Moorshedabad greater than the Collectors were able to meet.

20. Roads and communications.—The expenditure on original works and repairs during the year from the Road Fund of each district was as follows:—

	Original works.	Repairs.
	Rs.	Rs.
24-Pergunnahs	32,038	80,836
Nuddea	10,345	63,911
Jessore	31,590	56,823
Moorshedabad	14,257	60,149

One satisfactory feature is the amounts spent upon village roads in nearly every district. More might, however, be usefully spent in this way in Nuddea.

21. Committees.—Mr. Stevens, the Collector of Nuddea, explains that he did not intend in his last year's report to speak unfavourably of his Road Cess Committees, but his opinion is that Committees are not suitable to the management of large departments dealing with large tracts of country, though they may do very well for municipal work. As Mr. Peacock very properly remarks—"Committees do not manage the departments, but rightly used are the advisers of the Magistrate as regards the wants of the district in the way of communications." A Committee properly constituted has on it men who know more or less of many parts of the district. It is to be feared that Mr. Stevens was only too ready to centre all administration and work in his own hands, with results that have certainly not been satisfactory either to himself or Government. In all other districts good and useful work was done by Committees of all kinds.

22. Cattle-pounds.—The working of the cattle-pounds has much improved, and there is a very noticeable growth in the receipts. In Nuddea, inspectors of pounds have been appointed, and in that district and the 24-Pergunnahs a new system of check is being tried, which may, it is hoped, prevent some of the extensive peculation hitherto associated with pound management.

23. Education.—There is an apparent decrease in schools and pupils, but the Inspector believes that there is no real loss, but merely an incompleteness in the returns. The Lieutenant-Governor will leave the consideration of the question for the resolution on the Director's report. It may, however, here be noted that in all the districts there has been a falling off in the number of Mahomedan pupils, owing, it is said, to the pressure of high prices. The total for the division was 28,528, against 30,944 in 1876-77. The number of girls at school has also decreased—4,560 against 4,826.

24. Wards' Estates.—The work in connection with Wards' Estates is very heavy in the 24-Pergunnahs, Jessore, and Moorshedabad. While the Paikpara estate is well and easily managed, on the other hand the estates of Satkhira and Narail are a source of constant trouble, and their management gives very unsatisfactory results. Generally, the efforts of Collectors and Managers to nurse embarrassed properties and improve sound ones are creditable to them and fairly successful. But the establishment of a strict professional audit of estate accounts is above all things necessary. The matter is now under consideration.

25. Conduct of zemindars.—There are so many good zemindars in the Presidency Division that it would be almost invidious to select any for special favourable mention. Those who are badly spoken of are few and far between.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

A. MACKENZIE,

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL GENERAL REPORT OF THE CHITTAGONG DIVISION FOR THE YEAR 1877-78.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.—MISCELLANEOUS.

Calcutta, the 25th September 1878.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

General Report on the Chittagong Division for 1877-78.

MR. E. LOWIS was Commissioner of the Division for eleven months of the past year, but the report is submitted by Mr. Beames, who took charge on the 1st of March. It appears that Mr. Lowis left no notes for the use of his successor, and Mr. Beames has consequently had great difficulties to contend with in preparing the annual report of a division which is conspicuous for its peculiar local features and for the special character of its people. It is generally understood that an officer who is relieved of his duties towards the close of the official year is not thereby absolved from the necessity of placing his successor in a position to submit an adequate account of the more important measures of the year. It might naturally be supposed that no specific directions would be required on a matter like this, and that the outgoing officer would take enough personal interest in his work to wish that its results should be fully and fairly recorded. But in practice it continually happens that Government has to put up with a meagre report, in consequence of some transfer of officers which has taken place late in the year.

2. Tours of Officers.—Mr. Lowis made a short tour for inspection purposes in the end of 1877, and went out again later on in the cold weather to visit some moonsifees in his capacity of Judge. Messrs. Currie and Porch, the district officers of Chittagong and Noakholly, made lengthy tours; but as no diaries were submitted by either of them to the Commissioner, it is impossible to know whether their time was usefully employed. Mr. Porch was absent from his head-quarters for four months and a half, and has submitted a long list of subjects which are said to have engaged his special attention, but there is nothing to show that this led to any tangible or profitable results.

3. Weather and Crops.—In Chittagong an unusually heavy and concentrated rainfall destroyed a large portion of the autumn rice crop in the northern and central parts of the district. Towards the south the outturn was better, and everywhere the extension of the area of the cold weather crops made up, in some measure, for the partial loss of the autumn rice. But the high prices arising from excessive exportation seem to have borne hardly on the lower classes. In Noakholly the rainfall was less than usual, and was well distributed, so that the people obtained a fair harvest, the cold weather crop alone being slightly deficient.

4. Public Health.—Although Chittagong is still terribly unhealthy, the general health of the people, both here and in Noakholly, is said to show some signs of improvement since the cyclone of 1876. Cholera seems to have been drowned out by the heavy rains of July and August, there being only 17 cases in the last six months of the year, though it had been exceptionally virulent in April and May. Vigorous efforts have been made to spread vaccination in Chittagong, and there seems to have been some diminution of small-pox.

5. Condition of the people.—It was remarked in the Resolution on last year's report that the fact of the people having tided over the distress following on the cyclone, without any assistance from Government, was of itself striking evidence of their generally prosperous condition. In the tracts actually devastated by the cyclone, there was some decrease in cultivation owing to the difficulty of obtaining seed-grain, and partly also from the idea that the salt-water had destroyed the fertility of the soil. The high prices of food must have pressed severely on the lower classes, but the cultivators in general have made few complaints. There have also been some complaints of the pressure of recent taxation—the Road Cess, Public Works Cess, and License Tax all having come into operation in Chittagong about the same time; but the grumbling appears to have proceeded for the most part from the zemindars. Great difficulty has been experienced in getting laborers for road and embankment works, while there has been only a slight falling off in the institution of criminal charges, which is the favourite though somewhat costly amusement of the Chittagong ryot. On the whole, there is no reason to believe that the material condition of the people in the greater part of the district was worse than in other parts of Bengal. No doubt the people suffered from the effects of high prices the more, because Chittagong is an importing district. In the part affected by the cyclone, there was certainly much distress felt. But after another good harvest, the condition of the district will, it may be hoped, be entirely satisfactory.

6. Wages and prices.—Prices were high throughout the year, partly owing to the short harvest in Chittagong, and partly in consequence of the demand from Madras. Common rice rose in Chittagong from Rs. 2-12 to Rs. 3-12 a maund, and in Noakholly from Rs. 2-8 to Rs. 3-4—rates which for those districts are very high. Wages showed no marked rise, but the rates here are always high, and even at these rates it is said to be difficult to get men to work, except under the pressure of absolute want.

7. Emigration.—The temporary emigration of agricultural laborers to Arracan fell off slightly in consequence of a reduction in the rates paid for harvesting by the Arracanese. Permanent emigration is said to be gaining ground among the Mughs in Cox's Bazar, who are unable to hold their ground against the more industrious and enterprising Bengalis. Nothing is known about immigration into Chittagong. Act VII (B.C.) of 1873 was extended to the district towards the close of the year, but the planters prefer to employ local labour as much as possible in order to avoid the restrictions and supervision imposed by the Act.

8. Trade and state of the Port.—Chittagong trade is suffering from the depression caused by the cyclone and the excessive importation of salt in 1875-76 and 1876-77; but the exports of rice appear to have increased by about 2,000 tons. An attempt is being made to develope the trade in jute with Naraingunge by running a small steamer between that port and Chittagong, and two large vessels were recently taking in cargo of jute at Chittagong. A cursory examination of the channels of the river Megna leading to Naraingunge was made in 1876 by the River Surveyor, with the object of ascertaining whether it would be possible to open up direct communication with England. At the request of the commercial firms interested in Naraingunge trade, the results of this examination have recently been published in the form of sailing directions, with the approval of the Marine Survey Department. It is believed that the difficulties of the navigation are such as would deter British ships from attempting to enter Naraingunge; but the port is obviously a convenient one for the shipment of the produce of the eastern districts, and the present scheme for sending jute to Chittagong in flats towed by a light steamer seems to promise well.

9. It is hoped that the general progress of Chittagong trade may be furthered by the deepening of the Moheshkhally Khall. The Lieutenant-Governor will be ready to consider any similar projects for affording facilities to local trade which the Commissioner may recommend. The exports of tea were 608,970lbs., against 601,931lbs. in 1876-77. The area under tea is gradually increasing, and the year was fairly favourable.

10. Public feeling.—The state of public feeling in the Chittagong Division is very much what might be expected to exist among a people who, after a long period of exceptional prosperity and comparative immunity from taxation, have been visited by a destructive natural calamity, followed by the introduction of new taxes, which, however necessary, can hardly fail in the first instance to be more or less vexatious. There is, however, every reason to believe that there is no disloyalty, and that all discontent will soon settle down. The Lieutenant-Governor entirely endorses Mr. Veasey's remark that a little forbearance on the part of the officers of Government will often do much to smooth down asperities. It is quite time, the Lieutenant-Governor sees reason to believe, that the experiment should be tried in Chittagong; and he took occasion to impress this upon the Commissioner and his subordinates when visiting that place at the beginning of the year. It is hoped that the Land Registration Act will have a good effect upon the temper of the people by checking the excessive and frivolous litigation which has so long been one of the worst characteristics of these districts. The Commissioner calls special attention to the difficulties of working the Chowkidari Act. In Chittagong the punchayets nominated under the Act defraud the chowkidars of their pay, and produce forged receipts when called to account by the Magistrate. In Noakholly the people will not recognise the assessments made by the punchayets, and resist by force any attempts made to realise arrears by the attachment of their property. This state of things is no doubt thoroughly bad. It shows how completely the old system of village subordination has been broken up in Eastern Bengal, while nothing has arisen to supply its place. The Lieutenant-Governor entirely agrees with the Commissioner that no legislative enactments can revive, in its original form, the patriarchal authority of the village headmen; but he must dissent from the further conclusion that it is therefore hopeless to attempt to establish any local authority whatever. The period of transition from a patriarchal to a legal régime must inevitably be unsettled, especially where the people themselves are turbulent and indisposed to submit to any restaint; but it may be hoped that, in the long run, they will be forced to recognise the necessity of at least conforming to the law.

11. Police and crime.—No improvement in the police of the division seems to have taken place during the year. In Chittagong they are said to be languid and careless, and in Noakholly timid. Where the rates of wages in all kinds of employment stand so high as they do in the Chittagong Division, there must always be a difficulty in maintaining an efficient body of police. It is satisfactory, however, to find an improvement in reporting cases, and the Commissioner is probably right in attributing the apparent increase in cognizable crime to this cause. The following figures show the relative criminality of the two districts with reference to area and population:—

	Chittagong.	Noakholly.
Area	2,315	1,740
Population	1,043,283	949,616
Crime to area	·76	1·19
„ to population	1 to 661	1 to 491

12. Arson is still very prevalent in Chittagong, and, owing to the character of the houses, it is exceedingly difficult to say, in any particular case of house-burning, whether the fire was accidental or not. The Commissioner suggests that prosecutions for criminal intimidation should be resorted to in all cases where the fire has actually been preceded by threats. If sufficiently heavy punishments are inflicted, it is possible that this plan may have a good effect. The Lieutenant-Governor approves the instructions given to the district authorities at Noakholly to deal severely with the professional criminals who are said to abound in that district. The inadequate sentences given by native Deputy Magistrates have had, it is said, a very bad effect in connection with professional crime. This only too often, it is to be feared, arises from a weak and generally futile hope that a very lenient sentence may prevent appeal.

13. Civil justice.—The Commissioner remarks upon the bad effects produced by the transfer of rent suits to the civil courts, and states that in Noakholly the average duration of a "simple" rent suit in a Moonsiff's court is fifty days, whereas the revenue courts usually disposed of such cases in twenty days. The Moonsiffs have, Mr. Beames thinks, necessarily very limited knowledge of the systems of land management, and they endeavour to make up for this defect by falling back upon legal technicalities. The Lieutenant-Governor fears there is some truth in this charge.

14. Land revenue.—The total land revenue demand was Rs. 13,23,455, of which Rs. 9,27,281 were collected, leaving Rs. 3,96,153 still outstanding. Of this arrear balance no less than Rs. 2,40,725 belongs to Chittagong, where, out of 28,735 estates, 25,186 pay less than Rs. 10 per annum as revenue. Suspensions of revenue granted in consequence of the cyclone are also still in force, so that the collections of the year are under the circumstances satisfactory.

15. Settlements.—Good progress has been made in the Noabad settlement under the charge of Mr. Fasson. During the year 137,982 acres were measured, against 107,405 in the previous year. Half of the estimated area which will have to be measured has now been completed at a cost of Rs. 24,683-2-9, or on an average Rs. 17-14-2 per 100 acres. Up to the close of the year 14,623 acres had been completely settled at an assessment of Rs. 14,897, being an increase of Rs. 9,884 on the former jumma of Rs. 5,013.

Most of the land settled was newly discovered land not included in the settlement made by Sir Henry Ricketts in 1848. Several important points in connection with the Noabad settlement have recently been decided by Government, and it is hoped that no difficulty will now be found in carrying the work to completion.

16. Wards' and Government Estates.—In both Chittagong and Noakholly the collections from Government and Wards' Estates were backward at the close of the year, partly from the lack of vigorous action on the part of the district officers, and partly owing to the difficulty of realizing rents under the present rent law.

17. Excise and stamps.—The excise arrangements of the division are undergoing a complete revision, the outstill system being substituted as far as possible for central distilleries. Nothing is said by the Commissioner about the progress of the stamp revenue; but it is believed that this will show a considerable increase in consequence of the numerous applications for registration under Act VII of 1876. It was brought to the notice of Government during the year that the requirements of this Act in respect of stamps tended to bear hardly upon the proprietors of small estates, and such concessions were made as were possible under the circumstances.

18. Monetary arrangements.—The savings banks are not largely resorted to by the public, who can obtain higher rates of interest elsewhere, and who do not care to sacrifice high interest merely for the sake of security. The number of money orders paid and issued in Chittagong has largely increased, a considerable proportion of the orders paid being remittances by natives of Chittagong serving as seamen in other parts of India. In Noakholly the issues fell from 1,880 for Rs. 1,65,877 to 1,374 for Rs. 1,23,533. This is attributed to the absence of a money order clerk, which drove people to use hoondies.

19. Road Cess, &c.—Fair progress has recently been made in the collection of the Road Cess and Public Works Cess in Chittagong. Arguing from his experience in Orissa, the Commissioner anticipates that the assessment papers under the Road Cess will, when completed, exercise some influence in the direction of checking litigation. It is hoped that this may be the case, and the people of this division are not likely to be slow in availing themselves of any advantages they may derive from the returns.

20. Education.—The report contains scarcely any information on the subject of education. Only fifteen students have been entered in the Chittagong College, which the Commissioner considers to be in a "languishing" condition. A girls' school has recently been opened in Chittagong, supported by local subscriptions and a small grant from the Municipality; but it has not yet obtained any pupils in consequence, the Commissioner states, of the prejudices entertained by a Mahomedan population in favour of the seclusion of females.

21. Local Committees.—The Municipal Committee of Chittagong held fourteen meetings in the year, but very little good work is said to have been done, and the members are still spoken of as obstructive. In the other committees the non-official members are said to have given the Collector very slight assistance, and some difficulty was experienced in inducing them to attend. In Noakholly the local committees seem to have worked fairly well.

22. Conduct of Zemindars.—With the exception of Baboo Goluck Chunder Chowdry, who showed great liberality in connection with the establishment of the Chittagong College, no zemindars are selected for favourable mention by the Commissioner. Serious disturbances were caused in Chagulnaya thana in Noakholly by the mischievous system of management followed by the Rajah of Tipperah. Villages appear to be farmed out to the highest bidder and sublet to a series of speculators, until it is impossible for the lessee who actually deals with the cultivators to make any profit at all, except by illegal means. Further enquiry will be made into this matter, and it will be considered whether special police shall be quartered in the thana.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

A. MACKENZIE,

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL REPORT, CHITTAGONG PORT, FOR 1877-78.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.—MARINE.

The 30th September 1878.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The Administration Report of the Chittagong Port for 1877-78.

The trade of Chittagong, which had been declining for some time, showed signs of reviving during the past year. Various causes operated to produce this result, the chief being the Madras famine and the demand for Chittagong rice in Bourbon and Mauritius, and the opening up of a direct trade with Europe in jute brought to Chittagong from Naraingunge. The following comparative statement of the number and tonnage of the vessels visiting the port during the last two years shows an increase of 212 vessels and 26,114 tons :—

PARTICULARS.	1876-77.		1877-78.		Increase.		Decrease.
	No.	Tonnage.	No.	Tonnage.	No.	Tonnage.	No.	Tonnage.
European vessels trading with Europe	5	4,067	6	5,780	1	1,713	...	.....
Ditto foreign trade	16	6896·55	17	8063·77	1	1167·22	...	.....
Ditto coasting trade	7	2880·97	17	8984·7	10	6004·03	...	.....
Chittagong vessels	40	9817·52	37	8836·6	...	.....	3	980·92
Other native vessel	5	1391·14	5	1128·85	...	.....	...	262·29
Naraingunge inland trade	41	3753·6	92	14325·8	51	10572·2	...	.....
Mail steamers	68	27925·68	70	31613·08	2	3687·4	...	.....
Trading steamers	...	.....	2	1,147	2	1,147	...	.....
Ballam boats	1,609	23820·75	1,754	26,887	145	3066·25	...	.....
Total ...	1,791	80652·91	2,000	106766·8	212	27357·1	3	1243·21

It will be observed that the number of European vessels employed in the coasting trade rose considerably, and that there was a remarkable extension of the inland trade with Naraingunge. There was also an increase in the number of ballam boats, which are largely employed in the Naraingunge business.

2. It was remarked in the Resolution on the report for 1876-77 that the decline in the grain trade of Chittagong had been continuous since 1872-73. In 1876-77 the trade seems to have fallen to its lowest point, and it may be hoped that the results of the past year indicate the commencement of progressive improvement, and are not due merely to a spasmodic and temporary impulse: though no doubt trade was much stimulated by the demand for Madras and Ceylon. The following statement shows the amount and value of the exports of grain, the staple produce of the district, during the last two years :—

	Tons.	Value. Rs.
1877-78	25,083	19,89,961

The total increase amounts to 6,424 tons valued at Rs. 8,04,453, of which 2,002 tons valued at Rs. 3,47,506 were sent to foreign ports, and 4,422 tons worth Rs. 4,56,947 were shipped to ports within British India. Most of the home export was taken by the small ports on the Coromandel coast of Madras, while the bulk of the foreign export went to Mauritius and Bourbon. The increase in exports appears to show that the trade has recovered from the serious disturbance caused by the cyclone of 1876, which not only destroyed a large proportion of crop which otherwise would have been available for export, but also injuriously affected the internal communications of the district and the entire mechanism of export trade.

3. Concurrently with the increase of exports noted above, the staple imports seem to have declined. The imports of salt fell from 5,565 tons to 4,391 tons, and those of earth-oil from British Burmah from 693 tons to 460 tons. Salt imports are stated to have declined in consequence of mismanagement on the part of the local bonders, who declined early in the year to import salt, because freights were high, and subsequently were unable to arrange for a cargo, because the importing vessel would have been unable to secure a return freight. The reduced imports of earth-oil are attributed to the impoverished state, in consequence of the high prices of food, of the poorer classes of the districts, from whom the demand for this oil ordinarily proceeds.

4. The following statement exhibits the receipts and expenditure of the port for the last two years:—

		Rs.
Receipts ...	1876-77	19,708
	1877-78	24,840
Expenditure	1876-77	27,627
	1877-78	32,524

There has been a considerable increase in the receipts from port dues and from fees for pilotage, owing to the larger number of vessels which have visited the port. The accounts of the past year have not been finally adjusted, but the Commissioner reports that the balance at the credit of the Port Fund on the 31st March 1878 amounted to Rs. 27,745, which shows that the financial position of the port is sound. Under the head of expenditure, the charges for the Kutubdea Light-house have risen by Rs. 543 in consequence of the grant of enhanced salaries to the establishment; but the bulk of the increase shown above is due to the heavy Public Works charges for the repair of the embankments and for special works designed to protect the light-house from tidal influence. These are stated to have been thoroughly successful. Considering the enormous expense which the removal of the light-house would entail, and the difficulty of finding a satisfactory site for it, this is a matter of vital interest to the port. The screw-pile jetty has not yet been erected, and there appears to be some difficulty in obtaining tenders for the work. No doubt, however, these delays will soon be got over, and it is anticipated that the jetty will prove a great convenience to vessels using the port. It is satisfactory to find that there have been no complaints regarding the Kutubdea Light, and that commanders of mail steamers have expressed approval of its illuminating power.

5. Orders were issued last year directing the removal of the Norman's Point Lights one mile and a half further south. The change appears to have been a beneficial one, as in their new position the lights serve the double purpose of marking the bar as well as the coast line. Some saving of expense will also result, as the new site is sheltered from tidal action and no protective works will be required.

6. Dock-cutting in the river bank has now been prohibited, and the provisions of the Indian Ports Act and the Port Rules are strictly enforced. Twenty-four prosecutions were instituted during the year for offences connected with the port, and in one case a fine of Rs. 500 was inflicted for omitting to re-fill an excavation which had been allowed to be made in order to re-launch a vessel driven on shore by the cyclone.

7. On a general review of the operations of the year in Chittagong, there seems to be much which affords a fair promise of a permanent expansion of the trade in future. It is understood that hitherto the chief obstacle to vessels visiting Chittagong direct from Europe has been the difficulty of securing a return freight. There is some prospect now that the development of the Naraingunge route will render it possible to offer jute cargoes to vessels arriving from Europe, and this may eventually result in sending direct to Chittagong the extensive imports of cotton goods which now pass through Calcutta. These were valued in last year's report at Rs. 8,93,668, and it would be well worth shippers' while to consider the possibility of diverting this valuable trade to Chittagong itself.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

A. MACKENZIE,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL REPORT ON INLAND EMIGRATION.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.—EMIGRATION.

Calcutta, the 25th September 1878.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

Report on Inland Emigration for the year 1877-78.

THE report is submitted by Dr. V. Richards, the Officiating Superintendent, who only took charge of his office on the 16th March last. This fact no doubt explains much of the confusion which exists in the figures of the report. Dr. Richards, to whom reference has been made on the subject, states that he found many discrepancies both in his office books and in the returns submitted to him, which he is unable to reconcile. In the case of contractors' coolies (class A) and sirdari coolies passed through contractors' depôts (class B), he has he believes succeeded through the contractors in getting accurate statistics up to the point of embarkation at Goalundo. There, however, discrepancies creep in, owing probably to a failure to discriminate between the two classes of gangs where both are forwarded together by a contractor. In the case of sirdari gangs proceeding independently (class C), there is no means of getting accurate or complete statistics, and it would have been better to treat this branch of the subject quite apart. Even of the numbers of sirdari coolies registered in the recruiting districts, there is no accurate record, owing to the neglect on the part of district offices to keep the Superintendent informed of this. In the Inland Labour Transport Act no obligation is imposed on the registering officer to forward copies of the registration in each case to Calcutta, as is done in connection with colonial emigration. But the Superintendent must make arrangements for receiving correct returns of the numbers of each class of emigrant recruited for the tea districts. The Lieutenant-Governor cannot in future years accept any excuse for the want of accurate information on this simple, but important, matter As regards contractors' coolies also, it has been the practice to rely upon the contractors to furnish all necessary information for the annual report. Dr. Richards has now very properly taken steps to have his office registers regularly posted up and checked monthly, so as to make him independent of the contractors.

The report generally and the statements appended to it refer only to coolies passing through Calcutta, and coming under the cognizance of the Superintendent there or at Goalundo. The little that is at present known of the gangs that travel by Rajmehal to Dhubri is given in a separate paragraph.

2. Inland emigration has received a marked impetus during 1877-78; the total number of intending emigrants registered during the year for transmission through contractors' depôts being 24,864, against 17,851 in 1876-77. Of these, 18,377 were registered by contractors' recruiters, and 6,487 were registered by garden sirdars. Out of the total number registered, 17,402 only arrived at their destination, the original number having been reduced through deaths, desertions, rejections, discharges, and detentions in depôt at the close of the year. These are the figures given in the report, but it appears that the coolies left in depôt at the close of the previous year are treated as new registrations of the current year. This seems to have been the practice in the Superintendent's office. It is of course erroneous. The number left in depôt at the close of 1876-77 was 763, and at the close of 1875-76 was 624. It will be remembered that these figures are included in the totals of 1877-78 and 1876-77 respectively under comparison in the present report.

3. The number of licensed contractors rose from 19 in 1876-77, to 26 in the past year. This increase is mainly due to the establishment of depôts by some large Calcutta firms who are interested in tea estates. These depôts are under the supervision of Europeans, and the subordinates employed appear to be efficiently controlled. It is most desirable that the business of supplying labour for Assam should be carried on by persons who are themselves interested in the success of the tea gardens, instead of being managed by Contractors who have no motive to look to beyond the market price to be obtained for coolies; and the Lieutenant-Governor would be glad to see all the inland emigration depôts in the hands of firms whose commercial reputation would be some security for straight forward dealing and careful observance of the law.

4. There was a considerable decrease in the number of recruiters' licenses granted, which fell from 842 to 780. Thirty-two licenses were cancelled for misconduct. The Superintendent of Emigration observes that the proportion of recruiting licenses cancelled affords a fair indication of the amount of supervision exercised by the contractor, and directs attention to three cases in which contractors, whose licenses have been withdrawn, had evidently employed a very bad class of recruiters. If the number of recruiters' licenses cancelled is a real test, there are other contractors shown in the table at page 2 whose operations need looking after. Thus it appears that Mr R. Hendry, a licensed contractor, has during the last three years employed 358 recruiters, and that licenses granted to his recruiters have been cancelled in no less than 31 cases, being 8·62 per cent. of the number of licenses granted during the period. In the past year Mr. Hendry employed 124 recruiters and had 12 licenses cancelled, which is nearly 10 per cent. of the total number granted. Moreover, his operations show no signs of improved supervision, for the number and proportion of licenses cancelled have steadily increased since 1875-76. It is difficult to avoid the conclusion that these results are due to the careless selection of recruiters in the first instance, and to negligent supervision of their subsequent operations; and the Lieutenant-Governor must draw the attention of the Superintendent of Emigration to the facts.

5. The number of emigrants recruited by licensed recruiters (class A) and passed through contractors' depôts amounted to 18,377, against 13,539 in the previous year. Of this number Chota Nagpore contributed 32·24, the 24-Pergunnahs 14·11, Shahabad 6·58, and Raneegunge 6·42 per cent. The large proportion registered in the 24-Pergunnahs is remarkable, and may possibly indicate some evasion of section 49 of the Act. It is well known, however, that large numbers of day-laborers in Chota Nagpore leave their homes in the cold weather and come to Calcutta in search of work, and it is not improbable that many of the emigrants registered at the 24-Pergunnahs were recruited from among the Dhangars employed on road work in and around Calcutta. The Superintendent should ascertain whether this is the case, and if he still finds reason to think that the law is systematically broken, he should endeavour to obtain more complete information as to the method of procedure followed by the recruiters. The high prices of food in Manbhoom led to a very marked increase in emigration from that district. The numbers coming from Shahabad probably were in like manner swelled by the influx of laborers from the districts of the North-Western Provinces where pressure was being felt.

6. Of the 18,377 souls registered by licensed recruiters, only 17,743, including an infant born on the way, eventually reached the depôts in Calcutta. The balance of 635 is thus accounted for:—

Detained in mofussil depôts ...	152
Discharged	103
Absconded	327
Left behind on the journey to Calcutta	43
Total, all causes ...	635

It is very creditable to Baboo Heera Lal Mookerjee's arrangements that, out of 1,645 coolies collected in the mofussil, only one deserted on the journey to Calcutta. The Superintendent attributes this to the fact that the majority of his coolies, though registered by recruiters, were really collected by garden sirdars whose certificates expired before they could register their coolies. If this is a correct account of the matter, it shows that garden sirdars, if properly looked after, can secure a superior class of coolies far more readily than the professional recruiters.

7. The second class of emigrants (class B), consisting of coolies registered by garden sirdars, and forwarded to the tea districts through contractors' depôts, rose from 4,313 in 1876-77 to 6,487 in the past year, the majority of them coming from Chota Nagpore. Only 6,325, however, were received into depôts in Calcutta, the reduction in numbers being due to the following causes:—

Detained in mofussil depôts	29
Discharged	2
Left behind on the journey to Calcutta	9
Absconded	67
Total, all causes ...	162

Although the proportion of casualties among the sirdari recruiters' coolies was about one per cent. less than among the regular recruiters' coolies, it appears to have risen considerably during the past year. It is unsatisfactory to find that 44 out of the 67 desertions occurred among the coolies forwarded by two ordinary contractors, Mr. Hendry and Baboo J. N. Dutt.

8. The total number of emigrants admitted into the Calcutta depôts was 17,743 of the first class, and 6,325 of the second class of coolies, or 24,068 altogether, against 19,476 in the previous year. While in depôt, the number was largely reduced by the process of weeding out coolies physically unfit to emigrate, by discharge, by desertion, by death, and by detention in hospital: so that only 18,180 were actually passed for embarkation to Assam. The number of emigrants rejected as physically unfit was 869 or 3·61 per cent., 334 healthy dependents or 1·38 per cent. more of those admitted having to be returned to their homes in consequence. The total of both in 1876-77 was 3·60 per cent. In explanation of this unusually high proportion of rejections, the Superintendent states that the medical examinations in Calcutta were peculiarly strict during the past year, in consequence of complaints that many coolies physically unfit for work had been recently sent up to Assam. It is also suggested that, in many cases, the infirmities which led to rejection arose after the first medical examination in the mofussil, or were latent when that examination was conducted. But it is hardly possible that these considerations can account for more than a small proportion of the 869 cases in which emigrants, after having been pronounced healthy by the district medical authorities, were subsequently rejected by the medical inspector in Calcutta. It is clear to the Lieutenant-Governor that these results point to some serious defect in the present system. The Superintendent should take up the question carefully, and, after consulting the medical inspector and the district medical officers, should submit a special report on the causes of the numerous rejections in the past year, and the measures which should be adopted to secure, in future, a reasonably uniform test of health and fitness to labour, and its application at the earliest possible point, viz. in the recruiting districts. It seems possible that sickly men are substituted in some instances for the men passed by the district medical officers. Meantime the medical officers of the districts most largely affected by rejections will be called on for explanation.

9. It is satisfactory to find that the proportion of desertions among coolies detained in depôt fell from 6·27 per cent. to 4·18 per cent., the figures being 1,007 in 1877-78 to 1,227 in 1876-77. They are still very high, and the reduced total is mainly accounted for by the small number of desertions from the depôts of two contractors who are now largely employed in forwarding coolies recruited by garden sirdars. The numbers discharged for various causes were 892=3·7 per cent., against 770=3·96 per cent. in 1876-77. It is understood that many of the discharges are accounted for by the refusal of whole gangs to proceed if one relative is rejected.

10. There were 315 deaths, giving a mortality of 1·30 per cent. in the depôts during 1877-78, against 95 or 0·48 per cent. in the previous year. The medical inspector attributes this increase in the mortality to the prevalence of scarcity in the area from which the emigrants were recruited. It is very possible that the high prices generally prevalent pressed heavily upon the labouring castes to which the bulk of the emigrants to the tea districts belong, and reduced their physique. There was severe mortality from cholera especially among the Dhangar coolies, reaching in one depôt the figure of 7·00 per cent.

The average number of days detention in depôt was 13. On the formation of a separate hospital depôt, it may be hoped that the period of detention of healthy coolies will be reduced to a minimum.

11. The figures in paragraphs 8 to 10 relate to the whole depôt population (classes A and B) taken together. In the following table the two classes are compared according to the figures of the report:—

	Total number in depots.	Daily average strength.	Daily average sick.	Transferred to other depots.	Rejected.		Discharged.		Absconded.		Died.		Total passed as emigrants.	Forwarded to Goalundo.	Remaining in depôt.	Unaccounted for.
					Number.	Percentage.	Number.	Percentage.	Number.	Percentage.	Number.	Percentage.
Class A	17,743	23·64	2·55	479	923	5·19	760	4·28	914	5·15	153	0·87	14,513	13,175	1,042	115
Class B	6,325	26·98	2·89	17	281	4·44	132	2·08	93	1·47	162	2·56	5,640	5,305	738	80

12. At the point of embarkation the figures of the report, as already remarked, become difficult to follow and reconcile: thus, in Statement I, the number of coolies of the first and second classes permitted to proceed from the depôts to the place of embarkation is shown as 18,580. There were five casualties between Calcutta and Goalundo, therefore 18,575 coolies should have arrived there. The Medical Superintendent at Goalundo, however, gives the number of arrivals at 21,11[illegible], of whom 2,511 were purely sirdari coolies who were embarked under the supervision of the department. Deducting these we get 18,607 as the numbers of the other classes according to the Goalundo returns, and not 18,575.

13. During detention at Goalundo among the 21,118 emigrants referred to by the Superintendent 185 deaths occurred, and the mortality, especially among children, is stated to have been heavier than in the preceding year. This is attributed to the general prevalence of cholera, and to the increase of what may be styled emigration by families. As a general rule, it will be found that the mortality among a body of emigrants varies directly with the proportion of children, and this will be more marked in a year when cholera is rife. The casualties from all causes at Goalundo were 349, and 300 were left in depôt at the close of the year. The casualties stood thus for the different classes:—

Class A	...	...	...	...	1·25 per cent.
„ B	...	...	...	...	1·07 „
„ C	...	...	...	...	4·80 „

The mortality among the sirdari gangs coming under the cognizance of the Superintendent on account of their having to be conveyed by steamer to Assam was very heavy, owing to the ravages of cholera among Dhangar coolies.

14. Altogether 12,999 coolies of the first class, and 5,123 of the second, were despatched to the tea districts through the agency of the Emigration Department. Their destinations were as follow:—

				Class I.	Class II.
Assam	...	...	...	11,049	3,969
Cachar	...	...	...	1,699	1,075
Sylhet	...	...	...	251	79
		Total	...	12,999	5,123

Besides the above, despatched through the agency of contractors, the Superintendent at Goalundo had cognizance of 2,349 purely sirdari coolies going to Assam. Of gangs going to Cachar or Sylhet he takes no cognizance.

15. Of 17,367 persons despatched to Assam, 465 or 2·69 per cent. died on the way as against 1·46 in the year preceding. Cholera caused 297 or 1·71 per cent. of the deaths. The following statement shows the most important particulars in connection with the emigrants who were conveyed to Assam by the regular steamer service during the last two years:—

	1876-77.		1877-78.
Total number of trips	71		63
Ditto without cholera	53		35
Ditto souls conveyed	14,646		17,367
Average percentage of total deaths ...	1·46		2·69
	Days.	Hours.	Days.	Hours.
„ length of passage	16	19	18	17
„ number carried each trip	200		...	275

The results of the operations in the past year are in every respect less satisfactory than those of 1876-77; but now that there is a fair prospect of the main stream of emigration being diverted from the river route to the Northern Bengal State Railway, there is little to be gained by discussing the question in detail. The Superintendent is of opinion that the mortality rises proportionately to the average number of persons carried, which, it will be observed, was considerably greater than in the previous year. There is also good reason to believe that coolies stand a better chance on board a flat than on board a steamer. On the former there is less crowding in wet or cold weather, and the temperature is more equable, though the passage occupies a slightly longer time. Dr. Richards also is of opinion that the scale of diet now in force on board the steamers is too liberal for the aboriginal coolies from Chota Nagpore, who are apt to eat to excess, and thus induce forms of stomachic derangement which are liable to end in cholera. It is not quite clear whether Dr. Richards wishes to recommend a general reduction of the diet scale, or whether he would give a special diet to aboriginal coolies only. A separate report should be submitted on this point. The precise cause of the outbreaks of cholera on board these river steamers is at present uncertain. Apart, however, from all theories of causation, it is obviously imperative to neglect no precaution in the way of providing good water and wholesome food, and to prevent the coolies from using water which may have been in any way polluted. It may be observed, however, that the fact of cholera having on several occasions attacked the passengers, crew, and attendants, and having broken out severely among some emigrants proceeding to Cachar in country boats, seems to tell against the opinion that the disease is solely propagated by pollution of the water-supply specially provided for emigrants.

16. With regard to the third class of emigrants (class C) who are recruited by garden sirdars and conveyed to the tea districts without entering the depôt of any contractor, there is, as has been stated in paragraph 1 above, no complete or accurate return, and the figures in the report are not always reconcileable. Except as regards those shipped at Goalundo for Assam, they have been excluded altogether from the foregoing paragraphs. It would appear that during the past year 11,345 coolies were registered by garden sirdars and transmitted viâ Goalundo, and that of this number 11,042 embarked, 2,349 for Assam, 7,186 for Cachar, and 1,507 for Sylhet. The information as to the districts from which these emigrants came is admitted to be imperfect, but a large proportion came from Shahabad, a district which has hitherto contributed but slightly to inland emigration. It is believed that the impulse given to emigration from Shahabad during the past year was mainly due to the pressure of high prices in neighbouring districts. But there is, under the circumstances, room to doubt whether the agents by whom the Shahabad emigrants were recruited were really garden sirdars of the character contemplated by the Act.

17. The number of contractors' coolies sent to Cachar and Sylhet has fallen off during the year. But the demand for sirdari coolies in these districts is increasing.

The following extract from Dr. Richards' report gives the chief facts with reference to emigration to Cachar and Sylhet:—

	Cachar.					Sylhet.
	Men.	Women.	Children.	Infants.	Total.	Men.	Women.	Children.	Infants.	Total.
A. Contractors' coolies	846	469	273	111	1,639	136	66	31	17	261
B. Sirdari recruiters' coolies	387	314	296	78	1,075	28	21	22	7	79
C. Sirdari coolies ...	2,924	2,005	1,658	599	7,186	683	424	299	103	1,507
Total ...	4,157	2,788	2,227	788	9,960	847	511	353	126	1,837

It is to be observed that the number of infants and children among sirdari coolies is relatively larger than that among the class A coolies, there being 3,061 = 31 per cent. in the former, against 433 = 22 per cent. in the latter. Of the sirdari coolies there were left behind 127 = 1·28 per cent. (all belonging to class C), deserted 140 = 1·42 per cent. (also all from among the class C coolies) compared with 27 = 1·38 per cent. of desertions from the class A coolies.

The death-rate among the sirdari coolies was very high (4·76 per cent.) Besides the deaths, amounting to 368, nearly all of which are attributed to cholera, there were 127 souls left behind, which probably means to die. The losses from all causes were in class A 4·33 per cent., in class B 6·23 per cent., and in class C 8·45 per cent.

18. Taking all classes of coolies together, so far as the information goes, Dr. Richards gives the following summary of their history :—

Of the 36,209 souls registered, 27,879 arrived at their destination.

Of the	18,377	class	A	emigrants	registered,	12,620	arrived.
„	6,487	„	B	„	„	4,782	„
„	11,345	„	C	„	„	10,477	„

The actual losses on account of those who were left behind, those who absconded, and those who died, were heaviest among the class A coolies, as here shown :—

Among	class	A	coolies	the	losses	were	10·37 per cent.
„	„	B	„		„	9·32	„
„	„	C	„		„	7·54	„

But among the A and B classes there were other casualties on account of rejections (class A 5·42 per cent. and in class B 4·43 per cent.) and releases (in class A 4·76 per cent. and in class B 2·06 per cent.), which bring up the entire losses to 20·56 per cent. in class A and 15·81 per cent. in class B. The high rate of casualties in class A is due principally to the very large number of desertions (1,309 = 7·07 per cent.) which are said to have occurred. Death contributes by far the largest proportion of the casualties in class B (437=6·74 per cent.) This was also the case in respect to the casualties among class C coolies, 547=4·82 per cent. being from that cause. Having regard to the fact that class B includes the largest proportion of Dhangar coolies, it is not surprising to find the mortality rate among that particular class higher than that obtaining among the two other classes.

Although the aggregate number of casualties is higher among class B coolies than among class C coolies, many of those in the former case are the result of rejections on account of physical unfitness to labour. The employers of labour under the class B system, therefore, obtain an advantage which is not attendant on the other system.

19. Emigration viâ Dhubri.—A statement compiled from monthly returns furnished by the Superintendent of Emigration at Dhubri shows that 8,213 emigrants were registered for transmission by that route to Assam, and that 637 were left behind, deserted, or died on the way, and that, including those born on the road, 7,579 persons arrived in depôt at Dhubri; apparently none of these were rejected on medical examination. While at Dhubri, two deserted, 90 died, 56 were detained, and two children were born in the depôt. 7,433 persons were despatched from Dhubri and arrived at their destination with only eight deaths. The mortality on the journey to Dhubri is set down at 372 or 4·52 per cent., which is a high rate; but there is some reason to believe that desertions are reported as deaths, and the entire set of returns of the emigration through Dhubri appear at present to be untrustworthy. The figures given above differ from those embodied in a report furnished by the Superintendent at Dhubri to the Chief Commissioner of Assam, where the numbers registered to proceed by that route are shown to be 8,704, the number arriving there 8,053, and the number despatched thence 7,903; besides which the Superintendent reports that 1,899 emigrants not included in the foregoing figures, marched the whole way from the recruiting districts to Lakhimpore, of whom 1,885 reached their destination. These last figures are hardly credible, looking to the loss among the other sardari coolies of the same class before arriving at Dhubri for embarkation on steamers. It is hoped that before the close of the current year the new emigration route from Calcutta by the Northern Bengal State Railway may be in full working order. The railway is now open as far as Rungpore, and complete arrangements have been made for providing shelter and medical treatment for emigrants on the line of road from Rungpore to Dhubri. Orders have also been issued to provide shelter and medical attendance on the road between Rajmehal and Parbuttipore on the Northern Bengal State Railway, as sirdari gangs will in the cold season probably continue to use that route to some extent. It remains to be considered whether Dhubri should be formally substituted for Goalundo as the standard place of embarkation for emigrants going to Assam; Goalundo being maintained as the place of embarkation for coolies emigrating to Cachar and Sylhet. Separate orders will hereafter be issued on this point. It is perhaps better on the whole that things should remain as they are until the new emigration road is finished. It is hoped that by December 1879 the rail-road will be opened to the Teesta, and that from thence to Dhubri there will be a first class metalled road throughout with resting places and hospitals.

20. Circumstances were brought to the notice of Government towards the close of the year, tending to show that Rule 57, which prohibits the despatch of emigrants from a depôt in which cholera has appeared until the disease has ceased, really operated to spread the disease, or, at any rate, to expose a needlessly large number of persons to its action. The rule was accordingly suspended, and measures are now in progress to establish a separate hospital for the treatment of all emigrants attacked by cholera in the various depôts. When these arrangements are completed, the Lieutenant-Governor will consider the propriety of formally cancelling the rule.

21. In order to relax, as far as possible, the restrictions which had been imposed on the free transport of emigrants, Rule 78, under which emigrants were detained four days for medical observation before embarkation, was modified in accordance with the opinion of the Sanitary Commissioner with the Government of India. It is believed that the new rule, which came into force on the 1st of January 1878, will afford ample security against the embarkation of emigrants already suffering from cholera in an early stage, while it will diminish the risk which arises from the detention of coolies in a locality like Goalundo, where they are peculiarly liable to contract the disease.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

A. MACKENZIE,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL GENERAL REPORT OF THE BURDWAN DIVISION FOR THE YEAR 1877-78.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—MISCELLANEOUS.

Calcutta, the 30th September 1878.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The General Administration Report of the Burdwan Division for 1877-78.

THE report is submitted by Mr. F. H. Pellew, who took charge after the close of the year under review. The Commissioners of the division during the year were Messrs. H. A. Cockerell, A. Smith, and W. S. Wells, Messrs. Smith and Wells are said to have inspected thoroughly every department of the offices of the Magistrates and Collectors of the division, and also the sub-divisional office at Raneegunge The time during which each of these officers was on tour should have been noticed.

2. Mr. Pellew states that the reports from all the district officers were received late, and were in nearly every instance incomplete. This is a fact by no means creditable to them.

3. District Officers' tours.—Mr. Larminie, in Burdwan, seems to have made a very thorough inspection of his district. Messrs. Pellew, Waller, and Grant, were each of them out for over two months; but the district officers of Howrah and Midnapore did not pay sufficient attention to their tour duty. The Lieutenant-Governor regards also with special dissatisfaction the very general neglect of this duty on the part of the sub-divisional officers. Sub-divisional officers should be at least three or four months of each year out in the interior of their jurisdictions, and their tours should not be confined to the cold weather, and to a few weeks only of that, as is usually the case.

4. Weather and Crops.—The rainfall of the year is said to have been below the average in most districts, but the figures taken as the average are not given, as they should have been. As compared with 1876-77 it stood thus—

	1877-78.	1876-77.
Burdwan	58	57·46
Bankoora	57·97	73·59
Beerbhoom	54·27	62
Midnapore	51·74	79·32
Hooghly	52·25	42·66
Howrah	54·19	65·91

The remarkable feature in the above table is the evenness of distribution over all the districts as compared with the inequalities of the previous year. The outturn of the rice crop for the whole division was, notwithstanding the short rainfall, at least average, and in Bankoora and Beerbhoom above the average. In Midnapore it was a little less than average. Owing to rain in October and December, the winter crops were generally fair.

5. Public health and condition of the people.—The public health of the division was on the whole good. In Burdwan there is said to be a visible improvement as compared with former years; and although after the rains the usual malarious fever appeared, it was not of a malignant type. Sporadic outbreaks of small-pox and cholera occurred in various parts of the district. The medical history of Bankoora and Beerbhoom was similar to that of Burdwan. It is satisfactory to note that movements for improving the drainage and water-supplies of the towns are taking place in these districts. The Lieutenant-Governor would be glad if the Magistrates of these and other districts would do all they can to stimulate and assist such local movements. The Government will give also willingly such help as may be possible. In Midnapore the year was not so healthy as last year, and in Hooghly and Howrah there was a great deal of fever, sometimes of a very fatal type. In the two last-named districts schemes are under consideration for improving the drainage and giving a thoroughly good and pure water-supply from the Damoodah.

6. The material condition of the people was good. The outturn of the crop was fair, and this, added to the large harvest of 1876-77, enabled the agriculturists to profit to the full by the high prices that ruled owing to the great demand for export to Madras and Bombay. In most of the districts the labouring classes were able also to share in the prosperity and secure a rise of wages.

7. Emigration and Immigration.—There was a falling off in the number of emigrants to the tea districts (probably owing to the brisk demand for labour in the division itself), and a notable reduction in the number of female emigrants as compared with males. This last fact is to be accounted for by the greater stringency of examination in order to detect illegal abductions. There was, as usual, a large influx of labourers from Behar and Western Bengal into Hooghly and Howrah, where the East Indian Railway and the manufactories and mills give employment to thousands. The normal population of Howrah is also said to be steadily increasing. In Midnapore cultivation and population are said to be spreading along the Julpai lands of the coast.

8. Prices of food and labour.—The following table shows the average price of common rice and wheat for the last two years and for 1870-71 :—

Districts.	1870-71.		1876-77.		1877-78.
	Common rice per rupee	Wheat per rupee.	Rice per rupee.	Wheat per rupee.	Rice per rupee.	Wheat per rupee.

* Grown to a very small extent in Burdwan.

As regards the wages of labour, the Commissioner remarks:—"In some places in the interior, for instance Tumlook, in Midnapore, the price of unskilled labour remained stationary; but, as a rule, the increase in the cost of food affected the labour market. In Burdwan unskilled labour is now quoted at from three to three and a half annas a day, and it is reported that difficulty is often found in procuring labourers on any terms. In Bankoora the monthly wages of agricultural labourers in the interior in June 1877 was Rs. 3-12 and under, and of masons, &c., up to Rs. 5-10. These rose at the end of the year to Rs. 4 or 5 and 7-8 respectively, and common coolies are said to have been making Rs. 6 and Rs. 7 monthly, while palkee-bearers, who could formerly be hired for Rs. 4 a month, refused even Rs. 5. At Howrah and in parts of Hooghly, where manufactories exist, the price of labour is high. It is said that at Howrah an agricultural labourer gets four to five annas a day, and an able-bodied man working in the mills can earn as much as Rs. 12 to Rs. 16 a month."

9. Manufactures and mines.—This section of the report is much more full and interesting than it was last year. The chief seats of the manufactures maintained by European capital are on the banks of the Hooghly, in the districts of Hooghly and Howrah; and the most important of these are the iron manufactures of Howrah, the jute and cotton mills of Bowreah and Fort Gloster, the paper mills of Bally, the jute mills of Champdani, and the mills at Serampore and Gyretty. In Howrah alone there are seven dockyards, besides numerous yards for building country-boats; three jute mills, each with a capital of 10 to 15 lakhs, and working altogether about 800 looms; eleven large workshops, besides the railway works. Altogether some 10,000 people are believed to find work daily in the factories and workshops of the town. As a natural consequence, the jute mills are driving hand-made gunny out of the market, and the cotton mills are seriously affecting the weavers, unless where some local peculiarity of manufacture meets a special native demand. But apart from this decline of the native cotton manufactures, there is still a large amount of indigenous manufacture. Throughout the district of Hooghly (the Collector writes) there are a large number of villages, each with a branch of industry peculiar to itself, but too insignificant to be separately deserving of notice, which jointly contribute to impart to the district a certain character of industrial prosperity. Thus the lac manufactories in Paremba and Shahbazar supply lac bangles to every part of Bengal; brass and pewter are made into domestic vessels in Bansberia, Khamarpara, and Shahgunj; and paper is made by Mahomedans in many parts of the district.

10. The chief manufacture in the other districts of the division is silk. The past year was rather a better one for this industry than 1876-77. In Midnapore the Messrs. Watson and Messrs. Payen and Co. have extensive establishments, but no particulars are given of their working. In Burdwan a certain amount of revival was apparent both in the silk and tusser markets; but in Bankoora and Beerbhoom the industry is said to be declining.

11. The Lieutenant-Governor regrets to observe that the Collector of Burdwan is the only officer who has paid any proper attention to the orders of Government on last year's report, directing that special attention should be given in this report to the subject of the native cotton manufactures of the division. The weaving of ordinary cotton cloths has long been known to be declining, but the extent to which the finer qualities of hand-made stuffs are still in demand is a subject of much interest, on which little or no information is available. In Burdwan the Collector reports that the number of weavers is now 20 per cent. less than it was five years ago, and that most of them are taking to agricultural and other pursuits.

12. The business done at the pottery works of Ranigunge, belonging to Messrs. Burn and Company, is said to be rapidly extending. They employ now about 500 hands, and have large contracts for drainage pipes, firebricks, flooring tiles, and stone-ware of sorts. The workmanship is said to be excellent. An interesting sketch is given by the sub-divisional officer of Ranigunge of the coal mines of his sub-division, from which it appears that the year under report has been one of renewed prosperity to this industry. Of the success of the Bengal iron-works, so far as the production of iron goes, the Lieutenant-Governor has satisfied himself by personal inspection. The Susunia stone quarries in Bankoora are said to be now turning out an admirable quality of hard stone.

13. Trade and Commerce.—The Report on Internal Trade will show the astonishing development of the export trade of the division in the staple of rice. The manner in which grain poured into the railway stations and came flowing along the rivers and canals of this division will not be forgotten by any who had the opportunity of seeing it. The trade in other articles was also remarkably brisk, and the figures are too complicated to be introduced here. But it may be noted by way of illustration that 500,000 tons of coal were exported from Burdwan, and that Midnapore sent goods (including rice) valued at Rs. 1,12,97,000 along the irrigation canals, against an export valued at Rs. 67,00,000 only in 1876-77, taking imports worth Rs. 90,32,000 in exchange, against Rs. 60,38,000 in 1876-77.

14. State of public feeling.—No single event of the year seems to have evoked any very considerable or general display of public feeling. The cesses, the Chowkidaree Act, the license-tax, and the Vernacular Press Act, all gave rise to some grumbling; but as regards the last subject in the list, the discontent is, the Commissioner says, 'confined to the classes who read the papers.' The remission of the house cess under the Road Cess Act will do away with the chief objection to that measure; while the ryots as a class are said not to object to the cesses collected with their rent, that being a form of surcharge which they can thoroughly understand.

15. Public Press.—There are only four newspapers published in the division, including the Education Gazette. The Calcutta papers supply the wants of the reading classes in all the districts. Although the ideas inculcated by these publications doubtless spread beyond the immediate circle of actual readers, there is a general agreement that their influence upon the mass of the population in the interior is inappreciable. "Few read these newspapers" (writes the Collector of Beerbhoom), "and fewer still are led by them." But as the circle of readers is gradually, though slowly perhaps, increasing, it is satisfactory to know that the vernacular press is improved and more circumspect in tone since it has been brought under proper control.

16. Police, crime, and civil justice.—The general character and conduct of the police is said to have been fair in most districts. In Bankoora, Beerbhoom, and occasionally in Burdwan, there was room for fault-finding, and the municipal police of Howrah are said to want strengthening in numbers and advancement in pay. The Village Chowkidaree Act is already improving the rural police, and there is apparently a real decrease in crime throughout the division, though, on the other hand, offences against public tranquillity and minor offences against the person show an unsatisfactory increase. In Hooghly also there was a sudden revival of dacoity, which had, it was hoped, been effectually suppressed. The total number of cognizable cases was, however, only 15,816, against 17,077 in 1876. There was an increase in petty and non-cognizable cases, from 11,850 to 13,649, and this increase, in Howrah at any rate, the Magistrate considers to indicate the confidence of the people in our courts; and in corroboration of this view, he notices that, at Moheshreka, respectable females who were not accustomed to come out of their houses now come freely to court to complain against their near relatives. The Lieutenant-Governor cannot say that he regards this as a favourable symptom in the social life of Moheshreka, and he doubts whether it can properly be construed as an implied compliment to the magisterial courts of Howrah.

17. There has been an increase of civil litigation during the year, and the following remarks of the Collector of Hooghly may be taken to apply generally throughout this division:—

"The civil courts enjoyed undiminished popularity in spite of the increased stringency which everywhere obtains in the rigorous enforcement of the stamp law. There are grounds for believing that during the last year there has been an increase in the number of suits and appeals, and the increase is largest in the Small Cause Courts. Such an increase tends to show, in the first place, increased trade and commerce, and indeed increase in the general health and prosperity. It also shows, however, that there is an increased tendency to bring every dispute before the courts of law, and that, owing to a most momentous change now going forward in native society, the zemindar and the village punchayet are equally falling into disuse as mediators and pacificators. The zemindar has fallen into disuse, because he has lost his power of enforcing his decrees, and is restrained in the exercise of his authority by the operation of a vigorously administered Penal Code. The village punchayet is falling into disuse, because, owing to the spread of education and European ideas, the bonds of caste are becoming every day less rigorous even among the most ignorant classes, and because, in the spirit of a growing material civilization, selfishness restrains all ranks from interesting themselves much in other people's concerns out of purely sentimental considerations."

The Commissioner adds—

"It is satisfactory to think that along with the decline of the zemindar's authority, the civil courts are rapidly improving under the new class of Moonsifs; but there is still room for improvement. Greater stringency in repressing forgery and perjury, and in enforcing the stamp law, are obviously required; and there is, I think, at present a tendency to despatch business on technical grounds, and avoid, if possible, a decision on the merits."

18.—Land Revenue matters.—The collections of the year were 97·7 per cent. of the demand, against 98·3 in 1876-77. The figures stand thus for each class of estate—

		1876-77.	1877-78.
1. Permanently-settled	... ...	99·2	99·3
2. Temporarily-settled	... ...	88·7	80·9
3. Government estates	... ...	65·6	61

The unfavourable result in the temporarily-settled estates arises from circumstances connected with the realisation of arrears in Majnamoota and other large estates in Midnapore accruing before they came under the Collector's management. The collections in Government estates were thrown back by settlement operations and the proceedings necessary to give currency to enhanced rates of rent.

19. The following table shows the operations under the Land Registration Act up to the end of the year :—

Districts.	Number of applications received up to end of March 1878.	Number of applications disposed of up to 31st March 1878.	Number of applications pending disposal at the close of 1877-78.
Burdwan	19,296	19,289	7
Bankoora	1,736	1,723	13
Beerbhoom ...	1075	1028	47
Midnapore	28,683	3,806	24,877
Hooghly with Howrah	16,095	2,990	13105
Total	69,885	31,816	38,069

20 Excise and other Revenue Laws.—The excise revenue of the year was Rs. 6,81,185, showing an increase of Rs. 70,725 or 11·5 per cent. on that of 1876-77. The report should have given some information as to the districts in which this increase was obtained and their statistics of consumption. The stamp revenue was Rs. 11,96,588 or 12·3 per cent. more than last year; the increase was obtained in both judicial and non-judicial stamps.

21. The operations under the Embankment Act (VI B.C. of 1873) affect chiefly the district of Midnapore. There have been serious complaints of the expenses thrown upon the zemindars by the Act, and of the great increase in charges since the Irrigation Department took over the embankments. The Lieutenant-Governor recognizes the necessity of coming to some equitable compromise on this matter, and the question has been referred to a Committee, and is now under the consideration of Government.

22. Irrigation works.—Upon these the Commissioner remarks :—

"The most important irrigation works in the division are the high and low level canals in Midnapore and Hooghly. The area watered by the high level canal in Midnapore during the last five years is shown below :—

Year.	Area irrigated
1873-74	36,349
1874-75	72,318
1875-76	55,995
1876-77	32 618

"The usefulness of this work is much impaired in consequence of deficient supply of water during the early part of the season, and indeed whenever the river is low. The distributaries are laid out for 140,000 acres, but even under the most favourable conditions the supply of water is not more than sufficient to water from 50,000 to 60,000 before the end of July, and after that time the water is seldom or never wanted. Consequently the area effectively irrigable is limited to 50,000 or 60,000 acres, and even within this limited area lease-holders complain much of delay in irrigating their fields. The value of this and of the low level canal as a means of communication is, however, very great and yearly increasing. Two ranges, Nos. 1 and 2, of the Midnapore canal, which are within the sub-division of Moheshrekha in the district of Hooghly, are now open, and locks in range No. 2 are in course of construction. These ranges of the canal are very useful for traffic, and they also irrigate the country lying near them. The canal and the embankments of the Moheshrekha sub-division have been efficiently maintained throughout the year, and the canal was enormously used for rice import during the Madras famine. The completion of the Dankuni drainage canals has proved very beneficial in draining a large area and in improving the health of the people of those parts of the Serampore sub-division through which it passes. It has reclaimed a large tract of formerly unculturable land, and contributed not a little to that increase of prosperity which has been noticed above. A sluice at Selimabad, by which a plentiful supply of water can be admitted when necessary during a few months of the rainy season into the channels of the Kana Damoodah, Kananadi, and Saraswati, has also been constructed. The Joojooty scheme, as it is called, as also the projects for the drainage of Howrah, are now under consideration."

The state of the case, however, as regards irrigation, is more favourable than it would appear to be from these remarks. Nearly 60,000 acres have been brought under irrigation leases for a period of five years during the current year, which is almost the full area for which water can be guaranteed at all seasons. Then the low level canal is not, as the Collector seems to suppose, an irrigation canal; it is only a navigable canal and has been very successful, and its usefulness will be largely increased when the sanction of the Government of India is obtained to the commencement of the south coast tidal canal, by which it is proposed, at a very moderate cost, to connect Orissa by water with the rest of Bengal, and secure it from the calamities to which it is exposed in the case of failure of crops in consequence of its isolated position.

23. Roads.—In Burdwan and Midnapore the condition of the roads is not satisfactory. In the former district the sums raised by the cess have been frittered away in a useless attempt to spend the collections each year in the precise places where they were levied. In Midnapore progress is said to have been slow, owing to want of method and energy on the part of the district Engineer. Some parts of the district, not 25 miles from Midnapore, are still practically inaccessible. In the other districts the roads are in fair order. The expenditure in each district last year was—

	Rs.
Burdwan	1,14,821
Bankoora	11,690
Beerbhoom	45,017
Midnapore	92,291
Hooghly and Howrah	1,22,118
The division ...	3,85,937

24. Education.—This division takes a high place in matters of education. The following table condenses the statistics for all classes of schools:—

Districts.	Area in square miles.	Estimated population.	Number of schools.	Number of pupils on the 31st March 1878.	Average number of square miles to each school.	Number of pupils for each 1,000 of the population.
Hooghly	785	757,499	498	16,217	1·5	21·4
Howrah	682	731,057	127	6,449	5·3	8·8
Burdwan	3,455	2,034,745	1,304	43,192	2·6	21·2
Beerbhoom	1,344	695,921	435	12,362	3·08	17·7
Bankoora	1,422	52.,772	480	14,410	2·9	27·3
Midnapore	5,082	2,545,179	3,745	73,032	1·3	28·6
Total ...	12,770	7,291,173	6,589	165,662	1·9	22·7

For primary schools the figures of the last two years stand thus:—

Districts.	Number of primary schools.		Number of primary schools' pupils.		Number of primary pupils for every 1,000 of the population.
	1876-77	1877-78.	1876-77.	1877-78.	1876-77.	1877-78.
Midnapore	2,831	3,599	55,430	68,000	21·7	26·7
Bankoora	409	423	11,010	11,597	20	22
Burdwan	1,035	1,068	28,820	32,219	14·1	15·8
Beerbhoom	331	368	8,512	9,242	12·1	13·3
Hooghly	263	365	8,818	7,951	6	10·5
Howrah		48		1,801		2·4

Mr. T. Grant, the Magistrate of Bankoora, thinks that no real extension of primary education has yet taken place, and that we are only gradually bringing under the cognizance of Government, schools which were actually in existence before. He deprecates the tendency to force schools up into a higher nominal grade by means of the primary grant funds, merely in order that districts may gain a fictitious credit for educational advancement; and he expresses a belief that in many instances the attendance at even the so-called primary schools is purposely exaggerated. As to this, the Commissioner very rightly remarks:—

"It is no doubt true that the exertions of the officers have as yet effected little more than the registration of already existing schools. But this means supervision, and in Midnapore I think more than this has been done, and the numbers have actually increased. Mr. Grant's views are, I think, of a pessimist character, though containing much truth, and I believe the primary grant will ultimately both extend and improve primary education. I do not see how, under any conceivable system, we can do more at first than find and take charge of the existing schools. Such a process must precede extension, and all that is necessary is to distinguish carefully the point where extension begins. As regards the diversion of the primary grant from its purpose, and the tendency to raise the classification of schools, Mr. Grant is undoubtedly right, and I have, before seeing his remarks, made similar observations in the Education Report."

In the higher class schools and in female education not so much progress has been made during the year as could be wished.

25. Committees.—As might be expected in a division containing so many men of education and enlightenment, the district committees of all kinds have been a great assistance to the Magistrates, the municipal committees especially taking much interest in their work and doing much good locally.

26. Conduct of zemindars.—There is but little to notice specially under this head. Where there are so many public spirited landowners as there are in the Burdwan division, it would be invidious to name any, unless, indeed, it be His Highness the Maharajah of Burdwan, who is always foremost in assisting Government and setting a good example to the whole province. None of the zemindars gave any special trouble during the year, and they were all, as a rule, on tolerable terms with their tenants.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

A. MACKENZIE,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL GENERAL REPORT OF THE PATNA DIVISION FOR THE YEAR 1877-78.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—MISCELLANEOUS.

Calcutta, the 30th September 1877.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The General Administration Report for the Patna Division for 1877-78.

THE report is submitted by Mr. F. M. Halliday, who labours under the disadvantage of only having taken charge of the division 15 days before the close of the year. Mr. Molony was Commissioner for the greater part of the year under review.

2. Annual Tours.—Mr. Molony did a fair amount of inspection work, though hardly as much as is usual in a Behar division. Among the Collectors, Mr. Worsley (Mozufferpore), Mr. MacDonnell (Durbhunga), and Mr. Toynbee (Patna) deserve credit for the thorough character of their work in this as in other respects. Mr. Worsley in particular, it is said, "never restricted his tours to any one portion of the year, but spent portions of each quarter of the year in the interior of his district. There was scarcely any tract which he had not visited once, and many parts of the district received two or three visits in the course of the year. The total number of days he passed in the interior was 102, and the total distance travelled 2,000 miles." It is observed that both in Mozufferpore and Patna, where the Collectors made themselves acquainted with many parts of their jurisdiction, the results led to great improvements in the schemes of local roads. In the remaining districts of the division tour duty was not sufficiently attended to, and it is particularly unsatisfactory to observe that in Shahabad Mr. Wells, who was in charge from April to August, and again from 8th November to 9th January, was only 14 days out in camp.

3. Weather and Crops.—The Commissioner has omitted to give the figures of the rainfall of the year, but describes it generally as having been in most districts not only scanty, but badly distributed. This was particularly noticeable in Gya and Shahabad where the consequences to the crops would have been serious but for the distribution of water from the Soane Canals. In Sarun also the autumn crops were poor, and the winter rice an almost absolute failure. In Chumparun the same effects were felt, though not quite in the same degree. But in Patna the autumn crop was fortunately large, and in spite of the vicissitudes of season, there was a fair harvest of winter rice. In Mozufferpore and Durbhunga the crops were fair. Many parts of the division suffered from caterpillars and blight, which destroyed much of the opium and seed crops. Altogether the year was a bad one for the crops of the Patna Division.

4. Public Health.—In striking contrast with the reports from other parts of the province, the public health of all districts, except Chumparun, is stated to have been unusually good. Chumparun suffered from a severe outbreak of cholera; while fever was also very prevalent. Cholera also appeared in Durbhunga and Shahabad in a somewhat virulent form, but generally the division seems to have been singularly free from epidemics of all kinds.

5. Material condition of the people.—The low condition of the agricultural and labouring classes in Behar has formed the subject of much consideration of late years. It is needless to repeat what has been often said before as to the ignorance, indebtedness, and general helplessness of the Behar ryot. No fresh touches are added in this year's report to the melancholy picture, but it may fairly be assumed that, as it was a year of short crops and high prices, there must have been even more than the usual pressure upon the masses. The division was unable to retain and pay for its own produce, and exportation carried away a large proportion of the crops and stocks. It is only apparently in the north-east of Shahabad and along the Soane that the ryots have anywhere got a position of comfort. There, however, it appears that they sit at comparatively low rates with transferable occupancy rights, and cultivate a good soil. They are consequently both independent and well to do: a proof of which is that recently they bought in 10 of their villages at revenue sales for an aggregate price of Rs. 2,19,320; borrowing the money, it is true, and giving the lenders a share in the villages, but none the less furnishing a remarkable instance of what security of tenant right may effect even in Behar.

6. Emigration.—This remedy for the overcrowding of population is but little resorted to in Behar. The number of emigrants rose, however, from 4,482 in 1876-77 to 11,400 in the year of review. But of these 8,734 came from Shahabad, and it is known that the majority of coolies registered there were brought from Ghazeepore and the distressed districts of the North-Western Provinces, so that probably there was but little more emigration from Behar Proper even under the pressure which undoubtedly existed than in any former years. There is known, however, to be a considerable annual exodus, especially from Sarun, of labourers in search of work. Some information should have been given as to how far this periodic and temporary emigration was affected by the character of the year. It came under the Lieutenant-Governor's notice that some five thousand Behar labourers, chiefly from Sarun, were employed during the last winter in the Rungpore and Dhoobree road.

7. Prices and Wages.—The average prices of rice and wheat stood thus in each district:—

	Rice. S.	c.	Wheat. S.	c.		Rice. S.	c.	Wheat. S.	c.
Patna	16	3	17	7	Durbhunga	14	5	16	5
Gya	16	2	19	0	Sarun	13	9	13	1
Shahabad	14	8	16	0	Chumparun	14	0	16	9
Mozufferpore	16	4	19	2

At the close of the year prices were everywhere higher than the above, and during the year continued exportation prevented the harvests from affecting the local markets even temporarily. Fortunately large crops of potatoes, carrots, and other vegetables mitigated the pressure on the lower classes. Wages are as low as before, and the worst effect of a bad year is that the demand for agricultural labour is actually lessened.

8. Manufactures.—Improvements in the manufacture of sugar were effected during the year by Messrs. Thomson and Mylne of Beheea, whose mills are now used by the natives, not only in Behar, but in Jessore and other parts of Bengal. Only the Magistrates of Mozufferpore and Durbhunga mention the indigo outturn of the year. It would seem that in those districts the produce was extremely good, but the rates obtained at sales were low. An interesting account is given of the beginning of tea cultivation in Chumparun, where Mr. J. M. Gibbon has started a garden on some small hills near Tribani, and put out some 40 acres of tea. The climate is, however, said to be there unhealthy for Europeans, and there is a difficulty from want of water.

9. Trade and Commerce.—The export trade of the year was extremely brisk. The traffic on the Tirhoot State Railway is increasing, even although the bulk of the Durbhunga rice tract lies well to the east of it, and the produce is taken off still by country carts. Mr. MacDonnell believes that the railway will not reach its full development until it is extended by Narayah and Pertabgunge to Julpigoree, and from Somastipore to Hajipore. The detailed figures of the trade of the division will be given, so far as they are reliable, in the Report on Internal Trade. The Lieutenant-Governor has no doubt that a great impetus to trade would be given by the connection of the line with Hajipore, but probably this should be done by a link between Mozufferpore and Hajipore. It was no doubt a great mistake originally to have taken the line to Bazitpore instead of to Hajipore, the natural outlet of the tracts of the surrounding districts.

10. State of public feeling.—Naturally enough, in a great Mahomedan city like Patna, a keen interest was taken in the Russo-Turkish war, the telegrams in the vernacular being hawked about the streets and meeting with a ready sale. But when the end came, it seems to have been accepted as inevitable. The year was an unfortunate one in which to have to introduce extra taxation, and there has been a good deal of grumbling, especially among the zemindars. The house tax under the Road Cess Act caused also dissatisfaction among the petty householders and shopkeepers. This tax has, however, since been abolished. In Sarun, there was an additional grievance in the growing charges on account of the Gunduck Embankment. This is now the subject of a special inquiry. The Soane Canal is becoming very popular, both with landlords and ryots of the tracts benefited by it

11. In the matter of indigo, Mr. MacDonnell writes disparagingly of the work of the Indigo Planters' Association, so far as Durbhunga is concerned, holding that the Association as a body has done nothing to redeem its pledges. He admits at the same time that much has been done during the year to improve matters in his district, partly through the action of the Durbhunga Raj management, partly through the voluntary reforms carried out by individual planters, and partly from the strict and impartial enforcement of the law. In three of the largest concerns, however, he regrets to have to report that matters are still on a most unsatisfactory footing. He believes that the people are gradually waking up to their rights and learning to turn to the district officers for protection against oppression.

Mr. Worsley, on the other hand, writes:—

"There has been a marked improvement in the relations existing between indigo planters and ryots, the evidences of which may be found in a great decrease of criminal cases and in less discontented feelings among the ryots. One or two factories, which 15 months ago were the worst managed in the district, will now bear comparison with any factory, and no instance has come to my knowledge in which a member of the Indigo Association has infringed any of the rules by which he is bound. Various rumours have at different times prevailed regarding the new rate to be paid to the ryots, but it is now everywhere understood that the higher rate has been fixed by the planters themselves, and not by Government. In several cases where ryots have been inclined to hold out for a Rs. 20 rate, asserting that such rate had been fixed by Government, planters have found it good policy to refer them to the Collector, with a promise that whatever rate he should name they would be willing to pay. Such ryots, on being told by me that the rate they were offered was that which had been fixed by the whole body of planters, have invariably made no further opposition.

"Knowing the difficulties that must attend the introduction of indigo reforms, and the proneness of natives to attribute concessions to the influence of fear, I have endeavoured to avoid the appearance of being personally interested in the new arrangements, but at the same time I have been specially careful to employ European assistants in locally investigating all important cases connected with factories. I am happy to add that the testimony of both sub-divisional officers is favourable to the planters."

The Commissioner remarks as follows on the reports of these two officers:—

"Notwithstanding Mr. MacDonnell's assertion that in Durbhunga the Indigo Planters' Association had done next to nothing to redeem its pledges up to the time of his writing, it is satisfactory to find his admission that a very great deal of good had been done during the past year owing to the influence brought to bear in the Court of Wards' estates, and the good feelings and intelligent appreciation of the wants of the times on the part of some individual managers of factories. The good examples of such individual management, I think, cannot but extend gradually, and the facts of the existence of the Association is a sign that among the body of planters there is a general desire to put their house in order, and an admission that such a process was needed. In every body of the kind there will be recusants: witness the examples pointed out by Mr MacDonnell: but considering the deep-seated nature of the evils to be eradicated, and the long-continued prevalence of those evils, I think to expect a sudden revulsion, such as Mr. MacDonnell in his right-minded zeal appears to have hoped for, was an over-sanguine anticipation. We may fairly congratulate ourselves on the results which have hitherto been achieved, with the determination, however, that there must be no slackening in the application of pressure upon the Association to insist on the removal of abuses that have been pointed out, and which the Association has pledged itself to correct. That there are signs hopeful to the ultimate realization of wider spread reforms may be gathered from Mr. Worsley's remarks of his district of Mozufferpore, where he considers a 'marked improvement' has taken place, and factories which 15 months ago were the worst managed in the district will now bear comparison with any factory.

"This testimony, from an officer of Mr. Worsley's experience in the district, and interest shown by him on this subject, is, it seems to me, encouraging"

The Lieutenant-Governor agrees generally in the tenor of the Commissioner's remarks. He acknowledges gladly that the Planters' Association have shown themselves ready to meet the views of Government in the best possible spirit, and in the case of two of the factories of which Mr. MacDonnell makes unfavourable mention, the Lieutenant-Governor has received assurances, in one instance from the Association, and in the other from the Manager himself, that the necessary reforms shall be carried out. If district officers will only treat with the Association in a conciliatory manner and invite their attention firmly, but politely, to violations of their rules or to abuses of other kinds, there is every reason to hope that a very marked improvement will be brought about in the conduct of indigo operations in Behar. At the same time the Magistrates must, where cases of violence or oppression come before them, not shrink from a scrupulous and impartial enforcement of the law, whichever party is to blame. There is no doubt that many of the evils which now exist in Behar, both in respect to indigo cultivation and the tenures of land, have been allowed to spring up and gain strength from a laxity of administration on the part of district officers.

12. In Sarun, Mr. Hodgkinson writes strongly in deprecation of the extension of indigo cultivation by the operations of small native speculators, which deprives the district of many thousand beeghas that would otherwise be under cereal crops. He points out how the expenses of indigo cultivation are run up by the system of dealing with the landowners into whose pocket, and not that of the cultivator, the whole benefit of the factory outlay goes; and the result of the strong position held by the land owner is said to be to render the manufacture of indigo on a commercial basis absolutely unprofitable. Many of the small factories are now, he adds, being closed.

13. In Chumparun the relations of planters and ryots are said to have been, comparatively speaking, satisfactory, though there was some temporary discontent in parts of the Bettia sub-division.

14. Public Press.—There are six vernacular papers and periodicals published in the division. The best is said to be the Behar Scientific Society's Journal. None of them have any influence on public opinion.

15. Effect of administrative changes.—The only measure noticed under this head is the Land Registration Act, which seems in Behar, owing perhaps to the multiplicity of shareholders, to have called forth an enormous number of dormant frivolous and false claims, in dealing with which some of the disposing officers did not always show a sound discretion. The Act appears to have had some effect in promoting the appointment of joint managers, for it is noted that, whereas in Gya the old registers showed over a hundred thousand shareholders, only 27,000 applications for registration have been filed under the new law.

16. Police and Crime.—The returns show a steady diminution of crime since 1874, apparent chiefly under the head of offences against property. The decrease is both in reported crime and in the number of true cases. The following table gives the figures:—

Districts.	True cases.			Total number of cases reported.			Number declared false.			Percentage of cases declared false.
	1875.	1876.	1877.	1875.	1876.	1877.	1875.	1876.	1877.	1875.	1876.	1877.

The proportion of true crime to area and population stands thus:—

Districts.	To area.	To population.
Patna	·9 per square mile ...	1 in 385
Gya	·7 do. do. ...	1 „ 546
Shahabad	·6 do. do. ...	1 „ 648
Mozufferpore	·7 do. do. ...	1 „ 1,017
Durbhunga	·8 do. do. ...	1 „ 901
Sarun	·9 do. do. ...	1 „ 794
Chumparun	·3 do. do. ...	1 „ 1,240

and the result for the whole division has been, with reference to area, 7 per square mile; population, 1 in 740.

Thus the position of the several districts in respect to criminality remains the same as in previous years, Patna showing the largest criminal population—a fact obviously attributable to the existence of the large city of Patna with its enormous population—and Chumparun the smallest.

The percentage of convictions to arrests under cognizable crime was 60·1 in 1877, against 60·5 in 1876 and 56·8 in 1875. The results are fair. The conduct of the police is said to have been good on the whole, though Mr. MacDonnell finds fault with the sub-inspectors and head-constables in Durbhunga.

17. Civil Justice.—The subject is not treated with sufficient fullness. District officers should always consult the District Judges upon this section of their annual report. The old complaints of delay and expense in the disposal of rent suits is repeated. The non-existence of Moonsifs' courts in the sub-divisions of Jehanabad and Nowada is remarked upon, and the lawless character of many of the Nowada people attributed to the difficulty of getting their disputes settled by the civil courts. This subject will receive the immediate attention of Government in the Judicial Department.

18. Land Revenue.—The collections were 98·5 per cent. of the demand, against 97·8 in the year preceding—a very satisfactory result. In Government estates the collections were only 81 per cent. of the demand, a result which, though a great advance upon the 58 per cent. of last year, is still far below a proper standard. The number of cases instituted under the Land Registration Act was enormous. The following table gives the district details:—

Districts.	Total for disposal.	Disposed of.	Pending.
Patna	38,835	22,071	16,764
Gya ...	12,199	8,024	4,175
Shahabad ...	23,172	12,338	10,834
Mozufferpore	50,792	21,076	29,716
Durbhunga ...	54,875	21,695	33,180
Sarun ...	15,636	5,421	10,215
Chumparun ...	886	825	61
Total ...	196,395	91,450	104,945

The outturn of work has thus been very satisfactory, 46 per cent. of the cases instituted having been finally disposed of. This result is the more satisfactory as it has been brought about by a comparatively small staff of officers.

There was a satisfactory decrease in partition cases, only 89 being instituted, against 331 in 1876-77. This is partly due to the new Partition Act and partly to the effect of the Land Registration Act. The number of cases pending disposal is still large (688).

19. Excise.—The revenue rose, notwithstanding the high prices of food, from Rs. 13,73,067 to Rs. 14,56,728, or nearly 6 per cent. The increase was common to all districts but Shahabad. Country spirits contributed Rs. 7,39,340 of the total, and an increase of Rs. 35,084 over the receipts of last year, with a diminution in consumption of 133,616 gallons. The Patna Division, however, consumes more spirits than all the rest of Bengal and Behar, including Calcutta. In 1876-77 it consumed 1,764,305 gallons, against 777,108 gallons consumed in all the rest of the province. Tari last year yielded a revenue of Rs. 3,99,256. Ganja shows an increased consumption of 469 maunds, chiefly owing to increased export to the North-West and Nepal.

20. Monetary matters.—The demand for currency notes was brisk. They are used here, as in other divisions, mainly for purposes of remittance. The Savings Bank system makes no progress, and Money Orders are but sparingly resorted to, currency notes being generally preferred.

21. Public Works.—The earnings of the Tirhoot State Railway were Rs. 2,99,557, and the expenditure Rs. 2,09,251. The income would have been greater but for the demand for imported grains in Sarun and Chumparun which to some extent drew away in that direction the stocks of Tirhoot, and there was some delay in introducing through-booking with the East Indian Railway, which tended to keep matters back. A proposed line from Mozufferpore through Motiharee and Segowlee to Bettiah has been surveyed. The Gya and Patna Railway works are rapidly progressing. Of the irrigation works of the division, the Patna branch of the Soane Canal has been opened for navigation, and the construction of distributaries is being vigorously pushed on. In Gya the main canal is complete, and 161 miles of distributaries have been sanctioned and are in hand. In Shahabad the works are well advanced, and distributaries are being rapidly completed. In Chumparun a canal to irrigate 37,000 acres of land in the north of the sudder sub-division has been completed, the whole cost of which will be defrayed by the landowners. The Gunduck embankments lie in Mozufferpore, Sarun, and Chumparun, and the Magistrates of all these districts question whether, as it now stands, the injury done by it in keeping water and alluvial deposit off the lands does not more than counterbalance the benefit of preventing floods. The expenditure incurred since the embankment was taken over by the Irrigation Department is also matter of serious complaint, and not, the Lieutenant-Governor fears, without reason; but for this expenditure the Collectors are responsible, as the sanctioning of fresh works rest with them. The Irrigation Department has had its attention specially directed to this portion of the report. A scheme has already been put in hand in Sarun for throwing water from the Gunduck into the old water-courses, and using these as distributaries.

22. The roads of the division are generally in fair order, but the Commissioner remarks that little or nothing has hitherto been done towards the improvement of village communications. This is a point of the highest importance, and Mr. Halliday has rightly pressed it upon the notice of the District Committees.

23. Education.—There has been a marked improvement during the year in the number of primary schools and pupils, the former having increased by 1,410 and the latter by 16,945, thus giving an average of one school to every seven square miles of area, against one to every twelve miles in 1876-77; and an average of 5·3 pupils to every 1,000 of the population, against an average of 4·1. The bulk of the increase is in Patna, Gya, and Sarun. The number of Mahomedan pupils has risen from 6,896 to 10,196, and of female pupils from 696 to 715. The attendance at European and Eurasian schools fell from 185 to 143. The increase in primary schools seems to be due to the introduction of a system devised by the Inspector, Baboo Bhudeb Mookerjea, which is a modification of the Midnapore plan of payment by results, and the progress of which the Lieutenant-Governor will watch with interest.

24. Working of Committees.—These are said to have rendered valuable assistance to the district officers. But no detailed notice is given of their working in each district.

25. Wards' Estates.—There are 29 estates under the Court of Wards in this division, many of them, especially in the Sarun district, deeply involved in debt. In the Durbhunga estate the new system of khas management has now been brought into working order, and the collections of last year were larger than those of any preceding year. The Maharajah had an important portion of the property under his direct charge, and showed so much intelligence and capacity for work, that he has been allowed to take over the assistant manager's office during Mr Llewhellin's absence on leave. His brother, Kumar Rameshwar Sing, is favourably reported upon by the Collector whose assistant he now is.

25. Conduct of Zemindars.—The zemindars are, as a rule, well disposed and ready to assist local officers, though but few of them have any proper sense of the duties they owe their tenantry. In some parts of Tirhoot the relations of landlords and tenants have been much disturbed, the ryot having found out the value of the road cess returns filed by the zemindars, and taking their stand on the rents there entered, while the zemindars complain of the expense to which they are put by the practice of the ryots depositing their rents in the civil court. A similar movement was apparent in Durbhunga. But on the whole the effect there, owing to the judicious guidance of Mr. MacDonnell, seems to have been to force the two parties into compromise and amicable settlement. Both in Sarun and Chumparun the reports indicate the existence of a similar struggle between exacting landlords on the one hand, and ryots, on whom a knowledge of their rights is gradually dawning, on the other. It may be hoped that the Commission lately appointed to examine the question of a special rent law for Behar will be able to devise measures for improving the position of both landlord and tenant and securing the beginnings of prosperity for this very backward province.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

A. MACKENZIE,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops.

Statement showing Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops in the different Districts of Bengal, as reported to Government during the week ending the 28th September 1878.

No.	District, and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Stations in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date
	BENGAL. Western Districts.
BURDWAN DIVN. 1	Burdwan. Sep. 28 '78	5·14	It has rained almost every day, and sometimes the whole day long. The state and prospects of the crops on the whole are favourable. Some slight injury may have been caused in parts of the district by inundation.
	Culna ..	8·10
	Cutwa ...	7·16
	Bood-Bood ...	6·93
	Raneegunge ...	2·10
	Jehanabad ..	10·91
2	Bankoora, „ 28 „	4·20	Weather—much fresher than last week owing to rain. Heavy dews at night. Clouds still low. The state and prospects of the crops are good. Pulses and aus crop are being reaped.
3	Beerbhoom, „ 28 „	5·16	Very heavy rain on the 22nd and 23rd September, especially in the south-east of the district. The state and prospects of the crops are very good. The fields in the immediate neighbourhood of the Adjai and other larger streams were flooded for some hours, but the water retreated before any material harm was done anywhere.
4	Midnapore, „ 28 „	4·50	Weather—seasonable The state and prospects of the crops are favourable.
5	Hooghly, „ 28 „	11·73	Weather—cloudy, with frequent showers. The harvesting of the aus is still in progress. The cutting of jute has nearly been completed. The prospect of the amun is good. Autumn fever prevails everywhere.
	Howrah, „ 30* „	6·00	Very heavy rain on the 22nd, with strong gusts of wind. The rain is said to have been too much for the amun crop in the northern thanas, but the damage, if any, will be slight. The crop generally is very promising.
	Moheshrakha ...	9·71
	Central Districts
PRESIDENCY DIVN. 6	24-Pergunnahs. Sep. 28 '78	5·)	Weather—stormy and very wet in the beginning of the week; afterwards seasonable. Even where the rain was excessive little damage is reported; in all other places it has done great good to the crops. Fever is still prevalent.
7	Nuddea, „ 28 „	3·84	Weather—rainy, with occasional sunshine. The harvesting of the aus has been completed everywhere. The prospects of the amun are good. Prices still continue high.
	Kooshtea ...	9·42
	Meherpore ...	7·09
	Chooadanga ..	4·32
	Bongong ...	6·51
8	Jessore, „ 28 „	7·87	Frequent showers; heavy rain on two days with high wind The amun crop is doing well everywhere In parts of Magoora the stocks are low at present. At Salkhia coarse rice has been selling at seven seers per rupee There is a good deal of fever about.
	Jhenida ...	9·05
	Magoora ..	9·14
	Khoolna ...	2·59
	Narail ..	3·20
	Bagirhat ..	2·5
9	Moorshedabad „ 28 „	9·06	Weather—seasonable. The winter rice and sugarcane continue to do well. The rivers are falling, and the low lands are being sown in some places.
	Lalbagh ..	6·06
	Rampore Hât ..	2·18
	Jungypore ...	5·39
RAJSHAHYE AND COOCH BEHAR DIVS. 10	Dinagepore, „ 27 „	1·19	Weather—very strong, with heavy rain from the north The station is under its fifth flood. Heavy rain is unfavourable for the rice crop on low lands. Generally an average crop is expected.
11	Rajshahye, „ 28 „	9·17	Heavy rain during the week throughout the district. The prospect of amun dhan continues to be satisfactory. Ropa dhan is still being transplanted and, has been much benefited by the last rain. Fever is reported from several police stations.
12	Rungpore, „ 27 „*	5·00	Weather—hot and cloudy. The amun crop on the high lands promises well and the outturn from it is likely to be remarkably good, but on the low lands it has been damaged by flood. Public health is good for the season of year.
	Gaibanda ...	3·81
	Bagdogra ...	12·87
	Kurigram ...	14·30
13	Bogra, „ 28 „	3·75	Weather—stormy and rainy during the early part of the week, and sultry towards the end. The amun crop is doing well. The cutting of jute and aus rice is nearly over. The price of rice has fallen a little this week, 12 seers being sold per rupee The general health is good, except that fever, as is generally the case at this time of the year, is prevalent here and there.
14	Pubna, „ 28 „	5·97	A heavy storm of wind and rain on the evening of the 22nd, since which some more rain. The prospects of amun are good. The price of rice remains about the same, higher if anything; at Serajgunge it is 8 seers per rupee, and at Pubna 10 seers. Public health is good.

* Report of 30th shows rainfall during week ending 28th.

	No.	District, and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
		BENGAL.—(Continued.)
Rajshahye & Cooch Behar Divn.—contd.		Central Districts.—(Contd.)
	15	Darjeeling, Sep. 28 '78	5·73	Alternate sunshine and rain during the week. The crops both on the Hills and in the Terai are progressing favourably.
	16	Julpigoree, „ 28 „	11·07	Heavy rain for the first three days of the week. Hot and sultry weather since. Clouds are still hanging about More rain is wanted. No change to report in the prospects of the crops, which are all that can be wished for.
		Cooch Behar, „ 26 „	19·30	The Sudder station was visited by something like a cyclone, which lasted three days, blowing from east to west. The early part of the week was intensely hot. The very heavy and unexpected rainfall of the 22nd, 23rd, and 24th September has done much injury to tobacco and will greatly retard that crop. Rice on low lands must have suffered, but generally the prospects of rice are good. Many trees were blown down near Cooch Behar. The rain and wind were incessant for three days. There are reports of more floods, but nothing certain is yet known. Public health is good.
		Dinhatta ...	3·97
		Mathabhanga ...	12·86
		Meckligunge ...	0·85
		Eastern Districts.
Dacca Divn.	17	Dacca, Sep. 28 '78	5·55	Weather—seasonable. The state and prospects of the crops are fair.
		Manickgunge ...	6 6
	18	Furreedpore, „ 29[1] „	3·66	Weather—seasonable. The crops on the ground are in excellent condition, but prices are very high.
		Goalundo ...	4·53
		Madaripore ...	4·93
	19	Backergunge, „ 26 „	3·19	There has been rain every day since the 21st The weather was stormy on the 22nd, 23rd and 24th. The recent abundant rainfall has saved the amun crop, which in many places was suffering from drought In the south of the district insects appeared and did some slight damage, but it is believed the rain has washed them out. Prices have risen this week. Health is good.
	20	Mymensingh, „ 27 „	12·71	Heavy rain on the 22nd and 23rd September. The crops on the high lands are very promising. The river is high in flood, and complaints have again been received.
	21	Tipperah, „ 27 „	2·27	Weather—changeable on some days; hot and oppressive, with occasional heavy storms of wind and rain. In the north and west of the district some injury to the amun dhan has been done by the floods. In the south and east it is in good condition.
		Brahmunbaria ...	1·72
		Chandpore ...	3·15
Chittagong Divn.	22	Chittagong, „ 26 „	7·92	Heavy gale and rain squalls from the 21st to the 24th September. The state and prospects of the crops are very good. The aus harvest is finished, and the amun transplanting is nearly so.
	23	Noakholly	.....	Return not received.
	24	Chittagong Hill Tracts	.....	Return not received.
		Hill Tipperah, „ 25 „	2·74	There were stiff gusts of wind coming from the south-east on the 22nd and 23rd September, but the weather has since been calm. The rainfall has been continuous since the 19th. There is no change to report in the state and prospects of the crops.
		BEHAR.
Patna Divn.	25	Patna, Sep. 28 '78	1·47	Weather—seasonable. The state and prospects of the crops are very good. The rice crop is now safe from failure, and if the weather continues favourable, it will be a bumper crop.
		Behar ...	0·55
		Dinapore ...	2 71
	26	Gya, „ 28 „	4 87	The general appearance of the sky was partly cloudy and partly clear during the week. The maximum reading of the thermometer in the shade was 93·5. The bhadoi crop is being harvested. It is reported from everywhere that rain for present purposes is sufficient. A few cases of cholera and small-pox have been reported, and the health of the plough cattle is good.
		Aurungabad ...	2 55
		Jehanabad ...	Nil
		Nowada ...	1·65
	27	Shahabad, „ 28 „	4·35	Alternate rain and sunshine. A heavy shower on the night of the 22nd September. The reaping of the bhadoi is almost over. The late rains have benefited the aghani crop, but more rain is wanted in some places. Cholera is prevalent in some places in the Bhabooah sub-division.
	28	Durbhunga, „ 28 „	1·46	Weather—cloudy and rainy. Bhadoi is being harvested. Winter rice is promising. Prices are gradually falling.
	29	Mozufferpore, „ 28 „	1·84	Weather—cool and cloudy. The rainfall in some parts of the interior has been as much as 7 inches. The greater portion of the bhadoi crops has now been reaped. The rice crop is in excellent condition.
		Seetamurhee ..	1 98
		Hajeepore ...	5 95
	30	Sarun, „ 28 „	3·13	Weather—cloudy, with occasional sunshine Rain fell in almost every part of the district during the week and did much good to the aghani rice, but more rain is still wanted. Sugarcane is doing well. Prices of the coarser grains are rapidly falling. Fever is still prevalent.
		Sewan ...	3·03
		Gopalgunge ...	0·81
	31	Champaran, „ 28 „	2·32	Weather—hot and close during the day, but cool at night. The prospects of the existing crops are excellent. Bhadoi has been commenced to be harvested Rain is not wanted.

[1] Report of 29th shows rainfall during week ending 28th.

No.	District, and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
BEHAR.—(Contd.)
Bhagulpore Division. 32	Monghyr, Sep. 28 '78	3·12	Good rain for the crops, but the weather is rather unwholesome. The crops are doing very well. Prices are already falling.
	Begusserai ...	1·62
	Jamui ..	4·23
33	Bhagulpore, „ 28 „	1·49	Weather—cloudy and stormy. This rain has come most opportunely, and the rice crop is secure and will be an almost unprecedented one.
34	Purneah, „ 28 „	1·65	Weather—fair; showry at the commencement of the week. Winds easterly. The prospects of the crops are very good. Health is generally fair.
	Kissengunge ...	4·73
	Arrareah ..	3·10
35	Maldah, „ 28 „	1·52	Weather—showery and cool during the week. The crops have received much benefit from the gentle rain. The rivers are still falling. Fever is prevalent as before.
36	Sonthal Perghs., „ 29* „	8·10	Rain in Doomka very heavy and almost unceasing for the first half of the week. The barometer has gone up $\frac{3}{10}$ths of an inch since the 22nd September. The early rice that will ripen within the next month is unusually good. The prospects of the late rice are as good as possible. The maize in Rajmehal has been declared a 9-anna crop or $\frac{3}{4}$ths average. The bhadoi dhan is declared a 13-anna crop or good average. In the other sub-divisions the prospects are said to be very good.
	Deoghur ...	6·43
	Godda ...	3·49
	Rajmehal ...	2·34
	Pakour ..	4·44
	Jamtara ...	1·51
ORISSA.
Orissa Divn. 37	Cuttack, Sep. 28 '78	0·69	Weather—cloudy, with rain and sunshine alternately. There has been more rain in the interior than at head-quarters, and the sarad is progressing well. The beali is being reaped, and the outturn is estimated at 12 to 16 annas. Cholera has lessened greatly.
38	Pooree, „ 27 „	2·47	Weather—hot and cloudy. Rain is reported from all parts of the district. Beali and mandia are being harvested. Sarad rice is progressing well, but more rain is required in the Chilka tracts. Common rice sells at $11\frac{4}{5}$th seers for the rupee in the Chilka tracts. In the other parts of the district it sells at $13\frac{1}{4}$ to $18\frac{3}{4}$ seers for the rupee. Exportation across the Chilka continues. A native vessel is waiting for cargo in Pooree Roads Public health is good.
	Khoorda ...	1·23
39	Balasore, „ 27 „	2·11	Tolerably heavy showers have alternated with strong sunshine. Weather very favourable for the winter rice crop, which is making satisfactory progress. There is still a good deal of cattle disease.
	Bhudruck ...	2·95
CHOTA NAGPORE.
	South-West Frontier Agency.
40	Hazareebagh, Sep. 27 '78	1·26	Weather—seasonable. All continues favourable. Gora dhan and muruca are being cut with very good returns. A few cases of cholera are still reported.
41	Lohardugga, „ 28 „	4·01	Weather—seasonable, with abundant rain and strong sunshine alternating. No change to report. All crops that have been cut (Indian-corn, gora, &c.) have yielded abundantly, and all other crops still on the ground promise well.
	Palamow ...	0·98
42	Singbhoom, „ 27 „	0·25	Weather—seasonable. The crops continue doing well. Prices are falling and matters are generally satisfactory. Sickness is still prevalent.
43	Manbhoom, „ 28 „	3·15	Weather—sunny and at present favourable. The state and prospects of the crops are the same as before. If there be a little rain in October, there will be from a 12 to 16-anna low land crop in the larger portion of the district, and probably an 8-anna low land crop in the pergunnahs in which relief works are being carried on.

* Report of 29th shows rainfall during week ending 28th.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h., and 22h.; the maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction and movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

Passenger boats.—A charge of one anna per head per mile on 1st class passengers, i.e., by steamers and boats and ¼ (quarter) pie per head per mile for all other passengers over and above the toll leviable from the boats or steamers by measurement. This charge to be leviable from the owners of boats or steamers and not from the passengers, except when a Government boat or steamer is hired by any person for his exclusive use. The hire in such cases charged by Government is for the use of the boat, and the tollage of boat, plus mileage charge per head, will be levied from the passenger at the rate of one anna.

Empty boats.—To be charged on tonnage of the boat itself as ascertained from its draught for displacement.

Exemption.—From payment of canal dues at the above rates for goods will not be allowed to any department or departments. The canal officers, i.e., those directly in charge of irrigation works, and whose duty will necessitate travelling through the canal for inspection thereof, and the Deputy Revenue Superintendent, will be allowed to pass free of tollage. All other Government officers, heretofore passed free on grant of certificates of being on duty, will be expected to pay the required tollage for themselves and baggage boats.

Special rate.—Allowed to Messrs. Bullock, Welsted and Co. for their boats and passenger steamers, will cease from the 1st October next, and they will be charged thereafter similarly as the general public at the rates above notified, their boats and steamers being measured in accordance with existing rules for such measurement.

Demurrage.—The number of days which a boat entering the canal by booking or paying tollage at one of the locks may remain in it without additional payment, shall be calculated at the rate of one day for every eight miles or portion of eight miles to be traversed. Boats remaining for a longer period will pay a demurrage of eight annas per 100 maunds per diem for each day or part of a day that they may remain in excess.

The Indian Law Reports.

Published under Authority of the Governor-General in Council.

THE Reports appear in monthly parts, published as soon as possible after the first of each month at Calcutta, Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad, and will comprise four series,—one for the Calcutta High Court, a second for the Madras High Court, a third for the Bombay High Court, and a fourth for the Allahabad High Court. The cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from each High Court will be reported in the Series for that High Court. Cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from Provinces in India not subject to any High Court will be reported in the Calcutta Series.

The Parts of each Series can be had separately, or all four Parts can be had stitched into one wrapper at the option of subscribers and purchasers. It will be observed from the following statement of the terms of subscription and sale, that a considerable reduction is allowed to persons taking the complete set.

Terms of subscription, payable annually in advance.

	Without postage.	With postage.
For the Calcutta Series...	Rs. 35	Rs. 40
,, Madras Series ...	,, 8	,, 9
,, Bombay Series...	,, 8	,, 9

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL REPORT ON THE CALCUTTA MEDICAL INSTITUTIONS FOR 1877.

Dated Darjeeling, the 22nd September 1878.

READ—

The Report on the Calcutta Medical Institutions for 1877.

Read also—

The Report for 1876 and the Resolution recorded thereon.

The returns for the past year show an increase in the number of patients treated at each of the medical institutions of the town and suburbs, except the Alipore and Aratoon Apcar Dispensaries, at each of which there was a slight falling off. The total number of persons treated at all the institutions was greater than in any previous year; as compared with the year 1876, there was an increase of 9,793 in the patients of the Calcutta hospitals, and of 15,546 in the patients of the suburban hospitals and dispensaries. The following table shows the extent to which the public resorted to the different hospitals and dispensaries during the past three years :—

2. From the increase in the number of patients among the police force, the Surgeon-General infers that the past year was more unhealthy than 1876. There are special reasons for the increased attendance at the General and North Suburban Hospitals. The former is the chief resort for sick sailors, and during the greater part of the year the number of sailors in port was far above the average. The number of European seamen treated in the General Hospital as house patients was nearly a thousand in excess of the number in 1876. The large attendance at the North Suburban Hospital is due to the opening of the out-door department on the 9th March 1877. No explanation is offered of the great increase in the number of patients at the Medical College Hospital as compared with previous years, and the fluctuations at the other hospitals are slight and do not call for special notice.

3. The following statement shows the race and sex of all the persons treated during the past two years :—

Race.	Males.		Females.		Children.		Total.

4. It appears from this statement that the general increase in the number of patients noticed above extended to those of every race, except the small body of persons classified under the head 'Other castes.' Of the total number treated, 59·94 per cent. were males, 15·29 per cent. females, and 24·76 per cent. children. The low proportion of females to males among Hindoo and Mahomedan patients noticed and explained in last year's Resolution was this year particularly marked. Although, as compared with 1876, there was an increase of 2,194 in the number of Mahomedan males treated, there was a decrease of 453 in the number of Mahomedan females; the Hindoo adult male patients increased by 4,428, and the children by 3,575; while the Hindoo female patients increased by only 935. From a comparative statement given in the report, it appears that the total proportion of adult female patients to males and children was lower in 1877 than in any of the previous four years.

5. The following table shows the health of the town and suburbs during the past ten years, as exhibited in the hospital returns:—

* Exclusive of cases treated in the Eye Infirmary.

6. The death-rate per thousand among those treated was 133, the lowest rate during the past ten years if the exceptionally healthy period, 1871-72, is excluded. Omitting cholera cases, the mortality among the patients was 124 per thousand, a lower rate than in any of the preceding nine years. The number of, and mortality among, patients cannot however, in ordinary years, be regarded as tests of the amount of sickness and the virulence of disease. The popularity of the medical institutions of Calcutta and the suburbs is undoubtedly increasing, and is shown by persons resorting to them at the earlier stages of disease and for less serious ailments. As a necessary consequence, while the number of patients rises the death-rate falls.

7. Dr. Irving calls attention to the facts that the sewage of about 2,500 natives living in the Fort is still discharged into the river, and that cholera far more frequently attacks sailors on ships moored near to and below the place of discharge than those on ships moored higher up the river. The necessity of putting a stop to the existing practice is fully recognised, but difficulties have arisen with regard to the proposal to connect the Fort drains with the municipal sewers, and the question is still under consideration by the Government of India.

8. The statement of the principal diseases from which in-door patients suffered shows a large increase in malarious fevers. There were 6,706 admissions and 483 deaths due to fever of various types as compared with 4,730 admissions and 351 deaths in 1876. In all, 916 important surgical operations were performed during the year against 669 in 1876. The total mortality in 1877 was only 77 or 8·4 per cent. of those operated on, against 74 deaths or 11·06 per cent. in the previous year. The operations on the eye were even more successful in 1877 than in 1876. In each year only one operation ended fatally, but the number of operations was 318 in 1877, against 223 in the previous year. The results of the operations performed by the surgeons of the Calcutta Medical Institutions appear to be most satisfactory.

9. A statement of the income and expenditure of the different institutions is given in the report, but the Surgeon-General explains that it is neither accurate nor complete. The items of expenditure entered appear, however, generally to correspond with those given last year, and the statements for the two years can therefore be compared, although, except for the purpose of comparison, they are at present of little value. The whole subject of the expenditure and management of the Calcutta hospitals has been exhaustively examined by a Committee which has been sitting in Calcutta during the present year. Their report will enable the Government to carry out many reforms and to check the lavish waste which has characterized the expenditure of several of the hospitals in late years. The total amount entered as disbursed during the year was Rs. 5,09,804, against Rs. 5,07,473 in 1876; but in the statement of expenditure for 1877 the cost of European medicines used in the Medical College Hospital has been omitted, although included in the statement for 1876, while an entry under this head is made against the Campbell Hospital in the statement for 1877, though not made in the statement for 1876. In the expenditure of the General Hospital there was an increase of Rs. 37,709 above that of the previous year, and Rs. 33,366 of this increase is classed under the head 'Miscellaneous charges.' Some explanation should have been submitted of the increase in the expenditure under this head which is entirely out of proportion to the increase in the number of patients treated. The Municipal Police Hospital showed an increase in expenditure approximately proportional to the increase in the number of patients treated, while there was a decrease of expenditure in the Medical College, Campbell, North Suburban and Howrah Hospitals, notwithstanding that the number of patients treated at each of them was greater in 1877 than in 1876. It is a remarkable fact that, though in the Medical College Hospital there were 615 more in-door patients treated than in the previous year, the expenditure on diet and wines was less by Rs. 1,506. The increased expenditure of the Mayo Hospital is almost entirely under the head 'Repairs and construction of buildings,' and the large amount entered in 1876 under the same head against the Sumbhoonath Pundit's Dispensary accounts for the decrease in the expenditure on that institution in the past year. Considering the increase in the number of patients treated at the several institutions, the expenditure of the past year compares on the whole favourably with that of 1876. The Lieutenant-Governor is much surprised at finding that the accounts of the income and expenditure of the different medical institutions have hitherto been furnished in such an extremely incomplete and inaccurate form, as to render any comparison of the expenditure of the different hospitals under each head impossible. The question of the preparation of uniform returns and forms of account for all hospitals is under the consideration of the Committee on medical expenditure, and need not be further referred to here.

10. The subscriptions to the various medical institutions amounted during the year to Rs. 35,075, against Rs. 11,201 in 1876. Subscriptions to the amount of Rs. 26,093 were received for the Howrah Hospital alone in 1877. The only institution that invested any surplus income during the year was the Aratoon Apcar Dispensary.

11. Calcutta Hospital Nurses' Institution.—The Lieutenant-Governor notices with much pleasure the high testimony again borne to the usefulness of the services rendered by the lady nurses of the Canning Home and by the nurses employed under the Calcutta Hospital Nurses' Institution. The Lieutenant-Governor has every hope that the amalgamation of both institutions under one Committee, which has recently taken place, will be conducive of advantage to all classes of the community. The patients in hospital will receive the benefit of more skilful nursing, whilst the establishment of a body of trained out-nurses will supply a want which has long been felt in Calcutta. It seems possible, however, that the medical officers might make greater use of the nurses than they do. If, instead of leaving to them the superintendence of the wards and the administering of the medicines, they placed in their hands the dressing, poulticing, and other duties now performed by native coolies, the savings which it would be possible to effect by the abolition of hospital coolies might be given to the Nurses' Institution.

12. Medical College Hospital.—Exclusive of 536 house-patients in the Opthalmic Hospital, there were 4,431 in-door patients treated during the year. Of these 2,189 were christians and 2,242 were natives. The death-rate was 10·83 per cent. as compared with 12·9, the average of the seven previous years; excluding moribund cases, the death-rate was only 9·1 per cent of the total number treated. Of both christians and natives there were fewer admissions from cholera than in any of the previous ten years. There were 184 important surgical operations performed during the year, and in 32 cases the patients died. The deaths from septicæmia were eight, or 25 per cent. of the total deaths from operations. It is, however, by no means clear that even most of these deaths were due to hospitalism, and it appears to be conclusively shown that in many cases in which deaths have hitherto been attributed to hospitalism, mortification had set in and blood-poisoning declared itself some days before the patients were admitted to the hospital. Dr. MacConnell, the resident physician, has traced out the 30 septicæmic post mortem surgical cases which were dissected in 1873 and found that 14 of them were admitted into hospital actually suffering from the disease to which they succumbed. As Dr. Coates observes, the septicæmia was imported and not bred in the hospital. There can, the Lieutenant-Governor believes, be no doubt that a considerable portion of the mortality at this hospital which has been ascribed to hospitalism has been due to causes external to the hospital and not debitable to it. The question of the defective construction of the Surgical Wards is one which has been fully and exhaustively treated by the Committee on medical expenditure. Their opinion, which was generally concurred in by the surgical staff of the hospital, is entirely opposed to the extreme view expressed by Dr. W. Palmer regarding the defective construction of these wards. Dr. Palmer's views, moreover, appear to be entirely unsupported by the figures upon which he founds them, and they are also opposed to the views of his colleagues. The Principal, in noticing the fact that though there were isolated cases of erysipelas the disease did not spread or infect other patients, says that this is a very strong proof of the healthy quality of our hospital air, notwithstanding all that has been said about faulty construction. The whole subject has, however, been fully discussed in a separate correspondence with the Government of India, and there is no doubt whatever that the Surgeons have from time to time attributed ill-success in surgery to hospitalism. The Lieutenant-Governor must here repeat the opinion which he has already recorded in submitting the memorandum of the Committee to the Government of India that, after the improvements recommended by the Committee have been carried out, the hospital, though not perfect, will be to all intents and purposes a practically good and efficient hospital, as well adapted for the treatment of surgical cases as the great majority of European hospitals. The number of out-door patients who attended the dispensaries was higher than in any of the preceding five years, there being 47,506 cases treated against 44,679 in 1876. Dr. Irving gives the latter number as 44,556, but he appears to have compared the number of persons treated in 1877, as shown in the general statement in paragraph 2 of the report, with the number of new cases in the previous year. The erection of a new out-door dispensary, which is much wanted, has been ordered from the funds bequeathed for the purpose by the late Baboo Choonee Lall Seal. The dispensary is to be erected on a plot of land adjoining the Medical College grounds, and will be called 'Choonee Lall Seal's Charitable Dispensary.' Some of the minor improvements suggested in the 14th paragraph of the report, both at this and other hospitals, have already been sanctioned. Such recommendations should, however, form the subject of special reports, as they cannot be conveniently dealt with in a review of the administration for the past year.

13. General Hospital.—The in-door patients treated during the year were 5,144, including 531 natives; the numbers in 1876 being 3,569 christians and 430 natives. The death-rate of the christians was 4·05, and that of the natives 7·72 per cent. The great increase in the number of patients has been already explained as mainly due to the large number of sailors in port. During August, September and October a severe type of malarious fever prevailed, resembling dengue in many of its symptoms, and frequently accompanied by an eruption. The attack lasted for a few days and was often followed by one or more relapses. There were altogether 410 more cases of malarious fever in 1877 than in 1876, and an excellent opportunity was thus afforded for testing the value of the mixed cinchona alkaloids manufactured at the Government Plantation at Rungbee. It is satisfactory to find that Dr. Raye considers that the experience of the year justifies the conclusion that the cinchona febrifuge may be confidently administered instead of quinine in the great majority of ordinary malarious affections. In the low forms of intermittent fever, Dr. Pilcher of the Howrah Hospital maintains that the cinchona alkaloids given with ether have yielded better results than were formerly obtained with quinine. Nearly one-fourth of the deaths in the European wards of the General Hospital resulted from cholera; 43 out of 73 cases ending fatally. Of the 73 cases 65 were received direct from the shipping. Of 18 cases of typhoid fever, 16 were from the shipping. The number of cases of sunstroke was nearly double the average of the past ten years, and of the 20 cases admitted there were six deaths. Many of the cases were of a very severe type, the sufferers being almost moribund on admission. During the year an operating theatre and a lying-in-room were added to the hospital building and both are now in use. The Lieutenant-Governor also sanctioned the erection of new quarters for the nurses and the work was begun before the close of the year. The department of the Sumbhoonath Pundit's Ward for [illegible] on the 31st December, and as the cost of the ward was found to be out of all proportion to its usefulness, the Lieutenant-Governor has recently ordered it to be altogether closed.

14. Campbell Hospital.—During the year under review the continually increasing expenditure of this pauper hospital attracted the attention of Government, and induced the Lieutenant-Governor to appoint a special committee to institute a searching enquiry into its administration. The result of the committee's enquiry was to show that under lax supervision the expenditure had increased in a way that left little doubt that peculation and dishonesty were rife amongst the subordinate establishment. A complete change in the administrative staff has been made. The Lieutenant-Governor has every reason to hope that under Dr. Mackenzie's careful and energetic supervision the expenditure will be reduced within proper limits. The number of admissions was 6,600 against 6,279 in the previous year, but the daily average number of patients was 22 less than in 1876. The death-rate was 24·8 per cent. against 25 per cent. in 1876 and 28 per cent. in 1875. Excluding the moribund cases, the mortality was somewhat greater than in 1876, being 23·2 against 22·4 per cent. The very high rate of mortality in this hospital is due to the fact that it has been the practice to transfer to this institution many patients in a low or dying condition. From a statement given in the report, it appears that, in the years 1876 and 1877, 63 and 52 per cent. respectively of those who died in the hospital succumbed within a week of their admission. The Superintendent invites attention to the fact that a large number of pauper patients belonging to the suburbs of Calcutta, as well as all the small-pox cases from the suburbs of Calcutta and from Howrah, are admitted to this hospital; and he suggests that the municipalities of the Suburbs and of Howrah be each invited to give an annual donation to the hospital. The Commissioners of the Presidency and Burdwan Divisions will be requested to bring Dr. Mackenzie's suggestion before the Suburban and Howrah Municipal Commissioners.

15. Mayo and Chandney Hospitals.—In all 190,030 persons received treatment in these hospitals during the year as compared with 189,690 in 1876, and the death-rate among the in-door patients was 12·04 per cent. against 12·72 per cent. in 1876. The divergences in the death-rate from the same diseases among the house patients at the Mayo and the Chandney Hospitals was noticed in the last year's Resolution, and similar divergences are noticeable in the report for the past year. The mortality at the Mayo Hospital was 13·12 per cent., or about two and a half times that of the Chandney Hospital.

16 Howrah Hospital.—There was a further increase this year as compared with 1876 in the number of both in-door and out-door patients. The number of European and Eurasian in-door patients rose from 868 to 953, but there was a fall of more than a thousand in the number of christian out-door patients. The number of native in-door and out-door patients rose from 1,472 and 12,422 respectively in 1876 to 1,510 and 14,329 respectively in 1877. The mortality both among christian and native in-door patients was considerably higher than in 1876, being 3·99 per cent. among the former and 25·23 among the latter. Of the 419 deaths during the year, 276 occurred within ten days of the admission of the patients. This hospital receives a large proportion of the neglected sick and the ill-fed poor of the town, and very many of those brought to the hospital are in the very last stage of disease. The Surgeon-General calls attention to the use of the Ixora in cases of dysentery. This remedy was introduced by Assistant-Surgeon Umrito Lall Deb, in charge of the native department of the Howrah Hospital, and both Dr. Bird and Dr. Pilcher consider it of very great value. The Lieutenant-Governor understands that a separate report on the subject will shortly be submitted for the information of Government. Dr. Pilcher also writes in high terms of the Assistant-Surgeon's diligence and attention to his hospital duties. It is mainly owing to his zeal and kindliness of manner that the number of out-patients has so largely increased during the last two years.

17. Other Institutions.—The number of admissions to the Police Hospital exceeded the admissions of the previous year by nearly one-fifth of the total strength of the Municipal, Suburban, and River Police, and there were 11 more deaths than in 1876. The increase was, however, not due to any epidemic, and the death-rate to admissions was 2·3 per cent. against 2·46 in the previous year. The deaths compared with the total police force were 1·99 per cent. against 1·66 per cent. in from 635 in 1876 to 732, while the number of deaths fell from 147 to 118. The out-door department was, as already stated, opened in March 1877, and from that date to the end of the year 4,059 cases were treated, giving an average daily attendance of 41. The average daily attendance at the Bhowanipore Dispensary was 67·4 against 52·8 in 1876 and 93·02 in 1875. The attendance at both the Bhowanipore and Alipore Dispensaries may be expected to increase considerably during the present year as there is now no out-door department at the General Hospital. The number of out-door patients who availed themselves of the Aratoon Apcar Dispensary was 9,508, a rather less number than in either of the previous two years, and the average daily attendance was also less than in either of those years, being 96 in 1877 against 103 and 110 in 1876 and 1875 respectively. Dr. Irving states in his report (page 40) that the number of out-door patients was greater than in either of the two previous years; he has, however, it appears compared the number of patients of 1877 with the new admissions of 1876 and 1875, instead of with the numbers treated during those years, as shown in the general statement at the beginning of the report. The report on the Lock-hospitals has been separately considered.

18. During the year the medical staff of Calcutta sustained a severe loss by the death from cholera of Dr. Elliott, the popular Surgeon Superintendent of the General Hospital. Since the close of the year the death of Dr. Gayer, also from cholera, has deprived Calcutta of another of its medical staff, whose services were highly appreciated by the Medical College Hospital at which he for some time officiated as 1st Surgeon and by the public of Calcutta.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of the Resolution, and of the Report, be submitted for the information of the Government of India in the Home Department.

Ordered also that extract paragraph 7 of the Resolution, together with extract paragraph 7 of the Report, be submitted to the Government of India in the Military Department for information.

Ordered also that a copy of the Resolution be forwarded to the Surgeon-General for Bengal for information and guidance.

Ordered also that a copy of the Resolution, and of the Report, be forwarded to the Chairman of the Corporation of the Town of Calcutta, and to the Commissioner of Police, Calcutta, for information.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

HORACE A. COCKERELL,
Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE REGISTRATION DEPARTMENT DURING THE YEAR 1877-78.

REGISTRATION.

Dated Calcutta, the 27th September 1878.

READ—

The Report on the administration of the Registration Department during the year 1877-78.

Read again—

The Report for the previous year, with the orders of the Government passed thereon.

The new Registration Act III of 1877 came into force on the first day of the year under report. The principal changes in the law were the introduction of a separate index for wills and authorities to adopt; the re-casting of the chapter relating to the refusal of registration; the legalization of fines both when documents are presented for registration after the expiration of the time allowed by law, and when the persons executing them appear after the expiration of the time allowed for presentation; and the assertion of the power of the local Government to establish sub-registry offices having concurrent jurisdiction. Revised rules framed in accordance with the provisions of the new Act were sanctioned by Government in July 1877.

2 The year 1877-78 was one of unexampled prosperity to the Registration Department. There was a general and well distributed increase in the registration of deeds of all classes, a considerable increase in receipts, and a larger surplus than in any previous year. The effects of the storm-wave and cyclone of 1876 are still shown in the returns of Noakholly and Chittagong, in which neither the registrations nor the receipts of the past year amounted to those of 1875-76. Backergunge appears, however, to have almost recovered its former prosperity, for the registrations of the district were nearly as numerous as, and the receipts greater than, before the cyclone.

3. The following table exhibits the leading statistical data connected with registration during the past thirteen years :—

5. It appears from this table that there was an increase of 16·4 per cent. in registrations affecting immovable property, and of 25·3 per cent. in the registration of documents not relating to immovable property. In compulsory registration the increase was 16·3 and in optional registration 20·6. The total increase compared with 1876-77 was 84,695 or 18·1 per cent. The only deeds of which the number registered fell short of the number in the previous year are authorities to adopt, and in these there was a falling off of 16. Every other class of deed contributed to the general increase in registration. The increase is most noticeable in the returns of the districts of Jessore, Chumparun, 24-Pergunnahs, Nuddea, Backergunge, Mymensingh, Burdwan, Midnapore, Howrah, and Monghyr, while the only districts that show any decrease as compared with the previous year are Bhagulpore, Maldah, Purneah, Rungpore, Hazareebagh, Singbhoom, and Darjeeling. The total decrease in the last-named seven districts was 1,735, while the total increase in the remaining districts was 86,430. The different provinces under this Government contributed to the total operations of the department in the following proportions:—Bengal proper 76·4, Behar 19·7, Chota Nagpore 2, and Orissa 1·9 per cent. The percentage of Behar in 1876-77 was 17·8, and the increase in the past year was mainly due to the great increase in the number of agricultural leases registered in Chumparun. The total registrations in this district were 27,299 or 126·4 per cent. above those of the previous year. Each of the other districts of Behar, except Bhagulpore, Purneah, and Maldah, showed an increase in the number of registrations, and the returns seem to show that registration in the hitherto backward province of Behar has at last received a considerable impetus. In Shahabad and Durbhunga the registrations advanced more than 31 per cent., in Sarun the advance was 28·2, and in Monghyr and Mozufferpore more than 26 per cent., while in the Sonthal Pergunnahs it was 38·8 per cent.

6. The great falling off in the number of perpetual leases in 1876-77 as compared with the number in the previous year was noticed in last year's resolution; but owing to the great disturbance of registration operations in Eastern Bengal caused by the cyclone, the Lieutenant-Governor was not prepared to accept the returns as shewing that the limit of perpetual leases had been reached in the districts of Chittagong, Noakholly, and Backergunge. In the past year there was an increase of 5,931 or 5·7 per cent. in the number of perpetual leases registered, though the total was still slightly below that of 1875-76. From the tabular statements given in the appendix to the report, it seems to be now clearly established that, while the registration of perpetual leases is spreading in Central and Western Bengal, it is steadily decreasing in the Eastern Districts. This result was to be expected, for the custom of registering perpetual leases has hitherto prevailed within extremely narrow local limits, and it is obvious that the execution and registration of perpetual leases must decrease when most of the land which it is convenient to alienate in perpetuity has been so alienated. Taking the complete returns of these leases as given in Statement II in the appendix instead of the figures quoted by the Inspector-General from Statement VII, it appears that in 1875-76 the three districts of Backergunge, Chittagong, and Noakhally supplied 50,562 perpetual leases out of 109,399 registered; in 1876-77 they gave 37,318 out of 102,747; and in 1877-78 the number fell to 31,952 out of 108,678. In Dacca the number has been steadily falling, having been 1,504, 1,413, and 922 respectively during the three years 1875-78, while in Tipperah the numbers for the same three years were 1,878, 1,704, and 1,296. In fact in every district of the Dacca and Chittagong Divisions, except Furreedpore, the falling off for the last three years in the number of perpetual leases has been continuous and considerable. The registrars of Chittagong and Tipperah explain the decrease by the fact that there is now little land left in the districts to be let out on perpetual leases. The registrar of Noakholly ascribes the decrease in part to the distress caused by the cyclone, and partly to the practice of sub-infeudation having fallen into disfavour; there is no apparent reason, however, why the practice should have fallen into disfavour, except that all the land which it was convenient to sublet in perpetuity has been so sublet. The explanation of the registrar of Backergunge that the fall in the number of perpetual leases is due to the impoverishment of the people does not commend itself to the Lieutenant-Governor. The increase in the number of registrations of perpetual leases elsewhere than in the Eastern Districts is very marked, and is especially noticeable in the returns of the Burdwan and Presidency Divisions. There was an increase in each district of the former division and in each district of the latter division except Moorshedabad. Jessore has been steadily progressing with 24,735, 28,012, and 32,272 registrations of perpetual leases during the past three years, while for the 24-Pergunnahs the numbers were 3,541, 4,278, and 5,958, and for Nuddea 2,492, 2,982, and 4,400. The registrar of Jessore attributes the increase in his district to the extension of cultivation and to the unwillingness of the ryot to reclaim marshy tracts without first obtaining a lease in perpetuity securing to him a reward for his labour and expense. The Lieutenant-Governor has no doubt that this reason is correct, and that the general increase in the number of perpetual leases in Central and Western Bengal is due to the struggle of the ryots for a more permanent interest in the soil they cultivate. The progress shown by the returns is very satisfactory.

7. The number of term-leases registered rose from 95,616 in 1876-77 to 125,211 in the past year, the increase being almost entirely in the number of leases not exceeding Rs. 50 in value. There was a rise of 26,944 in the registrations of leases not exceeding Rs. 25 in value, and of 2,160 in those between Rs. 25 and Rs. 50. More than half the total increase in the number of registrations of term-leases is due to the Chumparun district, where the registrations were 24,767, against 8,410 in the previous year. Of the 85,183 leases not exceeding Rs. 25 in value, 23,087, or more than one-fourth of the whole, were registered in Chumparun. The great rise in the number of registrations of term-leases in this district was noticed in last year's Resolution, and appears to be solely due to the registration of a large number of indigo leases, in consequence of the ryots who held unregistered deeds refusing to sow indigo. Next to Chumparun, Mymensingh shows the largest number of registrations of term-leases, there having been 11,571 such registrations in 1877-78, against 8,877 in the previous year. In this district the proportion of counterparts to leases was very large, and the want of confidence between landlord and tenant is the only cause assigned for the large number of presentations. The fluctuations in the other districts were slight. The district registrars are almost unanimous that very few agreements to let are formally reduced to writing, and that even then in the vast majority of cases the counterpart only is registered, so that the ryot's interest is not secured. The Lieutenant-Governor would wish to have in future reports some more detailed information as to the proportion of leases registered to counterparts.

8. In 27 out of 42 districts there was an increase in the optional registrations of bonds, and no district shows any serious falling off. The total number of bonds registered in the province was 89,818, against 69,047 in 1876-77. More than one-half of the bonds registered, and far more than half the year's increase are, however, due to the district of Jessore, where 49,176 obligations for the payment of money were registered, against 35,694 in the previous year. From a statement given by the Inspector-General, it appears that 311,029 bonds were registered in the 42 districts of Bengal during the last five years, and of these 144,888 were registered in Jessore; in the past two years, out of 158,865 bonds, 84,870 were registered in the latter district. The immense difference between the operations of the Registration Department in Jessore and other districts is ascribed to the distrust of the people of one another, to their extreme litigiousness, and to the fact that the civil courts of the district regard with suspicion all bonds or contracts which have not been registered, whether their registration is optional or compulsory. These causes no doubt operate largely in promoting registrations, but they do not appear to the Lieutenant-Governor to afford a sufficient explanation of the extraordinary popularity of registration operations in Jessore.

9. In the minor operations of the department there has been again this year a general increase. The number of wills registered was 273 in excess of the number in the previous year, and there were 16,575 applications for search and copies of documents, against 13,362 applications in 1876-77. These searches are usually made by intending purchasers or lessees, who wish to ascertain if there are any incumbrances on the land for which they are negociating, and the Lieutenant-Governor agrees with Mr. Bourdillon that the increase in the number of these applications is one of the best proofs of the growing usefulness of the department.

10. The number of registered documents discredited and rejected by civil courts during the past year was 25, or 12 more than in 1876-77; but the Inspector-General is still not satisfied that all cases of the kind are reported. The prosecutions instituted during the year were 67 against 38 in 1876-77, and the result of the prosecutions was very satisfactory. In the 67 cases, 63 persons were convicted, 41 being punished with imprisonment and 22 with fine.

11. The financial position of the department is more prosperous now than at any previous time. The following statement shows the actual cash receipts and expenditure of the past five years:—

	Receipts.	Expenditure.	Surplus.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1873-74	4,82,509	3,29,431	1,53,078
1874-75	5,52,325	3 86,953	1,65,372
1875-76	5,56,505	4,17,402	1,39 103
1876-77	5,66,882	4,30,168	1,36,714
1877-78	6,64,236	4,57,355	2,06,881

To the cash expenditure of Rs. 4,57,355 there should, however, be added all public works charges, and the cost of stationery supplied to registration offices by the Superintendent of Stationery, the cost of printing paper, and of printing and binding done for the department. From a letter received from the Inspector-General, correcting the figures given in the report, it appears that the public works charges amounted to Rs. 32,204. The stationery and printing charges, including the printing of the annual report, were Rs. 44,426; so that the gross expenditure of the year was Rs. 5,33,985, leaving a net surplus of Rs. 1,30,251 as compared with Rs. 78,974 in 1876-77. The increase in the receipts of the year is due partly to more numerous registrations, and partly to the enhanced table of ad valorem fees. The new schedule should have had effect from the 1st February 1878, but it appears to have been only in partial operation during the months of February and March. The increase in expenditure is under the heads "Percentage paid to registering officers," "Temporary establishments," and "Paper and printing." The increased percentage is, of course, due to the increased work of the department, and the same cause explains the higher charges for temporary establishments. The present scale of permanent establishment was fixed in 1871, when the total number of registrations was less than half the number in the year under report; and although much of the increased work is done in rural offices, where the establishments are paid by the rural sub-registrars, still there has been great additional work thrown upon sudder and sub-divisional offices. To overtake this work temporary establishments have been employed as they were required, and the Inspector-General is now, under the orders of Government, preparing a revised scheme of establishments in the offices of sudder and sub-divisional sub-registrars. A proposal for the revision of the salaries and appointments of special sub-registrars has already been submitted, and is now under the consideration of Government.

12. The Lieutenant-Governor expressed his opinion last year that the system of rural sub-registrars should not at present be further extended, and the changes during the year were very few. The work at two sudder offices was taken away from special sub-registrars and entrusted to Deputy Magistrates; two new canal offices were opened and four rural offices were abolished. In all, there were 309 offices open at the close, against 310 at the beginning of the year.

13. Mr. Bourdillon discusses the qualifications of the different classes of men who seek employment as rural sub-registrars, and he arrives at the conclusion that a respectable resident of the locality, where the office is situated, makes the best sub-registrar. "His local influence insures for his proceedings the public confidence, and he is little exposed to the danger of being victimized, as others are who have no knowledge of the neighbourhood and its inhabitants." In this opinion the Lieutenant-Governor concurs. There can be no doubt that false personation and false identification are the principal dangers that the Registration Department has to meet, and the Lieutenant-Governor trusts to the Inspector-General to see that a thorough inquiry is made in every case in which there is any suspicion of these offences having been committed.

14. The scheme for the use of printed forms of agricultural leases and their counterparts, and of bonds for small amounts, was abandoned during the year. This experiment was first made in 1874-75 in nine selected districts, and was extended in 1876 to the whole of Lower Bengal. It was found, however, that it was not possible to introduce any one form of document, whether lease, counterpart or bond, equally suitable to the circumstances of all districts and generally acceptable to the people. In five out of the nine districts in which the forms were first introduced, not a single bond-form was either sold or registered in the year 1876-77, and in the large and important districts of Dacca and the 24-Pergunnahs only five bonds in the printed form were presented for registration. Even in those districts where, after the attention of officers had been specially called to the subject, considerable sales were effected, the returns showed that a very small proportion of the forms sold were presented for registration. The Lieutenant-Governor did not therefore consider that he was justified in incurring any further expenditure on the general experiment, but he has authorized Collectors to indent specially for any particular forms for which there is likely to be a demand in their districts.

15. The Muhammadan Marriage Registration Act I (B.C.) of 1876 has now been in force for more than two and a half years. By the beginning of the year under report, 77 offices had been opened in 14 districts, and by the end of the year there were 103 offices, though the Act was not extended to any fresh district during the year. The following statement shows the number of ceremonies registered in the last two years; but the total returns of the years cannot be compared, as the Act was only extended to six districts before the commencement of the year 1876-77:—

	Marriages.	Khula divorces.	Other divorces.	Total ceremonies.	Muhammadan population in the thanas in which the Act is in force.
1877-78	7,391	595	1,404	9,390	10,326,875

16. The only districts in which the Act appears to be at all popular are Chittagong and Rungpore. In these districts, with fourteen and fifteen offices respectively, there were registered during the past year 2,973 and 2,206 ceremonies, or more than half the total for the 14 districts in which the Act was in force. In Backergunge only 211 ceremonies were registered among a Muhammadan population of 1,255,427, and in Furreedpore and Jessore only 105 and 46 ceremonies among populations of 863,053 and 312,974 respectively. From the reports received on the working of the Act in the districts to which it has been extended, it appears to be the general opinion of the district registrars that, unless registration of marriages and divorces is made compulsory, the provisions of the Act will only be made use of to a very limited extent. The Lieutenant-Governor is not, however, prepared to accept the recommendation of the district registrars. The success attained in two districts, which are in no way specially circumstanced, seems to the Lieutenant-Governor to show that the provisions of the Act are not ill-adapted to meet the requirements of the Muhammadan population of Bengal. Prejudice and ignorance prevail widely amongst the lower classes of the Muhammadan population of the Eastern Districts, and, together with the opposition of local Mollahs interested in the maintenance of the present state of things, militate, no doubt, against the rapid extension of registration, and it may possibly be some years before the provisions of the Act are generally made use of; but the Lieutenant-Governor prefers waiting until such time as the people voluntarily avail themselves of them, to exciting the widespread opposition which he believes would be the result at present of making the Act compulsory.

17. The propriety of continuing to ex-officio sub-registrars the special allowance consisting of percentages of the fees realized was considered last year by the Lieutenant-Governor, and His Honor decided that the grant of the allowance should, in future, be contingent on a zealous performance of the duties of sub-registrar; and that any ex-officio sub-registrar who is reported to have been lax and indifferent in the superintendence of his office, or in the supervision of the offices subordinate to him, will be held to have forfeited his claim to this special remuneration. To enforce these orders, it was directed that commission should be drawn in half-yearly bills, and that the bills should not be passed unless both the Registrar and Inspector-General were satisfied that the work during the previous six months had been properly done. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to find that the Inspector-General has not yet had occasion to reject the bill of any ex-officio sub-registrar, and that the general standard of work in all offices of the department has much improved during the past year. The attention of the Board of Revenue will be drawn to the remark made by the Inspector-General in paragraph 43 of his report.

18. The duties of inspection appear to have been zealously carried out by the two Inspectors, Mr. Harrison and Baboo Pratapa Chundra Ghose, and an explanation should be submitted why only 23 inspections were made during the year by the Inspector-General himself. The Lieutenant-Governor's acknowledgments are due to Mr. Bourdillon for his able administration of the department.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

HORACE A. COCKERELL,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL REPORT ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE TRIBUTARY STATES OF ORISSA FOR 1877-78.

POLITICAL.

Dated Darjeeling, the 27th September 1878.

READ—

The Annual Report on the Administration of the Tributary States of Orissa for 1877-78.

Read also—

The Annual Report for the year 1876-77, and the orders of Government thereon.

MR. BEAMES officiated as Superintendent of the Tributary Mehals from the commencement of the year to the 10th December 1877, when Mr. Ravenshaw reverted to the appointment. The latter officer held charge till the end of the year, when he was succeeded by Mr. A. Smith as Officiating Superintendent. Mr. Smith's report was necessarily compiled solely from the office records and the notes of his predecessor, but it is nevertheless complete and interesting.

2. The total demand of the Government estates of Banki and Ungool, Rs. 45,184, was collected in full, and a considerable portion of the demand for the current year was paid in advance. The revenues of these two estates are steadily improving, and the demand and collections for the past year were Rs. 1,431 above those of the previous year. Until the year 1876 it was the practice to pay into the treasury only the net revenue of these estates after deducting from the gross revenue all sanctioned and proposed charges on account of collection of revenue, maintenance of the estates, pensions, &c. This practice has now been discontinued, the gross revenues of the estates being credited, and the receipts and expenditure dealt with, under the ordinary system of audit and account for Government estates. The memorandum of each estate's account with the Collector need not therefore in future be submitted. From the collections and surplus in deposit on account of the Bamunghatty estate, a sum of Rs. 40,000 was handed over to the Maharajah of Mohurbhunj, leaving still a surplus of nearly Rs. 20,000. The pergunnah of Bamunghatty, which was taken under Government management and placed in charge of the Deputy Commissioner of Singbhoom after the disturbances of 1866, has since been completely settled. The Maharajah's administration of the remainder of his territory has been most satisfactory, and the Lieutenant-Governor has therefore, since the close of the year under report, gladly restored to him the pergunnah of Bamunghatty, subject to the conditions that the Maharajah's eldest brother shall live in Bamunghatty as his representative, that the sirdars of peers, and the headmen of villages shall continue to be vested with police powers, that the present settlement of the estate shall continue without change for the existing term of ten years, that all the schools now open shall be maintained, and that all the roads that have been constructed shall be kept open.

3. The total collections of the Dhenkenal state, which is under khas management owing to the minority of the young Rajah, were Rs. 55,846, and the balance at the beginning of the year was Rs. 28,438. After deducting the expenditure of the year, there remained a balance of Rs. 8,079. The payments of tribute by all the states not under direct management have been punctually made, and the amount of Rs. 6,710-1-3 entered against Keonjhur was not actually due at the close of the year, as the tribute of the state was reduced to Rs. 1,976-11-11 as soon as the debt was paid off. The amount really due has since been paid.

4. There were 3,548 civil, revenue, and miscellaneous cases disposed of during the year, and 317 remained pending. The increase, as compared with 1876-77, is mainly due to the inclusion in the year's returns of all cases instituted in Dhenkenal, and partly also to a number of cases of disputed possession in the Runpore state. Of 3,650 cases instituted during the year, Dhenkenal contributed 1,730, and Ungool, Banki, the Khondmals, and Bamunghatty together 1,399. The remaining cases entered in the returns include only those in which complaints were made to the Superintendent owing to the parties being dissatisfied with the Rajah's decisions. Of 521 such cases, 302 were from the Runpore state. Nearly half the whole number of suits instituted were for debt.

5. The criminal cases were generally of a petty nature. Out of 1,252 cases tried, 453 were of assault and 258 of petty theft. There were four murders, nine cases of culpable homicide, and one dacoity during the year. One of the murders was reported by the police to be a case of human sacrifice, but, on investigation by the Superintendent, the report was proved to be incorrect. Three of the cases of culpable homicide were in the Khondmals, and all three arose out of drunken quarrels. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to find that in the only case of dacoity that occurred the offenders were detected and punished, and that a portion of the stolen property was recovered.

6. The total number of schools in the Orissa Tributary Mehals is 115 and the number of pupils 3,048. In Ungool and Banki the schools are supported entirely from the revenues of the estates; in Bamunghatty half the expenditure on education was defrayed from the estate. In the Khondmals, 16 schools with 582 pupils were maintained from the fund voluntarily raised by the people by taxing the grogshops at Rs. 5 each. The balance at the credit of the fund at the close of the year was Rs. 4,362. The Lieutenant-Governor regrets to find that no portion of the large balance has yet been utilized in opening new schools. Both the Maharajahs of Keonjhur and Mohurbhunj take much interest in education, and the latter has, as already stated, agreed to maintain the 17 schools now open in Bamunghatty.

7. Mr. Ravenshaw was on tour in the Tributary Mehals for a little more than a month during the cold weather. Nearly half this time was spent in killah Runpore, where great confusion and disorganization prevailed, owing to the gross oppression and misconduct of the Rajah and his agents. A reconciliation was effected between the people and the Rajah, and the latter entered into a formal agreement for the proper government in future of his state and people. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to learn that the terms of the agreement have not yet been in any way infringed, that the state is quiet, that a summary settlement has been concluded, and that arrangements for a detailed settlement are being made. The Rajah has been distinctly warned that unless the terms of the agreement are carried out, and a loyal support given to the new Dewan, it will be necessary to remove him from the management of the killah. In the course of his tour, Mr. Ravenshaw passed through the states of Nayagurh, Duspulla, Boad, Ungool, Hindole, Dhenkenal and Atgurh. The affairs of the Rajah of Duspulla were found to be in great disorder, and much discontent existed among the people. Detailed arrangements for the management of the state and for carrying out the pending settlement were made by the Superintendent during his visit; and the Lieutenant-Governor trusts that the Rajah has now been brought to take an intelligent interest in the management of his affairs.

8. The administration of all the estates under khas management was very creditable. The offices at Ungool and Banki were inspected by the Superintendent and Assistant Superintendent respectively, and the work of the tehsildars is favourably reported upon. Separate orders will be passed as to the continuance to her son of the pension granted to Ghusa Bewa, the widow of one of the illegitimate sons of the former Rajah of Ungool. During the minority of the Rajah of Dhenkenal, the state is under the management of the Dewan of the late Maharajah, Baboo Banamali Sing, who has also been appointed guardian of the minor Rajah. The Baboo is an able officer, of great local experience, and his administration of the killah during the year was satisfactory. The young Rajah's education is being conducted by an experienced native Deputy Inspector of Schools. The Khondmals were quietly and well managed by the tehsildar, Baboo Dinobundho Patnaik, who is reported to be very popular among the Khonds. A meeting was held at Bisipara on the 1st January 1878, under the presidency of the tehsildar, when about 8,000 Khond men and women assembled and resolved to commemorate the assumption by the Queen of the Imperial title, by holding an annual fair at Bisipara. The only other estate under khas management during the year was Bamunghatty, and that, as already stated, has since been made over to the Maharajah of Mohurbhunj.

9. The administration of the Maharajahs of Keonjhur and Mohurbhunj was in all respects satisfactory. Keonjhur is now the best managed, most peaceable, prosperous, and contented of all the Tributary States. The debt due by the Maharajah to Government on account of the expenditure incurred in quelling the rebellion at the time of his accession to the guddee has been repaid in full, and the limited supervision previously exercised over the Maharajah's affairs has now been withdrawn. The Collector of Balasore, who is ex-officio Assistant Superintendent of the Tributary Mehals, visited Mohurbhunj in January, and during his stay in the killah not a single complaint was made to him. The Maharajah is entitled to much credit both for his general administration and for the public works that he has carried out since his accession. The reports as to the conduct of the Rajah of Talchere are still unfavourable. The Superintendent was last year requested to visit the state and report upon its condition and the temper of the people, and the Lieutenant-Governor desires that the visit may be made and the report submitted at an early date. The conduct of the Rajah of Baramba was not altogether satisfactory, but he is reported to be generally amenable to advice, and the appointment of a punchayet of headmen to assist the Rajah in the management of the killah has worked well. The other estates not under direct management do not call for any special notice. The conduct of the Chiefs was generally good, and the Rajahs of Atgurh, Nursingpore, Nayagurh, and Pal Lehara appear to have administered their killahs with considerable ability and success.

10. The Rajah of Hindole died on the 18th July 1877, while on a pilgrimage to the temple of Juggernath. He left no son, and, according to the custom prevalent in the Cuttack Tributary Mehals, the succession of his younger brother was sanctioned by the Government of India. The present Rajah, who is now about 23 years of age, has not been well educated, and his half-brother, who is a good man of business and ppular in the state, does all the work of administration. The people are reported to be happy and contented.

11. The remarks of the Superintendent on the conduct of the officers subordinate to him will be communicated to the Appointment Department.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of the above Resolution be forwarded to the Superintendent of the Tributary Mehals, Cuttack, for information and guidance.

Ordered also that a copy of the above Resolution, with a copy of the Annual Report on the Administration of the Tributary States of Orissa for 1877-78 be submitted to the Government of India in the Foreign Department, for information.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

HORACE A. COCKERELL,
Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE GENERAL ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE ORISSA DIVISION FOR 1877-78.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—MISCELLANEOUS.

Calcutta, the 8th October 1878.

READ—

The General Administration Report of the Orissa Division for 1877-78.

FOR the greater part of 1877-78 Mr. Beames was acting as Commissioner of Orissa, being relieved in December 1878 by Mr. Ravenshaw. The report is submitted by Mr. Smith, who took charge of the division from Mr. Ravenshaw after the close of the year. Although the present Commissioner had no personal experience of the division during the past year, the report is very complete, showing that full materials were left on record by the officers actually in charge. Tour duty was well attended to by the district officers of Pooree and Balasore. The Collector of Cuttack did not pay sufficient attention to this, and most of the sub-divisional officers were also remiss. The Lieutenant-Governor has sufficiently indicated his views on this point in reviewing the reports of other divisions.

2. Weather and Crops.—The following statement shows the rainfall registered at the head-quarters of each district during the year as compared with the average fall in previous years:—

In Cuttack the rainfall was considerably below the average, but it was opportunely distributed, and a fair crop was reaped on the whole. In Pooree the supply of rain was deficient throughout the district, the recorded fall at head-quarters being twenty-four inches less than the average. The Collector reports that the crops were good in the interior of the district except in Khoorda, but this statement is at variance with the detailed estimate furnished by him of the outturn of each of the standard crops, which shows a very heavy proportion of loss. The Commissioner, however, thinks the general verbal statement more reliable than the figures, for had the district crops failed to the extent estimated, it must have imported instead of exporting food throughout the year. The rainfall of Balasore was nearly up to the average, but was very unevenly distributed. Ploughing was seriously retarded by the heavy rains of April and May, while in July the young crop suffered seriously from an excessive fall of twelve inches of rain in one day, which caused all the rivers to rise rapidly in flood, immense damage being done by the overflow of the Byturnee. Later on prospects were good, but the rain held off in August and September, and the fall during October sufficed only to produce rather less than an average crop. On the whole the agricultural year was by no means prosperous in Orissa owing to the damage done by floods in the middle of the year and by deficient rainfall later on.

3. The Collector of Balasore, in reporting on the agricultural results of the year, draws attention to the fact that in the case of all the Balasore rivers, except the Byturnee, the inundation drained off without damaging the crop. He ascribes the loss arising from the floods on the Byturnee to the embankments recently erected to protect the third range of the High Level Canal, and argues that, if these embankments had not broken when they did, a larger mass of water would have accumulated, and the ultimate loss would have been even more severe. This view, however, is disputed by the Superintending Engineer, who considers that the tendency to overflow in destructive floods is natural to this river, and was observed long before the canal was commenced. So far from the protective embankments having augmented the violence of the flood, they have, he considers, deadened the force of the current in places, and their summits have afforded the people a refuge in places where no elevated ground was formerly available. In some respects the circumstances of the Byturnee river in regard to liability to floods appear to be not dissimilar to those of the Cossye river in Midnapore; but the question raised by the Collector of Balasore will be specially considered in the Irrigation Department.

4. Public Health.—In Cuttack the general health is reported to have been good; but in the other districts the intermittent rainfall produced injurious effects. Cholera and fever prevailed in Pooree throughout the year, while in Balasore a severe epidemic fever broke out on the banks of the Soobarnrekha, and caused considerable alarm by its resemblance to the form of malaria known as Burdwan fever. Inquiry, however, showed that, although of a malarious character, it was of a far milder type than the Burdwan epidemic. Medical attendance was provided on the spot, and by the end of the cold weather the health of the people had considerably improved.

5. Important sanitary reforms have been effected in the town of Pooree. A system of surface drainage has been introduced, public lodging-houses are kept clean, and the removal of all kinds of nuisances has been provided for. With the same object, that of promoting the health of pilgrims to Juggernath, the Collector of Balasore has induced the keepers of roadside shops along the Trunk Road in Balasore to maintain sweepers at their own expense to look after the rest-houses of the pilgrims. These measures have the Lieutenant-Governor's entire approval. It can hardly be hoped that any precautions that can be taken will entirely save Orissa from the outbreaks of disease which invariably accompany the movement of large bodies of pilgrims, but much may still be done by enforcing regulations which tend to lessen the chances of an outbreak or to mitigate its severity.

6. Emigration.—Emigration to Assam, as has often been pointed out, appears to present no attractions to Ooriyas, for only fifty-two labourers were registered in Cuttack, five in Balasore, and none in Pooree. This reluctance to emigrate, however, does not proceed from an unwillingness to travel or to leave their native country, for it is notorious that large numbers of people quit Orissa every year and take service in Bengal. During the past year there was a slight decline in the passenger traffic between Chandbally and Calcutta, as will appear from the following statement, which shows the arrivals and departures at the port for the last three years :—

	Arrived.	Departed
1875-76	30,606	30,017
1876-77	33,762	33,118
1877-78	30,285	27,681

It is explained that the passenger steamers were frequently used as tugs to tow rice-ships to sea, and that one steamer was under repairs. At the same time it is suggested that the Govind Dwadasi festival, which occurred in February 1877, prevented many pious Ooriyas from leaving home.

7. Prices of Food and Labour.—Prices ruled high throughout the year, varying in Cuttack from 11 seers 13 chittacks for the rupee to 19 seers 11 chittacks; in Pooree from 12 seers 13 chittacks to 18 seers 6 chittacks, and in Balasore from 11 seers to 32 seers. In each case the rise of price was almost continuous, the rate being lowest in April 1877 and highest in March 1878. Enormous profits were made by the cultivating classes, among whom the standard of living was raised, and an unusually large number of marriages were celebrated. But there can be no doubt that considerable pressure was felt by the poorer artizans, day labourers, and persons who neither own nor have any interest in land. The wages of skilled labourers are said to have remained stationary, but the wages of unskilled labour have risen partly in consequence of the high prices, and partly from the demand for coolies to assist in the carriage and shipment of grain.

8. Salt manufacture.—It was observed in the resolution on last year's report that the salt manufacture of Orissa was rapidly declining in consequence of the competition of salt manufactured under more favourable conditions in Ganjam. During 1877-78, although there was a marked decrease in the amount of salt manufactured, the salt revenue rose from Rs. 8,78,132 to Rs. 9,37,961 in consequence of the sale of the large stocks of sun-dried salt which had accumulated in Pooree. As soon as it was made known that the duty on Ganjam salt had been raised, and that the Pooree manufacturers were to be relieved of the cost of the preventive establishments, licenses were applied for to manufacture a large quantity of excise salt. This is a hopeful sign of the revival of an important native industry in Orissa.

9. Trade and Commerce.—The remarkable expansion of the Orissa trade which occurred in 1876-77 continued during the past year, and will be discussed at length in connection with the report on Customs Administration. It will be sufficient to reproduce here the following table:—

District.	Year.	Entered.		Cleared.		Value of imports.	Value of exports.	Customs revenue.	Port dues.

Pooree had no import or export trade with foreign ports during the past year, and consequently no customs revenue was realized.

One great obstacle to the rapid development of trade in Orissa is the difficulty of navigating the channels leading to Chandbally. Several cases of grounding occurred during the past year, and there was one total wreck. Pilots have now been appointed, and measures are being taken for a rough practical survey by the Port Officer. A floating jetty will also be provided to facilitate the shipment of cargo at Chandbally.

10. State of Public feeling.—The main topic of public interest during the year, and the chief grievance among the classes whose incomes are fixed, was the high price of rice. The effect of high prices upon the labouring classes depends very much upon the system of payment which local custom renders current. If it is usual to pay field labourers a certain proportion of the crop, a heavy outturn may raise their remuneration sufficiently to save them from being seriously affected by the prices ruling at the time, and they may even participate to some extent in the general profits of agriculture. But if custom prescribes a money wage, the rigidity of local usage is not relaxed by one or two seasons of high prices, and in such seasons the mere day labourer suffers serious privations and is driven to reduce his standard of living by taking fewer meals, or resorting to cheaper and inferior kinds of food.

11. Considerable excitement was caused in Orissa by the barbarous murder of a priest of the temple of Juggernath by the Rajah of Pooree. It is satisfactory to find that there was universal indignation felt against the murderer, and that the sentence passed upon the Rajah was accepted by the people as the righteous judgment of the deity upon the misdeeds of his servant. This contrasts most favourably with the tone adopted by the native press in Bengal, which in many instances, so far from condemning the peculiar atrocity of the crime, seemed to find in the Rajah's position a sort of justification for his act, and was disposed to urge that his personal sanctity was a ground for mitigation of the sentence.

12. Vernacular Press.—There are only three vernacular newspapers in Orissa—one in Cuttack and two in Balasore. The Cuttack paper is said to be loyal, well conducted; while the two in Balasore are inferior productions exercising no public influence. During the year the publisher of one of these was prosecuted for a defamatory article and was fined Rs. 100.

13. Administrative Changes.—No trouble has been found in collecting the Public Works cess. The employment of a State steamer to run weekly between Chandbally and Cuttack is popular with the people, who appreciate any measure which tends to improve the means of communication with Pooree. Gradual progress is being made in the registration of possessory titles to land, although the work has been retarded in Orissa by the exceptional number of revenue-free holdings.

14. Police and Justice.—The returns of cognizable crime for 1877 show an increase in the number of reported cases, which was 7,640, the average for the preceding five years being 5,151. This is attributed to the growing familiarity of the people with the machinery of the criminal courts, the decline of the authority of the zemindars who formerly settled many cases out of court, the improvement of chowkeedars as a reporting agency, and the greater facility for making complaints which is afforded by improved communications. The bulk of the increase is in petty cases, and there are no signs of the growth of serious or professional crime. It is natural that an advance in civilization should be followed by a general tendency to assert personal rights through the medium of the criminal courts, and in this view the mere increase in the number of petty cases instituted is perhaps not greatly to be wondered at.

15. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to find that the village police, who are remunerated by grants of land under various tenures, are working well. These service tenures are among the oldest institutions of Orissa. Their holders have a substantial interest in retaining their appointments by rendering efficient service, while their local knowledge and the fact that their authority is generally understood and recognized by the people render them most valuable auxiliaries to the regular police. The regular police, too, are said to be improving, but the low pay of the subordinate grades makes it difficult to secure trustworthy men for employment on outpost work where the supervision which can be exercised over them is necessarily somewhat inefficient.

16. Land Revenue.—The land revenue was punctually paid, and there were only six sales in the whole of Orissa for arrears of the Government demand. In four of these cases the sale was intentionally brought on by the proprietors in order to clear off debt, and in every case the price realized was at least sixteen times the amount of the revenue for which the estate was sold.

17. The Government estate of Khoorda in Pooree was under survey and settlement during the year. The survey is cadastral, and, owing to the smallness of the fields and other difficulties, has made comparatively slow progress, and cost more than was anticipated. The cadastral survey has been shown by results to have been necessary for such an estate as Khoorda. Measures for improving and expediting its operations are under consideration.

18. The operations under the Land Registration Act of 1876 have been attended with special difficulty, and 123,000 cases were pending at the close of 1877-78. This is due to the enormous number of revenue-free tenures, and the Lieutenant-Governor has no reason to believe that the work has been seriously dealt with by the local officers. The question of exempting some of the smaller rent-free tenures is still under the consideration of the Board.

19. Excise.—The excise revenue of Orissa rose from Rs. 3,10,469 in 1876-77 to Rs. 3,62,020 in the past year, while the charges fell from Rs. 10,619 to Rs. 10,097. There was therefore an increase in net revenue of Rs. 52,073. The consumption of country spirit fell by 2,820 gallons, while that of spirit manufactured after the English method rose by 3,031 gallons. But the bulk of the increased revenue was due to the enhanced consumption of ganja and opium. The consumption of the former drug rose from 342 maunds in 1875-76 to 386 maunds in 1877-78, and that of opium from 264 maunds to 290 maunds. In the opinion of the local officers nearly the whole of this increase arose from a genuine demand for the drug, and it is even asserted that the consumption of opium rises and falls in a direct ratio to the activity of the rice trade. The habit of using opium has become so inveterate in Orissa that the more prosperous the people are the more opium do they consume, and a rise in the price of the drug appears to have little or no effect in checking its consumption.

20. Stamps.—The stamp revenue shows an increase of Rs. 95,561, which is due for the most part to the effect of the Land Registration Act.

21. Monetary arrangements.—The complaint of the insufficient supply of currency notes at the treasuries of Cuttack and Balasore, which was noticed in the resolution on the report for 1876-77, was renewed in the past year. In Balasore it appears that the large exports of rice, which are made in the cold weather, are paid for by remitting currency notes through the post. As the local demand for notes is small, most of these notes are presented for encashment at the Balasore treasury, which is thus denuded of coin to such an extent that the encashment of notes has to be refused. With the hot weather the season for importing begins, and the Balasore merchants require notes to send to Calcutta in payment for goods. Cash pours into the treasury, and the supply of notes is soon exhausted, while the Accountant-General refuses to replenish the stock. In Balasore the issues and payments of money-orders fell during the past year, but in Cuttack the difficulty of obtaining notes for purposes of remittance caused a large increase in the demand for money-orders.

22. Irrigation.—The following statement illustrates the progress of irrigation in Cuttack during the last two years:—

Year.	Area leased.	Receipts.			Cost of collection.	Net receipts.	Percentage of charges on receipts.	Remarks.
		Water-rates.	Miscellaneous.	Total.
		Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1876-77	30,382	40,378	6,089	46,467	21,997	24,470	46·6
1877-78	98,195	1,17,818	5,044	1,22,862	27,987	94,875	22·7

It will be seen that the area leased was more than trebled and the receipts nearly trebled during the year, while the cost of collection was only slightly increased and the percentage of charges to receipts was reduced by half. The bulk of the increased charges was due to the grant of commission to village headmen, whose influence is found very useful in realizing dues from cultivators who have derived benefit from the canal water without making any formal application for permission to use it. On the whole, the results now reported are thoroughly satisfactory. All prejudices against the canal water have disappeared under the influence of two seasons of somewhat deficient rainfall, and irrigation is now eagerly sought for. The system of granting five-year leases appears likely to have a good effect, and since the close of the year nearly all the land irrigated last year has been put under five-year leases, an arrangement which makes compulsory cesses unnecessary. It will teach the people to look upon irrigation as an insurance against seasons of short rainfall, and will cure them of the bad habit of waiting till their crop is actually threatened, and then crowding in with applications for water which it is difficult to comply with effectually.

23. Roads and Communications.—It is satisfactory to find that the road connecting Mohurbhunj with the Trunk Road running through Balasore has been completed in spite of the difficulties arising from the floods of the Burrabullung river. No mention, however, is made of the important road between Chandbally and Bhuddruck, to which the attention of the local officers was directed in the resolution on the report for 1876-77. Next to the ports themselves, the most important requirements of the trade of Orissa, are good roads connecting the ports with the interior of the country from which supplies must be drawn. The Lieutenant-Governor would wish to know what has actually been done to this road. Village roads should also be attended to, as this is one of the measures which especially brings home to the people the benefits they derive from the road cess.

24. Education.—The number of schools in Orissa rose from 2,170 to 4,546 during the year, and the number of pupils from 36,399 to 58,985. This increase is due to the introduction into Cuttack of the Midnapore system of managing primary schools, in consequence of which a large number of existing indigenous schools were enrolled as Government schools. In Cuttack alone the number of primary schools rose from 270 to 2,613, and the number of pupils from 5,282 to 28,491. It is satisfactory to find that primary education was already so well provided for in Cuttack. In Balasore, where the system of payment by results was introduced in 1876-77, the number of pupils in primary schools declined from 19,045 to 18,709, while the increase in the number of schools was only nominal. It is suggested that this may be due to the fact that in Cuttack the returns of schools are collected by the educational officers and are more complete than in Balasore where this is entrusted to the police. Except for this slight decline in Balasore, the progress of primary education in Orissa during the past year is most encouraging. Efforts should now be made to raise the standard moderately and to improve the system of teaching by introducing printed books. Judging from the zeal which the gurus are said to have displayed, there should be no difficulty in gradually carrying out these reforms. Care, however, should be taken not to raise the standard of the schools beyond the requirements of the classes by whom they are attended.

25. In higher education the results show a slight falling off during the year. In 1876-77 the Cuttack collegiate school sent up 20 candidates for the Entrance examination, of whom 15 passed. During the past year 16 candidates went up, but only eight passed. The zillah school of Balasore sent up eight pupils in 1875-76, of whom none passed, while only three passed out of nine sent up during 1877-78. This is far from creditable to the school.

26. Local Committees.—The working of the local committees is favourably reported on by all the district officers. The Collector of Balasore complains that attendance at committees is beginning to make serious demands upon the time of officials who have heavy work of other kinds to do. There is much truth in this remark; but it should be remembered that these committees are a chief means of educating the leading members of the native community in practical administration, and in this view form an important element in the work of a district officer.

27. Post Office and Telegraph.—The operations of the Postal Department during the year are stated to show considerable reductions in the cost of working, resulting in some cases in impaired efficiency. In particular the Commissioner complains of the delay caused by despatching banghy parcels to Orissa by sea, and suggests that such packets should be sent by the weekly steamer from Calcutta to Chandbally, and thence by the Government steamer Pioneer to Cuttack. This proposal will be communicated to the Postmaster-General for consideration and report. The Telegraph Department is said to have worked satisfactorily during the year. A new line from Cuttack to Jumboo was opened, but it stops five miles short of False Point, and is therefore not sufficiently accessible to the traders for whose use it is intended.

28. Conduct of Zemindars.—The Commissioner reports favourably on the conduct of the zemindars in Orissa, and mentions Rajah Shamanund De, the Rajah of Parikood, and Baboo Kasinath Das, as deserving of special commendation.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

A. MACKENZIE,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

Statement showing Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops in the different Districts of Bengal, as reported to Government during the week ending the 5th October 1878.

No.	District, and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
	BENGAL.
	Western Districts.
BURDWAN DIVN. 1	Burdwan, Oct. 5 '78	1·47	Weather—bright and warm, with occasional showers. The rice crop throughout the district continues to promise very well.
	Culna ...	Nil
	Cutwa ...	0·4
	Bood-Bood ...	0·14
	Raneegunge ...	0·61
2	Bankoora, „ 5 „	0·30	During the early part of the week the sky was cloudy, but without rain; during the latter part the weather was warm and sunny. The state of the crops is good, and the prospects are still favourable Epidemic fever has broken out a couple of miles west of Ajudhia.
3	Beerbhoom, „ 6* „	0·43	There has been a break in the rains, which is rather good than otherwise. The state and prospect of the corps continue very good
4	Midnapore, „ 5 „	1·01	Weather—seasonable. The state and prospects of the crops are favourable.
5	Hooghly, „ 5 „	3·06	Weather—generally sultry; heavy rain on the 2nd instant The aus crop is generally harvested. The prospects of the amun rice and other crops are good. Fever is very prevalent.
	Howrah, „ 7† „	1·48	Showers rather more frequent than usual at this time of year. Prospects continue good over most of the district. In Doomjoor and Jugutbullubpore there has been some loss from flood. Prices are still very high.
	Central Districts
PRESIDENCY DIVN. 6	24-Pergunnahs ...	.....	Return not received.
7	Nuddea, Oct. 5 '78	0·82	Weather—cooler in the morning and evening; hot and sunny during the day, with occasional rain. The amun crop is doing favourably. Jute is being steeped. Some of the high lands are being prepared for the winter crops.
	Meherpore ...	2·41
	Chooadanga ...	2·40
	Bongong ...	0·73
8	Jessore, „ 5 „	0·86	Weather—fine, with the exception of a few heavy showers. The reports from Narail and Khoolna have not been received. The prospect of the crops in the other sub-divisions is so far hopeful and good.
	Jhenida ...	1·33
	Magoora ...	2·91
	Bagirhat ...	1·75
9	Moorshedabad „ 5 „	0·45	Weather—sultry. The amun continues to do well, and the prospects are generally good, although prices are still high.
	Lalbagh ...	1·44
	Rampore Hât ...	0·80
10	Dinagepore, „ 4 „	0·64	Weather—hot and dry with slight rain. There was slight rain, but the succeeding dry weather has partly dried up the fifth flood in the station. No change in the prospect of the kaimanta, jute, and sugarcane crops. Rice is selling from 10 to 14 seers per rupee.
11	Rajshahye, „ 5 „	1·02	There has been heavy rain during the week throughout the district. The prospects of the dhan crop continue to be favourable, and have been much benefited by the rain. Kalai is being sown. Fever is reported from almost all parts of the district.
12	Rungpore, „ 4 „	0·47	Strong sun. Weather very favourable for the amun crop, the state and prospects of which are generally good. Public health is very good for the season of the year.
	Bagdogra ...	0·91
	Kurigram ...	0·04
13	Bogra, „ 5 „	1·59	Weather—good and seasonable. There was some rain during the early part of the week. Aus and jute have been harvested. Amun is doing well. The district is fairly healthy.
14	Pubna, „ 5 „	1·66	Weather—showery. The prospects of the crops continue good. Public health is good.
15	Darjeeling, „ 4 „	1·08	The rainfall has been greater this year than for many years past, but the rains seem to be pretty nearly over now. The bhadoi dhan has been gathered in with fair results. The haimanta dhan (the principal crop) is in the ear and promises a good outturn.
16	Julpigoree, „ 5 „	0·53	The little rain which has fallen was very seasonable. Hot sun; cloudy towards evening, giving promise of more rain. No change to report in the prospects of the corps, which are very promising.
	Cooch Behar, „ 2 „	Nil	Weather—fair, hot and close. The prospects of haimanta dhan continue satisfactory. The people are actively engaged in sowing tobacco seeds. The price of bitri rice has come down to Rs. 3-2. Public health is generally good.

	Eastern Districts.
DACCA DIVN. 17	Dacca, Oct. 5 '78	2·23	Weather—seasonable. The state and prospects of the crops are fair.
	Manickgunge ...	0·14
	Moonsheegunge (for week ending 2nd).	1·60
18	Furreedpore. „ 5 „	2·58	Weather—showery, but of the rainfall noted in the Sudder, 2·10 inches fell on the 4th in about two hours. The amun crop promises exceedingly well.
	Goalundo ...	1·95
	Madaripore ...	0·61
19	Backergunge. „ 3 „	1·39	Weather—sultry, with occasional showers. The prospects of the amun crop are excellent. The damage caused by insects in the south of the district appears to have been slight. There is a tendency to a fall in prices. Health is good.
20	Mymensingh, „ 4 „	1·51	Weather—seasonably hot, with occasional showers. The prospects of the rice crop on the high lands are very fine, but the crops on the low lands have been much injured by inundation. The late floods have caused a panic in the bazars, and rice is not brought for sale. Rs. 8 per maund are demanded in places.
21	Tipperah, „ 4 „	2·75	Rain on three days of the week; on the other days weather very sultry and oppressive. Owing to excessive inundation, the transplantation of rice has been interfered with in the north of the district. Generally speaking, however, the prospects of the amun dhan are good in most parts of the district.
	Brahmunbaria ...	0·42
	Chandpore ...	2·26
CHITTAGONG DIVN. 22	Chittagong, „ 3 „	1·61	Weather—warm, with seasonable showers. No change to report. The state and prospects of the crops are good.
23	Noakholly „ 3 „	1·62	Weather—very hot. The reaping of the early rice crop has been completed and the transplantation of the amun crop continues. Prospects are good Public health is good.
24	Chittagong Hill Tracts „ 1 „	3·58	Weather—rainy during the first part of the week and sunny during the latter part. The gathering of the joom paddy crop still continues. The prospects of the plough cultivators' crop are good.
	Hill Tipperah, „ 2 „	1·48	Weather—very warm and steamy. The amun crop is getting on well. Two of three heavy falls of rain within the month will ensure a splendid outturn. Low fever is prevalent.
BEHAR.
PATNA DIVN. 25	Patna, Oct. 5 '78	Nil	Weather—seasonable. The state and prospects of the crops are very good.
26	Gya, „ 5 „	Nil	The general appearance of the sky was partly cloudy and partly clear The maximum reading of the thermometer in the shade was 94·6. The prospect of the aghani crop is favourable everywhere in the district. The ploughing for the rubbee crop is going on. Public health is generally good. Health of the plough cattle is good.
	Nowada ...	0·40
	Aurungabad ...	0·98
	Jehanabad ...	Nil
27	Shahabad, „ 5 „	0·11	Weather—hot in the day time; occasionally cloudy. The prospects of the crops are good, but in pergunnah Chowsa some rain is wanted for the paddy. No reports from the sub-divisions of Sasseram and Bhubbooah have been received
28	Durbhunga. „ 5 „	0·18	Weather—very hot and close. The state and prospects of the crops are very, good. Prices are falling.
29	Mozufferpore, „ 5 „	Nil	Weather—hot. The rice crop is in good condition. The harvesting of the bhadoi crops is almost finished. The cultivation of rubbee lands has commenced.
30	Saran, „ 5 „	0·69	Weather—close and sultry. Slight rain fell at the beginning of the week. Fields are being prepared for the rubbee crops. The winter rice requires more rain. Prices are rapidly falling. Fever is still prevalent.
	Sewan ...	0·29
	Gopalgunge ...	1·34
31	Chumparun, „ 5 „	0·02	Weather—hot and close during the day, but cool at night. The prospects of the crops are the same as reported before. The bhadoi has been commenced to be harvested, and the outturn is estimated at 14 annas.
BHAGULPORE DIVISION. 32	Monghyr, „ 5 „	0·08	Weather—hot, with little rain. The state and prospects of the crops are good, if there be rain.
	Begusarai ...	0·63
	Jamui ..	0·50
33	Bhagulpore, ...	.....	Return not received.
34	Purneah, .. 5 „	0·06	Weather—fine and sultry. Clouds seem to promise more rain. The bhadoi has been nearly gathered in; the outturn is good. The winter crops promise well. Fever is prevalent.
	Kissengunge ...	0·11
	Arrareah ...	0·45
35	Maldah, „ 5 „	0·40	Intense heat during the week. Weather somewhat cooler on the 5th in consequence of a shower during the night. Paddy and kalai have been benefited by slight rain. Rivers continue falling. Fever is still prevalent
36	Sonthal Perghs. ...	.....	Return not received.

No.	District, and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date
ORISSA.
Orissa Divn. 37	Cuttack, ...	...	Return not received.
Orissa Divn. 38	Pooree, Oct. 3 '78	4·36	Weather—seasonable. Rain is reported from all parts of the district. Beali and mandia are being harvested. Sarad rice is progressing well. Common rice sells at $11\frac{3}{16}$ to $18\frac{3}{4}$ seers for the rupee. Exportation across the Chilka continues. Public health is good.
Orissa Divn. 39	Balasore, „ 4 „	1·85	Weather—calm and sultry; the showers are becoming fewer. The early sorts of rice are being harvested with fair outturn. The main crop is in good condition. Public health is normal. Cattle-pox and foot and mouth disease still prevail.
CHOTA NAGPORE.
	South-West Frontier Agency.
40	Hazareebagh, Oct. 4 '78	0·43	Weather—seasonable. There is little or no change to report. Everything so far is progressing favourably. Cholera has nearly disappeared.
41	Lobaruggu, „ 5 „	0·02	Dry weather—There has been little or no rain during the week All the crops on the ground continue to look well, but rain is much wanted, as without a good shower the outturn of dhan is likely to be much less than 16 annas. Fever is still prevalent in Palamow.
	Palamow ...	0 2
42	Singbhoom, „ 4	0 8	Weather—seasonable. Everything is most satisfactory.
43	Manbhoom, „ 4	0·55	Weather—hot. There was very little rain in the Sudder station. In the northern parts of the district the crops have been greatly benefited by a small shower which fell on the 4th instant. The crops are flourishing, but a little rain is urgently necessary. In the western parts of the district relief works are still kept up, and gratuitous relief given. The Deputy Commissioner, who has again visited Jargo, states that in that quarter the autumn harvest has been poor, and the low land prospects are not good, owing to insufficient rain and want of weeding

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h., and 22h.; the maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction and movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

The results of the observations at the Alipore Observatory are not rigorously comparable with the registers of past years (at the Park Street Observatory). The barometer is about 3 feet higher at Alipore, and, other things being equal, reads therefore ·003 lower. The diurnal range of temperature is also greater at Alipore, and the mean temperature apparently about 1° or 1½° lower; and finally, the thermometer, which has furnished the record of temperature at the Surveyor-General's Office during the last 20 years and upwards, is found to read 0·6° higher than the Kew standard thermometer, which is the standard of reference at the present Observatory.

ALEXANDER PEDLER,
For Offg. Meteorological Reporter to the Govt. of India.

METEOROLOGICAL OFFICE, INDIA, the 7th October 1878.

Report on the Fluctuations in Traffic on the Northern Bengal State Railway for the month of August 1878.

Increases.

Jute ... ... Mds. 10,188

The new jute is just beginning to find its way into the market. By far the largest proportion of the weight shown was despatched from one station, Darwani.

Seeds ... ... Mds. 579

The movement in this staple of traffic s fairly local, presumably for sowing purposes.

Sugar ... ... Mds. 943

There was a considerable demand in Calcutta for this article during the month for local consumption and the favorable rates ruling induced despatches.

Cotton ... ... Mds. 12

This weight represents the total traffic in this staple during the month, as nothing was carried under this head during July.

Tea ... ... Mds. 4,838

The total weight of this staple lifted during the month under review reached 8,560, being 3,024 maunds in excess of any previous month and as shown above 4,838 over last month's despatches.

Tobacco ... ... Mds 2,167

This increase is almost entirely due to heavy despatches of the new crop from our Rungpore station for export to Burmah.

Decreases.

Ale ... ... Mds. 58

The upward despatch of Commissariat Beer still continues, but the total quantity sent forward this month fell somewhat short of last

Food-grain ... ... Mds. 22,919

I regret to have again to record so large a falling off in this staple.

The enquiries I have made on the subject tend to show that the total absence of demand either for export or local consumption has helped to throw what is being carried into the hands of the Manjees, (Boat owners). With no turn in the market to be taken advantage of, the cheapest and, for the time being, the most convenient mode of transit boat is selected, as the roads to most of our stations are still impassable.

Ginger ... ... Mds. 1,561

The total absence of demand in the Calcutta market for this article has, for the time being, checked despatches.

Gunny-bags .. .. Mds. 18

This falling off is trifling and only worthy of notice as tending to show that the movement in food-grains, although not being conveyed by rail, is still considerable.

Railway material ... ... Mds. 13,960

This falling off, as I have before explained, is the natural result of the construction of line nearing completion.

Salt ... ... Mds. 613

During the whole of the month the total weight carried under this head has only reached 146 maunds as against 759 maunds in the previous month. The decrease is caused by the boats carrying it at a very low rate as a return load.

Other goods ... ... Mds. 1,616

The decrease under this head is made up almost entirely by short despatches of through booked miscellaneous consignments from Eastern Bengal Railway.

NOTIFICATION.

The 14th October 1878.—In exercise of the powers conferred upon him by section 314 of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1876, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to confirm the bye-laws stated at foot of this notification, which were made by the Commissioners of the Municipality of Barisal, at a meeting convened expressly for the purpose, and of which due notice had been given, and in exercise of the powers conferred by section 315 of the same Act, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to sanction the penalties for any breach of the said bye-laws which have been declared by the said Commissioners.

BYE-LAWS.

For regulating the time and mode of collecting the taxes.

1. Every officer authorized to collect taxes of any kind and grant receipts, shall be provided with a certificate of such authority, bearing the seal of the Municipality and signature of the Chairman or Vice-Chairman. Every collecting officer, at the time of demanding or receiving payment, shall be bound to show this certificate if required. On the suspension or dismissal of a collecting officer, the Chairman or Vice-Chairman shall take back his certificate, and so destroy it that no future use can be made of it by any one.

2. Payment of purchase-money for property sold, and delivery of the property, shall be made immediately after the sale, and if the purchaser fail to pay the full amount of his bid, it shall be lawful for the distraining officer at his discretion to sell the property again, on the same or any other day, and the first purchaser shall, in such case, be responsible to the Commissioners for any loss, which shall be recoverable as a debt due to them.

For regulating the conduct of persons employed by the Commissioners.

3. All persons employed by the Commissioners, whose services may be no longer required, shall be liable to discharge after receipt of previous notice or pay in advance for the period of one month, and no such person shall withdraw from the duties of his office without having given previous notice for the period of one month, on pain of forfeiture of one month's salary.

4. All persons now holding, or who may hereafter be appointed to, any office under the Commissioners shall, when required to do so, furnish good security to such amount as the Commissioners may from time to time fix, and any person failing to furnish such security, within such time as the Commissioners may appoint, shall be held to have thereby forfeited his appointment and may be removed from office.

For regulating the disposal of offensive matter, rubbish, and dead bodies of animals.

5. Every person, within whose premises any animal may die, shall, within six hours of its death, or, if death occurs at night, within four hours after daylight, either remove the carcass at his own expense to such place as may be set apart by the Commissioners for the reception of such carcass, or report its death at the Municipal Office to the conservancy overseer, and in such latter case shall pay to the said overseer the expense of removing the carcass, at such rate as the Commissioners may determine, and such expense shall be recoverable as a debt due to the Commissioners. In cases where the said person is not the owner of the animal, and the owner is known, the latter shall alone be responsible for the payment of such expense. No overseer, when called upon, except at night, shall neglect to remove a carcass within three hours of receiving the information.

6. No person shall deposit, or cause to be deposited, any carcass, or any part of a carcass, in any place other than such place as may, from time to time, be appointed by the Commissioners for the reception of the carcasses of animals.

The penalty for infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 10.

7. No person shall throw, deposit, or discharge, any night-soil, sewage or the contents of any drain, privy, or cess-pool into any river, tank, khall, water-course, or receptacle for water, or dispose of the above-mentioned kinds of offensive matter in any other way than as the Commissioners may from time to time direct.

The penalty for infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 20.

8. No person shall carry night-soil through the streets otherwise than in a closely covered receptacle, of such description and pattern as shall be required from time to time by the Commissioners, and between such hours as the Commissioners may from time to time direct.

The penalty for infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 20.

For the regulation and management of privies.

9. Every owner or occupier of any house, land, or premises, from which offensive matter is not removed by the said owner or occupier, shall give free access to the servants of the municipality to his house, land, or premises, for the removal of any night-soil or filth, within such hours as may have been fixed on by the Municipal Commissioners, viz. between sunrise and sunset.

The penalty for infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 5.

10. Every person shall construct his privy above ground, and shall provide his privy or premises with a suitable moveable receptacle of metal, wood, or earthenware.

(This Bye-law is to be confined within the five mohullahs—Kotwali, Church, Kalibari, Kutibari, and School—which compose the town proper, particularly with a view to keep clean the Bhatta Khal and the Jail Khal and their accessories.)

The penalty for infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 20.

11. On the receipt of a notice from the Commissioners, every owner or occupier of any house, land, or premises, in or on which any well-privy or other noxious or improperly constructed privy may be situated, shall fill up, close, or otherwise alter the construction of the said privy as may be directed in the notice, and if the orders contained in the notice be not carried out within fifteen days, the Commissioners may fill up, close or otherwise alter the said privy, and the expense incurred in so doing shall be recoverable as a debt due to the Commissioners.

12. No owner or occupier of any house, land, or premises in or on which any privy may be situated, shall allow night-soil or filth of any kind to flow or be discharged from such privy into any drain, water-course, river, tank, hollow, or excavation (or any place containing stagnant and waste water), or into any other receptacle but one of the nature described in bye-law No 10.

The penalty for infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 20.

13. No person shall perform any office of nature in any place outside private premises, other than such place as may be appointed by the Commissioners.

The penalty for infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 10.

14. The Commissioners may direct the use of lime, coal-tar, carbolic acid, or other deodorants or disinfectants in any privy or premises if at any time it seem to them necessary for the preservation of public health, or for the prevention of infection or spread of disease, provided that the Commissioners shall be bound to supply such deodorants, &c., at cost price, and the price shall be recoverable as a debt due to the Commissioners.

The penalty for refusal to use the deodorants shall be a daily fine not exceeding Re. 1.

For regulating Traffic in the Streets.

15. Every carriage or cart plying on the streets after sunset shall carry a light or lights.

The penalty for infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 5.

16. No person shall let loose any animal without sufficient guard, or picket such animal on any public road, or collect carts so as to impede general traffic on any public road.

The penalty for infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 10.

General Bye-laws.

17. No person shall put, or cause to be put, on any house or other building any spout, or other thing intended for the conveyance and discharge of water, which shall be so placed that the water discharged therefrom shall be thrown or fall upon any public road or thoroughfare, and the Commissioners shall have power to take down and alter any such spout now in existence, and to recover the costs as a debt due to the Commissioners.

The penalty for infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 5; the penalty for continued infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Re. 1 daily.

18. No person shall deposit, or cause to be deposited in or by the side of any public road or drain any substance or thing whereby the said road or drain is, or may be, in any way obstructed or injured.

The penalty for infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 10; the penalty for continued infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 3 daily.

19. No person shall construct any building or structure of any kind abutting on any public road or drain, and no person shall place over any public drain any bridge or platform, except by, and with the written permission of, the Commissioners, and in such manner as they shall direct.

The penalty for infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 10; the penalty for continued infringement after notice shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 3 daily.

20. If any house, wall, or other erection, or any part thereof fall upon any public highway or into any public drain, the owner of such house, wall or erection shall remove it after notice within the time prescribed by the Commissioners.

The penalty for infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 10; the penalty for continued infringement after notice shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 5 daily.

21. No person shall prepare any channel, or convey water by any channel, across any public thoroughfare, except in such manner as shall have been first approved by the Commissioners.

The penalty for infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 10; the penalty for continued infringement after notice shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 2 daily.

22. No person shall, without the permission of the Commissioners, steep in any river, khal, tank, or ditch within municipal limits any jute, hemp, bamboos, or other vegetable matter, or any animal matter, likely to render the water of such river, khal, tank, or ditch, offensive or noxious to the neighbourhood.

The penalty for infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 10; the penalty for continued infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 2 daily.

23. No person shall dig, or cause to be dug, any hole in any public drain, water-course, khal, tank, or public ground, or take or cause earth to be taken therefrom without the written permission of the Commissioners.

The penalty for infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 20.

24. No person shall, without the written permission of the Commissioners, set up any obstruction in any nullah or water-course, and the Commissioners may order the removal of any such obstruction on grounds of public health.

The penalty for infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 10; the penalty for continued infringement after notice shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 4 daily.

25. The owner or occupier of any part of the bank of any nullah or water-course shall keep it free from filth, dense vegetation, or other obstruction, and shall at all times allow the Commissioners or any of their servants duly authorized, to have access to such nullah or water-course for any purpose of public conservancy.

The penalty for infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 10; the penalty for continued infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 5 daily.

26. No person shall wash in any tank, khal, or ditch, belonging to the Commissioners the clothes or bedding, or furniture used by any person suffering from cholera or small-pox.

The penalty for disobedience to comply with the order shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 50.

27. No person shall construct any ghât in any public tank or water-course, except by, and with the written permission of, the Commissioners.

The penalty for infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 10; the penalty for continued infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 3 daily.

28. No person shall, without the consent of the Commissioners, fill up or stop any existing cess-pool so as to obstruct the drainage of any part of the town.

The penalty for infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 20, and the Commissioners may order the offender to re-dig the hole at his own expense and, if he neglects to do so, may impose a daily fine not exceeding Rs. 2, or may do the work at his expense.

29. No person shall collect, or allow to be collected (except for the purpose of conveying it away), on or near any public road or place, any manure or other offensive substance.

The penalty for infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 10.

30. No person shall tether or graze cattle, goats or other animals, or cause them to be tethered, or cause or allow them to stray, on any public highway.

The penalty for infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 5.

31. No person shall let loose, or cause or allow to be let loose, or allow to get loose, any diseased or worn-out animal on any highway.

The penalty for infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 5.

32. No person shall throw, or place on any road or street any broken glass, broken bottles, or crockery, or broken pots or turtle shells.

The penalty for infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 10.

33. No person shall slaughter, or cause to be slaughtered, except for bonâ fide religious purposes, any animal, or skin, or cause to be skinned, any carcass of an animal, or tan, or cause to be tanned, any hide on or near a public road, or in any place exposed to public view.

The penalty for infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 10.

For regulating the burning of dead bodies.

34. No person shall dispose of, or cause to be disposed of, any corpse otherwise than by burning or burying it at or in some lawful burning or burial ground.

The penalty for infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 50.

35. If the corpse of any person shall remain unburnt, or unburied twelve hours after death, the Commissioners may dispose of such corpse through their servants, and recover the expense from any assets left by the deceased.

36. Every person who shall bring or convey, or cause to be brought or conveyed, any corpse or part thereof to any burning ground, shall burn, or cause the same to be burnt, within six hours after its arrival at the said burning ground.

The penalty for infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 20.

37. No person, when burning, or causing to be burnt, any corpse, or part of a corpse, in any burning ground, shall permit the same, or any part thereof to remain without being completely reduced to ashes, or shall permit the clothes or other articles connected with the burning of such corpse, to remain at or near such burning ground, unless the same be completely reduced to ashes.

The penalty for infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 20.

38. No person shall carry a corpse, or part of a corpse, through any highway unless it be covered and concealed from public view.

The penalty for infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 10.

39. No person, while carrying a corpse, or part of a corpse, shall deposit it on any bazar or crowded thoroughfare for any purpose whatever.

The penalty for infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 10.

NOTIFICATION.

The 10th October 1878.—The following revised rules for the grant of leases for tea cultivation in the districts of Julpigoree and Darjeeling have been approved by the Lieutenant-Governor and are published for general information.

2. With reference to the provisions of the revised form of preliminary lease under which transfers, if duly registered, will in future be recognized, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to admit to registration all such transfers already completed, though made in violation of the terms of the leases hitherto in force; provided that application for their registration be made within two months of the date of this notification, and that a fee of four annas per acre be paid on the area of the lands transferred. Failing such registration, the forfeiture clause of the preliminary leases under which the lands are held will be enforced.

RULES FOR THE GRANT OF LEASES FOR TEA CULTIVATION IN THE DISTRICTS OF JULPIGOREE AND DARJEELING.

What lands will ordinarily be available.

1. THE lands that are generally available under these rules in the district of Julpigoree lie within that tract of country in the Western Dooars which extends in an easterly direction from the east bank of the River Teesta to the west bank of the River Sankos. The lands available in the district of Darjeeling lie in the Daling Sub-division of that district, and are bounded on the north by the Government Reserved Forests as notified in the Calcutta Gazette of the 7th August 1878; on the south by the Julpigoree district; on the east by the Moortee Nuddee; and on the west by the Lethee Nuddee. Any lots of Waste Land belonging to Government, lying in any other parts of the districts of Julpigoree or Darjeeling, and which are not reserved for other purposes, may also be made available for Tea cultivation under these rules.

What lands will not ordinarily be available.

2. The following lands will not ordinarily be available under these rules:—

(a.)—Lands which, by a notification in the Calcutta Gazette, are held to constitute a reserve for the supply of timber, fuel, grazing, or any other article of general and public consumption.

(b.)—Lands not included in the above category, but which now bear India-rubber trees or other valuable timber (such as sal, khair, chelownee, sissoo, &c.,) in compact blocks or patches.

(c.)—Lands in respect of which any person or persons, or any village community, possess rights of occupancy, or such other rights or privileges as render it impolitic or unadvisable to grant such lands to any other person or persons for the purpose of tea cultivation.

(d.)—Lands lying within a distance of 60 feet on either side from the centre of any public road or thoroughfare. Provided that such road or thoroughfare shall have been constructed, or shall be kept in repair, from public funds, and that it be borne on the list of the district roads of the district.

(e.)—Lands which the local Government may at any time, by a notification in the Calcutta Gazette, expressly exempt from the operation of these rules.

How and to whom application is to be made.

3. Every person, company, or association, desirous of obtaining a grant of land under these rules must, in person or by a duly authorized agent, present an application on stamped paper of the value of 8 annas to the Deputy Commissioner of the district in which the land lies.

What the application is to specify.

4. The application must specify—

(a.)—The name, or names, and address, or addresses of the applicant or applicants, and of his or their authorized agent, if any.

(b.)—The area, situation, and boundaries of the land applied for, as far as they can be ascertained without a detailed survey.

(c.)—The particulars, if any, which may appear to the applicant to bring any part of the land applied for within the exceptions mentioned in Rule 2. The application must also state whether the land, or any part of it, is or has ever been cultivated in any manner.

5. Every lot applied for must be compact and capable of being enclosed in a ring fence; and if any part of the land touches on a public road or navigable river, the length of such road or river frontage must not exceed one half the breadth of the lot applied for.

6. Not more than 800 acres will ordinarily be granted to any one applicant, company, or association; and when more than 800 acres are applied for, the applicant must set forth specially the grounds for such application, and give primâ facie guarantees that he possesses the requisite capital for working such larger area. All applications for more than 800 acres will be forwarded by the Deputy Commissioner to the Commissioner, who, if he desires to recommend compliance therewith, will forward them to the Board of Revenue, who will take the orders of Government upon each case.

Procedure on receipt of an application.

7. On receipt of an application for any area not exceeding 800 acres, the Deputy Commissioner must satisfy himself, as far as lies in his power, that the requirements of the rules have been complied with. If he considers that the application should be rejected he will record an order to that effect, giving his reasons for such rejection. An appeal will lie from such order of rejection to the Commissioner of the Division if preferred within 30 days from the date of the order. If the Deputy Commissioner considers that an application for such area as it is within his power to grant should be entertained, or in the case of application for areas over 800 acres, when the orders of Government accepting the application have been received, the applicant or his agent will be required to deposit the cost of survey and demarcation to be made as hereinafter provided. The amount to be so deposited must be calculated at one rupee per acre of the total area applied for. If the area is found to be greater, the sum of one rupee per acre must be paid on account of such excess area before a preliminary lease is granted. Payments under this rule do not cover the cost of erecting permanent boundary marks under Rule 20.

8. On receipt of the sum payable under the preceding rule, and of an agreement, signed by the applicant or by his authorized agent, to pay such further sum as may be required for the purposes above mentioned, the Deputy Commissioner will record an order appointing a tehsildar or other officer to visit the land, and to make full and detailed inquiries into its condition and circumstances.

Preliminary inquiry to be made.

9. The general object of such inquiry shall be to ascertain whether or not the land applied for can be granted under the rules in force; but the Deputy Commissioner may instruct the officer making the inquiry to furnish him with such other specific and detailed information as may seem to him to be necessary.

10. On completion of this inquiry, the officer making it will record the result thereof, and submit a report for the orders of the Deputy Commissioner. If the Deputy Commissioner, after considering the report, and after calling for such further explanations, oral or written, as he may deem necessary, shall be of opinion that the land applied for cannot be granted under the rules, and should not therefore be surveyed, he will record an order to that effect. An appeal will lie from such order to the Commissioner of the Division if preferred within 30 days from the date of the order.

11. If the Deputy Commissioner decide that the land applied for can be granted under the rules, and should therefore be surveyed, he will record an order to that effect.

12. If the Deputy Commissioner finds the land or any part of it in the occupation of any person or persons or of any village community, he will submit a full report of the circumstances for the orders of the Commissioner, stating in detail how he proposes to deal with such prior occupants; and, if it is proposed to remove them, the compensation, if any, which the applicant undertakes to pay to such persons. The Commissioner will report his orders in all such cases for the information of the Board of Revenue.

13. If any claim or objection be preferred under Act XXIII of 1863, the Deputy Commissioner will proceed to dispose of the same in accordance with the provisions of that Act.

How the survey is to be made.

14. The officer who made the inquiry provided for by Rules 8 to 10 will, on receipt of an order to that effect from the Deputy Commissioner, proceed to point out to the Surveyor the boundaries of the land applied for, and such prominent features in it as may be useful for the purposes of the survey, and which should, in his opinion, be entered in the preliminary lease as hereinafter provided. The boundaries and other features above mentioned should be clearly marked and defined by the officer in presence of the surveyor, and the latter should be furnished with a list of them signed by the said officer.

15. The surveyor will then proceed to make the survey and put up such temporary boundary marks as are necessary for that purpose. He must prepare a map showing—

(a)—All natural features of the country lying within the boundaries as fixed by the officer who made the enquiry under Rules 8 to 10, e.g., bheels, streams, forest clumps, &c.

(b)—Such features of the country lying outside the boundary of the land to be surveyed as may serve to identify the latter and connect it with the revenue survey or other existing map.

The surveyor is bound to bring to the notice of the Deputy Commissioner any fact which may come to his knowledge in the course of the survey rendering it advisable, that the land he is surveying should not be granted under these rules.

16. The map should ordinarily be on a scale of 16 inches to the mile. If possible, the surveyor's field-book should be copied at the back of it. If not, a copy of the field-book should be attached to or accompany the map. If the map be made originally in the vernacular, the Deputy Commissioner will cause it to be translated into English.

17. On the map being completed, it must be checked by an officer appointed by the Deputy Commissioner. If found to be incorrect, it will be amended by the surveyor in conjunction with the officer above mentioned. If found to be correct, it will be laid before the Deputy Commissioner with the report of the officer who made the preliminary inquiry under Rules 8 to 10, and with all other papers connected with the case.

18. The Deputy Commissioner will then proceed to consider the application. A date for this purpose must be previously fixed by him, and due notice of it given to the applicant or to his authorized agent.

19. The Deputy Commissioner shall have power to reject an application at any stage of the proceedings under the rules, if he sees reason to do so, refunding in such case to the applicant the deposit made by him on account of survey. He is authorized to reject an application when he does not consider that there is a bonâ fide intention on the part of the applicant to cultivate in tea the land applied for, or when it appears desirable to reserve the land for cultivation other than tea, or to preserve any forest standing on it. An appeal against every such order of rejection shall lie to the Commissioner of the Division if preferred within 30 days of the date of the order.

20. If the Deputy Commissioner grant the application, he will without delay grant the applicant a lease in form A of the appendix, and call upon him to execute a counterpart thereof, and to pay for all valuable forest trees as provided in clause 10 of the preliminary lease. He will also direct him to mark out the land leased by a continuous trench, or in such other manner as the Deputy Commissioner may direct. Within three months of the grant of such lease the lessee must, on pain of forfeiture of all rights in the land leased, mark out the land as above directed, and must further erect, at his own expense, such permanent boundary* marks as the Deputy Commissioner may direct. On the expiry of the three months, the surveyor must test the correctness of the boundary line and permanent marks and report the result to the Deputy Commissioner, at the same time pointing out to the lessee or his representative by written notice any corrections that may be required. If the corrections indicated are not made by the lessee or his representative within 30 days of the receipt of such notice, all rights in the land shall be liable to forfeiture to Government.

21. Whenever, after receipt of an application, as provided for in Rule 8, and after making such inquiries as he may deem necessary, the Deputy Commissioner shall be of opinion that there is no primâ facie objection whatever to the grant under the rules of the land applied for, he may put the applicant in preliminary and provisional possession of an area not exceeding one-eighth of the estimated area of the land applied for, with the object of enabling the applicant to make preparations for commencing cultivation and getting the land in order. Provided that the applicant, before obtaining such preliminary possession, shall have erected such boundary marks as the Deputy Commissioner may direct, and that the amount of all estimated charges incurred in connection with such preliminary occupation shall have been deposited by the applicant.

* These boundary marks shall ordinarily consist of a masonry platform at every point where more than two lots or patches of waste or other lands meet, with large stones or mounds at every angle and at every 100 yards of the boundary line between such platforms and other marks.

22. The order for, and conditions of, such preliminary occupation shall be in the form B in the appendix, and shall be addressed to the tehsildar or other officer appointed by the Deputy Commissioner. A copy of the order shall be delivered to the applicant, who shall, after receipt of occupation, acknowledge such receipt by signing a copy of the order and depositing it with the Deputy Commissioner.

23. Grantees are not permitted to club or amalgamate their grants, otherwise than by transfers duly registered as provided for in the preliminary lease. Any unauthorized amalgamation will subject the holders of the grants in question to forfeiture of all rights in the lands so amalgamated.

APPENDIX A.

Form of preliminary lease of land in granted by the Deputy Commissioner of to (name) of (address).

1. THE lands covered by this lease are situated within the boundaries shown by the red lines in map No. , dated , and attached to the lease. The lands may be described as being bounded as follows:—

North.—
East.—
South.—
West.—

Their area is more or less acres, and they are situated in the pergunnahs and tehsils detailed in the margin.

2. The rights conveyed by this lease are heritable and also transferable, provided (a), that the entire grant, and not a portion of it, be transferred; (b), that the clearance conditions are duly observed by the transferor and transferee respectively; (c), that the transfer is registered in the Deputy Commissioner's office within 21 days of the date thereof; and (d), that a registration fee of 4 annas per acre be paid to the Deputy Commissioner on the occasion of every such transfer. If any transfer of the rights conveyed by this lease is made otherwise than in accordance with the foregoing provisions, all rights in the land leased shall be liable to be forfeited to Government. After the expiry of this preliminary lease, no right shall be claimed otherwise than as expressly provided for hereinafter.

3. The rent to be paid shall be as follows:—

Year of entry (i.e. from actual date of entry to 31st March following) ...	Nil.
1*st* full year (from 1st April following date of entry)	Nil.
2*nd* year	3 annas per acre.
3*rd* ,,	6 ,, ,,
4*th* ,,	9 ,, ,,
5*th*	12 ,, ,,

The rent shall be paid to the tehsildar of in the following instalments:—

1st September, one-half; 1st March one-half.

4. The lessee shall either himself reside on or near to the lands covered by this lease, or he shall appoint a manager or agent who shall reside on or near to such lands, and who shall be provided with a full legal power to act on behalf of the principal in all matters arising out of, or concerning, the lands covered by the lease.

5. The lessee binds himself to conform to all the provisions of the rules for the grant of tea leases under which this lease is granted.

6. Five per cent. of the area of the lands leased shall be cleared by the end of the second year after the grant of this lease, and 10 per cent. by the end of the third year.

7. Any land covered by the lease which may at any time be required for a public purpose, may be taken up by Government free of cost on a reduction being made in the rent payable under the lease proportionate to the area taken by Government. But the value of any improvements or property thereon shall be paid to the lessee, and shall be assessed under the provision of the law in force for the time being for the acquisition of land for public purposes.

8. All rights to minerals or quarries of all kinds are reserved to Government.

9. No right of fishery, and no right to dam up or otherwise obstruct the passage of any stream is given by this lease. A public right of way over twenty yards on either bank of every stream, available at any time of the year for local boat traffic, is reserved.

10. All valuable forest trees which are of a girth of three feet and over at the height of four feet from the ground must be paid for by the lessee before possession is given under this lease. The kinds of trees to be so paid for, and the rates of payment for each tree, are those set forth in schedules drawn up for this purpose from time to time by the Forest Department and approved by Government. All other trees and scrub jungle are at the disposal of the lessee.

11. The Deputy Commissioner may at any time enter on, inspect, or measure the area under cultivation, and the lessee may at any time demand that such measurement be made. Provided that the expenses of any such inspection or measurement demanded by the lessee shall be paid by him as rent due. If, after such inspection, the Deputy Commissioner finds that 15 per cent. of the total area held under the lease has been brought under cultivation by means of good husbandry, and actually bears tea plants, the lessee shall be entitled to the renewal of the lease for a further period of twenty years, and to renewals for similar periods in perpetuity, subject to the following conditions:—

(a)—Subject to any general or special orders of Government the rent to be paid shall be fixed by the Board of Revenue on the report of the Deputy Commissioner on each occasion of renewal, but shall not exceed the rate of rent per acre paid in the neighbourhood at the time of renewal for the highest class of lands under ordinary cultivation. If at any future time the administration of the tracts under tea cultivation should entail on the State any considerable increase of expenditure, it will be competent to the Government, with the sanction of the legislature, to impose such special taxation as may be deemed necessary, either by raising the rent, or in some other mode. But under no other circumstances will the rent, which has now been fixed for a term of years on the principle above enunciated, be raised during the currency of such term.

(b)—The title conveyed by the renewed lease shall be heritable and transferable, provided that no transfer shall be made of less than the whole, and that no transfer shall be valid as against the Government, but shall, on the contrary, be equivalent to a surrender of the lease, unless notification of the transfer shall have been given by the transferree to the Deputy Commissioner at the time of transfer, together with a fee of 4 annas per acre of the area leased.

(c)—In all other respects, the conditions of the renewed lease shall be the same as those of the preliminary lease.

12. The rights and privileges conveyed by this lease, and by any renewed lease granted in accordance with its provisions, shall be liable to be forfeited on failure of the lessee to comply with any condition thereof.

13. If before the expiration of this preliminary lease no application for a renewal of the lease shall have been made in accordance with the above provisions, the lessee may be allowed to hold on as a tenant-at-will, but not otherwise, until other arrangements shall have been made by the Deputy Commissioner.

APPENDIX B.

To the Tehsildar of

WHEREAS of

and (name) of

(residence) propose to enter into an agreement in regard to certain land (situated at or near the spot herein described) for the purpose of cultivating tea, and whereas

(name) of

(residence) desires immediately to enter upon occupation of some part of the above lands for the purpose of making preparations for, and for commencing such cultivation, I do hereby authorize the said

(name) of

(residence) hereby to use for that purpose any lands lying within

(here specify boundaries) and not exceeding 100 acres in all.

In the event of a lease being hereafter granted, the date of entry referred to in such lease shall be held to be not the date of this order, but the date of possession being given under such lease. In case of a lease being refused, no claim to compensation shall lie against the Government for any outlay incurred by (residence) on the strength of this order. No rent shall be payable for land occupied during the currency of this order, the term whereof shall expire on the 31st March next.

Occupation under this order, or after its expiry, without an express condition to the contrary, shall never be held to constitute any tenure other than a tenancy-at-will from year to year. The occupant shall keep the boundary line and marks in repair and clear of jungle. A copy of this order has been delivered to (name) with permission to enter into occupation. You will register him as in occupation of the land under the usual amalnama.

Passenger boats.—A charge of one anna per head per mile on 1st class passengers, i.e., by steamers and boats and ¼ (quarter) pie per head per mile for all other passengers over and above the toll leviable from the boats or steamers by measurement. This charge to be leviable from the owners of boats or steamers and not from the passengers, except when a Government boat or steamer is hired by any person for his exclusive use. The hire in such cases charged by Government is for the use of the boat, and the tollage of boat, plus mileage charge per head, will be levied from the passenger at the rate of one anna.

Empty boats.—To be charged on tonnage of the boat itself as ascertained from its draught for displacement.

Exemption.—From payment of canal dues at the above rates for goods will not be allowed to any department or departments. The canal officers, i.e., those directly in charge of irrigation works, and whose duty will necessitate travelling through the canal for inspection thereof, and the Deputy Revenue Superintendent, will be allowed to pass free of tollage. All other Government officers, heretofore passed free on grant of certificates of being on duty, will be expected to pay the required tollage for themselves and baggage boats.

Special rate.—Allowed to Messrs. Bullock, Welsted and Co. for their boats and passenger steamers, will cease from the 1st October next, and they will be charged thereafter similarly as the general public at the rates above notified, their boats and steamers being measured in accordance with existing rules for such measurement.

Demurrage.—The number of days which a boat entering the canal by booking or paying tollage at one of the locks may remain in it without additional payment, shall be calculated at the rate of one day for every eight miles or portion of eight miles to be traversed. Boats remaining for a longer period will pay a demurrage of eight annas per 100 maunds per diem for each day or part of a day that they may remain in excess.

DRAFT RULES PROPOSED UNDER ACT III (B. C.) OF 1876.

Dated the 10th September 1878.

No. 249.—Notification.—In exercise of the powers conferred on him by Section 99 of Act III (B.C.) of 1876, the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to direct the publication of the following rules for the Sone Canals which it is proposed to substitute for the rules passed and published at pages 938 to 943, Part I of the Calcutta Gazette of the 2nd August 1876.

Rule under Act III (B.C.) of 1876.

1. The Collector, before awarding compensation under sections 16 and 17 of the Act, shall obtain the written opinion of the Superintending Canal Officer, which shall form part of the record of the proceedings.

2. Water shall not be granted where, in the opinion of the Divisional Canal Officer, loss from wastage is likely to occur. From the decision of the Divisional Canal Officer an appeal shall lie to the Superintending Canal Officer, whose order shall be final.

3. Water shall not ordinarily be granted where the length of the water-course, from its head to its point of contact with the village boundary, would exceed two (2) miles.

4. Water for irrigation shall not be supplied, except through a water-course so constructed and maintained that, in the opinion of the Divisional Canal Officer—

(a) the water will pass without wastage;

(b) the existing necessary lines of communication, the flow of drainage water, and the passage of water for irrigation, will not be obstructed.

5. The Divisional Canal Officer may withhold or postpone the grant of water for a crop to any cultivator whose fields he may have ascertained by personal inspection (by himself or one of his assistants) to be unprepared for irrigation by division into compartments not greater in area than 1 cottah or 1361·25 superficial feet, and by the addition of small water-channels, as is customary in irrigation from wells.

Rice-fields are exempted from the operation of this rule.

NOTE.—This rule shall only apply in those cases in which the discovery is made previous to the first watering of a crop; the water having been once given cannot be withheld for that crop, but a higher rate may be levied as provided in Rule 25.

6. Persons desiring to construct a village channel shall prefer a written application to the Divisional or Sub-Divisional Canal Officer. In the latter case the application shall be forwarded to the Divisional Canal Officer.

7. The application, if granted, shall be subject to the Act, and also, unless otherwise specially agreed upon, be deemed granted under the following conditions:—

(a)—That the water supplied shall not be used for other purposes than irrigation without the written consent of the Divisional or Sub-Divisional Canal Officer.

(b)—That the applicants nominate a headman known or ascertained to be a substantial person possessed of property to attend to their interests to receive and carry out the orders of the Canal Officers, to distribute the water among the shareholders in the water-course according to their shares, and to collect and pay in to the Collector, or other duly authorized person, all water-rates leviable on the lands watered from the water-course. Such headman shall be deemed to be a public servant within the meaning of the Penal Code.

(c)—That in any case where persons desirous of taking water fail to appoint a headman, or cannot agree among themselves as to the headman, the Collector shall nominate, and the Divisional Canal Officer appoint a headman.

(d)—That the headman shall furnish security for the payment of all sums realized by him, the stamp and registration fees on security bonds being deducted from the percentage allowed under Rule 10.

(e)—That for each crop, previous to water being taken for any field, application shall be made in the prescribed form (appendix A) through the said headman to the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer or other officer authorized to receive such applications, and that no water shall be taken until after the receipt of a "permit" (appendix B) from such officer.

(f)—That in any case where the Divisional Canal Officer, owing to the known recusancy of any village, or of any class of cultivators, anticipates difficulty in realizing water-rates, he shall intimate the same to the Collector or Sub-Deputy Collector, in whose option it shall be to require payment of water-rates in advance.

(g)—That any other cultivators in the same village, able and willing to irrigate their lands from the said water-course, shall be admitted as shareholders in the water-course on paying their proportionate share (to be determined by the amount of land they hold) of the first cost and maintenance of the water-course.

(h)—That all alterations in the number of shareholders, distribution of shares, or nomination of headman, shall be reported through the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer for the sanction of the Divisional Canal Officer.

8. The Divisional Canal Officer may accept the nominee of the shareholders in a water-course as "headman" of such water-course, and is empowered to pay him the fees as hereinbelow detailed, subject to the condition of satisfactory performance of duty.

9. The allowance to the headman of a water-course for duties connected with that water-course, such as arranging that it shall be kept in proper repair, seeing that no lands obtain water without a regular "permit," distributing the water to the shareholders, seeing to the outlet being closed according to the orders of the Divisional Canal Officer, and generally assisting the officers of the Irrigation Department, shall be 5 per cent. on the assessments of canal water-rates derived from the water-courses in his charge. The Divisional Canal Officer may retrench the whole or any part of the fees under this rule in the event of the conditions not being complied with.

10. The allowance to the headman of a water-course for collecting the water-rates shall be 3 per cent. on the assessments, and shall be paid by the Collector on receipt of the full payment of demand for that crop and not otherwise, unless he can satisfy the Collector that the balance in arrear is so through no negligence of his. The payment to be made within two months of the dates named in the permit.

11. An appeal against retrenchment under Rules 9 and 10 shall lie to the Superintending Canal Officer and Commissioner respectively, if preferred within thirty days of such retrenchment, and the Superintending Canal Officer or Commissioner's decision shall be final.

12. Contracts between the Divisional Canal Officer on the part of Government and private individuals for the use of water as a motive power, or for any other purpose whatsoever not included in the published schedule of rates, shall, if for any period not exceeding one year, require the previous sanction of the Superintending Canal Officer.

If for longer periods, such contracts shall be submitted for the sanction of the Lieutenant-Governor in the Irrigation Department.

13. Tanks may be filled with canal water without charge and without reference to the area irrigated in any village, whenever water can be made available without injury to the cultivation dependent on any canal, under the following regulations :—

(a)—No tank shall be so filled unless exclusively used for domestic purposes, and for watering cattle; such tanks are generally in the immediate neighbourhood of villages.

(b)—No tank shall be so filled from which irrigation is practised.

(c)—No tank shall be so filled which, intercepting any line of drainage, is liable to overflow from accumulation of water derived from natural causes.

(d)—No tank shall be so filled except on the written order of the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer, issued on the written applications of the parties concerned. The filling of tanks can only be permitted at such times and to such extent as the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer approves.

(e)—No tank shall be so filled unless the water-course used to fill it shall be shown to the satisfaction of the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer to be in a sound condition when the application is made.

(f)—The privilege herein accorded may be suspended for twelve months for breach of these regulations by written order of the Divisional Canal Officer, subject, however, to revision by the Superintending Engineer, whose decision shall be final.

14. The Divisional Canal Officer may, by written order under section 76 (a) (ii), stop the supply to any water-course when he has satisfied himself by personal inspection (by himself or one of his assistants) that the water-course is not maintained in proper repair. Immediate report of any such closure shall be made to the Superintending Canal Officer, and the special ground for stoppage explained.

15. The Divisional Canal Officer may, under section 76 (a) (iii), regulate the distribution of the available water in proportion to the average area irrigated from the several outlets, or in proportion to the quantities of water contracted for, and may close the outlets in rotation as shall be necessary.

Such periodical closures shall not extend beyond ten consecutive days, and shall be notified to the headman of water-courses. For longer closures the authority of the Superintending Canal Officer is required.

Nothing in the above rules shall be taken to affect the power of the Superintending or any Divisional Officer to stop any supply of water in case of pressing emergency.

16. The water-gauges on distributaries or other channels shall be held to give authoritative data for all calculations of discharge required to verify claims for remission of water-rate on account of loss of water.

17. Claims to remission, under section 76 (b) of ordinary charges payable for use of canal water shall only be admitted on proof of actual loss caused by the stoppage of supply. On proof of such loss the Divisional Canal Officer may remit the whole or any portion of the charges. All applications for remission of water-rates shall be made by the parties concerned in person, or through their headman, to the nearest Sub-Divisional Canal Officer at least seven days prior to the cutting of the crop, and the Sub-Divisional Officer shall thereupon inspect the applicant's fields, and forward his application for decision to the Divisional Canal Officer with his remarks.

18. Before awarding compensation under section 76 (c), the Collector shall obtain the written opinion of the Divisional Canal Officer, and such opinion shall form part of the record of the proceedings. Under this rule an appeal shall lie to the Commissioner of the division, whose order shall be final.

19. Under section 78 of the Act the rates chargeable per acre on the different descriptions of crops are fixed for three years, viz. from 1st June 1876 to the 1st June 1879, and are as follows :—

WATER-RATES.

Sone Canals.

NOTE.

Cottah ... ... = 1361·25 superficial feet.
Beegha ... ... = 27225·00 „ „
1 Acre ... ... = 43560·00 „ „

20. Up to 1st June 1879 leases for three years may be granted at the following rates provided that the area leased in any village shall not be less than the whole irrigable area in the case of khurcef cultivation or half the irrigable area in that of the rubbee cultivation. In the latter case the area must be as far as possible in one block. In certain cases it may, at the discretion of the Superintending Engineer, be comprised in two or at most three blocks.

Schedule of Rates.

	Per acre.	Per beegha.	Per cottah.
	Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P.
Rubbee, including bhadace ...	2 4 0	1 6 6	0 1 2
Khureef	1 8 0	0 15 0	0 0 9

21. Three-year leases will not be granted for sugarcane.

22. By irrigable area is to be understood as a general rule the extent of land for which water can be supplied at the rate of 80 acres in khureef and 180 acres in rubbee per cubic foot of available supply.

23. Leases for three years at the reduced rates may be given (1) on the application of all the cultivators of a village, on condition of their agreeing in such application to become jointly and severally responsible for the payment of all amounts due on account of water-rates; or (2) on the joint application of the cultivators and of some person hereinafter called the contractor, who may agree to collect and pay to Government under section 82 of Act III (B.C.) of 1876 all sums which may be due under the application on account of water-rates. The application of villagers binding themselves jointly and severally will be in the form prescribed in appendix C. The joint application of villagers and a water-rate contractor shall be in the form prescribed in appendix D. Every application under this rule must be signed by each applicant in the presence of at least one respectable witness.

24. A contractor or contractors shall be entitled to collect water dues at the rates given in the schedule attached to rule 20 from the cultivators who have applied for the water supplied. Every due from a cultivator to a contractor on account of water-rates shall be deemed a sum due to Government under sections 82 and 85 of Act III of 1876.

25. A contractor (or, in case there be more than one, each severally and jointly) shall be responsible for all sums payable on the application (appendix D), and shall be entitled to a deduction of 5 per cent. for cost of collection.

26. When the lease under these rules is for the supply of water to khureef crops or to all irrigable rubbee in the village, a list in form E should be submitted with the application showing the number of each field in the map, the area of the field, crop to be grown, and amount payable; and this should be signed by each cultivator. Water will be supplied in accordance with this list during the period of the lease. Similar lists must be submitted each year before water is supplied to rubbee lands when the area leased is less than the whole area of irrigable rubbee land in the village. In such cases the fields receiving water may vary from year to year, but the total area to be watered can never be less than the area stated in the application for the three years' lease.

27. No water shall be taken previous to receipt of a permit (appendix B) signed by the Divisional Canal Officer. When an agreement has been made for the collection of the rates by a contractor or contractors the Divisional Canal Officer shall furnish such contractor or contractors with an authorization under section 82 to collect the amounts due by the cultivators according to the list furnished under rule 26, one copy of which is to be sent to the Collector.

28. Every contractor shall nominate a headman to be approved by the Canal Officer to perform the duties specified in rule 9. Such headman shall receive 5 per cent. on the assessment, but the Canal Officer may retrench the whole or any part of these fees if the duties are not properly performed.

29. If only a portion of a field be irrigated the water-rate shall be chargeable on the whole field, unless such portion shall have been clearly demarcated, previous to the admission of the water, by a ridge not less than half a foot high. The headman will be held personally responsible for the due observance of this rule.

30. When a portion of a field has been irrigated with canal water and a portion with well or reservoir water, the whole field shall be liable for canal water-rate, unless a clearly distinguishable boundary exists between the two portions. The headman will be held personally responsible for the due observance of this rule.

31. If well or reservoir water is conveyed in the same channel as canal water, the whole of the irrigation from that channel shall be liable to canal water-rate. The headman will be held personally responsible for the due observance of this rule.

32. Irrigation from natural or artificial escape channels, when the supply is permanent, shall be governed by the same rules as irrigation from other parts of the canal.

33. Irrigation from such channels, when the supply is intermittent, may be allowed at such reduced rates as shall from time to time be fixed by the Lieutenant-Governor.

34. Persons irrigating lands from a canal without a written permit for water for such lands, or taking water at times prohibited by proper authority, shall be chargeable with double water-rates on the area irrigated, in addition to such penalties as may be imposed under sections 93 and 94 of the Act.

35. The charge leviable for water suffered to run to waste on uncultivated lands shall be calculated at the highest rate specified in the schedule, viz. five rupees per acre on the area flooded; provided that in every such case the Divisional Canal Officer may impose a lower charge if he thinks fit. The headman to be held responsible for the payment of such rates as may be imposed, leaving it to him to realize the same from those to blame.

36. If mixed crops be grown in the same field, the water-rate shall be calculated on the highest rated crop.

37. When the original crop sown in a canal irrigated field fails and is ploughed up, and a fresh crop is sown in the same season, the water-rates leviable shall be due on the second crop.

38. When a field is irrigated which has not been prepared by division into compartments, and by the addition of small water-channels as prescribed in rule 5, an additional charge may be imposed equal to half the amount of water-rate leviable on the field. In each case the Divisional or Sub-Divisional Officer must certify that he personally examined the field, and that it was not properly prepared for irrigation according to the terms of the rule.

39. The amounts demandable for water-rate shall be determined and apportioned by the Divisional Canal Officer.

40. All water-rates shall become due on the dates noted on the "permits," viz. the dates on which the crops ordinarily come to maturity, and are as follows:—

Water-rate on spring crops,—wheat, barley, peas, poppy, &c.,—shall become due on 15th April.

Water-rate on summer crops,—cheena, &c.,—shall become due on 15th August.

Water-rate on bhadoi crops,—seera rice, Indian-corn, murwa, &c.,—shall become due on 30th November.

Water-rate on annual and winter crops,—aghani rice, joaur, &c.,—on 31st January and shall be paid within one month of such dates.

41. In the case of lands held in bhaoli, the water-rate shall be recoverable from both the cultivator and the person or persons in receipt of the bhaoli rents in the same proportion as the produce is divisible amongst them.

42. Collection of all water-rates will be made by the Collector strictly in accordance with the statement of demands furnished to him by the Divisional Canal Officer, in such form as shall from time to time be sanctioned by the Lieutenant-Governor.

43. The Collector will make the collections through the Deputy Collectors attached to each division of the canal and the Subordinate Canal Revenue Establishment.

44. Objections to the demand on the score of short supply, or of matters affecting the Irrigation Department, addressed to the Collector, shall be referred by him to the Canal Divisional Officer. Meanwhile the collection of the demand shall not be suspended.

45. Claims for remission so referred by the Collector, and admitted by the Divisional Canal Officer, shall be reported by him for the sanction of the Superintending Canal Officer.

46. A remission statement signed by the Superintending Canal Officer shall be sufficient authority for a refund by the Collector.

47. If the decision of the Divisional Canal Officer uphold the original demand, an appeal may be made to the Superintending Canal Officer, provided that it is preferred within forty days from the issue of the order. The decision of the Superintending Canal Officer shall be final.

48. In cases in which the water-rate is irrecoverable, from the absconding or bankruptcy of the defaulter, or when the question at issue does not depend on the canal supply or the action of the Irrigation Department, the Collector will obtain sanction to remission of canal demands from the Commissioner of the division. All such remissions shall be reported at the close of each official year to the Divisional Canal Officer.

49. If a cultivator is dissatisfied with the entries made against him in the "permit" (appendix B), whether as to the fact of the land having been charged "flow" instead of "lift," or as to the measurements and entries of class of crop, he must lodge a complaint, either personally or through the headman of his water-course with the Divisional or Sub-Divisional Canal Officer within fifteen days of the issue of the permit.

50. No person, without the permission in writing of the Divisional or Sub-Divisional Canal Officers, shall pass, or shall cause any animal or vehicle to pass, on or across any of the works, banks, or channels of a canal or drainage work after he has been desired to desist therefrom, excepting upon such bridges, fords, and ferries, and their approaches, as are provided by the Divisional Canal Officer.

51. No Canal Officer, unless specially exempted by the Lieutenant-Governor, shall have any interest in the distribution of water from any of the canals, or purchase or bid for any Government property sold thereof, either in his own name or in the name of another, or jointly, or in shares with others.

52. The ameen after completing the measurement of a village, before leaving it, will compile the Khatianni. A copy of the Khatianni will be taken by the putwaree, who must himself make the copy; but if he cannot from any cause do so, the ameen must give it, and the latter is to be held responsible that a copy is taken.

53. The copy of the Khatianni thus made will be hung up in some conspicuous place, and slips in the prescribed form (appendix F) will be prepared by the putwaree and given to each ryot showing the amount he will have to pay, area irrigated, &c.

54. The allowance to the putwaree for the above work shall be 2 per cent. on the assessments which shall be paid by the Collector on his being satisfied that the putwaree did his work properly.

55. The measurements shall be made as soon as practicable, and every care taken to have the Khatianni hung up in the village at least 15 days before the crop is cut, so that the ryot may make his complaints, if he have any, in good time.

56. In case of any alteration in the Khatianni owing to correction of clerical errors, &c., the same shall be communicated to the putwaree at once to enable him to correct the village copy and slips accordingly.

57. The zilladar shall submit his check measurements in the form (appendix G) which shall be sent in for the inspection of the Divisional Canal Officer. The Sub-Divisional Canal Officer shall also check the measurements as often as he possibly can. If it is found that any ameen systematically makes wrong measurements, he shall be punished by dismissal, and shall be declared incapable of obtaining further employment under Government.

LIBERALITY OF BABOO JOYKISSEN MOOKERJEE.

No. 6209, dated Fort William, the 13th September 1878.

Memo. by A. W. CROFT, ESQ., M. A., Director of Public Instruction.

COPY of the following forwarded to the Secretary to the Government of Bengal, General Department, with reference to his office No 2893, dated the 23rd August 1878, with a recommendation that the offer may be accepted and notified in the Gazette.

Dated Utterpara, the 7th September 1878.

From—BABOO JOYKRISTO MOOKERJEE,

To—The Director of Public Instruction.

IN furtherance of the object contemplated by the resolution of the Government of Bengal published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 26th of June last, I have the honor to state that I wish to award, at present experimentally for two years, four prizes of Rs. 50 each to the students who shall stand first in the list of successful candidates in each of the four subjects embraced by the proposed examination, and that I also wish two of these prizes to be known as the "Juggo Mohun Mookerjee Prizes," and the other two as the "Parbutty Dabee Prizes." I shall send you the amount of the first year's prizes as soon as I am informed that the offer has been accepted.

Should these prizes be appreciated by those for whose benefit they are created, I shall be glad to take steps for perpetuating them.

No. 3569, dated Calcutta, the 14th October 1878.

From—H. H. RISLEY, ESQ., Under-Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal, General Dept.,

To—The Director of Public Instruction.

I AM directed to acknowledge the receipt of your endorsement No. 6209 of the 13th September 1878, regarding four prizes of Rs. 50 each offered by Baboo Joykissen Mookerjee for the encouragement of private students of Sanskrit; and in reply to say that the Lieutenant-Governor accepts the offer, and desires that an expression of his thanks may be conveyed to Baboo Joykissen Mookerjee for this example of his public spirit and liberality.

2. The correspondence will be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops.

Statement showing Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops in the different Districts of Bengal, as reported to Government during the week ending the 13th October 1878.

	No.	District, and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
BENGAL.		Western Districts.
Burdwan Divn.	1	Burdwan, Oct. 12 '78	0·15	Weather—hot. The state and prospects of the crops are very good. The crops would be benefited, however, by a little more rain.
		Culna ...	Nil
		Cutwa ...	Nil
		Bood-Bood ...	1·29
		Raneegunge ...	0·32
		Jehanabad ...	0·30
	2	Bankoora, „ 12 „	Nil	Cold nights. Weather bright and clear by day. Midday heat in the shade about 87°. The aus crop has been reaped, and the outturn has been fair. The rest of the crops on the ground will suffer unless they get rain soon. Epidemic fever is still bad in the east of the district.
	3	Beerbhoom, „ 13* „	0·20	Weather—very dry. Rain would now benefit the crops.
	4	Midnapore, „ 12 „	0·22	Weather—seasonable. The state and prospects of the crops are favourable.
	5	Hooghly, „ 12 „	3·07	Weather—sultry, with occasional showers. The harvesting of aus is nearly completed; the outturn is fair. The amun crop continues to promise well. The propects of the other crops are generally good. Ploughing and manuring for the potato crop has commenced. Fever is prevailing everywhere.
		Howrah, „ 14† „	0·10	Days very sultry; mornings getting cooler. Enquiries made into the result of the recent floods show total loss of crops just round the Rajapur bheel, and slight loss in villages lying further back The entire damages may be put at 5 to 6 annas in Doomjoor and 4 annas in Juggutbullubpore and Ampta. The loss elsewhere has been trifling. The amun which is growing is first-rate. The Rajapur villages had a good boro dhan crop.
		Central Districts.
Presidency Divn.	6	24-Pergunnahs Oct. 12 '78	0·09	Weather—very hot during the day, but getting cooler at night. The state and prospects of the crops are still very good. Fever is common.
	7	Nuddea, „ 12 „	1·12	Weather—hot and sunshiny with occasional rain. The prospects of the amun crop are good everywhere. Some slight injury has been done to the winter crops by the late rains.
		Kooshtea ..	Nil
		Meherpore ...	0·38
		Chooadanga ...	2·20
	8	Jessore, „ 12 „	0·59	The weather has been fine and seasonable with some rain. It has cleared up and denotes the coming in of the cold weather, yet it has been rather hot. The amun crop is doing well. The gathering of aus has been completed. The winter sowings have commenced in some places. Though some damage has been caused in Magoora and Bagirhat by insects, the prospects are good.
		Jhenida ...	1·66
		Magoora ...	0·20
		Narail ...	0·25
		Bagirhat ...	0·50
	9	Moorshedabad „ 12 „	0·58	A storm of rain and wind passed over the station on the night of the 10th instant; the remainder of the week was fine and bright. Amun bids fair to be a heavy crop with a few showers towards the end of the month. The land is being broken up for cold weather crops, and the general prospects are decidedly good.
		Lalbagh ...	0·98
		Rampore Hât ...	0·48
		Jungipore ...	Nil
Rajshahye and Cooch Behar Divs.	10	Dinagepore, „ 11 „	1·13	Sharp showers. Weather cooler. Aus rice is harvested. It is an average crop. The prospects of amun rice are fair. Damage is caused in parts of the district from the heavy floods to the extent of four annas.
	11	Rajshahye, „ 12 „	0·38	Weather—now and then cloudy. The mornings and evenings are becoming cool. The cutting of aus is finished. The prospects of the standing amun crop are said to be promising. The price of common rice has risen to 13 kutcha seers per rupee at Nattore.
	12	Rungpore, „ 11 „	1·05	The weather is getting cool, though the afternoons are still hot. The state and prospects of the amun crop are generally good. Public health is remarkably good for this season of the year.
		Bagdogra ...	1·77
		Kurigram ...	0·56
	13	Bogra, „ 12 „	0·10	Weather—hot and dry, with slight rain during the early part of the week. South-east wind is prevailing. The amun dhan is in good condition, and will, it is hoped, turn out well. Mashkalai is being sown. The health of the people generally keeps fair.
	14	Pubna, „ 12 „	1·26	Weather—fine, with some showers. The prospects of the crops are the same as before. Public health is good.
	15	Darjeeling, „ 12 „	2·05	The rainy weather still holds out, but it appears to be breaking up. The crops in the Hills and the Terai are progressing favourably.
	16	Julpigoree, „ 12 „	0·38	Weather—seasonable; the condition and propects of the crops are everywhere reported to be very satisfactory.
		Cooch Behar, „ 10 „	1·20	Weather—fair and not so hot as in the previous week. The prospects of late rice continue favourable. Tobacco seeds have been sown. If there be no more rain for some time, the people will be able to prepare their fields for the cold-weather crops. The price of rice continues high.
		Meckligunge ..	1·8

* Report of 13th shows rainfall during week ending 12th.

	Eastern Districts.
DACCA DIVN.
17	Dacca, Oct. 12 '78	5·78	Weather—seasonable. The state and prospects of the crops are fair.
	Moonsheegunge (for week ending 9th).	5·50
	Manickgunge for week ending 11th).	0·27
18	Furreedpore, „ 13* „	1·79	Weather—fair. North wind has set in, but the weather is still hot. The rivers are rapidly falling. The prospects of the amun crop are everywhere good. Some sorts of paddy are beginning to be reaped, especially in thana Bhanga.
	Goalundo ...	0·63
	Madaripore ...	3·58
19	Backergunge, „ 10 „	8·85	Heavy rain on four days of the week. The weather has now brightened up. Prospects are good. The rainfall has been most favourable to the amun rice, which promises to be a crop of exceptional excellence. Betel-nut, cocoanut and sugarcane have turned out well, and are being largely bought up for exportation. There is a tendency to a fall in prices. Health is good.
20	Mymensingh, „ 11 „	5·40	Heavy rain, except in Attia. Weather close. The high lands are very favourable; the crops on the low lands have been damaged more or less. The river is falling fast.
21	Tipperah, „ 11 „	4·32	A violent storm, resembling a cyclone, passed over the district on the night of the 6th instant, but little damage has been done by it. It was accompanied by very heavy rain, especially in the south of the district. The weather has since been fair and hot. Slight injury has been done to sugarcane in the west of the district by the heavy storm of the 6th. The amun dhan crop everywhere is in good condition.
	Brahmunbaria ...	3·64
	Chandpore ...	9·66
CHITTAGONG DIVN.
22	Chittagong, „ 10 „	6·38	Weather—very rainy. The transplanting of amun is finished. The crops are promising very well in all places save Harbang outpost, where insects are reported. Prices are nevertheless high, and rice is being imported.
23	Noakholly „ 10 „	5·35	Weather—seasonable. The reaping of the early rice crop is completed. Transplantation of the amun crop is nearly at an end. Prospects are favourable. Public health is good.
24	Chittagong Hill Tracts „ 8 „	3·62	Weather—rainy throughout the week, with occasional sunshine The cotton pods have been much damaged by the rain of the week, and a poor outturn is therefore anticipated. The harvesting of the joom paddy crop still continues. The plough cultivators' paddy crop is doing well.
	Hill Tipperah, „ 10 „	4·03	Heavy rain and a gale of wind blowing from the north-west on the night of the 6th and the morning of the 7th until 10 A M. No damage has been done. The weather has been calm since. The rainfall of the week will be of great benefit to the amun crop. Prospects are excellent everywhere.
	BEHAR.
PATNA DIVN.
25	Patna, Oct. 12 '78	Nil	Weather—hot. The state and prospects of the crops are favourable.
26	Gya, „ 12 „	Nil	Sky clear. No clouds. The maximum reading of the thermometer in the shade was 96·2° The prospects of the aghani dhan are favourable, but the subdivisional officer of Aurungabad reports that more rain is wanted. The ploughing for the rubbee crops is going on. A few cases of cholera are reported from Arwal; the public health otherwise is good. The condition of the plough cattle is good.
	Aurungabad ...	Nil
	Nowada ...	Nil
27	Shahabad, „ 12 „	Nil	Weather—hot in the day, but cool in the night and morning. The reaping of the bhadoi crop is over, with very good outturn. Rain is urgently wanted to ensure the aghani crop. Fever is slightly on the increase.
28	Durbhunga, „ 12 „	1·10	Weather—cool. The state and prospects of the crops are excellent. Prices are falling.
29	Mozufferpore, „ 12 „	0·92	Weather—very hot. The rice crop continues in very good condition. The rubbee sowings have commenced. No rain has fallen in the sub-divisions this week, but during the week ending 4th instant, 2·25 inches fell at Seetamurhee and 0·74 at Hajeepore, which were not mentioned in last week's report.
30	Sarun, „ 12 „	Nil	Weather—bright and clear; east and west wind. The prospects of aghani rice are favourable; but rain is wanted to accelerate a healthy growth. Sugarcane is doing well. Fields are being prepared for the rubbee crops. Prices are stationary. Fever is still prevalent.
31	Chumparun, „ 12 „	0·29	Weather—hot during the day; but cool at night. The prospects of the crops are excellent. Early rice is brought to market. The prices of food-grains are steadily falling.

* Report of 13th shows rainfall during week ending 12th.

No.	District, and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
BEHAR.—(Contd.)
Bhagulpore Division. 32	Monghyr, Oct. 12 '87	Nil	Weather—hot, with heavy dew. All prospects are good. There was apparently no need of rain this week.
	Begusarai ...	0·92
	Jamui ...	0·50
33	Bhagulpore, „ 12 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable. The bhadoi is being harvested with excellent outturn. The prospects of the rice crop are unusually good. Fever is prevalent.
34	Purneah, „ 12 „	Nil	Weather—still hot, but fair. The prospects of the crops are good.
	Kissengunge ...	0·61
	Arrareah ...	Nil
35	Maldah, „ 12 „	0·35	The heat is still great during the day. The nights are getting cooler. Rain is wanted for the amun and kalai crops, though no particular injury has been done to them as yet. Fever is still prevalent.
36	Sonthal Perghs. „ 13* „	0·71	No rain at Deoghur and Godda during the week. A shower fell at Rajmehal on the 11th, and there was appearance of more rain at the time of report. Generally the winds were variable, inclining to the north and west, and there is a feel of the cold weather. During the day the sun is very hot. Everything at present promises well. A little rain would do good to the high land dhan and help ploughing for the rubbee.
ORISSA.
Orissa Divs. 37	Cuttack, Oct. 12 '78	0.72	Weather—hot and fair. Everything is progressing well at present, but it is hoped that more rain will fall in the course of the next ten days.
38	Pooree, „ 10 „	3·19	Weather—seasonable. Rain is reported from all parts of the district. Beali and mandia are being harvested. Sarad rice is progressing well. Common rice sells at $11\frac{3}{16}$ to $18\frac{3}{4}$ seers for the rupee. Exportation continues. Public health is good.
39	Balasore, „ 11 „	0·65	The weather continues calm and sultry. The harvesting of the early sorts of rice progresses satisfactorily. The main crop is promising. Cattle disease still exists in some quarters.
CHOTA NAGPORE.
	South-West Frontier Agency.
40	Hazareebagh, Oct. 11 '78	Nil	Weather—seasonable. The days are hot, but the mornings and evenings are cool. The prospects of the rice crop would be materially improved for the better if we could have a good heavy shower of rain or two immediately. Sun and wind combined are drying up the fields, and the dhan crop on the high grounds must suffer.
41	Lohardugga, „ 12 „	Nil	Weather—bright and clear. The nights are getting cold. All crops promise well. More rain would give a bumper harvest.
42	Singbhoom, „ 11 „	Nil	Weather—beginning to get cool; seasonable. There has been no rain to talk of since the 20th September. A good shower is much wanted, but there is no sign of one coming. Unless rain falls and that, too, very shortly, much harm will be done to the crops which up to date are splendid. Sickness is disappearing.
43	Manbhoom, „ 12 „	0·06	The cessation of rain has been somewhat sudden. The weather is bright and hot. The state and prospects of the crops are generally fair, but one more good fall of rain is required. The ryots in the neighbourhood of Purulia and in other parts of the district are irrigating their crops.

* Report of 15th shows rainfall during week ending 12th.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h., and 22h.; the maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction and movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

PART VI.

Bill of the India Council.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Bill was introduced into the Council of the Governor-General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 2nd October 1878, and was referred to a Select Committee:—

No. 7 of 1878.

A Bill to define and amend the law relating to alluvion, islands and abandoned river-beds.

Preamble. Whereas it is expedient to define and amend the law relating to alluvion, islands and abandoned river-beds; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

I.—Preliminary.

Short title. 1. This Act may be called "The Indian Alluvion Act, 1879."

Local extent. It extends to the whole of British India,

Commencement. And it shall come into force at once.

Repeal of enactments. 2. The Acts, Regulation and Rules mentioned in the schedule hereto annexed shall be repealed to the extent specified in the third column. References to the Regulation and Rules so repealed, in enactments passed subsequently thereto, shall be read as if made to this Act.

Interpretation-clause. 3. In this Act—

"island" includes land arising in a river or lake, submerged in the wet season and visible only in the dry season; but it excludes land arising in tidal rivers, tidal lakes or the sea, submerged by the flow of ordinary tides;

"thread of the stream" means (a) the middle line of the main-stream during the dry season, or (b) the middle line between what are the shores on each side when the water is at its average height, neither swollen by flood, nor shrunk by drought, or (c) the middle line of the particular channel in which the island referred to arises;

"owner" means, in the case of a bank or shore held on the raiyatwari tenure, the Crown; in the case of a bank or shore forming part of land situate in the Presidency of Bombay and wholly or partially exempt from the payment of land-revenue, or held under a grant or lease fixing the Government demand in respect thereof in perpetuity, the holder of such land; and in the case of a bank or shore held by a village community in the Panjab, such community:

"sea" includes bay, inlet, creek and arm of the sea.

and a channel is said to be "fordable" when it does not exceed five feet in depth in the dry season and throughout the twenty-four hours.

II.—Alluvion.

Right to alluvial land on bank or shore. 4. Where, from natural causes, land forms gradually on the bank of a river or on the shore of the sea, of a lake, or of an island, either by accumulation of material or by recession of the river, sea or lake, the owner of the bank or shore shall be entitled to the land so formed:

Provided that, where the land forms on a site of which a private person is proved to be the owner, such person is entitled to the land so formed.

III.—Islands.

Right to islands where channel is not fordable.

5. Where an island is formed, from natural causes, in a river, the sea or a lake, either by accumulation of material or by recession of the river, sea or lake, if when the island is first formed, the channel between the bank or shore and such island is not fordable at any point, the Crown is entitled to such island.

Provided that, where the island is formed on a site of which a private person is proved to be the owner, such person is entitled to the island.

Right to other islands.

6. If, when an island is first formed as aforesaid in a river, the sea or a lake, the channel between the bank or shore and such island is fordable at any point, the following rules shall take effect (namely):

(a) Where the island is formed in the sea or a lake, the owners of the nearest shore are severally entitled to the island in proportion to the frontage which they respectively have on the sea or lake opposite the island:

(b) Where the island is formed in a river and is wholly on one side of what was the thread of the stream immediately before the formation, the owners of the bank on that side are severally entitled to the island in proportion to the frontage which they respectively have on the river opposite the island:

(c) Where the island is formed in a river and is partly on one side and partly on the other of what was the thread of the stream immediately before the formation, the island is supposed to be divided by such thread, and the owners of the banks are severally entitled to the division opposite their banks in proportion to the frontage which they respectively have on the river opposite the island:

(d) Provided that, where the island is formed on a site of which a private person is proved to be the owner, such person is entitled to the island.

Explanation.—"Frontage" means the right line connecting the corners of each holding where they strike the sea, lake or river, and the frontage is "opposite" the island when a perpendicular erected at any point thereof, in the plane of the sea, lake or river, intersects the island.

Islands formed by division of rivers.

7. If a river in forming a new arm divides and surrounds land belonging to the owner of the bank, and thereby forms an island, such owner is entitled to the island.

IV.—Abandoned River-beds.

Right to abandoned river-beds.

8. If a river, whether navigable or not, suddenly forms a new bed, abandoning its ancient bed, the ancient bed is supposed to be divided by what was the thread of the stream immediately before the abandonment, and the owners of the ancient banks are severally entitled to the division opposite their banks in proportion to the frontage which they respectively have on the ancient bed:

Provided that when the ancient bed is proved to have been, immediately before the abandonment, the property of the Crown or of a private person, it shall continue to be the property of the Crown or of such person, as the case may be.

V.—Miscellaneous.

Power to declare "main-stream," "dry season" and "thread of the stream."

9. The Local Government may, from time to time, declare, with reference to any river, or any part of any river,—

(a) what shall be deemed to be, for the purposes of this Act, the "main-stream" and the "dry season:" and

(b) which of the said definitions of "thread of the stream" shall be deemed to be in force,

Every such declaration shall be published in the official Gazette, and shall thereupon have the force of law.

In the absence of a declaration under clause (b) as to any river or part thereof, the first of the said definitions of "thread of the stream" shall be deemed to be in force with reference to such river or part.

Saving.

10. Nothing herein contained shall—

(a) affect any law relating to the assessment of land-revenue or to the enhancement or abatement of rent; or

(b) confer on any owner of a bank or shore in respect of which he is hereby declared to be entitled to alluvial land, to an island or to an abandoned river-bed any title to such land, island or river-bed better than that which he has to the bank or shore; or

(c) enlarge any holding granted by Government, the area of which has been fixed by any sanad or other document executed under the authority of Government; or

(d) authorize any acts of private persons done in order to divert currents or cause accretions; or

(e) authorize any encroachments by private persons on the beds or channels of navigable rivers; or

(f) prevent any officer of Government duly empowered in this behalf from removing obstacles which appear to him to interfere with the safe and customary navigation of such rivers, or which obstruct the passage of boats by tracking on the banks of such rivers or otherwise; or (g) prevent any officer of Government duly empowered in this behalf from regulating the direction and flow of such rivers and the preservation and distribution of their waters.

Local usage.

And nothing herein contained shall affect any clear, definite and immemorial local usage respecting the right to alluvial land, islands or abandoned river-beds, but (except in the cases provided for by the Panjáb Land-Revenue Act, 1871, section 16) the burden of proving such usage shall lie on the person alleging it.

Burden of proof.

Right of Crown to alluvial lands, &c., not hereinbefore provided for.

11. All land and islands formed, and all river-beds abandoned, as mentioned respectively in sections four, five and eight, and not vesting under any of the provisions hereinbefore contained, shall vest in the Crown.

Date.	Subject.	Extent of repeal.
22nd May 1852	Alluvion and Diluvion in Sindh.	Paragraphs 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, and 20.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

This Bill is intended to form a chapter of the Indian Civil Code, and its object is to state, in a concise, accurate, and accessible form, the law relating to the ownership of alluvial lands, islands, and abandoned river-beds. In Madras, Bombay, and Burma there is no statutory law on the subject: in Sindh there are only some executive rules which are held to have the force of law: in the rest of British India the law is contained partly in legal text-books, partly in the Bengal Regulation XI of 1825, and the Bengal Act IV of 1868, sections 2 and 4, but chiefly in the numerous decisions of the High Courts and the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council with which the former enactment is encrusted.

Regulation XI of 1825 provides rules for land gained from a river or the sea by gradual accession; for avulsion; for islands formed in navigable rivers and the sea; for islands formed in "small and shallow rivers, the beds of which with the jolkar [or] right of fishery may have been heretofore [i.e., before 26th May 1825] recognised as the property of individuals." But it does not provide for the case when an alluvial deposit takes place on a site of which, though it has been submerged, the ownership is ascertained. It declares that an island formed in a navigable river belongs to the adjoining proprietor or to the Crown, according as the channel between it and the adjacent land is fordable or unfordable. But it does not define "fordable;" nor state the time with reference to which the question of fordability or non-fordability is to be decided, nor show when an island in a tidal river or the sea can be said to be formed. It declares that an island formed in a navigable river shall, where the channel is fordable, be an accession to the land "of the person or persons whose estate or estates may be most contiguous to it." But this does not, apparently, provide for cases where the island is partly on one side and partly on the other of the thread of the stream, nor for cases where there are several riparian owners, and the island cannot be said to be nearer to the property of one than to that of another.

The Bill attempts to supply these defects as follows:—

It declares, in accordance with the decision of the Judicial Committee in Lopez v. Moddun Thákur, that when land forms on a site of which a private person is proved to be the owner, such person is entitled to the land so formed. It declares that a channel is "fordable" when it does not exceed five feet in depth in the dry season and throughout the twenty-four hours; and when a channel which is not fordable when the island appears becomes fordable afterwards, it fixes the first appearance of the island as the date with reference to which the question of fordability or non-fordability is to be determined. The subsequent junction of the island to the mainland will thus not affect the right of the crown. Lastly, it includes in the term "island" land arising in a river, submerged in the wet season and visible only in the dry, but excludes from that term land arising in a tidal river, or the sea which is submerged by the flow of ordinary tides.

As regards the rights of riparian owners to islands, the Bill applies the same rules to an island formed in the sea, a lake or a navigable river, when the channel between it and the adjacent land is fordable at any point, and to an island formed in a river which is not navigable. These rules are as follows:—

"Where the island is formed in the sea or a lake, the owners of the nearest shore are severally entitled to the island in proportion to the frontage which they respectively have on the sea or lake opposite the island.

"Where the island is formed in a river and is wholly on one side of what was the thread of the stream immediately before the formation, the owners of the bank on that side are severally entitled to the island in proportion to the frontage which they respectively have on the river opposite the island.

"Where the island is formed in a river and is partly on one side and partly on the other of what was the thread of the stream immediately before the formation, the island is supposed to be divided by such thread, and the owners of the banks are severally entitled to the division opposite their banks in proportion to the frontage which they respectively have on the river opposite the island."

And as the same definition of "thread of the stream" will not suit all the rivers in British India, or even all the parts of the same river, three definitions of this expression are given, and the Local Governments are empowered to declare which of them shall in each case be applicable.

The regulation is also defective in not providing for the case of what Roman lawyers termed agri limitati. When land is granted by the State in a plot with a specified area, and such land is enlarged by alluvion, the increment should not become the property of the owner of the plot. The Bill (section 10, clause (c)) contains a provision to this effect, which, it is believed, will be especially useful in Bombay.

When a river suddenly forms a new course, abandoning its ancient bed, the Bill declares that the owners of the ancient banks are entitled to the ancient bed in proportion to their respective frontages. This is in accordance with the existing law (Suth. W. R., 1864, p. 103), and it seems less likely to encourage litigation than would be the provision (found in some systems) that the owners of the land newly occupied shall take the ancient bed, each in proportion to the land of which he has been deprived.

Where a bank or shore is held on raiyatwárí tenure, the Crown is, for the purposes of the Bill, to be deemed the riparian owner. The effect will be, in Madras and Burma, to continue the present practice, according to which the Government is, as a rule, entitled to alluvial lands and to islands arising in rivers. In the Bombay Presidency, where a bank or shore is wholly or partially exempt from revenue, or is held under a grant or lease fixing the Government demand in perpetuity, the holder will be deemed the riparian owner.

The Bill advisedly leaves untouched the law relating to the assessment of alluvial lands and lands diminished by diluvion, to the rent payable in respect of such land, and to the rights of mortgagees and lessees to alluvial increments to the lands comprised in their mortgages and leases. These matters, it is thought, are or may be more fitly provided for by special enactments. The Bill is also silent as to avulsion, an event which, though provided for in Bengal Regulation XI of 1825, is said never to occur in any part of British India.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

(No. 23.)

Bay of Bengal, Coast of Burma.

REPORTED SHOAL, NORTH-WEST OF CHEDUBA ISLAND.

Mr. W. E. Hutchinson, Commanding the British India Steam Navigation Company's steamer Avagyee, whilst on a voyage from Bassein to Kyouk Phyou, observed heavy rollers and breakers indicative of a shoal patch, with probably only 2 or 3 fathoms at low water, lying 8 miles to the north-west of Beacon island, Cheduba, coast of British Burma.

From the shoal, West point of Ramree island bears N. by E. ½ E., and the north-west point of Cheduba island S. E. by S., which places it in latitude 19° 2′ N., and longitude 93° 21′ 36″ E.

CAUTION.—The whole of the neighbourhood of Cheduba and Ramree islands is imperfectly known, and careful navigation is necessary.

[The bearings are Magnetic: Variation 2° 55′ Easterly in 1878]

By Direction of the Government of India,

A. DUNDAS TAYLOR, Comdr. (late I. N.),
Superintendent, Marine Survey of India.

MARINE SURVEY DEPARTMENT, CALCUTTA, 15th October 1878.

This Notice affects the following Admiralty Charts:—Cheduba strait and Ramree harbour, No. 832; Elephant point to Cheduba, No. 821; Bassein river to Pulo Penang, No. 830; Bay of Bengal, No. 706; Indian Ocean, No. 748*b*; and Taylor's Sailing Directory, Vol. I., page 490.

If this notice is received on boardship, the substance of it should be inserted on the Charts affected by it, and introduced into the Sailing Directions to which it relates.

NOTIFICATION.

The 10th October 1878.—The following revised rules for the grant of leases for tea cultivation in the districts of Julpigoree and Darjeeling have been approved by the Lieutenant-Governor and are published for general information.

2. With reference to the provisions of the revised form of preliminary lease under which transfers, if duly registered, will in future be recognized, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to admit to registration all such transfers already completed, though made in violation of the terms of the leases hitherto in force; provided that application for their registration be made within two months of the date of this notification, and that a fee of four annas per acre be paid on the area of the lands transferred. Failing such registration, the forfeiture clause of the preliminary leases under which the lands are held will be enforced.

RULES FOR THE GRANT OF LEASES FOR TEA CULTIVATION IN THE DISTRICTS OF JULPIGOREE AND DARJEELING.

What lands will ordinarily be available.

1. THE lands that are generally available under these rules in the district of Julpigoree lie within that tract of country in the Western Dooars which extends in an easterly direction from the east bank of the River Teesta to the west bank of the River Sankos. The lands available in the district of Darjeeling lie in the Daling Sub-division of that district, and are bounded on the north by the Government Reserved Forests as notified in the Calcutta Gazette of the 7th August 1878; on the south by the Julpigoree district; on the east by the Moortee Nuddee; and on the west by the Lethee Nuddee. Any lots of Waste Land belonging to Government, lying in any other parts of the districts of Julpigoree or Darjeeling, and which are not reserved for other purposes, may also be made available for Tea cultivation under these rules.

What lands will not ordinarily be available.

2. The following lands will not ordinarily be available under these rules:—

(a.)—Lands which, by a notification in the Calcutta Gazette, are held to constitute a reserve for the supply of timber, fuel, grazing, or any other article of general and public consumption.

(b.)—Lands not included in the above category, but which now bear India-rubber trees or other valuable timber (such as sal, khair, chelownee, sissoo, &c.,) in compact blocks or patches.

(c.)—Lands in respect of which any person or persons, or any village community, possess rights of occupancy, or such other rights or privileges as render it impolitic or unadvisable to grant such lands to any other person or persons for the purpose of tea cultivation.

(d.)—Lands lying within a distance of 60 feet on either side from the centre of any public road or thoroughfare. Provided that such road or thoroughfare shall have been constructed, or shall be kept in repair, from public funds, and that it be borne on the list of the district roads of the district.

(e.)—Lands which the local Government may at any time, by a notification in the Calcutta Gazette, expressly exempt from the operation of these rules.

How and to whom application is to be made.

3. Every person, company, or association, desirous of obtaining a grant of land under these rules must, in person or by a duly authorized agent, present an application on stamped paper of the value of 8 annas to the Deputy Commissioner of the district in which the land lies.

What the application is to specify.

4. The application must specify—

(a.)—The name, or names, and address, or addresses of the applicant or applicants, and of his or their authorized agent, if any.

(b.)—The area, situation, and boundaries of the land applied for, as far as they can be ascertained without a detailed survey.

(c.)—The particulars, if any, which may appear to the applicant to bring any part of the land applied for within the exceptions mentioned in Rule 2. The application must also state whether the land, or any part of it, is or has ever been cultivated in any manner.

5. Every lot applied for must be compact and capable of being enclosed in a ring fence; and if any part of the land touches on a public road or navigable river, the length of such road or river frontage must not exceed one half the breadth of the lot applied for.

6. Not more than 800 acres will ordinarily be granted to any one applicant, company, or association; and when more than 800 acres are applied for, the applicant must set forth specially the grounds for such application, and give primâ facie guarantees that he possesses the requisite capital for working such larger area. All applications for more than 800 acres will be forwarded by the Deputy Commissioner to the Commissioner, who, if he desires to recommend compliance therewith, will forward them to the Board of Revenue, who will take the orders of Government upon each case.

7. On receipt of an application for any area not exceeding 800 acres, the Deputy Commissioner must satisfy himself, as far as lies in his power, that the requirements of the rules have been complied with. If he considers that the application should be rejected he will record an order to that effect, giving his reasons for such rejection. An appeal will lie from such order of rejection to the Commissioner of the Division if preferred within 30 days from the date of the order. If the Deputy Commissioner considers that an application for such area as it is within his power to grant should be entertained, or in the case of application for areas over 800 acres, when the orders of Government accepting the application have been received, the applicant or his agent will be required to deposit the cost of survey and demarcation to be made as hereinafter provided. The amount to be so deposited must be calculated at one rupee per acre of the total area applied for. If the area is found to be greater, the sum of one rupee per acre must be paid on account of such excess area before a preliminary lease is granted. Payments under this rule do not cover the cost of erecting permanent boundary marks under Rule 20.

Procedure on receipt of an application.

8. On receipt of the sum payable under the preceding rule, and of an agreement, signed by the applicant or by his authorized agent, to pay such further sum as may be required for the purposes above mentioned, the Deputy Commissioner will record an order appointing a tehsildar or other officer to visit the land, and to make full and detailed inquiries into its condition and circumstances.

9. The general object of such inquiry shall be to ascertain whether or not the land applied for can be granted under the rules in force; but the Deputy Commissioner may instruct the officer making the inquiry to furnish him with such other specific and detailed information as may seem to him to be necessary.

Preliminary inquiry to be made.

10. On completion of this inquiry, the officer making it will record the result thereof, and submit a report for the orders of the Deputy Commissioner. If the Deputy Commissioner, after considering the report, and after calling for such further explanations, oral or written, as he may deem necessary, shall be of opinion that the land applied for cannot be granted under the rules, and should not therefore be surveyed, he will record an order to that effect. An appeal will lie from such order to the Commissioner of the Division if preferred within 30 days from the date of the order.

11. If the Deputy Commissioner decide that the land applied for can be granted under the rules, and should therefore be surveyed, he will record an order to that effect.

12. If the Deputy Commissioner finds the land or any part of it in the occupation of any person or persons or of any village community, he will submit a full report of the circumstances for the orders of the Commissioner, stating in detail how he proposes to deal with such prior occupants; and, if it is proposed to remove them, the compensation, if any, which the applicant undertakes to pay to such persons. The Commissioner will report his orders in all such cases for the information of the Board of Revenue.

13. If any claim or objection be preferred under Act XXIII of 1863, the Deputy Commissioner will proceed to dispose of the same in accordance with the provisions of that Act.

14. The officer who made the inquiry provided for by Rules 8 to 10 will, on receipt of an order to that effect from the Deputy Commissioner, proceed to point out to the Surveyor the boundaries of the land applied for, and such prominent features in it as may be useful for the purposes of the survey, and which should, in his opinion, be entered in the preliminary lease as hereinafter provided. The boundaries and other features above mentioned should be clearly marked and defined by the officer in presence of the surveyor, and the latter should be furnished with a list of them signed by the said officer.

How the survey is to be made.

15. The surveyor will then proceed to make the survey and put up such temporary boundary marks as are necessary for that purpose. He must prepare a map showing—

(a)—All natural features of the country lying within the boundaries as fixed by the officer who made the enquiry under Rules 8 to 10, e.g., bheels, streams, forest clumps, &c.

(b)—Such features of the country lying outside the boundary of the land to be surveyed as may serve to identify the latter and connect it with the revenue survey or other existing map.

The surveyor is bound to bring to the notice of the Deputy Commissioner any fact which may come to his knowledge in the course of the survey rendering it advisable, that the land he is surveying should not be granted under these rules.

16. The map should ordinarily be on a scale of 16 inches to the mile. If possible, the surveyor's field-book should be copied at the back of it. If not, a copy of the field-book should be attached to or accompany the map. If the map be made originally in the vernacular, the Deputy Commissioner will cause it to be translated into English.

17. On the map being completed, it must be checked by an officer appointed by the Deputy Commissioner. If found to be incorrect, it will be amended by the surveyor in conjunction with the officer above mentioned. If found to be correct, it will be laid before the Deputy Commissioner with the report of the officer who made the preliminary inquiry under Rules 8 to 10, and with all other papers connected with the case.

18. The Deputy Commissioner will then proceed to consider the application. A date for this purpose must be previously fixed by him, and due notice of it given to the applicant or to his authorized agent.

19. The Deputy Commissioner shall have power to reject an application at any stage of the proceedings under the rules, if he sees reason to do so, refunding in such case to the applicant the deposit made by him on account of survey. He is authorized to reject an application when he does not consider that there is a bonâ fide intention on the part of the applicant to cultivate in tea the land applied for, or when it appears desirable to reserve the land for cultivation other than tea, or to preserve any forest standing on it. An appeal against every such order of rejection shall lie to the Commissioner of the Division if preferred within 30 days of the date of the order.

20. If the Deputy Commissioner grant the application, he will without delay grant the applicant a lease in form A of the appendix, and call upon him to execute a counterpart thereof, and to pay for all valuable forest trees as provided in clause 10 of the preliminary lease. He will also direct him to mark out the land leased by a continuous trench, or in such other manner as the Deputy Commissioner may direct. Within three months of the grant of such lease the lessee must, on pain of forfeiture of all rights in the land leased, mark out the land as above directed, and must further erect, at his own expense, such permanent boundary* marks as the Deputy Commissioner may direct. On the expiry of the three months, the surveyor must test the correctness of the boundary line and permanent marks and report the result to the Deputy Commissioner, at the same time pointing out to the lessee or his representative by written notice any corrections that may be required. If the corrections indicated are not made by the lessee or his representative within 30 days of the receipt of such notice, all rights in the land shall be liable to forfeiture to Government.

21. Whenever, after receipt of an application, as provided for in Rule 3, and after making such inquiries as he may deem necessary, the Deputy Commissioner shall be of opinion that there is no primâ facie objection whatever to the grant under the rules of the land applied for, he may put the applicant in preliminary and provisional possession of an area not exceeding one-eighth of the estimated area of the land applied for, with the object of enabling the applicant to make preparations for commencing cultivation and getting the land in order. Provided that the applicant, before obtaining such preliminary possession, shall have erected such boundary marks as the Deputy Commissioner may direct, and that the amount of all estimated charges incurred in connection with such preliminary occupation shall have been deposited by the applicant.

22. The order for, and conditions of, such preliminary occupation shall be in the form B in the appendix, and shall be addressed to the tehsildar or other officer appointed by the Deputy Commissioner. A copy of the order shall be delivered to the applicant, who shall, after receipt of occupation, acknowledge such receipt by signing a copy of the order and depositing it with the Deputy Commissioner.

23. Grantees are not permitted to club or amalgamate their grants, otherwise than by transfers duly registered as provided for in the preliminary lease. Any unauthorized amalgamation will subject the holders of the grants in question to forfeiture of all rights in the lands so amalgamated.

APPENDIX A.

Form of preliminary lease of land in granted by the Deputy Commissioner of to (name) of (address).

1. THE lands covered by this lease are situated within the boundaries shown by the red lines in map No. , dated , and attached to the lease. The lands may be described as being bounded as follows:—

North.—

East.—

South.—

West.—

Their area is more or less acres, and they are situated in the pergunnahs and tehsils detailed in the margin.

2. The rights conveyed by this lease are heritable and also transferable, provided (a), that the entire grant, and not a portion of it, be transferred; (b), that the clearance conditions are duly observed by the transferor and transferee respectively; (c), that the transfer is registered in the Deputy Commissioner's office within 21 days of the date thereof; and (d), that a registration fee of 4 annas per acre be paid to the Deputy Commissioner on the occasion of every such transfer. If any transfer of the rights conveyed by this lease is made otherwise than in accordance with the foregoing provisions, all rights in the land leased shall be liable to be forfeited to Government. After the expiry of this preliminary lease, no right shall be claimed otherwise than as expressly provided for hereinafter.

* These boundary marks shall ordinarily consist of a masonry platform at every point where more than two lots or patches of waste or other lands meet, with large stones or mounds at every angle and at every 100 yards of the boundary line between such platforms and other marks.

8. The rent to be paid shall be as follows:—

Year of entry (i.e. from actual date of entry to 31st March following)	...	Nil.
1*st* full year (from 1st April following date of entry)		Nil.
2*nd* year		3 annas per acre.
3*rd* ,,		6 ,, ,,
4*th* ,,		9 ,, ,,
5*th* ,,		12 ,, ,,

The rent shall be paid to the tehsildar of in the following instalments:—

1st September, one-half; 1st March one-half.

4. The lessee shall either himself reside on or near to the lands covered by this lease, or he shall appoint a manager or agent who shall reside on or near to such lands, and who shall be provided with a full legal power to act on behalf of the principal in all matters arising out of, or concerning, the lands covered by the lease.

5. The lessee binds himself to conform to all the provisions of the rules for the grant of tea leases under which this lease is granted.

6. Five per cent. of the area of the lands leased shall be cleared by the end of the second year after the grant of this lease, and 10 per cent. by the end of the third year.

7. Any land covered by the lease which may at any time be required for a public purpose, may be taken up by Government free of cost on a reduction being made in the rent payable under the lease proportionate to the area taken by Government. But the value of any improvements or property thereon shall be paid to the lessee, and shall be assessed under the provision of the law in force for the time being for the acquisition of land for public purposes.

8. All rights to minerals or quarries of all kinds are reserved to Government.

9. No right of fishery, and no right to dam up or otherwise obstruct the passage of any stream is given by this lease. A public right of way over twenty yards on either bank of every stream, available at any time of the year for local boat traffic, is reserved.

10. All valuable forest trees which are of a girth of three feet and over at the height of four feet from the ground must be paid for by the lessee before possession is given under this lease. The kinds of trees to be so paid for, and the rates of payment for each tree, are those set forth in schedules drawn up for this purpose from time to time by the Forest Department and approved by Government. All other trees and scrub jungle are at the disposal of the lessee.

11. The Deputy Commissioner may at any time enter on, inspect, or measure the area under cultivation, and the lessee may at any time demand that such measurement be made. Provided that the expenses of any such inspection or measurement demanded by the lessee shall be paid by him as rent due. If, after such inspection, the Deputy Commissioner finds that 15 per cent. of the total area held under the lease has been brought under cultivation by means of good husbandry, and actually bears tea plants, the lessee shall be entitled to the renewal of the lease for a further period of twenty years, and to renewals for similar periods in perpetuity, subject to the following conditions:—

(a)—Subject to any general or special orders of Government the rent to be paid shall be fixed by the Board of Revenue on the report of the Deputy Commissioner on each occasion of renewal, but shall not exceed the rate of rent per acre paid in the neighbourhood at the time of renewal for the highest class of lands under ordinary cultivation. If at any future time the administration of the tracts under tea cultivation should entail on the State any considerable increase of expenditure, it will be competent to the Government, with the sanction of the legislature, to impose such special taxation as may be deemed necessary, either by raising the rent, or in some other mode. But under no other circumstances will the rent, which has now been fixed for a term of years on the principle above enunciated, be raised during the currency of such term.

(b)—The title conveyed by the renewed lease shall be heritable and transferable, provided that no transfer shall be made of less than the whole, and that no transfer shall be valid as against the Government, but shall, on the contrary, be equivalent to a surrender of the lease, unless notification of the transfer shall have been given by the transferree to the Deputy Commissioner at the time of transfer, together with a fee of 4 annas per acre of the area leased.

(c)—In all other respects, the conditions of the renewed lease shall be the same as those of the preliminary lease.

12. The rights and privileges conveyed by this lease, and by any renewed lease granted in accordance with its provisions, shall be liable to be forfeited on failure of the lessee to comply with any condition thereof.

13. If before the expiration of this preliminary lease no application for a renewal of the lease shall have been made in accordance with the above provisions, the lessee may be allowed to hold on as a tenant-at-will, but not otherwise, until other arrangements shall have been made by the Deputy Commissioner.

APPENDIX B.

To the Tehsildar of

and (name) of

(residence) propose to enter into an agreement in regard to certain land (situated at or near the spot herein described) for the purpose of cultivating tea, and whereas

(name) of

(residence) desires immediately to enter upon occupation of some part of the above lands for the purpose of making preparations for, and for commencing such cultivation, I do hereby authorize the said

(name) of

(residence) hereby to use for that purpose any lands lying within

(here specify boundaries) and not exceeding 100 acres in all.

In the event of a lease being hereafter granted, the date of entry referred to in such lease shall be held to be not the date of this order, but the date of possession being given under such lease. In case of a lease being refused, no claim to compensation shall lie against the Government for any outlay incurred by

(residence) on the strength of this order. No rent shall be payable for land occupied during the currency of this order, the term whereof shall expire on the 31st March next.

Occupation under this order, or after its expiry, without an express condition to the contrary, shall never be held to constitute any tenure other than a tenancy-at-will from year to year. The occupant shall keep the boundary line and marks in repair and clear of jungle. A copy of this order has been delivered to (name) with permission to enter into occupation. You will register him as in occupation of the land under the usual amalnama.

RULES UNDER ACT III (B. C.) OF 1876.

1. The Collector, before awarding compensation under section 16, or making a reference under section 17, of the Act, shall obtain the written opinion of the Superintending Canal Officer, which shall form part of the record of the proceedings.

2. Water shall not be granted where, in the opinion of the Divisional Canal Officer, loss from wastage is likely to occur.

3. Water shall not ordinarily be granted where the length of the village channel, from its head to its point of contact with the village boundary exceeds two (2) miles.

4. Water for irrigation shall not be supplied, except through a village channel so constructed and maintained, that, in the opinion of the Divisional Canal Officer—

(a)—the water will pass without wastage;

(b)—the existing necessary lines of communication, the flow of drainage water, and the passage of water for irrigation, will not be obstructed.

5. The Divisional Canal Officer may withhold or postpone the grant of water to any cultivator whose fields have not been prepared for irrigation by division into compartments not greater in area than one cottah or 1361·25 superficial feet, and by the addition of small water channels as is customary in irrigation from wells.

Rice fields are exempted from the operation of this rule.

6. The above rule shall only apply to those cases in which the non-observance of it has been discovered previous to the first watering of a crop; the water having been once given cannot be withheld for that crop, but a higher rate may be levied as provided in Rule 38.

7. Persons desirous (i) of constructing a village channel, or (ii) of taking water therefrom, or (iii) of taking water from any outlet provided by Government, shall prefer a written application to the Divisional Canal Officer, or to some officer duly authorised by him to receive such applications. In the first case (i), if the application be received by an officer subordinate to the Divisional Canal Officer, it shall be forwarded to him for orders.

8. An application under Rule 7 shall, if granted, and unless otherwise specially agreed upon, be subject to the following conditions:—

(a)—That the water supplied shall not be used for other purposes than irrigation, without the written consent of the Divisional or Sub-Divisional Canal Officer.

(b)—That the applicants appoint a headman, known or ascertained, to be a substantial person possessed of property, to attend to their interests, to receive and carry out the orders of the Canal Officers, to distribute the water among the shareholders in the village channel according to their shares, and to collect and pay in to the Collector, or other duly authorized person, all water-rates leviable on the lands watered from the village channel. His appointment shall be subject to the approval of the Divisional Canal Officer and of the Collector, and he shall be deemed to be a public servant within the meaning of the Penal Code.

(c)—That in any case where persons desirous of taking water fail to appoint a headman, or cannot agree among themselves as to the headman, the Divisional Canal Officer shall appoint a headman, whose appointment shall be subject to the approval of the Collector.

(d)—If the Collector and Divisional Canal Officer do not agree as to the appointment of a headman under Rules 8 (b) and 8 (c), the Collector shall refer the matter to the Commissioner of the Division, whose decision shall be final.

(e)—That the headman shall furnish security for the payment of all sums realized by him, the stamp and registration fees on security bonds being deducted from the percentage allowed under Rule 11.

(f)—That for each crop, previous to water being taken for any field, application shall be made in the prescribed form (Appendix A) to the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer or other officer authorized to receive such applications, and that no water shall be taken until after the receipt of a "permit" (Appendix B) from such officer.

(g)—That in any case where the Divisional Canal Officer, owing to the known recusancy of any village, or of any class of cultivators, anticipates that there is likely to be difficulty in the realization of the water-rates, he shall intimate the same to the Collector, in whose option it shall be to require payment of water-rates in advance.

(h)—That any other cultivators in the same village, able and willing to irrigate their lands from the village channel, may, subject to the approval of the Divisional Canal Officer, be admitted as shareholders in it, on paying their proportionate share of the first cost and maintenance thereof, to be determined by the amount of irrigable land held by them.

(i)—That all alterations in the number of shareholders, distribution of shares, or appointment of headmen, shall be reported to the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer for the sanction of the Divisional Canal Officer.

9. The Divisional Canal Officer is empowered to pay to the headman appointed under Rule 8 the fees detailed in the rule next following, subject to the condition of satisfactory performance of duty.

10. The allowance to the headman of a village channel for duties connected with that village channel, such as arranging that it shall be kept in proper repair, seeing that no lands obtain water without a regular "permit," distributing the water to the shareholders, seeing to the outlet being closed according to the orders of the Divisional Canal Officer, and generally assisting the officers of the Irrigation Department, shall be 4 per cent on the amount of canal-water rates assessed on the lands irrigated from the village channel under his charge. The Divisional Canal Officer may retrench the whole or any part of the fees under this rule in the event of the conditions not being complied with.

11. The allowance to the headman of a village channel for collecting the water-rates shall be 4 per cent. on the amount actually paid in by him. If the headman shall satisfy the Collector that arrears have not accrued through any negligence on his part, it shall be within the discretion of the Collector to pay him the allowance on the whole or on any part of such arrears.

12. Contracts between the Divisional Canal Officer on the part of Government and private individuals for the use of water as a motive power, or for any other purpose whatsoever not included in the published schedule of rates, shall, if for any period not exceeding one year, require the previous sanction of the Superintending Canal Officer.

If proposed for longer periods, such contracts shall be submitted for the sanction of the Lieutenant-Governor in the Irrigation Department.

13 Tanks may be filled with canal water without charge, and without reference to the area irrigated in any village, whenever water can be made available without injury to the cultivation dependant on any canal, under the following conditions :—

(a)—No tank shall be so filled unless the water is to be exclusively used for domestic purposes or for watering cattle or both.

(b)—No tank shall be so filled from which irrigation is practised.

(c)—No tank shall be so filled which, intercepting any line of drainage, is liable to overflow from accumulation of water derived from natural causes.

(d)—No tank shall be so filled except on the written order of the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer, issued on the written application of the parties concerned.

(e)—No tank shall be so filled unless the village channel used to fill it shall be shown to the satisfaction of the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer to be in a sound condition when the application is made.

(f)—The privilege herein accorded may, by written order of the Divisional Canal Officer, subject to revision by the Superintending Canal Officer, whose decision shall be final, be suspended for twelve months for breach of any of the above conditions.

14. The Divisional Canal Officer may, by written order under section 76 (a)(ii), stop the supply to any village channel when he is satisfied, after inspection by himself or by one of his subordinates, that the village channel is not maintained in proper repair. Immediate report of any such closure, with an explanation of the special ground for stoppage, shall be made to the Superintending Canal Officer.

15. The Divisional Canal Officer may, under section 76 (a) (iii), regulate the distribution of the available water in proportion to the average area irrigated from the several outlets, or in proportion to the quantities of water contracted for, and may close the outlets in rotation as shall be necessary.

Such periodical closures shall not extend beyond ten consecutive days, and shall be notified to the headmen of village channels. For longer closures the authority of the Superintending Canal Officer is required.

Nothing in the above rules shall be taken to affect the power of the Superintending or any Divisional Canal Officer to stop any supply of water in case of pressing emergency.

16. The water-gauges on distributaries, or other channels, shall be held to give authoritative data for all calculations of discharge required to verify claims for remission of water-rate on account of loss of water.

17. Claims to remission of water-rates, under section 76 (b), shall only be admitted on proof of actual loss caused by the stoppage of supply. On proof of such loss, the Divisional Canal Officer may remit the whole or any portion of the rates. All applications for remission of water-rates shall be made in writing by the parties concerned, either in person or through their headman, to the nearest Sub-Divisional Canal Officer, at least seven days prior to the cutting of the crop. On receipt of such application, the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer shall, after due local inquiry, forward the application with his remarks to the Divisional Canal Officer for decision.

18. Before awarding compensation under section 76 (c), the Collector shall obtain the written opinion of the Divisional Canal Officer, and such opinion shall form part of the record of the proceedings.

19. Under section 78 of the Act, the rates chargeable per acre on the different descriptions of crops are fixed for three years, viz. from 1st June 1876 to the 1st June 1879, and are as follow :—

WATER-RATES.

Sone Canals.

1 Beegha ... ... = 27,225·00 „
1 Acre ... ... = 43,560·00 „

20. Up to the 1st June 1879 leases for three years may be granted at the following rates, provided that the area leased in any village shall not be less than the whole irrigable area in the case of khurreef cultivation, or half the irrigable area in that of rubbee cultivation. In the latter case the area must be as far as possible in one block. In certain cases it may, at the discretion of the Divisional Canal Officer, be comprised in two or at most three blocks—

Schedule of Rates.

	Per acre.	Per beegha.	Per cottah.
	Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P.
Rubbee, including bhadoi ...	2 4 0	1 6 6	0 1 2
Khurreef	1 8 0	0 15 0	0 0 9

21. Three-year leases will not be granted for sugarcane.

22. By irrigable area is to be understood, as a general rule, the extent of land for which water can be supplied at the rate of 80 acres in khurreef, and 180 acres in rubbee per cubic foot of available supply.

23 Leases for three years at the reduced rates may be given (1) on the application of all the cultivators of a village, on condition of their agreeing in such application to become jointly and severally responsible for the payment of all amounts due on account of water-rates; or (2) on the joint application of the cultivators and of some person hereinafter called the contractor, who may agree to collect and pay to Government, under section 82 of Act III (B.C.) of 1876, all sums which may be due under the application on account of water-rates. The application of villagers binding themselves jointly and severally will be in the form prescribed in Appendix C. The joint application of villagers and a water-rate contractor shall be in the form prescribed in Appendix D. Every application under this rule must be signed by each applicant in the presence of at least one respectable witness.

24. Contractors shall be entitled to collect water-dues at the rates given in the schedule attached to Rule 20 from the cultivators who have applied for the water supplied. Every due from a cultivator to a contractor on account of water-rates shall be deemed a sum due to Government under sections 82 and 85 of Act III of 1876.

25. A contractor (or in case there be more than one, each contractor severally and jointly) shall be responsible for all sums payable on the application (Appendix D), except such sums as may be remitted by competent authority under the rules in force, and shall be entitled to a deduction of 5 per cent. for cost of collection.

26. When the lease under Rules 20 to 25 is for the supply of water to khurreef crops, or to all irrigable rubbee crops in the village, a list in Form E should be submitted with the application, showing the number of each field in the map, the area of the field, crop to be grown, and amount payable, and this should be signed by each cultivator. Water will be supplied in accordance with this list during the period of the lease. Similar lists must be submitted each year before water is supplied to rubbee lands when the area leased is less than the whole area of irrigable rubbee land in the village. In such cases the fields receiving water may vary from year to year, but the total area for which the water-rates shall be calculated shall never be less than the area specified in the three-years' lease. Should more land be irrigated than is specified in the three-years' lease, the same shall be chargeable with annual water-rates.

27. No water shall be taken previous to receipt of a permit (Appendix B) signed by the Divisional Canal Officer. When an agreement has been made for the collection of the rates by a contractor, the Divisional Canal Officer shall, under section 82, furnish such contractor with a written authority to collect the amounts due by the cultivators according to the list furnished under Rule 26, one copy of which is to be sent to the Collector.

28. Every contractor shall nominate a headman to be approved by the Divisional Canal Officer to perform the duties specified in Rule 10. Such headman shall receive five per cent on the assessment, but the Divisional Canal Officer may retrench the whole or any part of these fees if the duties are not properly performed.

29. If only a portion of a field be irrigated, the water-rate shall be chargeable on the whole field, unless such portion shall have been clearly demarcated, previous to the admission of the water, by a ridge not less than half a foot high.

30. When a portion of a field has been irrigated with canal water and a portion with well or reservoir water, the whole field shall be liable for canal water-rate, unless a clearly distinguishable boundary exists between the two portions.

31. If well or reservoir water is conveyed in the same channel as canal water, the whole of the irrigation from that channel shall be liable to canal water-rate. The headman will be held personally responsible for the due observance of this rule and of Rules 29 and 30.

32. Irrigation from natural or artificial escape channels, when the supply is permanent, shall be governed by the same rules as irrigation from other parts of the canal.

33. Irrigation from such channels, when the supply is intermittent, may be allowed at such reduced rates as shall from time to time be fixed by the Lieutenant-Governor.

34. Persons irrigating lands from a canal without a written permit for water for such lands, or taking water at times prohibited by proper authority, shall be chargeable with double water-rates on the area irrigated.

35. The charge leviable for water suffered to run to waste on uncultivated lands shall be calculated at the highest rate specified in the schedule, viz. five rupees per acre on the area flooded; provided that in every such case the Divisional Canal Officer may impose a lower rate if he thinks fit. The headman to be held responsible for the collection of the amount of charges so imposed.

36. If mixed crops be grown in the same field, the water-rate shall be calculated on the highest rated crop.

37. When the original crop sown in a field, irrigated by the canal water, fails and is ploughed up, and a fresh crop is sown in the same season, the water-rates shall be levied on the second crop.

38. When a field is irrigated which has not been prepared by division into compartments and by the addition of small water channels as prescribed in Rule 6, an additional charge may be imposed equal to half the amount of water-rate leviable on the field. In each case the Divisional or Sub-Divisional Canal Officer must certify that the field was not properly prepared for irrigation according to the terms of the rule.

39. The statements of the amounts demandable for water-rates levied under the rules in force shall be prepared under the supervision and signature of the Divisional Canal Officer in such form as shall from time to time be sanctioned by the Lieutenant-Governor.

40. All water-rates shall become due on the dates noted on the "permits," as herein below stated, and shall be paid within one month of such dates :—

Water-rate on sugarcane and spring crops, wheat, barley, peas, poppy, &c.,—15th April.

Water-rate on summer crops, cheena, &c.,—15th August.

Water-rate on bhadoi crops, early rice, Indian corn, murwa, &c.,—30th November.

Water-rate on annual and winter crops, aghani rice, joaur, &c.,—31st January.

41. In the case of lands held in bhaoli, the water-rate shall be recoverable from both the cultivator and the person or persons in receipt of the bhaoli rents, in the same proportion as the produce is divisible amongst them.

42. Collection of all water-rate shall be made by the Collector in accordance with the statement of demands furnished to him by the Divisional Canal Officer.

43. Objections to the demand addressed to the Collector shall, if remission be claimed on the score of short supply or of any matter affecting the Irrigation Department, be referred for orders to the Divisional Canal Officer. The collection of the demand shall not be suspended on account of any such objection.

44. Claims for remission referred by the Collector and admitted by the Divisional Canal Officer shall be reported by him for the sanction of the Superintending Canal Officer.

45. A remission statement signed by the Superintending Canal Officer shall be sufficient authority for a refund by the Collector.

46. If the Divisional Canal Officer reject the claim, an appeal may be made to the Superintending Canal Officer, provided that it is preferred within forty days from the issue of the order of the Divisional Canal Officer.

47. In special cases not otherwise provided for by these rules, and in cases in which water-rates are not recoverable owing to the absconding or bankruptcy of the defaulter, the Collector will obtain the sanction of the Commissioner of the Division to the remission of such sums as he may deem irrecoverable. The details of such remission shall be communicated at the close of each official year to the Divisional Canal Officer.

48. If a cultivator is dissatisfied with the entries made against him in the khatianni, whether as to the fact of the land having been charged "flow" instead of "lift," or as to the measurements and entries of class of crop, he must lodge a complaint, either personally or through the headman of his water-course, with the Divisional or Sub-Divisional Canal Officer at least seven days prior to the cutting of the crop.

49. No person shall, without the permission in writing of the Divisional or Sub-Divisional Canal Officer, pass, or cause any animal or vehicle to pass, on or across any of the works, banks, or channels of a canal or drainage work after he has been desired to desist therefrom, excepting by means of such bridges, fords, and ferries, and their approaches, as are provided by the Divisional Canal Officer.

50. No Canal Officer, unless specially exempted by the Lieutenant-Governor from the operation of this rule, shall have any interest in the distribution of water from any of the canals, or purchase or bid for any Government property sold thereon, either in his own name or in the name of another, or jointly, or in shares with others.

51. The ameen appointed to measure up the area irrigated in any village shall, before leaving it, make over the khusras to a mohurir, who will then compile the khatianni. A copy of the khatianni will be taken by the putwaree, who must as a rule make it himself; but if he cannot from any cause do so, the mohurir must make it, and the putwaree is to be held responsible that he gets a copy.

52. The copy of the khatianni thus made shall be hung up in some conspicuous place in the village, and slips in the prescribed form (Appendix F), showing the amount he will have to pay, area irrigated, &c., shall be prepared by the putwaree and given to each ryot.

53. The allowance to the putwaree for the above work shall be 2 per cent. on the collections, and shall be paid to him by the Collector on his being satisfied that the work has been properly done. No allowance will be made to putwarees in leases granted under Rule 25.

54. The measurements of each crop irrigated shall be made as soon as practicable, and every care should be taken to have the khatianni hung up in the village at least fifteen days before the crop is cut, so that the ryot may make his complaints, if he have any, in good time.

55. In case of any subsequent alteration of the khatianni owing to correction of clerical errors, &c., such alteration shall be at once communicated to the putwaree to enable him to correct the village copy and slips accordingly.

56. The zilladar shall submit his check measurements in a form (Appendix G) which shall be sent in for the inspection of the Divisional Canal Officer. The Sub-Divisional Canal Officer shall also check the ameens' measurements as often as he possibly can. Notes on Forestry.

BY C. F. AMERY,
Deputy Conservator, Forests, N. W. Provinces.

THIS little work, published with the approval of the Government of India, treats of the general principles of forest management in all its branches, and is recommended not only to forest officers, but to all who are interested in the progress of forest management in this country.

May be obtained of Messrs. King, King & Co., Bombay, and of Messrs. Wyman & Co., Calcutta. Price, Rs. 3-8, or including postage, Rs. 4. Or of the publishers, Messrs. Trübner & Co., Ludgate Hill, London. Price five shillings.

The Indian Law Reports.

Published under Authority of the Governor-General in Council.

THE Reports appear in monthly parts, published as soon as possible after the first of each month at Calcutta, Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad, and will comprise four series,—one for the Calcutta High Court, a second for the Madras High Court, a third for the Bombay High Court, and a fourth for the Allahabad High Court. The cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from each High Court will be reported in the Series for that High Court. Cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from Provinces in India not subject to any High Court will be reported in the Calcutta Series.

The Parts of each Series can be had separately, or all four Parts can be had stitched into one wrapper at the option of subscribers and purchasers. It will be observed from the following statement of the terms of subscription and sale, that a considerable reduction is allowed to persons taking the complete set.

Terms of subscription, payable annually in advance.

	Without postage.	With postage.
For the Calcutta Series...	Rs. 35	Rs. 40
,, Madras Series ...	,, 8	,, 9
,, Bombay Series...	,, 8	,, 9

RESOLUTION ON THE PROGRESS REPORT OF FOREST ADMINISTRATION IN BENGAL FOR THE YEAR 1877-78.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.—FORESTS.

Darjeeling, the 21st October 1878.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The Progress Report of Forest Administration in Bengal for the year 1877-78.

The report is again late in submission, owing, it is explained, to the adjustments in the annual accounts rendered necessary by orders of the Comptroller-General. It is, however, both full and interesting, Dr. Schlich having endeavoured, in view of his approaching transfer from Bengal, to place on record all the information regarding the reserves and their treatment that could be of use to his successor and to Government. The Lieutenant-Governor takes this opportunity of expressing his regret at the prospect of losing Dr. Schlich's services, and his high appreciation of the progress that forest conservancy has made in Bengal under that officer's able and conscientious supervision.

2. The only new forest area inspected during the year was that of the Koderma reserve, in the north of Hazareebagh, which was notified as a reserve forest in July 1876, without having been subjected to detailed examination. The result of the Conservator's inspection in February 1878 went to show that the forest is in a very poor and reduced condition, and that it is desirable to release from the reserved area some 24 square miles of country in order to provide a supply of wood for the neighbouring villagers, who could then be excluded without hardship from the remaining area.

3. Only 40 square miles of forest were added to the Government reserves during the year, bringing the total area up to 3,430 square miles. It is in contemplation, however, to take up an extensive tract in the Chittagong Hills, and to increase the area considerably in Darjeeling and Julpigoree; while, on the other hand, the forests in the Damin-i-Koh have been made over to the care of the local officers. At the close of 1878-79 it is expected that there will be 4,406 square miles of forest under this Government, of which 823 square miles lie in the lower Himalayas and the adjoining Terai and Dooars, and the rest in Chittagong, the Sunderbuns, Chota Nagpore, and Shahabad. The open Sunderbun forests, which are Government waste, are also to be declared a protected forest and to be managed by the Forest Department. In view of this extension of forest conservancy in Bengal, the propriety of dividing the province into two Conservators' charges has been mooted and is advocated by Dr. Schlich. The Lieutenant-Governor would prefer to have one Conservator only, who should be at the head-quarters of Government, and to strengthen the staff of trained Deputy Conservators, but it may not be possible for the Government of India to arrange this.

4. The reserved forests as they now stand may be thus classified :—

		Square miles.
1.	Sâl forest, with savannah, mixed forest, and lower hill forest containing sâl	1,090½
2.	Khair and sissu forest	113½
3.	Upper hill forest	75
4.	Sundri forest	1,581
5.	Chittagong mixed forest	570
	Total ...	3,430

5. Demarcation was extended over 323 square miles during the year, and there are now only eight square miles in Darjeeling, 18 in Julpigoree, and 460 in Chota Nagpore remaining to be demarcated out of the 3,430 miles already taken up.

6. The policy of the Conservator has been to divide the forest charges into small manageable areas such as one executive officer can properly administer. He considers that there should be ten such charges in Bengal, to manage which two Conservators and 13 other superior officers are required. The present sanctioned scale gives nine officers of the rank of Assistant Conservator and upwards, and (say) two Sub-Assistant Conservators. Even if there be only one Conservator allowed, the Lieutenant-Governor concurs with Dr. Schlich in thinking that some increase of the forest staff will very soon be required.

7. For subordinate establishments of all kinds a lump sum of Rs. 3,500 per mensem is at present sanctioned, but this must be raised to Rs. 4,000 to enable the department to manage the areas now being added.

8. It is satisfactory to observe that there were during the year only 112 prosecutions for breach of forest rules as against 233 in 1876-77. The Conservator reports that the decrease is owing to forest protection having become more effective, and he considers that the few attempts made to violate the rules prove that forest conservancy does not press too hardly upon the people. The great majority of the cases occur in the Sunderbuns, where, however, conviction is difficult owing to the immense area under forest and the existence of private grants in the neighbourhood of the Government reserves. In 95 Sunderbun cases, conviction followed in only 26. In 17 cases instituted elsewhere, conviction followed in 11.

9. The forest officers cut during the year 55½ miles of new fair-weather roads in Kurseong, Buxa and Chittagong, besides repairing 63 miles of old road in Buxa and Kurseong and clearing 250 miles of boundary paths. The Conservator again refers to the advisability of opening out the old Teesta Valley road.

A survey of this route has already been ordered, and a good bridle-path will be constructed on general grounds.

10. During the year 111 acres were added to the plantations, making the total area 524 acres. The chief plantations are those of oak, chestnut, magnolia, and walnut (144 acres) in Darjeeling; of teak, toon, sâl, and sissu (406 acres) at Bamunpokri (in Kurseong) and Sitapahar (in Chittagong); and of sâl (36 acres) in Buxa. Systematic planting for the maintenance of the firewood supply of Darjeeling will now be undertaken, and 30 acres have already been planted in June and July 1878.

11. Dr. Schlich reproduces, in paragraph 29 of his report, a communication from Dr. King, Superintendent of Botanical Gardens, showing the result of the continued experiments carried on with certain economic plants and trees. There can be no doubt that neither the encalypti nor the carob tree are at all likely to thrive in the Gangetic delta. The prospects of Para and Ceara rubber plants are more promising. But neither the baobab nor the bamboo can be cultivated so as to yield a cheap paper stock. Some information should have been given by Dr. King as to the character of the plants grown from the seed supplied by Dr. Forbes Watson in October 1876. Though the seed was received without name, it is presumed that the plants, which have germinated to the number of 2,354, can be identified. The seedlings of Prosopis pallida would seem to be fairly thriving.

12. The year under review was particularly unfortunate as regards fires owing to continued dry and windy weather. Arrangements were made to protect 122,728 acres, but failed as regards 43,894 acres. The sum spent on fire protection during the season was Rs. 1,983. This is a most important part of the duty of the Forest Department, and it will be better to spend even more money if it will secure success in keeping out fires.

13. The financial results of the working of the Forest Department in Bengal for the last seven years are given in the following table—

Years.	Receipts.	Charges.	Surplus.	Area of reserved forests.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Square miles.
1871-72	87,260	67,506	19,754	106
1872-73	1,16,690	62,554	54,136	106
1873-74	1,23,732	81,068	42,664	120
1874-75	1,85,914	98,654	87,260	1,467
1875-76	1,98,274	1,39,086	59,188	2,585
1876-77	2,22,401	2,11,689	10,712	3,390
1877-78	4,32,363	2,61,112	1,71,251	3,430

Upon this Dr. Schlich remarks—"These figures show that the revenue has been nearly doubled during the year under review, and the cash surplus has risen from Rs. 10,712 to Rs. 1,71,251. The value of stock on hand has fallen by Rs. 14,913: hence the value of the year's transactions amounts to Rs. 1,56,338, as compared with Rs. 87,468 in 1876-77, so that a great improvement has taken place in every respect. The Conservator feels confident that the surplus in future years will be still greater, and that the Government forest estates in Bengal may now be said to have become a source of permanent and increasing returns to the State."

14. Arranging the receipts and charges of 1877-78 according to the main budget heads, they show as follow:—

Receipts.

		Rs.
Departmental timber operations.	From wood brought to depôt by departmental agency; from confiscated, drift and waif wood	1,70,621
Other revenue ...	From wood removed by private purchasers, &c.; from minor produce and miscellaneous	2,61,742
Formation, protection, and improvement of forests
	Total ...	4,32,363

Charges.

	Rs.
Cost of timber operations by the department and in recovering drift; half the total cost of departmental cattle, plant and tools, and one-quarter the total cost of the establishment	1,24,366
Cost in connection with removal by private purchasers; collection of dues on minor produce; miscellaneous charges; one-quarter of total cost of cattle, plant and tools, and half the cost of establishment	74,068
Cost of forest organization; treatment and creation of forests; works for development of forests; one-quarter of total cost of cattle, plant, and tools, and one-quarter cost of establishment ...	62,678
Total ...	2,61,112

Upon these results the Conservator remarks—

"From these figures it follows—

"1*st.*—That the departmental timber operations have yielded a surplus of Rs. 46,255, equal to 27 per cent. of the receipts on account of timber sold from depôts, although the expenditure charged against these operations includes a portion of the pay of establishments, &c., of the Palamow, Sunderbuns, and Chittagong divisions, where no departmental timber operations have been conducted.

"2*nd.*—In spite of our having spent Rs. 62,678 on the formation, protection, and improvement of the forests, we have still a cash surplus of Rs. 1,71,251, which is equal to 40 per cent. of the gross receipts."

The Lieutenant-Governor considers that forest conservancy in Bengal may now be reckoned an assured success from a financial point of view, and, as it is elsewhere stated that with proper management the Government reserves will suffice to meet the wants of by far the greater portion of the province, there is every reason to be satisfied with both the present position and future prospects of the department.

15. The Lieutenant-Governor regrets to note that so many officers of the department, including the Conservator himself, suffered in health during the year, and that one very promising officer, Mr. Bonham Carter, died of dysentery contracted upon duty.

16. In the foregoing paragraphs the working of the department has been treated as a whole. The leading facts in connection with each of the forest divisions may now be briefly noticed.

I. The Darjeeling Division.—The division known in former years by this name has now been sub-divided into three forest charges, styled the Darjeeling, Teesta, and Kurseong divisions. In the division of Darjeeling proper there are at present 26 square miles of gazetted reserves, but the area will by the end of the current year be 38 square miles, stocked with oaks, chestnuts, magnolias, laurels, maples, and a great variety of other trees. The maple is assuming a very important place in the forests near Darjeeling, yielding as it does a very fair firewood, and being raised with the least amount of trouble. It will in future form the main standby in reproductive measures, the more valuable trees being planted here and there among the maple woods. There are now five acres under Spanish chestnut at Rungaroon, but the results are not satisfactory, and it is not intended to send more seed of this kind to Bengal.

17. The large and growing demand for firewood and charcoal for the cantonment and station of Darjeeling, and the tea gardens near, made it necessary to bring the working of the forests entirely under departmental control, and to exclude private purchasers from the forests entirely. The Conservator is thus able to clear and thin the blocks systematically, and to plant them up again. During the year 1,67,173 maunds of firewood and 5,872 maunds of charcoal were sold at an average cost of Rs. 24-2-3 per 100 maunds, giving a profit of about Rs. 8 per 100 maunds.

18. The receipts of this division were altogether Rs. 49,790, and the charges Rs. 36,692; the result being a surplus of Rs. 13,098.

19. II. The Teesta Division.—This division has not yet been fully formed. A large area in the Daling sub-division is about to be added to it, which will raise the area from the present figure of 61 square miles to 255 square miles. It will then be sub-divided into two charges—(1) the Teesta division, with 132 square miles, and (2) the Daling division, with 154 square miles. These areas contain all the various classes of forest found in the Darjeeling district at all elevations, and the lower ranges at any rate are certain to prove very valuable. This is not, however, as yet a paying division, its receipts being only Rs. 1,946, against an outlay of Rs. 10,188. But it is expected that the demand for timber, firewood and charcoal, likely to arise from the opening out of tea gardens in the Daling sub-division, will very soon bring the balance to the right side of the account.

20. III. The Kurseong Division.—This division comprises the reserves lying on the outer hills from Kurseong downwards, and in the adjoining Terai. The total area, after adjustments with the Teesta division, and including certain blocks purchased from private parties since the close of the year, will amount to 75 square miles. There is no oak or rhododendron in this division, but with that exception most of the characteristic trees of the district are found. In the Terai, sâl is the prevailing wood, and there is also a good deal of khair and sissu on the river banks. The management of this division is peculiarly difficult, owing to the unhealthiness of the Terai and lower hills. It includes the Bamunpokri plantation already noticed, which now covers an area of 215 acres. In this originally only teak was planted, which so far was not done badly, but toon, sâl, and sissu have since been added. A few plants of mahogany were tried, but only three are now alive. The total outlay on planting up to date has been Rs. 28,118, and by 1880 it will probably amount to Rs. 35,000, after which the plantation will, it is hoped, be self-supporting. The expenditure will have been about Rs. 160 per acre, and, considering that the locality is one where the rank grasses have to be cleared five or six times each season, the Conservator thinks it not excessive, especially as every stick from the plantation will command a ready sale. A small plantation of India-rubber trees is also thriving. Fortunately, although the division suffered severely from fires, Bamunpokri escaped; but the average cost of this protection for the last two years has been 12 annas 6 pie per acre.

21. This division has supplied during the year large quantities of timber for the Northern Bengal State Railway and for the construction of bridges on the Ganges-Darjeeling road. Indeed, the Conservator is of opinion that these forests have now been overworked, and that the cutting of sâl should, if possible, be reduced for a year or two, until the extra cuttings of 1877-78 have been made up. The receipts of the division were Rs. 98,451, and the charges Rs. 45,930; showing a net surplus of Rs. 52,520, or Rs. 543 per square mile of the area actually worked.

22. IV. The Julpigoree Division.—This division consists of the forests between the rivers Teesta and Tursa in the Western Dooars. The area will at the close of this year amount to 169 square miles. It stood at 140 square miles on the 1st April 1877, and 12 miles were added in 1877-78. The forests suffered severely from fires during the year, no less than 5,900 acres having been burnt. These forests were much exhausted when taken up, and it was intended not to work them for large timber for at least 25 or 30 years. But the demand for sleepers for the Northern Bengal State Railway compelled the cutting of sâl both in 1876-77 and 1877-78. The receipts of the division were Rs. 12,580, and the charges Rs. 16,546. It is hoped to make it pay its expenses in future by the sale of firewood, charcoal, &c., to the tea gardens in the neighbourhood.

23. V. The Buxa Division.—The Buxa reserves cover an area of 250 square miles between the Tursa and Sunkos rivers in the Western Dooars. In this division an attempt is being made to protect the reserves from fire by planting a thick belt of sâl, 100 feet broad, along the boundary. Good progress is being made with this, but meantime the injury done by fires is very great, no less than 36,440 acres having been burnt in the year out of an area of 103,900 acres sought to be protected. The Conservator observes, however, that the people in the neighbourhood of the forests are beginning to understand better the necessity of caution in setting fire to grass and to co-operate better with the department. He is sanguine of success eventually.

24. This division also has felt the demand for sleepers and timber for the Northern Bengal State Railway, and 2,776 green trees and 1,932 dry trees and pieces were cut during the year. The actual receipts were, however, only Rs. 37,153, against charges amounting to Rs. 50,658. This deficit is, however, owing to the fact that Rs. 12,095 were disbursed during the year on account of former years, and that a large stock of sleepers cut and carted during the year were only made over and paid for in April. The division is now really a surplus division.

25. VI. The Palamow Division.—The blocks of forest to be reserved in this division were re-arranged during the year so as to secure greater compactness. It now comprises 216 square miles—179 in Palamow and 37 in Shahabad. There are difficulties in connection with the boundaries of the Rhotas block in Shahabad, which the revenue authorities are now investigating.

Nothing has yet been done in this division beyond demarcation. The forests need rest, and only minor produce and a small quantity of timber to meet local requirements can be sold. The receipts of the year were Rs. 1,006, and the charges Rs. 16,088.

26. VII. The Sunderbuns Division.—The area of the reserves is here unchanged, amounting to 1,581 square miles. The area outside the reserves, used chiefly for fuel forest, is to be shortly placed under departmental management as a protected forest, and the establishment will have to be reorganised accordingly. But, meantime, great progress has been made in checking the removal of wood without payment. Thus, in 1876-77, the department had cognizance of the removal of only 43,18,157 maunds, but in 1877-78 it collected dues on 91,03,250 maunds. The receipts were Rs. 1,73,999, and the charges only Rs. 33,453; giving a surplus of Rs. 1,40,546, or Rs. 89 per square mile. The actual charges made are extremely low—one anna per maund for sundri timber, and one pice per maund for any other timber and firewood.

27. VIII. The Chittagong Division.—The present area of the reserves in Chittagong is 570 square miles, but it is in contemplation to increase the reserves to 1,350 square miles; and it has been decided in any case to give over all the rest of the district forests to the management of the Deputy Commissioner, reducing the rate of river tolls on produce from these open tracts to a small ad valorem fee. The Sitapahar plantation in this division has now 185 acres under teak. With this it is proposed to mix toon, and it is intended to plant jarul in the lower parts of the reserve where teak does not flourish. The reserves have not yet been worked for timber, and the income from river tolls during the year showed a still further falling off as compared with 1876-77, the receipts being Rs. 57,378 and charges Rs. 27,132; giving a surplus of Rs. 30,246, against Rs. 39,445 in the previous year, Rs. 64,953 in 1875-76, and Rs. 98,608 in 1874-75. The people have been suffering from bad seasons, and there is an import of cheaper timber from Arrakan.

28. IX. Koderma and Saranda Pir.—The Koderma reserve in Hazareebagh is to be reduced to 36 square miles. Nothing has yet been done in it or in the Saranda Pir reserve of 400 square miles in Singbhoom.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

A. MACKENZIE,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE BOARD'S REPORT UPON THE LAND REVENUE ADMINISTRATION OF THE LOWER PROVINCES FOR THE YEAR 1877-78.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.—LAND REVENUE.

Calcutta, the 22nd October 1878.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The Board's report upon the Land Revenue Administration of the Lower Provinces for the year 1877-78.

The Board again complain of the delay in the submission of the divisional reports. These delays are almost invariably caused by the want of proper arrangements in the district and sub-divisional offices. Until district officers insist on their sub-divisional officers submitting their reports strictly up to time, they cannot hope to get the district reports out upon due date, the divisional and departmental reports are delayed, and Government finds itself annually reviewing facts that are stale, and giving orders that only take effect a year after the event that called them forth. The Lieutenant-Governor is determined to enforce greater punctuality in future, so far as it may be possible for Government to enforce this, and orders will shortly issue to that end.

2. The chief features in the land revenue administration of the year have been the operations under the Land Registration Act VII (B.C.) of 1876, and the introduction of the Public Works Cess Act II (B.C.) of 1877. It was only in April 1877, towards the close of the six months' term of grace allowed by the notifications under the first of these Acts, that proprietors of estates came forward generally to comply with its provisions. The work thrown thereby upon Collectors and their establishments has been extremely heavy and will be noticed in detail below.

3. The total number of estates on the revenue roll in 1877-78, as compared with 1876-77, is shown in the following table:—

Class of estates.			1877-78.	1876-77.
I.—Permanently settled estates		...	136,228	132,571
II.—Temporarily ditto		...	7,560	7,498
III.—Government estates	...	...	2,569	2,432
IV.—Ryotwari tracts	...	...	23	27
			146,380	142,528

The increase in Class I is said to be mainly due to partitions of estates in the Behar division. Of the total increase of 3,657 estates, 3,284 would seem to be accounted for in this way. Of the remainder, 332 are explained by the separate enrolment in Dacca and Backergunge of blocks hitherto lumped up with other estates, while 41 estates were added in Mymensingh, which had been omitted by mistake. No explanation is given of the fluctuations in the number of estates under Classes II, III and IV.

4. The Board remark that the increasing number of estates, and the increasing number of shareholders who make separate payments, have caused serious embarrasment in the treasury and account departments of many districts. A committee is now sitting to consider whether it may not be possible to simplify the system of land revenue accounts, and strengthen at the same time the treasury establishments. Something has also been done to prevent further increase of work by amalgamating the accounts of the road cess and Public Works cess to a certain extent.

5. The current land revenue demand for the year, including malikana, revenue of police lands, and quit-rents of tributary mehals, stood thus, as compared with 1876-77, for each class of estates :—

	1877-78. Rs.	1876-77. Rs.
Class I	3,23,37,283	3,24,05,915
„ II	24,01,457	23,00,897
„ III	16,38,545	15,39,444
„ IV	5,18,682	4,81,085
Total ...	3,68,95,967	3,67,27,341

The demand shows fluctuations in nearly every district, but these are for the most part nominal, caused by transfers and adjustments of account. The report should have stated clearly the amount of the actual increase, but the only fact noted is that in Midnapore an increase of Rs. 60,000 is due to the settlement officers' proceedings, and that some further unspecified sum is due to the settlement of Tooshkhally and other estates. The Lieutenant-Governor would like to know what department was to blame for the failure to inform the Deputy Commissioner of Hazareebagh of the increased rental of the Kurhurbaree mines, referred to in paragraph 13.

	Rs.
* Class I	9,18,606
„ II	3,92,458
„ III	6,48,654
„ IV	1,13,473
Total ...	20,73,191

6. The arrear demand was Rs. 20,73,191,* against Rs. 17,87,823 of the year preceding. The total demand of the year was thus Rs. 3,89,69,158.

7. The current collections in each class of estate compare thus—

	1877-78. Rs.	1876-77. Rs.
Class I	3,16,24,007	... 3,15,40,506
„ II	21,63,506	... 21,06,082
„ III	10,63,036	... 10,80,301
„ IV	4,20,244	... 3,94,153
	3,52,70,793	3,51,21,042

The percentage on current demand was 95·59, against 95·35, or slightly in favour of 1877-78. The arrear collections were in—

	Rs.
Class I	... 8,16,078
„ II	... 2,20,909
„ III	... 3,66,225
„ IV	... 91,661
	14,94,873

or 72·10 per cent., against 78·23 in 1876-77. Current and arrear collections together were Rs. 3,67,65,666, or 94·34 per cent. of the total demand, against 94·81 in 1876-77. The general result was slightly less favourable than in 1876-77.

8. The remissions granted during the year aggregated Rs. 84,056 thus—

	Rs.
In class I	... 8,598
„ II	... 3,888
„ III	... 58,363
„ IV	... 13,206

Dividing according to the character of the remission, the tables show—

	Rs.		Rs.
Nominal remissions ...	17,888	against	48,818	in 1876-77.
Remissions of right ...	44,306	„	18,236	„
Ditto of grace ...	21,862	„	9,063	„
	84,056		76,117

Remissions of right and of grace show a large increase. They are due to diluvion, sale of B class railway lands revenue free, taking up of lands for public purposes, redemptions, unoccupied holdings, and the like. They were heaviest in the 24-Pergunnahs, where they amounted to Rs. 15,507, and were swelled by the transfer of an estate to the Suburban Municipality. Remissions of grace were largest in Pooree—Rs. 15,067—where lands lay waste owing to the temporary falling off in the salt manufacture.

9. The unrealised balances at the close of the year were as follow :—

			Rs.
In class	I	...	8,07,206	or 2·42	per cent.	of the gross demand,
„	II	...	4,05,612	or 14·51	„	„
„	III	...	7,99,575	or 32·96	„	„
„	IV	...	1,07,043	or 16·93	„	„
			21,19,436	or 5·43	„	„

against Rs. 19,19,294 at the close of 1876-77.

Of the total balance, Rs. 20,26,039 were in course of realization, and much has been collected since the year closed. About Rs. 93,397 will ultimately have to be remitted.

10. Under the heading of permanently settled estates, Class I, the heaviest balances were due in the following districts :—

	Rs.
Moorshedabad	1,92,644
Chittagong	1,59,177
Noakhally	94,731
Backergunge	40,632

The first three districts were the only ones in which the percentage of collection to total demand fell short of 95 per cent. Of the gross arrears, Rs. 1,00,433 represent revenue, the payment of which was suspended in Chittagong in consideration of damages done by the cyclone of 31st October 1876. Rs. 1,44,428 were being realised under the sale laws, Rs. 18,640 of this being in Backergunge, which also suffered from the cyclone. Of the remaining balance (Rs. 5,62,345), Rs. 2,49,290 have been realised since the year closed, and Rs. 3,12,929 represent sums due from Wards' estates.

11. The Board draw special attention to the very heavy arrears due from Wards' estates, of which Rs. 1,83,695 are due in the district of Moorshedabad alone. Under the law, the Government revenue is the first charge on each estate after the necessary maintenance allowances and charges for management. It would seem, however, that Collectors have been in the habit of postponing the payment of Government revenue to the claims of private creditors, acting under a desire to save, if possible, the estates in their hands from ruin and sale. The Board have, however, very rightly pointed out the illegality and impropriety of such a procedure. It is not the business of Government ordinarily to save the families of improvident landlords from the natural consequences of their own extravagance. In some few backward districts political considerations may point to the necessity of preserving old families and tribal leaders even in their own despite, but in the greater part of Bengal the Court of Wards exists, as the Board remark, mainly for the protection of the Government revenue. The Lieutenant-Governor trusts that the Board will see that these heavy arrears are liquidated as soon as possible, and a correct practice followed in future.

12. Of the balance of Rs. 4,05,612 due from temporarily settled estates, Rs. 21,170 have been realised, and Rs. 44,104 are said to be irrecoverable. The remainder was under recovery by various processes ; Rs. 1,60,692 under Act VII (B.C.) of 1868. In Midnapore Rs. 89,912 were due from Majnamutha, a temporarily settled estate, but at present under direct Government management. The bulk of the arrears in other districts seems also to be due from estates either farmed or under the management of Government officers, and the Board refer to their remarks upon the balances in Government estates as applying under this head also.

13. The Board's contention appears to be that the standard of 90 per cent. collections required by Government in its own estates is altogether an impracticable one, if intended as a percentage on the arrear and current demand combined; and they urge that, if the collections, current and arrear, amount to 90 per cent. on the current demand alone, they are really satisfactory. "The true test of efficiency is" (the Board submit) "the year's collections weighed against current demand, and separating the account of arrears and its percentage on the annual demand. If the collections fall short of 90 per cent. of the current demand, or the arrears exceed 50 per cent. of a year's demand, some good reasons ought to be adducible." The Lieutenant-Governor is unable to accept the Board's proposition in the form in which it is put. If every year 10 per cent. of the current demand is to be added to the arrears of previous years, which seems to be the effect of the suggestion, he cannot certainly admit that the management is satisfactory. The Lieutenant-Governor is, however, willing to allow that undue importance may have sometimes been attached to the bare percentage of collections, looked at with reference to the total arrear and current demand of a single year, and he is aware that it is impossible in zemindari management to avoid at times allowing a considerable proportion of the current year's demand falling over into the year following. What has really to be looked at is whether the arrear demand in each estate is inordinate in amount, and whether it is increasing or lessening. When an estate is in a healthy state, the collections, taken one year with another, should be equal to the full current rental of the property. That a part of such collections is nominally on account of arrear rents makes no real difference. The management is so far entirely satisfactory. When, owing to bad seasons or other calamity, the collections of one year have been bad, it is obviously the duty of the management to recover the short collections as soon as practicable from the harvests of future years together with the current rental; and in that case the results cannot be considered satisfactory, unless the collections exceed the gross annual rental of the property by an amount proportionate to the short collections of the past. It is, however, in all cases better to write off rents really irrecoverable than to keep them for years on the books of an estate as an arrear demand against the ryots. Nothing disheartens a ryot so much as the knowledge that his payments of to-day are being credited to the rents of three years ago. Current collections would, the Lieutenant-Governor believes, be in many estates materially improved by a final, and even liberal, clearance of arrear accounts, and he would wish the Board to direct their special attention to this matter.

14. Adopting the test proposed by the Board, and applying it to the current year, it appears that the actual collections in the Government estates during the year were, as shown above, Rs. 14,29,261, or only 88 per cent. of the current demand, and the balances Rs. 7,99,575, or about 49 per cent. of that demand. At the close of 1876-77 the balances were only 41 per cent. There has therefore been a falling off in results, but this is mainly attributable to short collections in the Dacca and Chittagong Divisions, due partly to the cyclone and partly to bad administration in Noakhally. Omitting those divisions, the collections of the year were only Rs. 17,943 short of the current demand, and the balances were less than 25 per cent. of that demand. It is hoped that the results of the current year may show a general improvement.

There are still great differences between the results obtained in different districts, to which the attention of the Board should continue to be directed.

15. The ryotwaree tracts are practically Government estates, and here the collections were nearly 99 per cent. of the current demand, and the gross balance at the close of the year was about 20 per cent. of a year's demand, most of it being realizable. The results are on the whole satisfactory.

16. During the year 56 Government estates, with an area of 2,113 acres, and a Government demand of Rs. 1,541, were sold for Rs. 35,225; 52 plots of railway B lands, with an area of 201 acres, were sold revenue free for Rs. 9,677; and seven plots of C lands (area 23 acres) for Rs. 549. The price originally paid for these railway lands was Rs. 294. Eight plots of A land were given up and sold for Rs. 4,523, the area being 52 acres.

17. In paragraphs 62 to 74 of their report, the Board discuss the general features of the direct management of Government estates, especially with reference to the working of the tehsildari system. There were 8,380 estates under direct management during the year, or 139 more than in 1876-77. The collections were Rs. 8,29,042, against Rs. 7,65,063, and the charges amounted to 7 per cent. on the collections, slightly in excess of those of the preceding year. In Chota Nagpore direct management does not answer. The ryots there are accustomed to look up to the village head man, who generally acts as petty farmer of the village, and it has been admitted that a farming system of this kind is not open to the same objections as the ticcadari farms of Behar. In Julpigoree and Darjeeling the tehsildari establishments work satisfactorily, though the revenue systems of those districts are not in all respects satisfactory at present. In the Chittagong Division the results are extremely unsatisfactory. The Lieutenant-Governor would wish the Board to report specially on the results in Chittagong and Noakhally, and to submit any suggestions for improving or modifying the system as now applied there. In the Dacca Division also the results are unfavourable, and it seems very doubtful whether the scattered churs of Backergunge can ever be brought under cultivation, and be settled and properly managed by any such Government agency. There is no object in perpetuating a system which is found to be entirely unsuited to the circumstances of a tract, merely because it is of recent introduction. The Lieutenant-Governor agrees with Mr. Peacock that "in large, well-cultivated, compact-lying groups of estates there should be no difficulty, if the tehsildari establishment is properly supervised, in making this kind of management a success." But where ryots have to be brought in and settled, reclamation effected, and advances made, or where the Government estates are small and widely scattered, there is no avoiding the necessity of introducing middlemen, such as the howladars of Backergunge, making it their interest to do what the machinery of Government is too inelastic to undertake with efficiency. In Behar, on the other hand, the direct system has worked well and benefits both the ryots and the revenue, and in the Presidency Division also, where the condition of the estates is more settled, and the people more advanced, the results are also satisfactory as a rule. The Board must re-consider carefully the whole subject of direct management in the light of the foregoing remarks. Where it can be worked with any reasonable prospect of success, it should be maintained. Where it is clearly unsuited to the circumstances of the tract or estates, it should be modified or abandoned. Where it is continued, the Lieutenant-Governor would like to see young Assistant Collectors put more frequently in charge of that department in the Collector's office. They should be sent out to visit and report upon the Government estates, to look after the tehsildars, to enquire into the state of the royts, and in this way be allowed to gain a more intimate knowledge of the country and its land system than they are likely to gain from trying cases of assault and petty theft in court. The Sub-Deputy Collectors might also be more fully utilised in the inspection and supervision of tehsildari establishments and in the management of Government estates.

18. The miscellaneous revenue of the year amounted to Rs. 2,13,277, against Rs. 1,38,551 in 1876-77. The outstanding balance at the close was Rs. 83,768, but of this the greater part was nominal, and should be written off.

19. There were 200 original settlements effected during the year, giving a revenue of Rs. 19,090. There were 316 re-settlements, involving a revenue of Rs. 76,483, and 217 summary settlements with a revenue of Rs. 1,41,246. The net increase of revenue from all these settlements was Rs. 43,224. The work actually finished was thus of comparatively small importance. But there were 1,187 settlements pending at the close of the year involving a revenue of Rs. 9,77,083.

20. In Chittagong the noabad settlement is progressing, and the following table shows the outturn of the last two years :—

	Area measured.	Number of separate plots.	Cost of measurement.	Cost per 100 acres.
	Acres.		Rs.	Rs. A. P.
1877-78	137,982	166,674	24,683	17 14 2
1876-77	107,405	138,973	20,288	18 14 3

It has now been decided to make a survey of the whole thana of Chukerea in the ensuing field season in the hope that the result may serve as a guide to the further noabad operations, and as a test of the results likely to be gained by a thorough re-survey of the district. Meantime, the Lieutenant-Governor has, in communication with Mr. Dampier, the Senior Member of the Board, settled many important questions in connection with the settlement of the noabad talooks themselves.

21. Of the other pending settlements, the most important are those of Khoorda, the Western Dooars, the Darjeeling Terai jotes, and the Majnamutha and Jellamutha estates in Midnapore. In Khoorda the settlement is being preceded by a cadastral survey ordered some years ago which has hitherto been worked on a plan costing far more than the results are practically worth. The question of altering the system is under consideration, meantime but little progress has been made with the settlement. In the Dooars, out of 242,819 acres, 187,554 had been measured. The rates have recently been referred to Government for orders, and the work is going steadily on. In the Terai, out of 125,000 acres under settlement, there were only 22,000 acres remaining to be measured in April 1878. There is much work still to do in settling the rates and other matters, and the operations are not likely to close before December 1879. The settlement of the temporarily settled estates of Majnamutha and Jellamutha in Midnapore has now practically been completed, and is expected to give an increase to the Government revenue of Rs. 1,36,514, or 63¼ per cent. over the former revenue. The Lieutenant-Governor has satisfied himself that, notwithstanding the large increase, the rates are really extremely moderate, and the enhancement is nothing like proportionate to the rise in the value of the produce since the estate was last settled thirty years ago.

22. In connection with the Midnapore settlements, the Board sum up the result of the labours of the special settlement officer, Mr. Price, who has now left the district after working there since December 1871. Notwithstanding the fact that for two years of that time he was chiefly occupied in supervising the cadastral survey of the irrigable area of Midnapore, besides having charge of the office of Senior Superintendent of Survey, Mr. Price has settled about 80 estates in all, including the large properties of Majnamutha and Jellamutha, comprising 21 pergunnahs in themselves; pergunnah Palaspur with its 18 estates, and pergunnahs Kalianpore and Balorampore, both of considerable size. A large number of the estates settled consisted of relinquished salt lands, difficult to trace, and now settled for the first time. The aggregate proposed increase of revenue is Rs. 1,82,750, or 68·4 per cent. over the former jumma, and of this it may safely be assumed that at least Rs. 1,60,000 will eventually be obtained. The total expenditure has been Rs. 4,70,074, on which the increase of revenue may be taken to represent interest at about 34 per cent. per annum. The results are satisfactory, though, as the Board point out, it must not be forgotten that much of the increase is really secured by the embankent works in Hidgellee, the outlay on which is not taken into account here.

23. The work of settlement in Bengal has been much facilitated by the passing of Act III (B C.) of 1878, which lays down a procedure to be followed for bringing the under-tenants and ryots to an early decision with respect to the settlement officers' rates, and giving a priori validity to these until they are set aside by a decree of court.

24. The Estates Improvement Fund showed receipts of Rs. 1,10,702 and disbursements of Rs. 1,06,950 during the year. Some account should have been given of its administration.

25. The paragraphs of the report which deal with irrigation, drainage, and embankments, will be considered in the Public Works Department, Irrigation Branch.

26. The Subordinate Executive Establishments of Sub-Deputy Collectors and Canoongoes have continued to render excellent service. There is some difference of opinion as to whether they are most usefully employed in out-door work or in assisting the regular staff, sub-divisional officers and others, with their office work, so as to enable these last to go more frequently into the interior. The Board hold that, though the Sub-Deputy Collectors should be employed on out-door work, and should be systematically sent out once or twice a month on special enquiries, they can do most good by relieving sub-divisional officers of routine, and enabling them to give more time to more important work. It is also urged that the pay of second class canoongoes should be increased.

The Lieutenant-Governor is disposed to think that the primary duties of Sub-Deputy Collectors and Canoongoes should be in the interior amongst the people, and they should be made to supply a link in the communication between the sub-divisional officers and the villagers, which is very much required, though of course it is open to a sub-divisional officer to place them temporarily in charge of office duties when he is himself in the interior of his district. They must not be allowed to become mere office assistants, but should be two thirds of the year at least travelling about their circles.

27. The following table shows the statistics of land registration work for each division :—

Both in Dacca and Chittagong the work to be done is much greater than appears in the table, owing to the numerous cases in which applications regarding different shares, and even different properties, have been filed in one and the same petition. Notwithstanding the minute sub-division of properties in Behar, as clearly marked in the figures of the table, the work has made better progress in that division than in any other, there being less doubt as to the actual shares, owing probably to their having generally been split off by formal partition. In Orissa the number of rent free tenures is very large, and as these were treated by the settlement officers as revenue free properties, the work of registration will be very heavy, unless it is decided to exempt petty estates of this class. The matter is under consideration. On the whole, in most districts satisfactory progress has been made in disposing of applications under the Act, and recognizing the importance of completing the work as soon as possible, the Lieutenant-Governor has expressed himself willing to sanction extra agency wherever the Board think this to be really required.

28. The Lieutenant-Governor approves of the Board's proposal that Commissioners and the Board should in future, in their Annual Land Revenue Reports, notice the main facts in connection with the working of the Road Cess and Public Works Cess Acts as regards valuations, assessments, and collections. But it is unnecessary to go into minute detail in this report, as the returns of the road cess must still, owing to the difference between the financial and the road cess years, be separately compiled and reviewed long before the land revenue report is due. The Public Works cess came into force in June 1877, and three quarters' cess became due within the financial year 1877-78. The demand for the three quarters was Rs. 25,91,062, and the collections were Rs. 20,47,680. For convenience of collection, however, the Public Works Cess year has now been made coincident with the Road Cess year, which runs from 1st October to 30th September. The demand of Public Works cess for the cess year 1877-78 is Rs. 34,99,334, while the demand for road cess is Rs. 30,63,845. In connection with the road cess, it is interesting to observe the manner in which districts group themselves as regards income from the cess on lands. Taking this at maximum rates, the districts with incomes of over a lakh of rupees would stand thus—

		Rs			Rs.
1.	Gya ..	1,96,736	9.	Shahabad ...	1,48,115
2.	Backergunge ...	1,93,455	10.	Mozufferpore ...	1,44,084

with which may be compared the results in the temporarily settled districts—

The current road cess demand on lands and mines for 1876-77, the last cess year for which the statistics are complete, was Rs. 28,65,506, of which Rs. 25,04,911, or 87·4 per cent. were collected during the year. The arrears outstanding at the beginning of the year were Rs. 1,36,623, and of this Rs. 1,26,312, or 93 per cent. were collected. The arrear balance at the commencement of 1877-78 was Rs. 3,68,515, but this is accounted for by the fact that there had been a material increase in the number of districts paying cess. The house cess collections compare unfavourably with the land cess. Out of Rs. 49,812 in arrear at the beginning of the year, Rs. 8,225 remained unrealised at the end. Out of a current demand of Rs. 1,94,104, only Rs. 1,40,677, or 74·7 per cent. were collected. The expediency of abolishing the house cess altogether, now that the License Tax Act is in operation, is under consideration.

29. The Lieutenant-Governor is awaiting a report from the Board on the amendments which experience has shown to be necessary in the Road Cess Act. In many districts the time for re-valuation is coming round, and although the Lieutenant-Governor has decided that a general re-valuation of all estates is unnecessary, and that the rolls need only to be corrected where this is desired by the landholders, or where manifest error has crept in, the Board might consider in connection with those operations whether the road cess statistics compiled by the Deputy Collectors employed in the assessment might not be made more complete in form than they are at present. It seems to the Lieutenant-Governor that they just fall short of being a very useful index to the economical condition of each district. He would wish to have a special report on this at an early date.

30. The table of operations under the sale laws shows a very large increase both in the number of estates and shares liable to sale (8,077, against 4,825 in 1876-77), and in the number actually sold (907 as against 496). The Board remark that in neither year are the numbers of estates liable to sale accurately given, as in some districts an erroneous practice has been followed of showing under this heading only the numbers actually sold. This should have been detected before in the Board's or Commissioners' offices. It is, however, easy, by an examination of the tables, to see in what districts the practice has prevailed, and they only number some five or six at the outside. Comparing then the returns for the other districts for the last two years, the Lieutenant-Governor regrets to observe evidence of very considerable pressure upon the petty landlord class during the past year. The following table shows clearly where this was most felt—

	1876-77.	1877-78.	1876-77.	1877-78.
Burdwan	121	242	12	80
24-Pergunnahs	42	128	5	20
Jessore	79	151	3	9
Moorshedabad	48	240	15	46
Dacca	11	71	9	28
Furreedpore	50	116	5	12
Chittagong	1,2 5	4,052	286	373
Noakhally	67	213	4	15
Durbhunga	175	305	15	8

Purneah	118	211	6	12
Hooghly	. ...	.....	5	24
Nuddea	.....	.....	10	24
Shahabad	.....	.....	8	48

Looking to the great number of defaults, it is satisfactory to observe that in most districts the sales actually made were comparatively speaking so few. Of the total number of sales (907), 851 consisted of whole estates, 50 of shares, and six of rights and interests. The revenue demand on them was Rs. 1,57,188, and their average revenue Rs. 173. The amount due was

Rs. 37,807, and the purchase money realised was Rs. 13,30,826, or a little less than nine times the Government revenue,—a result slightly less favourable than last year. Government had to buy in 84 estates with a demand of Rs. 16,416, as against 59 estates with a demand of Rs. 1,348 last year. Appeals against sales were preferred in 42 cases, and in 19 cases the sales were annulled: in 10 other cases the sales were set aside on the ground of hardship. The number of sales in Shahabad was swelled by the disposal in this way of the Solano estates, 30 in number, of which 10 were bought by the ryots for Rs. 2,19,320. It appears that the number of sales in the Patna Division has been increased, and is likely to be still further affected by a ruling of the Privy Council which is calculated to disturb the rights of purchasers under civil court decrees in cases where the judgment debtor was under Mitakshara law. To avoid this, estates are, it is said, allowed to default.

31. The Board consider that, on the whole, the sale laws have worked well, and that, if under-tenure-holders occasionally suffer, it is through their own laches in not registering and protecting themselves. It is suggested that it would prevent many temporary defaults from carelessness or intention if the Collector were required to impose a small penalty before exempting from sale. It may be possible to meet this by imposing a higher stamp on such applications under the stamp law, and the Board should submit definite proposals without delay, as that law is now under amendment. It is satisfactory to learn that there is no trace of any serious decline in the value of property on account of the Road Cess and Public Works Cess Acts, and that the results of sales under the cognizance of the Board goes to show that land is still the most coveted investment in the country, and capitalists are willing to take less than half the interest they would demand for loans on good security as an adequate return for an investment in land.

32. The total number of partition cases disposed of was 584, against 638 in 1876-77. In the Patna Division, where most of these cases arise, the number of institutions was only 89, against 331 in the preceding year, and the number pending on 1st April 1878 was only 688, against 1,056. A check would seem to have been imposed on institutions for the present chiefly by the new law, VIII (B.C.) of 1876, which forbids applications from those who are not recorded proprietors, while making the preliminary proceedings in partition cases more strict and formal. Proprietors have therefore in many cases to await the result of the land registration operations before they can proceed with the partition of their estates. The actual working of the new partition law cannot yet be reported on, as all the cases that have come up to the Board on appeal up to date have been under the old law.

33. There were only 40 cases of redemption of land revenue, all in petty holdings in Calcutta and the Suburbs. The total amount of revenue redeemed was Rs. 113, and the price paid Rs. 2,816. The total number of petty estates on which the revenue has been redeemed with their revenue, the price realised up to the end of 1877-78, and the number remaining to be redeemed, stand thus—

In	Number of estates.	Revenue redeemed.	Price realised.	Estates remaining to be redeemed.	Revenue to be redeemed	Price expected.
		Rs.	Rs.		Rs.	Rs.
Calcutta	803	2,014	32,553	10,687	20,216	5,05,400
Punchanogram	438	2,030	40,061	16,067	50,702	12,67,559
Chittagong	14,227	5,583	55,940	13,539	5,340	1,33,494

	16,263	10,130	1,34,253	42,343	80,319	20,07,976

34. The total area of the lands acquired for public purposes during the year was 3,636 acres at a total cost of Rs. 8,43,794 plus abatements of Government revenue amounting to Rs. 240. The total area acquired under the old law (VI of 1857) up to the close of 1877-78 was 32,447 acres at a cost of Rs. 57,06,624; while 38,117 acres have been acquired under Act X of 1870 at a cost of Rs. 59,30,451. The average cost of all the land taken has been Rs. 167 an acre, but this includes all the lands taken up in and about Calcutta for the Port Commissioners and Municipality, as well as for Government, lands which sometimes averaged over Rs. 70,000 an acre. The Board report that the Act of 1870 works fairly and well in most respects, and that the chief drawback is the necessity which exists under it for referring even the most petty cases to the civil courts when any single person interested fails to appear before the Collector. The rules under the Act have recently been revised and improved.

35. There were no sales of waste lands during the year, but in Julpigoree 118 leases, covering 6,744 acres, were given. Revised tea lease rules for Julpigoree and Darjeeling have just been published, and rules for the Sunderbuns, Chittagong, and other parts of the Lower Provinces are under consideration.

36. The working of the canoongoes and putwaries in Orissa is unfavourably spoken of by the Collectors of Cuttack and Balasore. The Board are to call on the Commissioner for special report, and the Lieutenant-Governor will await the submission of this with such suggestions as may be necessary for modifying the system. In Behar the reorganization of the putwari system is going on pari passu with land registration operations, and it is hoped that good will result from the measure, and that the rules laid down will prove to be efficacious. But in Bengal proper there seems great reason to fear that the practice introduced a few years back of appointing putwaries in every estate under settlement is, as the Board say, "vexatious and irritating to the landlords, absolutely useless for all practical purposes, and a waste of valuable Government money." The Lieutenant-Governor would wish to have a careful report on this point from the Board, after they have consulted the district officers and Commissioners. It should be specially stated what efforts have been made to render the institution practically useful; what rules, if any, have been laid down for the guidance of putwaries in these scattered estates; and how the rules have worked.

37. The following table shows the number of notices of enhancement and relinquishment under the rent law in each division for the last two years:—

Divisions.	Enhancement.		Relinquishment.
	1876-77.	1877-78.	1876-77.	1877-78.
Burdwan	471	556	2,650	2,945

Bhagulpore	1,[illegible]89	665	2,25[illegible]	1,451
Orissa	103	163	10	2
Chota Nagpore	323	188	25	24
Total ...	8,216	6,826	9,051	9,665

No general inferences can be founded upon these figures. The great decrease in the notices of enhancement in the Patna Division is accounted for by the figures of Durbhunga alone, which fell from 1,042 to 7. As has been repeatedly observed, the total number of notices is so small that the action of a single zemindar may materially affect the tables. In connection, however, with this subject, the Board re-produce quotations from district and divisional reports regarding the relation of landlords and tenants. Most of these have already been noticed by the Lieutenant-Governor in reviewing the annual general reports of the Commissioners. The Board, however, express a strong opinion that the whole subject of the rent law, and of the relation between landlord and tenant, will ere long have to be dealt with in a comprehensive manner. They say—

"The Board are of opinion that the whole subject of the rent law and of the relation between the landlord and tenant, will ere long force itself before the Government, and require to be dealt with in a comprehensive manner. It is an enormous subject to face, and so beset with difficulties, that there is great danger of its raising such a controversy as may destroy the possibility of any useful measure being passed; but such a measure is urgently called for. Whether the old condition of status, which is now rapidly receding, was inferior to the present relations of mere contract, which are year by year supplanting it, may be an open question, but that the one system must disappear, and the other replace it, is now inevitable. That being so, it is the more necessary to be prepared with a code of law which may admit of being applied with equity and constructive effect, and the Board cannot say that the present code fulfils these conditions. Act X of 1859, replaced by Act VIII (B.C.) of 1869, have no doubt their merits, but the last 18 years' experience has shown many defects and mistakes in them which are continually sapping the agricultural prosperity of the country, and that the more effectually as the law is the more resorted to. The important subject of occupancy rights for instance, a most beneficial provision in its original conception, has now been reduced to a state of chaos by conflicting decisions, and it is uncertain whether more than one person can have an occupancy right in the same land, and if not, who of the many grades of under-tenants can successfully claim it. Again, the zemindar's right of suit for every kist the day after it is due, the ryot's right of depositing anything he likes and calling it his rent, all require to be carefully re-considered and kept within safer limits. Still more, the need of a simpler machinery for recovering arrears of rent, including cesses, is urgently called for. The difficulties of legislation may be postponed perhaps for another year or two, but the Board are disposed to think that the sooner the subject is grappled with the better."

The Lieutenant-Governor thinks it very possible that the revision of the Rent Law, desired by the Board, may have eventually to be taken in hand, though there is at present apparently no very marked demand for this, and he will be very glad to receive from the Board a draft of such a law. It is, however, of urgent importance to give the zemindar the means of realising more readily his undisputed rents, and at the same time to place the tenant-right of the ryot on a firmer basis, and these two ends the Lieutenant-Governor hopes to secure at no very distant date. He could not hope for any such result were the necessary measures made a part of a general codification of the Rent Law, which it might take years to settle.

38. In the districts in which rent suits are still tried by Collectors (Orissa, Chota Nagpore, Julpigoree, and Darjeeling), there was an increase of suits in all districts save Julpigoree, Singbhoom, and Manbhoom, the total number of institutions being 19,364, against 17,601 in 1876-77. The number of cases pending at the end of the year was 2,838, of which only 211 were of more than six months' standing.

39. The Lieutenant-Governor desires that the Board will impress upon district officers very strongly the great importance of their making a careful inspection of their offices in all departments at least once every six months. Officers of very junior standing are now-a-days of necessity frequently put in charge of districts before they have been able to gain a thorough knowledge of collectorate routine. They are thus entirely at the mercy of their clerks and amlah, and it would be a useful guide to them, and indeed to officers of all ranks, if the Board would prepare an inspection manual (on the model of the detailed queries already drawn up for the inspection of treasuries and sub-divisional offices), pointing out item by item the matters to which attention should be directed in the course of such an inspection. The Board might distribute the duty of drafting the interrogatories on the various departments among the most experienced and careful district officers, and after revision print and circulate them to all districts.

40. The Lieutenant-Governor presumes that the great number of pending cases in the Collector's business statement No. XX is explained by the number of undisposed of applications under the Land Registration Act. The Board might usefully examine this table a little more closely, and satisfy themselves that arrears of other work are not allowed to accumulate under cover of this registration work.

41. The receipts and disbursements of sub-divisional treasuries again show a falling off thus—

Receipts.			Disbursements.
1876-77.		1877-78.	1876-77.		1877-78.
Rs.		Rs.	Rs.		Rs.
1,30,89,157	...	1,24,90,857	1,16,18,939	...	1,06,55,544

In some instances this is due to special causes, such as the completion of large public works for which disbursements were made through sub-divisions. In many districts the cause assigned is the diminishing number of recoveries of the famine advances, which would of course affect receipts only. But the general cause which operates throughout Bengal on both receipts and disbursements is said by the Commissioner of Dacca, in the Board's letter No. 340, dated 16th May last, to be the short supply of currency notes and the restrictions placed on their use for purposes of remittance.

42. The paragraphs of the Board's report (206-7) making favourable mention of the services of particular officers will be forwarded to the Appointment Department of this office for information.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

A. MACKENZIE,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

following Statement shows the quantities of the principal staples of Traffic imported into Calcutta from the interi during the month of July 1878.

Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops.

Statement showing Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops in the different Districts of Bengal, as reported to Government during the week ending the 19th October 1878.

No.	District, and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
	BENGAL.
	Western Districts.
BURDWAN DIVS. 1	Burdwan, Oct. 19 '78	1·26	Weather—seasonable. The prospects of the crops are generally very good; but a little more rain would do great good.
	Culna ...	Nil
	Cutwa ...	0·89
	Bood-Bood ...	Nil
	Raneegunge ...	0·50
	Jehanabad ...	0·82
2	Bankoora, „ 19 „	0·58	Hot sun by day. Nights getting colder with fog over low ground. The rain that fell during the week was just sufficient to save further damage; but the haimanta and suan crops, as the ear is forming, are in a somewhat critical state. Epidemic fever grows worse in the east.
3	Beerbhoom, „ 19 „	0·42	Weather—sufficiently rainy to keep the crops in good order. The early rice now being secured is an excellent crop. The late rice is fast ripening, and promises very well indeed. This and sugarcane would be benefited by more rain.
4	Midnapore, „ 19 „	0·27	Weather—sultry and cloudy. The state and prospects of the crops are favourable. One more shower is wanted to secure a good harvest.
5	Hooghly, „ 19 „	0·05	Weather—sultry, with occasional showers. The harvesting of aus has been completed; the outturn is fair. The amun crop promises well. The prospects of the other crops are generally good. Fever is prevailing throughout the district.
	Howrah, „ 21 „	0·97	Weather—seasonable. The amun crop is making good progress. Jute is still being cut. Sugarcane has suffered a little from flood in the north.
	Mohesrakha ...	0·87
	Central Districts.
PRESIDENCY DIVS. 6	24-Pergunnahs Oct. 19 '78	0·35	Weather—hot, with showers that do good The state and prospects of the crops are favourable, with the exception of a few water-logged patches. Ordinary fever continues.
7	Nuddea, „ 19 „	0·74	Weather—fine, and somewhat cooler The amun crop is favourable everywhere. The sowing of winter crops is going on.
	Kooshtea ...	0·12
	Meherpore ...	0·92
	Chooadanga ...	1·44
	Ranaghat ...	0·21
	Bongong ...	1·04
8	Jessore, „ 19 „	0·10	Weather—clear; growing cooler. The state and prospects of the crops are good; but damage is said to have been done to the amun crop by majia insects in the sub-divisions of Narail, Khoolna and Bagirhat.
	Jhenida ...	1·93
	Magoora ...	0·3
	Narail ...	0·66
	Khoolna ...	1·85
	Bagirhat ...	0·15
9	Moorshedabad „ 19 „	0·31	Weather—seasonable. The prospects of the crops continue to be good, and prices are slightly falling, although still high. Public health is generally good, except in thana Suti, where a severe outbreak of fever has occurred.
	Lalbagh ...	0·17
	Rampore Hât ...	1·39
	Jungipore ...	2·38
RAJSHAHYE AND COOCH BEHAR DIVS. 10	Dinagepore, „ 18 „	0·25	Rain fell on the 15th instant. The weather is favourable for the winter rice. The ground is being prepared for the cold-weather crops. New rice is selling at 15 to 22 seers per rupee.
11	Rajshahye, „ 19 „	1·19	There has been heavy rain during the week throughout the district. The prospects of the dhan crop are everywhere satisfactory. The rain of the week has done much good to the ropa dhan crop. The land is being ploughed for the rubbee crops. Kalai is thriving Public health is good.
12	Rungpore, „ 18 „	0·10	The weather has been dry and hot during the week, with the exception of the 15th, when there was a shower of rain followed by a foggy morning. The state and prospects of the amun crop are satisfactory. Public health is good.
	Gaibanda ...	0·8
	Bagdogra ...	Nil
	Kurigram ...	1·60
13	Bogra, „ 19 „	1·02	Weather—clear and bright, with south-east wind blowing. The standing crops are doing well. Fever, as is usual at this time of year, is prevalent in the district, especially in Khetlal, Panchbibi and Badalgachi. One case of cholera and one case of small-pox were reported from Gohail; the former ended in death, and the latter in recovery.
14	Pubna, „ 19 „	Nil	Weather—fine and seasonable; northerly air. The amun is flourishing. Some lands are being prepared for the winter crops. Health is good.

No.	District, and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
	Central Districts.*—(Contd.)
Rajshahye & Cooch Behar Divn.—contd. 15	Darjeeling, Oct. 19 '78	Nil	Clear sunshine during the week. The condition and prospects of the crops are reported to be satisfactory.
16	Julpigoree, „ 19 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable. It is becoming cool and pleasant in the early mornings and evenings, but the midday sun is still very powerful. The haimanta dhan crop is reported as forward, and kalai, jute and sugarcane doing well. The ground is being prepared for the tobacco crop It is reported from the east of the Dooars that prices range high in consequence of large quantities of rice having been exported. These high prices are likely to prevail till the haimanta dhan comes into the market.
	Cooch Behar, „ 17 „	Nil	Weather—fair The sun is still powerful. Though the prospects of the late rice continue good, the price of rice in the town varies from Rs. 3-4 to Rs. 4; in some parts in the interior the rate is Rs. 4-8. There is some pressure among the poor people in pergunnah Lall Bazar. Rice is being exported in large quantities to other districts. The outturn of jute is reported to be satisfactory. People are busy in preparing fields for the cold-weather crops. Public health is good.

	Moonsheegunge for week ending 16th.)	0·80
18	Furreedpore, „ 20 „	0·95	Fair rain in the beginning of the week; weather latterly very hot. The crops are excellent. Reaping has commenced in some places. Public health is good for the time of year, though cholera has appeared in the Goalundo and Gopalgunge thanas.
	Goalundo ...	1·54
	Madaripore ...	1·14
19	Backergunge, „ 17 „	0·75	Weather—sultry, with occasional showers. The prospects of the rice crop are very good. Prices are stationary. Health is good.
20	Mymensingh, „ 18 „	0·23	Weather—fine and hot, with occasional showers. The rice crop on all except the low lands is favourable. No cold season crops are sown yet.
21	Tipperah, „ 18 „	1·15	Weather—fair. Rain fell on the 15th instant. Amun dhan is in a thriving condition.
	Brahmunbaria ...	0·60
	Chandpore ...	0·90
Chittagong Divn. 22	Chittagong, „ 17 „	0·88	Weather—showery. Amun promises very well. 1,200 maunds of rice and 200 maunds of paddy have been imported.
23	Noakholly „ 17 „	1·28	The weather has been very warm, unusually so for this time of the year. The crops are doing well, but there are some complaints of injury from insects. Public health continues good.
24	Chittagong Hill Tracts „ 15 „	1·45	Weather—cloudy and rainy, with occasional sunshine throughout the week. The gathering of the joom paddy crop is nearly over The prospects of the late rice crop of the plough cultivators are good. The land is being ploughed for the mustard crop.
	Hill Tipperah, „ 16 „	2·60	There has been less rain than in the previous week. The weather was cloudy and threatening at the time of report. The outturn of joom rice is good, but in many places the cotton crop has been seriously injured by insects.
	BEHAR.
Patna Divn. 25	Patna, Oct. 19 '78	Nil	Weather—hot. Good rain is now required for rubbee sowings.
	Barrh ...	0·25
26	Gya, „ 19 „	0·22	Weather—hot, and a little cool in the morning. Maximum reading in the shade 94·5° The prospects of the aghani dhan are favourable, but more rain is required. A few cases of cholera and fever have been reported The health of the plough cattle is good.
	Nowada ...	Nil
	Aurungabad ...	Nil
	Jehanabad ..	Nil
27	Shahabad, „ 19 „	Nil	Weather—hot; occasionally cloudy. Misty in the morning of the 16th. Rubbee sowings have commenced, but the ground is very dry. The late rice crop is suffering from want of rain. Prospects are doubtful, unless there is immediate rainfall. Flights of locusts causing some local injury have been reported from the Bhubooah sub-division. Fever is on the increase
28	Durbhunga, „ 19 „	Nil	The weather has become warmer. The crops should be fair in every case, but a further fall of rain would be a great advantage.
29	Mozufferpore, „ 19 „	Nil	Weather—very hot The condition of the rice crop continues generally good, but rain is wanted on the high lands. The rubbee sowings are progressing favourably.
	Hajeepore ...	Nil

BEHAR.—(Contd.)
PATNA.—(Contd.) 30	Sarun, Oct. 19 '78	Nil	Weather—hot during the day, but mornings and evenings are cool. Heavy dew at night; sky clear; no signs of rain; east and west wind. Rahar and sugarcane are looking well and promise a large yield. Paddy in the high lands is being scorched for want of rain. Rubbee is being put in the ground. Prices of all grains are rising in consequence of the failure of hateya rains. Fever is still prevalent.
	Sewan ...	Nil
	Gopalgange ...	Nil
31	Chumparun, ,, 19 ,,	Nil	Hot days. The prospects so far are good, but more rain is required for the dhan. The sowing of the rubbee crops has commenced. Prices have slightly risen.
BHAGULPORE DIVISION. 32	Monghyr, ,, 19 ,,	1·07	Hot weather, with a little rain. All round the prospects of the crops are excellent. Cholera has broken out.
	Begusarai ...	0·02
	Jamui ..	0·99
33	Bhagulpore, ,, 19 ,,	Nil	Weather—sultry, with ever varying winds Seasonable good weather for the growing crops. The bhadoi is harvested; the outturn is excellent. Prices are falling. Fever is very prevalent.
34	Purneah, ,, 19 ,,	Nil	Weather—still very hot. The mornings are pleasant. The crops still promise well.
	Kissengunge ...	Nil
	Arrareah ..	Nil
35	Maldah, ,, 19 ,,	1·02	Excellent rain fell on the 15th instant. Since then the weather has been fine and fairly cool and frequently cloudy. The crops have been greatly benefited by the rain of the 15th. Excellent reports of prospects have been received from all parts of the district. Fever is still very rife, but is rarely attended with fatal results.
36	Sonthal Perghs. ,, 20 ,,	1·77	Alternate clouds and hot sun. The light rain during the week, which has been pretty general, has secured the Kartick dhan, which promises everywhere to be a very good crop. In the Sudder sub-division, on a line of country 50 miles long, which may be taken as a sample of about a quarter of the district, the early dhan, which ripens during Kartick, is both far beyond the average in extent sown, and extraordinarily good in quality. It is a bumper among bumper crops. The prospects of the late rice are excellent.

ORISSA.
ORISSA DIVN. 37	Cuttack, Oct. 19 '87	0·55	Weather—fair and hot. The reaping of the beali crop is now almost finished, and the average outturn is 14 annas. The laghu or early sarad is in ear in some places, and the late sarad is progressing well, but it requires more rain. Cholera and much fever still prevail.
38	Pooree, ,, 17 ,,	2·84	Weather—seasonable. Rain is reported from all parts of the district. Beali and mandia are being harvested. Sarad rice is progressing well. Prospects are fair Common rice sells at $11\frac{3}{16}$ to 21 seers for the rupee. Exportation continues.
	Khoorda ...	0·49
39	Balasore, ,, 18 ,,	2·40	The rainfall of the week has been highly beneficial; the early harvest proceeds; the winter crop is in good condition; cattle disease is still destructive.
CHOTA NAGPORE.
	South-West Frontier Agency.
40	Hazareebagh, Oct. 18 '78	1·98	Weather—generally cloudy, with breaks of sunshine. Heavy showers on the 15th and 17th instants. The state and prospects of the crops have improved by the late rain. Ploughing for the rubbee is proceeding. A few more showers will increase the outturn of the ripening dhan and the area of the cold-weather sowings.
41	Lohardugga, ,, 19 ,,	Nil	Weather—unsettled, with clouds hanging about. Rain is much wanted. The bright hot weather of the past three weeks has dried up the higher lands, and unless there be a heavy shower or two, the crops will be short, particularly in the Palamow sub-division. Rain is also urgently needed for the rubbee crops, and unless some fall immediately, there will be no rubbee to speak of.
42	Singbhoom, ,, 18 ,,	0·70	Weather—warm and cloudy, but seasonable. The rain has done great good, but more is wanted. Prices have fallen a good deal. Sickness is again rife, especially fever and dysentery.
43	Manbhoom, ,, 19 ,,	1·04	Weather—seasonable. The state and prospects of the crops are favourable on the whole, but rain is still wanted for some of the higher transplanted lands. The fall of rain has been local, e. g. it rained hard at Purulia one day, doing a great deal of good where the rain fell, and a few miles off there was no rain. Ryots complain of ravages by insects in some of the higher transplanted lands.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h., and 22h.; the maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction and movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

[Third Publication.]

NOTIFICATION.

The 10th October 1878.—The following revised rules for the grant of leases for tea cultivation in the districts of Julpigoree and Darjeeling have been approved by the Lieutenant-Governor and are published for general information.

2. With reference to the provisions of the revised form of preliminary lease under which transfers, if duly registered, will in future be recognized, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to admit to registration all such transfers already completed, though made in violation of the terms of the leases hitherto in force; provided that application for their registration be made within two months of the date of this notification, and that a fee of four annas per acre be paid on the area of the lands transferred. Failing such registration, the forfeiture clause of the preliminary leases under which the lands are held will be enforced.

RULES FOR THE GRANT OF LEASES FOR TEA CULTIVATION IN THE DISTRICTS OF JULPIGOREE AND DARJEELING.

What lands will ordinarily be available.

1. THE lands that are generally available under these rules in the district of Julpigoree lie within that tract of country in the Western Dooars which extends in an easterly direction from the east bank of the River Teesta to the west bank of the River Sankos. The lands available in the district of Darjeeling lie in the Daling Sub-division of that district, and are bounded on the north by the Government Reserved Forests as notified in the Calcutta Gazette of the 7th August 1878; on the south by the Julpigoree district; on the east by the Moortee Nuddee; and on the west by the Lethee Nuddee. Any lots of Waste Land belonging to Government, lying in any other parts of the districts of Julpigoree or Darjeeling, and which are not reserved for other purposes, may also be made available for Tea cultivation under these rules.

What lands will not ordinarily be available.

2. The following lands will not ordinarily be available under these rules:—

(a.)—Lands which, by a notification in the Calcutta Gazette, are held to constitute a reserve for the supply of timber, fuel, grazing, or any other article of general and public consumption.

(b.)—Lands not included in the above category, but which now bear India-rubber trees or other valuable timber (such as sal, khair, chelownee, sissoo, &c.,) in compact blocks or patches.

(c.)—Lands in respect of which any person or persons, or any village community, possess rights of occupancy, or such other rights or privileges as render it impolitic or unadvisable to grant such lands to any other person or persons for the purpose of tea cultivation.

(d.)—Lands lying within a distance of 60 feet on either side from the centre of any public road or thoroughfare. Provided that such road or thoroughfare shall have been constructed, or shall be kept in repair, from public funds, and that it be borne on the list of the district roads of the district.

(e.)—Lands which the local Government may at any time, by a notification in the Calcutta Gazette, expressly exempt from the operation of these rules.

How and to whom application is to be made.

3. Every person, company, or association, desirous of obtaining a grant of land under these rules must, in person or by a duly authorized agent, present an application on stamped paper of the value of 8 annas to the Deputy Commissioner of the district in which the land lies.

What the application is to specify.

4. The application must specify—

(a.)—The name, or names, and address, or addresses of the applicant or applicants, and of his or their authorized agent, if any.

(b.)—The area, situation, and boundaries of the land applied for, as far as they can be ascertained without a detailed survey.

(c.)—The particulars, if any, which may appear to the applicant to bring any part of the land applied for within the exceptions mentioned in Rule 2. The application must also state whether the land, or any part of it, is or has ever been cultivated in any manner.

5. Every lot applied for must be compact and capable of being enclosed in a ring fence; and if any part of the land touches on a public road or navigable river, the length of such road or river frontage must not exceed one half the breadth of the lot applied for.

6. Not more than 800 acres will ordinarily be granted to any one applicant, company, or association; and when more than 800 acres are applied for, the applicant must set forth specially the grounds for such application, and give primâ facie guarantees that he possesses the requisite capital for working such larger area. All applications for more than 800 acres will be forwarded by the Deputy Commissioner to the Commissioner, who, if he desires to recommend compliance therewith, will forward them to the Board of Revenue, who will take the orders of Government upon each case.

7. On receipt of an application for any area not exceeding 800 acres, the Deputy Commissioner must satisfy himself, as far as lies in his power, that the requirements of the rules have been complied with. If he considers that the application should be rejected he will record an order to that effect, giving his reasons for such rejection. An appeal will lie from such order of rejection to the Commissioner of the Division if preferred within 30 days from the date of the order. If the Deputy Commissioner considers that an application for such area as it is within his power to grant should be entertained, or in the case of application for areas over 800 acres, when the orders of Government accepting the application have been received, the applicant or his agent will be required to deposit the cost of survey and demarcation to be made as hereinafter provided. The amount to be so deposited must be calculated at one rupee per acre of the total area applied for. If the area is found to be greater, the sum of one rupee per acre must be paid on account of such excess area before a preliminary lease is granted. Payments under this rule do not cover the cost of erecting permanent boundary marks under Rule 20.

Procedure on receipt of an application.

8. On receipt of the sum payable under the preceding rule, and of an agreement, signed by the applicant or by his authorized agent, to pay such further sum as may be required for the purposes above mentioned, the Deputy Commissioner will record an order appointing a tehsildar or other officer to visit the land, and to make full and detailed inquiries into its condition and circumstances.

9. The general object of such inquiry shall be to ascertain whether or not the land applied for can be granted under the rules in force; but the Deputy Commissioner may instruct the officer making the inquiry to furnish him with such other specific and detailed information as may seem to him to be necessary.

Preliminary inquiry to be made.

10. On completion of this inquiry, the officer making it will record the result thereof, and submit a report for the orders of the Deputy Commissioner. If the Deputy Commissioner, after considering the report, and after calling for such further explanations, oral or written, as he may deem necessary, shall be of opinion that the land applied for cannot be granted under the rules, and should not therefore be surveyed, he will record an order to that effect. An appeal will lie from such order to the Commissioner of the Division if preferred within 30 days from the date of the order.

11. If the Deputy Commissioner decide that the land applied for can be granted under the rules, and should therefore be surveyed, he will record an order to that effect.

12. If the Deputy Commissioner finds the land or any part of it in the occupation of any person or persons or of any village community, he will submit a full report of the circumstances for the orders of the Commissioner, stating in detail how he proposes to deal with such prior occupants; and, if it is proposed to remove them, the compensation, if any, which the applicant undertakes to pay to such persons. The Commissioner will report his orders in all such cases for the information of the Board of Revenue.

13. If any claim or objection be preferred under Act XXIII of 1863, the Deputy Commissioner will proceed to dispose of the same in accordance with the provisions of that Act.

14. The officer who made the inquiry provided for by Rules 8 to 10 will, on receipt of an order to that effect from the Deputy Commissioner, proceed to point out to the Surveyor the boundaries of the land applied for, and such prominent features in it as may be useful for the purposes of the survey, and which should, in his opinion, be entered in the preliminary lease as hereinafter provided. The boundaries and other features above mentioned should be clearly marked and defined by the officer in presence of the surveyor, and the latter should be furnished with a list of them signed by the said officer.

How the survey is to be made.

15. The surveyor will then proceed to make the survey and put up such temporary boundary marks as are necessary for that purpose. He must prepare a map showing—

(a)—All natural features of the country lying within the boundaries as fixed by the officer who made the enquiry under Rules 8 to 10, e.g., bheels, streams, forest clumps, &c.

(b)—Such features of the country lying outside the boundary of the land to be surveyed as may serve to identify the latter and connect it with the revenue survey or other existing map.

The surveyor is bound to bring to the notice of the Deputy Commissioner any fact which may come to his knowledge in the course of the survey rendering it advisable, that the land he is surveying should not be granted under these rules.

16. The map should ordinarily be on a scale of 16 inches to the mile. If possible, the surveyor's field-book should be copied at the back of it. If not, a copy of the field-book should be attached to or accompany the map. If the map be made originally in the vernacular, the Deputy Commissioner will cause it to be translated into English.

17. On the map being completed, it must be checked by an officer appointed by the Deputy Commissioner. If found to be incorrect, it will be amended by the surveyor in conjunction with the officer above mentioned. If found to be correct, it will be laid before the Deputy Commissioner with the report of the officer who made the preliminary inquiry under Rules 8 to 10, and with all other papers connected with the case.

18. The Deputy Commissioner will then proceed to consider the application. A date for this purpose must be previously fixed by him, and due notice of it given to the applicant or to his authorized agent.

19. The Deputy Commissioner shall have power to reject an application at any stage of the proceedings under the rules, if he sees reason to do so, refunding in such case to the applicant the deposit made by him on account of survey. He is authorized to reject an application when he does not consider that there is a bonâ fide intention on the part of the applicant to cultivate in tea the land applied for, or when it appears desirable to reserve the land for cultivation other than tea, or to preserve any forest standing on it. An appeal against every such order of rejection shall lie to the Commissioner of the Division if preferred within 30 days of the date of the order.

20. If the Deputy Commissioner grant the application, he will without delay grant the applicant a lease in form A of the appendix, and call upon him to execute a counterpart thereof, and to pay for all valuable forest trees as provided in clause 10 of the preliminary lease. He will also direct him to mark out the land leased by a continuous trench, or in such other manner as the Deputy Commissioner may direct. Within three months of the grant of such lease the lessee must, on pain of forfeiture of all rights in the land leased, mark out the land as above directed, and must further erect, at his own expense, such permanent boundary* marks as the Deputy Commissioner may direct. On the expiry of the three months, the surveyor must test the correctness of the boundary line and permanent marks and report the result to the Deputy Commissioner, at the same time pointing out to the lessee or his representative by written notice any corrections that may be required. If the corrections indicated are not made by the lessee or his representative within 30 days of the receipt of such notice, all rights in the land shall be liable to forfeiture to Government.

21. Whenever, after receipt of an application, as provided for in Rule 3, and after making such inquiries as he may deem necessary, the Deputy Commissioner shall be of opinion that there is no primâ facie objection whatever to the grant under the rules of the land applied for, he may put the applicant in preliminary and provisional possession of an area not exceeding one-eighth of the estimated area of the land applied for, with the object of enabling the applicant to make preparations for commencing cultivation and getting the land in order. Provided that the applicant, before obtaining such preliminary possession, shall have erected such boundary marks as the Deputy Commissioner may direct, and that the amount of all estimated charges incurred in connection with such preliminary occupation shall have been deposited by the applicant.

22. The order for, and conditions of, such preliminary occupation shall be in the form B in the appendix, and shall be addressed to the tehsildar or other officer appointed by the Deputy Commissioner. A copy of the order shall be delivered to the applicant, who shall, after receipt of occupation, acknowledge such receipt by signing a copy of the order and depositing it with the Deputy Commissioner.

23. Grantees are not permitted to club or amalgamate their grants, otherwise than by transfers duly registered as provided for in the preliminary lease. Any unauthorized amalgamation will subject the holders of the grants in question to forfeiture of all rights in the lands so amalgamated.

APPENDIX A.

Form of preliminary lease of land in granted by the Deputy Commissioner of to . (name) of (address).

1. THE lands covered by this lease are situated within the boundaries shown by the red lines in map No. , dated , and attached to the lease. The lands may be described as being bounded as follows:—

North.—

East.—

South.—

West.—

Their area is more or less acres, and they are situated in the pergunnahs and tehsils detailed in the margin.

2. The rights conveyed by this lease are heritable and also transferable, provided (a), that the entire grant, and not a portion of it, be transferred; (b), that the clearance conditions are duly observed by the transferor and transferee respectively; (c), that the transfer is registered in the Deputy Commissioner's office within 21 days of the date thereof; and (d), that a registration fee of 4 annas per acre be paid to the Deputy Commissioner on the occasion of every such transfer. If any transfer of the rights conveyed by this lease is made otherwise than in accordance with the foregoing provisions, all rights in the land leased shall be liable to be forfeited to Government. After the expiry of this preliminary lease, no right shall be claimed otherwise than as expressly provided for hereinafter.

* These boundary marks shall ordinarily consist of a masonry platform at every point where more than two lots or patches of waste or other lands meet, with large stones or mounds at every angle and at every 100 yards of the boundary line between such platforms and other marks.

3. The rent to be paid shall be as follows:—

Year of entry (i.e. from actual date of entry to 31st March following)	...	Nil.
1*st* full year (from 1st April following date of entry)	...	Nil.
2*nd* year	...	3 annas per acre.
3*rd* ,,	...	6 ,, ,,
4*th* ,,	...	9 ,, ,,
5*th* ,,	...	12 ,, ,,

The rent shall be paid to the tehsildar of in the following instalments:—

1st September, one-half; 1st March one-half.

4. The lessee shall either himself reside on or near to the lands covered by this lease, or he shall appoint a manager or agent who shall reside on or near to such lands, and who shall be provided with a full legal power to act on behalf of the principal in all matters arising out of, or concerning, the lands covered by the lease.

5. The lessee binds himself to conform to all the provisions of the rules for the grant of tea leases under which this lease is granted.

6. Five per cent. of the area of the lands leased shall be cleared by the end of the second year after the grant of this lease, and 10 per cent. by the end of the third year.

7. Any land covered by the lease which may at any time be required for a public purpose, may be taken up by Government free of cost on a reduction being made in the rent payable under the lease proportionate to the area taken by Government. But the value of any improvements or property thereon shall be paid to the lessee, and shall be assessed under the provision of the law in force for the time being for the acquisition of land for public purposes.

8. All rights to minerals or quarries of all kinds are reserved to Government.

9. No right of fishery, and no right to dam up or otherwise obstruct the passage of any stream is given by this lease. A public right of way over twenty yards on either bank of every stream, available at any time of the year for local boat traffic, is reserved.

10. All valuable forest trees which are of a girth of three feet and over at the height of four feet from the ground must be paid for by the lessee before possession is given under this lease. The kinds of trees to be so paid for, and the rates of payment for each tree, are those set forth in schedules drawn up for this purpose from time to time by the Forest Department and approved by Government. All other trees and scrub jungle are at the disposal of the lessee.

11. The Deputy Commissioner may at any time enter on, inspect, or measure the area under cultivation, and the lessee may at any time demand that such measurement be made. Provided that the expenses of any such inspection or measurement demanded by the lessee shall be paid by him as rent due. If, after such inspection, the Deputy Commissioner finds that 15 per cent. of the total area held under the lease has been brought under cultivation by means of good husbandry, and actually bears tea plants, the lessee shall be entitled to the renewal of the lease for a further period of twenty years, and to renewals for similar periods in perpetuity, subject to the following conditions:—

(a)—Subject to any general or special orders of Government the rent to be paid shall be fixed by the Board of Revenue on the report of the Deputy Commissioner on each occasion of renewal, but shall not exceed the rate of rent per acre paid in the neighbourhood at the time of renewal for the highest class of lands under ordinary cultivation. If at any future time the administration of the tracts under tea cultivation should entail on the State any considerable increase of expenditure, it will be competent to the Government, with the sanction of the legislature, to impose such special taxation as may be deemed necessary, either by raising the rent, or in some other mode. But under no other circumstances will the rent, which has now been fixed for a term of years on the principle above enunciated, be raised during the currency of such term.

(b)—The title conveyed by the renewed lease shall be heritable and transferable, provided that no transfer shall be made of less than the whole, and that no transfer shall be valid as against the Government, but shall, on the contrary, be equivalent to a surrender of the lease, unless notification of the transfer shall have been given by the transferree to the Deputy Commissioner at the time of transfer, together with a fee of 4 annas per acre of the area leased.

(c)—In all other respects, the conditions of the renewed lease shall be the same as those of the preliminary lease.

12. The rights and privileges conveyed by this lease, and by any renewed lease granted in accordance with its provisions, shall be liable to be forfeited on failure of the lessee to comply with any condition thereof.

13. If before the expiration of this preliminary lease no application for a renewal of the lease shall have been made in accordance with the above provisions, the lessee may be allowed to hold on as a tenant-at-will, but not otherwise, until other arrangements shall have been made by the Deputy Commissioner.

APPENDIX B.

To the Tehsildar of

WHEREAS of and (name) of (residence) propose to enter into an agreement in regard to certain land (situated at or near the spot herein described) for the purpose of cultivating tea, and whereas (name) of (residence) desires immediately to enter upon occupation of some part of the above lands for the purpose of making preparations for, and for commencing such cultivation, I do hereby authorize the said (name) of (residence) hereby to use for that purpose any lands lying within (here specify boundaries) and not exceeding 100 acres in all.

In the event of a lease being hereafter granted, the date of entry referred to in such lease shall be held to be not the date of this order, but the date of possession being given under such lease. In case of a lease being refused, no claim to compensation shall lie against the Government for any outlay incurred by (name) of (residence) on the strength of this order. No rent shall be payable for land occupied during the currency of this order, the term whereof shall expire on the 31st March next.

Occupation under this order, or after its expiry, without an express condition to the contrary, shall never be held to constitute any tenure other than a tenancy-at-will from year to year. The occupant shall keep the boundary line and marks in repair and clear of jungle. A copy of this order has been delivered to (name) with permission to enter into occupation. You will register him as in occupation of the land under the usual amalnama.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE, AGRICULTURE, AND COMMERCE.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

(No. 23.)

Bay of Bengal, Coast of Burma.

REPORTED SHOAL, NORTH-WEST OF CHEDUBA ISLAND.

Mr. W. E. Hutchinson, Commanding the British India Steam Navigation Company's steamer Avagyee, whilst on a voyage from Bassein to Kyouk Phyou, observed heavy rollers and breakers indicative of a shoal patch, with probably only 2 or 3 fathoms at low water, lying 8 miles to the north-west of Beacon island, Cheduba, coast of British Burma.

From the shoal, West point of Ramree island bears N. by E. ½ E., and the north-west point of Cheduba island S. E. by S., which places it in latitude 19° 2′ N., and longitude 93° 21′ 30″ E.

CAUTION.—The whole of the neighbourhood of Cheduba and Ramree islands is imperfectly known, and careful navigation is necessary.

[The bearings are Magnetic: Variation 2° 55′ Easterly in 1878.]

By Direction of the Government of India,

A. DUNDAS TAYLOR, Comdr. (late I. N.),
Superintendent, Marine Survey of India.

LEAVE, LEAVE ALLOWANCES, &c.

The 18th October 1878.

No. 3548.—The Governor-General in Council directs the publication of the following Addenda to the Codes of the Financial Department:—

CIVIL LEAVE CODE.

Section 24.

Add the following as Rule 3A on page 126:—

Rule 3A.—If a Medical Board or Officer thinks it necessary, under Section 38, Rule 3A, to detain an applicant for a medical certificate under observation before finally granting or refusing a medical certificate under the said Rule, the Medical Board or Officer should give a certificate to the applicant as follows:—

"C. D. having applied to us (or me) for a medical certificate under Section 38, Rule 3, of the Civil Leave Code, we (or I) consider it expedient, before granting or refusing such a certificate to C. D., to detain him under professional observation for * days."

If the applicant appears before the Medical Board or Officer within the period of his subsidiary leave, the effect of such certificate will be to prolong his subsidiary leave to the date on which the period mentioned in the certificate expires.

Section 38.

And add under Section 38, page 143:—

Rule 3A.—"Before deciding whether to grant or refuse the certificate to an applicant for a medical certificate under Rule 3, a Medical Board or Officer may, in a doubtful case, detain him for professional observation during a period not exceeding fourteen days.—(See Rule 3A under Section 24.)"

PART V.

Act of the Legislative Council of India.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

[First Publication.]

The following Act of the Governor-General of India in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor-General on the 16th October 1878, and is hereby promulgated for general information :—

ACT No. XVI OF 1878.

An Act to amend Act No. IX of 1878 (for the better control of Publications in Oriental languages).

Preamble.

Whereas by Act No. IX of 1878 (for the better control of Publications in Oriental languages), section five, it is exacted that when any publisher or printer is called upon by a Magistrate or Commissioner of Police to execute a bond under that Act in respect of any newspaper, the publisher of such newspaper may deliver to such Magistrate or Commissioner an undertaking in writing to the effect that no words, signs, or visible representations shall, during the year next following the date of such undertaking, be printed or published in such newspaper which have not previously be submitted to such officer as the Local Government may appoint in this behalf, by name or in virtue of his office, or which on being so submitted have been objected to by such officer, and that when such undertaking has been so delivered, no such bond and no such deposit as is mentioned in section four of the said Act shall be required from the publisher or printer of such newspaper during the said year;

And whereas by the last paragraph of section eight of the same Act it is provided that the publisher of any newspaper may, on the publication of a notice in respect thereof under section six of the said Act, and before anything has become liable to forfeiture under the said section eight in respect of such newspaper, deliver to the Magistrate of the District, or to the Commissioner of Police in a Presidency-town, within the local limits of whose jurisdiction such newspaper is published, an undertaking as aforesaid, and, if such Magistrate or Commissioner accepts such undertaking, nothing shall become liable to forfeiture as aforesaid between the date on which such undertaking is so accepted and the end of the period for which it is given;

And whereas by the same Act, section eighteen, it is enacted that when any publisher of a newspaper has given any undertaking as aforesaid, and during the period for which such undertaking is given, any words, signs or visible representations which have not been submitted to the officer appointed as aforesaid, or which on being so submitted have been objected to by him, are printed or published in such newspaper, such publisher and the printer of such newspaper shall be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to six months, or with fine, or with both;

And whereas it is expedient to repeal the enactments and proviso hereinbefore recited and the reference in section three of the said Act to the said section five; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Repeal of Act IX of 1878, sections 6 and 18, and parts of sections 3 and 8.

1. The following portions of the said Act are repealed (that is to say) : sections five and eighteen, the last paragraph of section eight, and in section three, the words "and subject to the provisions of section five."

PART VI.

Bill of the India Council.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

THE following Bill was introduced into the Council of the Governor-General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 16th October 1878, and was referred to a Select Committee :—

No. 9 of 1878.

Bill to authorize the destruction of Useless Records in Courts in British India.

Whereas it is expedient to empower the High Courts throughout British India to destroy or otherwise dispose of useless records, books, and papers belonging to or being in such High Courts, or in the Courts subordinate thereto; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Preamble.

1. This Act may be called "The Destruction of Records Act, 1878 :" it extends to the whole of British India; and it shall come into force at once.

Short title.

Local extent.

Commencement.

2. Bombay Act No. VI of 1865 (to authorize the Destruction of Useless Records in certain Courts of the Bombay Presidency) and the last twenty-eight words of section eight, clause (c), of the Central Provinces Laws Act, 1875, shall be repealed.

Repeal of Bombay Act VI of 1865, and part of Act XX of 1875.

In section thirty-nine, clause (e), of the Oudh Laws Act, 1876, between the word "such" and the word "records" the word "revenue" shall be inserted.

Amendment of Act XVIII of 1876, section 39.

3. The High Court may, from time to time, make rules respecting the disposal, by destruction or otherwise, of such records, books, and papers belonging to or being in the custody of such High Court, or the Court subordinate thereto, as the High Court may consider useless or unworthy of being permanently preserved.

Power to High Court to make rules for disposal of documents.

So far as regards his own Court and the Court of Small Causes in Rangoon, the Recorder of Rangoon shall, for the purposes of this section, be deemed to be a High Court.

4. The High Courts of Judicature at Fort William, Madras, and Bombay may respectively from time to time make rules respecting the disposal of records, books, and papers belonging to or being in the custody of the Courts for the relief of Insolvent Debtors held under the provisions of the eleventh and twelfth of Victoria, chapter twenty-one, in the towns of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay.

Similar power to High Courts at Fort William, Madras, and Bombay with respect to documents in Insolvency Courts.

5. All rules made under this Act shall be submitted for sanction to the Local Government and, on receiving such sanction, shall be published in the official Gazette, and shall thereupon have the force of law.

Rules when to have force of law.

Validation of destruction of documents hitherto.

6. All rules and orders hitherto made which would have been valid had they been made under this Act shall be deemed to have had the force of law from the date on which they were made, and shall continue to have such force until they are rescinded by rules made under this Act; and no suit or other proceeding shall be maintained or continued against any person for the disposal by destruction or otherwise of any records, books, or papers, in accordance with any such rules or orders.

Bar of suits.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The object of this Bill (which owes its origin to a difficulty felt in the High Court at Bombay) is to give the various High Courts power to dispose of the masses of useless records which, from day to day, are accumulating in these Courts and in the Courts subordinate to them. Legislation is necessary to give this power, as the documents proposed to be destroyed are, in some cases at all events, private property. The various local legislatures might no doubt provide for the Courts within their territories respectively, but as there would still remain certain Provinces for which none of those legislatures could provide, and as it seems desirable to have one general law applicable to the whole of India, the Government of India have taken the subject into their own hands.

In addition to the power given to the High Courts to make rules for themselves and the Courts subordinate to them, the High Courts at Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay, have been empowered to make rules in the case of the Courts for the relief of Insolvent Debtors in these towns respectively; for the latter Courts, as at present constituted, are neither divisions of the High Courts nor Courts subordinate to the High Courts, though presided over by Judges of the High Court, and subject to rules and regulations made by that Court.

July 20th	139	8vo. ...	1st ...	500	ditto ...	1 4 0	Gour Chandra Siddhánta, of Mymári.	Indrarekhá, the heroine, is the wife of Satyajáya, a young prince of Jodhpore. He and his elder brother Vijayendra are driven from the kingdom by their uncle whilst they are still minors. The brothers meet after a long time; but the younger, who has been imprisoned through the machinations of an enemy, takes the disgrace so to heart that he puts an end to his life after slaying Indrarekhá with his own hand. Many characters are introduced into the play, but there is no skill in their delineation, and the author has failed to produce any pleasing effect. It is not a production likely to live.	1655

1878.	Pages.					Rs. A. P.
July 24th..	158	8vo. ...	1st ...	500	Printed	1 4 0	Devi Prasanna Vasu, No. 93, College Street, Calcutta.	A tale descriptive of Hindu society. The writer dwells on the necessity of popularizing widow marriage in Bengal.	1668
The work is called after the hero Virájmohan, the illegitimate child of a young Hindu widow, who parted with the infant a few days after its birth. He is described as pious, and of a melancholy disposition. He is adopted and brought up by a wealthy person to whose fortune he succeeds. The mother and son meet in the end.
Aug. 29th	170	12mo. ...	1st ...	1,000	ditto ...	1 2 0	Bankim Chadra Chatterji, Kántálpára.	Krista Kánta Rayá, a wealthy zemindar, makes a will in favor of his nephew Govindalál, but finding that the latter is intimate with Rohini, a woman of lax virtue, he alters the will, and conveys Govindalál's share to his injured wife Bhramar. This widens the breach between the husband and wife. Govinda Lál deserts his wife and lives in an obscure village with Rohini, whom he subsequently murders on discovery of her faithlessness. He then comes back and seeks forgiveness of his wife who, however, has been pining away and now dies. Govindalál is seized with madness and drowns himself. The descriptions of native society and native character are clever and humorous.	1669

23rd June	69	12mo.	1st	2,000	ditto	0 2 0	Hridayalál Datta, 106, Ahiritola Street, Calcutta.	The punishment of Daksha by the demons of Shiva. With a view to insult his son-in-law, Daksha celebrated a sacrificial feast to which Shiv only among the gods was not invited. His wife Satí, however, went there unasked: but hearing her father abuse Shiva, she laid down her life on the spot. The news of this circumstance so enraged Shiva, that he ordered his demons to repair to Daksha's house and create a disturbance in the midst of the sacrificial rites, and punish Daksha.	2179
11th July	20	12mo.	1st	1,000	ditto	0 1 0	Sharat Chandra Ghosal and Vihárilál Chatterji, Calcutta.	A party of dissolute young men and a woman from Calcutta make a pleasure trip by water to Máhes, near Serampore, on the occasion of the festival known as Dwádasha Gopál. The revellers drink and sing indecent songs on board the boat, and at last fall out among themselves and come to blows. An inspector of police appears on the scene with two constables and seizes the party and marches them off to the thana. The book concludes with reflections on intemperance, &c. The dialogues are amusing and natural, though they contain occasional obscene expressions.	2180
25th Aug.	72	12mo.	3rd	1,000	ditto	0 3 0	Trailakyanáth Datta, Calcutta	The devotion of Dhruva, a boy of five years of age, and the austerities practised by him. The story is taken from the Vishnu Purán.	2181

AMENDMENT OF THE LAW REGARDING THE ADMINISTRATION OF NATIVE RELIGIOUS AND CHARITABLE ENDOWMENTS.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.—LAND REVENUE.

Calcutta, the 28th October 1878.

RESOLUTION.

THE necessity of amending the law regulating the administration of native religious and charitable endowments has been frequently of late years pressed upon the consideration of this Government and the Government of Madras, and has been fully admitted by the Government of India. The only doubt has been as to the precise direction which such fresh legislation should take. In order to the better understanding of the issues involved, and with a view to elicit a more general expression of opinion from the native public of Bengal, it is proposed in the following paragraphs to review in some detail the past history of the question.

2. The preamble of Regulation XIX of 1810 set forth that—"Whereas considerable endowments have been granted in land by the preceding Governments of this country and by individuals for the support of mosques, Hindoo temples, colleges, and for other pious and beneficial purposes; and whereas there are grounds to suppose that the produce of such lands is in many instances appropriated contrary to the intentions of the donors to the personal use of the individuals in immediate charge and possession of such endowments; and whereas it is an important duty of every Government to provide that all such endowments should be applied according to the real intent and will of the grantor; . . . . . the following rules have been enacted . . . ." The Regulation then went on to provide that the general superintendence of all lands granted for the foregoing purposes should be vested in the Board of Revenue and Board of Commissioners in the several districts subject to the control of those Boards respectively. It was declared to be their duty to take care that all endowments of the kind described should be duly appropriated to the purpose for which they were destined, and to prevent any such lands from being converted to private uses or misappropriated. To enable the Boards to carry into effect their duties, local agents were appointed in each zillah and made subject to their control. The Collector was always to be ex-officio a local agent, and with him were associated such officers in the civil, military, or medical branches of the service as the Governor-General in Council judged expedient. (By Act XXXVIII of 1837, the restriction of appointments to these branches of the service was removed.) It was made the duty of the local agents to obtain full information regarding all endowments of the kind described in the preamble, and to report to the Boards instances of misappropriation; also to ascertain and report the names, together with other particulars, of the (then) present trustees, managers, or superintendents of the various institutions; also to report all vacancies and casualties among such persons, with full information of all circumstances, to enable the Boards to judge of the pretensions of the person or persons claiming the trust, particularly information regarding the character of the succession up to date. Where the nomination vested in, or devolved upon Government, the local agents were to propose a fit person to the Board, who would either appoint him, or make other suitable arrangements. Any individual aggrieved by any orders passed by the Boards or local agents with respect to the appropriation of any lands, might sue for redress in the civil courts.

3. Such were the provisions of the first law on the subject of religious and charitable endowments in Bengal. It will be observed that the regulation only provided for the due administration of lands granted for pious uses before the passing of the regulation. It took no cognizance of endowments other than land, or of grants made after the date of its passing. But as regards landed endowments existing in 1810, the intention was that all of them should be brought under the control of the local agents and the Board. As a fact, however, in the great majority of districts in Bengal, the provisions of the regulation were never put in force. Outside the province of Orissa, where the religious endowments were too prominent a feature in the district economy to be altogether overlooked, the regulation seems to have been applied in less than twenty cases. In Orissa itself there were hundreds of endowments that were never brought under the regulation. Indeed a special committee appointed to enquire into the Orissa endowments reported, in respect of the mass of the endowments in that province, that 'the local agents appear to have taken action only where their interference was called for, by the succession to the trust being in dispute between conflicting claimants.'

4. Then, as to the powers which the authorities possessed under Regulation XIX of 1810, it will be observed that they were really in many respects extremely vague. It was not stated how the Board were to act in order to prevent misappropriation, or how their orders on the pretensions of claimants, in cases where the right of appointment did not lie with Government, were to be carried into effect. The official position of the Boards and of the local agents enabled them doubtless to give effect to their decisions.

5. After 1840, under instructions from the Home Government, the connection of the officers of Government with religious endowments began to be more or less completely severed, and the institutions with their revenues were generally made over to unofficial trustees and managers, Government divesting itself entirely of such powers of nomination as it may have possessed. This executive action was, however, admittedly in contravention of the spirit, if not also of the letter, of the law; but it was not until the passing of Act XX of 1863 that the policy involved in it was formally recognized by the Legislature.

6. Act XX of 1863 set forth that it was "expedient to relieve the Board of Revenue and the local agents from the duties imposed on them by Regulation XIX of 1810, so far as those duties embraced the superintendence of land granted for the support of mosques or Hindoo temples, and for other religious uses; the appropriation of endowments made for the maintenance of such religious establishments; the repair and preservation of buildings connected therewith, and the appointment of trustees or managers thereof; or involved any connection with the management of such religious establishments." The Act then proceeded to divide religious endowments into two classes—first, those in which, at the time of the passing of the Act, the nomination or appointment of the trustee, manager, or superintendent rested in any way with Government or any public officer; and second, those in which, at the time of the passing of the Act, such nomination or appointment did not in any way vest in Government or any public officer. In the case of endowments of the first class, the Act provided for the appointment, once for all, of one or more committees in every division or district to take the place and exercise the powers of the Board of Revenue and local agents. The committee was to be appointed from among persons professing the religion with which the endowment was connected, and in accordance with the general wishes of those interested in the maintenance of such mosque, temple, or religious establishment. The members were appointed for life and removeable only for misconduct or unfitness under the orders of the civil court. Vacancies among the members were to be filled up by election by the "persons interested," the election being managed by the remaining members of the committee. If the committee failed to take action, any person whatever might apply to the civil court, which was empowered to appoint to the vacancy, or to order the committee to fill it up. On the appointment of a committee, the Board or local agents were to hand over to them the property of the endowment.

In the case of endowments of the second class, the Local Government was to hand over to the trustee, manager, or superintendent all the property, and the powers of the Board and local agents then ceased and determined. On the occurrence of a vacancy in the office of trustee, if any dispute arose as to succession, any person interested might apply to the civil court to appoint a manager to act until some other person established a better claim by suit.

Trustees, managers, and superintendents, in both classes of endowments, were bound to keep regular accounts, and committees of endowments of the first class were empowered to call for these at least once a year, and bound to keep accounts themselves. Any person interested might sue any trustee or member of committee for breach of trust, misfeasance, or neglect of duty, and the civil court might on such suit direct specific performance of any act, award damages and costs, and direct the removal of any trustee, superintendent, manager, or member of committee. The only restriction upon the conveyance of endowments to the trustees and committees, as the case might be, was contained in section 21 of the Act, which provided that, where endowments were partly for secular and partly for religious uses, the Board of Revenue might retain a portion of the property for application to such secular uses, or make over the lands burdened with a suitable charge on this account payable to the Board and local agents.

7. The Act nowhere defined what were to be treated as religious and what as secular uses, and very diverse opinions have been put forward and acted upon in giving effect to it. The Commissioner of Orissa, for instance, held in 1864 that there were no endowments in the province that could be said to have been made for secular purposes; even those in which charity to the poor was the predominant feature being intimately connected with religious observances, places, or establishments. The whole of the endowments in Cuttack were therefore made over absolutely either to trustees or committees, and a similar course was commonly followed elsewhere. There can, however, be no doubt that in by far the greater number of endowments the original intention of the donor was to benefit the poor and helpless, though the very nature of the Hindoo's creed, under which morals and religion and law are one, compelled him to consecrate his charity by vowing it in the name of some god. It has therefore, on the other hand, been very strongly argued that in abandoning the control of such charitable endowments Government went quite beyond the necessities of the case. It is also worthy of notice that, for years before Act XX was actually passed, the policy of Government having been to make over to independent trustees and managers as many endowments as possible, the great majority of existing endowments were on the passing of the Act found in the possession of trustees not nominated by Government, who became at once absolutely invested with the control of the property. In the great majority of districts no committees were appointed; indeed they were, outside Orissa, appointed in only the five districts of Dacca, Patna, Jessore, Burdwan and Moorshedabad, and in Orissa it would seem that no district committee was appointed, though small separate committees were appointed to supervise some of the more important endowments.

8. In so far as regards the procedure to be followed after the endowments were made over by the Government, Act XX of 1863 proved from the very outset to be practically inoperative. Its defects were thus described by the late Governor of Madras:—

(i.)—Want of effectual legal provision for compelling trustees to perform their duty. The "person interested," deterred partly by the expense and delay of litigation, partly by want of sufficient interest, partly (as it would seem) by dislike to try religious questions in a Christian court, probably also in part by ignorance and misapprehension, never appears, and committees and trustees appropriate the funds absolutely at their own pleasure.

(ii.)—The powers and duties of committees are insufficiently defined. The Act describes them vaguely as those which formerly belonged to the Board of Revenue.

(iii.)—No effectual provision for supplying vacancies. As regards committees, these are to be supplied by election, and in default by the civil court. But no election ever takes place, and no notice of a vacancy is ever given to the court.

(iv.)—Committees are unpaid and without any strong interest in the creditable performance of their duties.

(v.)—The Act makes over one large class of institutions to trustees uncontrolled by any supervising agency whatever.

To these might be added—

(vi.)—The committees had no power to raise out of the property belonging to the endowments the expenses necessarily incurred in the performance of their duties, though they were liable to be sued for neglect of such duties.

9. The Commissioner of Orissa reported in 1867 that "in that province committees of management appeared to be apathetic and indifferent, and had taken no action whatever; and the result of the act had been to leave the entire management of religious endowments, formerly supervised under Regulation XIX of 1810, in the hands of the hereditary or officiating priests and pundahs. The revenues of the endowments were squandered or appropriated to private uses, while the services of the temples and charitable distribution of food or alms had been entirely neglected and abused. Generally throughout Orissa the management of temples, muths, and other religious endowments was a scandal, and appeared likely to remain so until there was a stronger and more efficient system of management and supervision than that exercised by the local committees."

10. When Sir Cecil Beadon visited Cuttack in 1866, a deputation of Hindoo gentlemen pressed upon him the necessity of amending the Act, so as to give committees more power over trustees and managers; and in 1867 they submitted formal memorials to Government, praying that the orders of the committees might have given them the effect of decrees of court or awards of arbitration and be enforced as such; and that the control of committees should be extended to those endowments which had been made over to trustees, and indeed to all endowments in which the public were in any way interested. In forwarding these memorials, the Commissioner remarked that had the revenues of the charitable endowments of the province been applied in accordance with the intentions of the grantors, the whole starving population of Orissa might have received the relief and assistance which had then lately been administered at the cost of the State.

11. Under the orders of the Government of India a commission of three native gentlemen was appointed in February 1868 to enquire into the general condition of religious and charitable endowments in Orissa, and invited to submit proposals for the amendment of the Act. The report of this commission was received through the Board of Revenue in August 1869. It left no doubt as to the existence of gross and general misappropriation of the property of the endowments, but the proposals made to remedy these abuses were by no means very clear or complete. They are contained in the following paragraphs of the report:—

29. To this end we would suggest the following alterations in the present law. In the first place, we would recommend that all institutions and endowments to which Act XX of 1863 apply should be placed under the control of the committee appointed under section 7 of the law, instead of only those specified in section 3, as at present. The committee possesses under the law, as it now stands, the same powers as the Board and local agents had under Regulation XIX of 1810—powers which enabled the Board, as above stated, to dispossess trustees of the estates, and put other persons in their stead. We only consider it desirable that the committee's powers should be distinctly laid down, instead of being left to be inferred, as they have to be done at present: we would not make their decisions final and unappealable, but would place them exactly in the position of the Board of Revenue in Regulation XIX of 1810, in respect to both powers and responsibilities; that is to say, give them complete jurisdiction over the administration of the institutions, extending to the removal of the trustees, their powers in the matter of appointment being limited to institutions of the kind mentioned in section 3, rendering them at the same time liable to be sued in the civil court, the costs being paid out of the endowment funds; except in those cases in which the Court may, for particular reasons traceable to improper motives on the part of the committee, direct otherwise. Our reasons for so limiting the committee's powers, speaking with reference to the suggestions on the point as contained in the petitions made by the residents, are that it may not always be possible to get men to act on the committee sufficiently intelligent and upright to warrant such large powers being conferred upon it as those proposed by the petitioners. Their proceedings might be conducted on the same plan as that upon which those of arbitrators under Act VIII of 1859 are carried on; the Civil Court giving them, when necessary, such aid as they may stand in need of in the matter of compelling the attendance of witnesses and the production of accounts, and their decisions might be enforced by the Civil Court like the Court's own decrees.

30. The provision of the law as to the appointment of a separate committee for each endowment is, in our opinion, calculated to secure better supervision than what could be exercised by a single divisional or district committee. But the plan is open to the objection that it is not likely that persons will be found in all the localities sufficiently qualified to be trusted even with such limited powers as those proposed to be given to such committees. To provide against this, we would recommend the appointment of a central divisional committee, to direct and check the proceedings of local committees. The latter, we are inclined to think, might with advantage be made to supply the place of the local agents, and the former that of the Board in Regulation XIX of 1810.

31. We have to offer no suggestions in regard to the mode of appointment and constitution of committees. The law on these points as well as that bearing on the removal of members, filling up vacancies, &c., might unobjectionably be allowed to stand unaltered.

32. We are unwilling to recommend that the members of committees should be paid, being persuaded that none worth having on such committees would think of accepting any remuneration for trouble taken in the cause of charity and religion.

12. In forwarding this report, the Board of Revenue remarked as follows:—

2. The subject is one of much difficulty. It appears to the Board that the only really efficient and practical supervision possible at present is that which would be conducted by Government officials. As this, however, is, they presume, out of the question, the remaining alternative is to trust to committees, to whom should be delegated power sufficient to enable them to act, and who should be guaranteed from all risk of loss from any acts done in good faith.

3. The recommendations made in the report now submitted are not very clear. In paragraph 29 the Committee say—"We would place them (committees) exactly in the position of the Board of Revenue in Regulation XIX of 1810:" but this is exactly the position these committees do occupy with regard to one class of endowments, as is admitted in the report. The language of paragraph 7 of Act XX of 1863 is as precise and definite as it can be on this point. The real difficulty as regards the powers of local committees under the present law is that Regulation XIX of 1810 did not specify what the powers of the Board were. The Board agree with the opinion expressed by the committee that the extent and nature of the powers exercised should be for the future unmistakeably laid down.

4. Again, it is proposed in the report that committees should be "liable to be sued in the civil court, the costs being paid out of the endowment funds." There seem to the Board to be two difficulties in the way of any such plan: first, that the endowment funds are charitable funds, which should not be diverted to litigation; secondly, that the endowment in dispute may possess no funds out of which costs could be paid. For example, a mohunt may have been turned out by a committee, and another man put into his place, the funds of the endowment being just sufficient to carry out the purposes of the endowment and support the necessary establishment. Where, in such a case, would be the funds out of which costs should be paid?

5. The plan which commends itself most to the judgment of the Board is that in each division or district, as may be thought most expedient, there should be a central committee, composed of persons whose decisions would carry weight with the public; that under them there should be as many sub-committees as might be required; that to the sub-committees should be entrusted the duty of enquiring into the management of all endowments within a defined circle, with power to call for accounts and to take evidence; that the sub-committees should report their proceedings to the central committee; that with this latter should rest the power to dismiss the mohunt, to appoint in cases of vacancy according to the custom of the endowment, and generally to exercise all powers of punishment, which, it may be inferred, Regulation XIX of 1810 gave to the Board of Revenue, including the power of fining within a certain limit when accounts are withheld; that any suit in the civil court brought against the central committee should only be entertained on the plaintiff supplying funds for the defence as well as the prosecution, and that costs should only be awarded against the members of such committee when, in the opinion of the court, they had acted in bad faith.

6. It is a question for consideration whether the Secretary of the Central Committee should not be paid a monthly salary, to be levied proportionately from the proceeds of each religious endowment.

7. The Board are aware that many objections may be urgrd to this proposal, but, in the absence of all Government supervision, they see no alternative between some such plan as now recommended, and the practical freedom, as at present, from all checks over the trustees of religious endowments.

13. The report with the Board's letter was laid before the Government of India by Sir W. Grey with the following remarks :—

2. The investigations of the Committee seem conclusively to show that, in the great majority instances, the funds of the religious and charitable endowments of the province are squandered or misappropriated by the Managers or Trustees who directly administer them. Where the endowments were formerly under the charge of the Agents of the Revenue Board, the Local Committees are, as the law stands, powerless to exercise efficient control, even in the few cases where they are really anxious to interfere: and where the endowments were originally exempt from Government supervision, the Trustees are now only the more reckless in their profligacy, as they find themselves no longer singular in their indulgence of it.

3. Accepting the policy of Act XX of 1863 as one from which it is not now open to recede, the Lieutenant-Governor thinks it clear that the Act has failed to give sufficient legal power to the Committees in whose hands the control of religious endowments are vested. Under Regulation XIX of 1810, the Board of Revenue had, it is true, no more definite power than is now held by the Local Committees, but as pointed out in paragraph 27 of the Report now forwarded, the Board were, by their official position, and the influence of the Collectors, as their local agents, able to exercise a real authority to which the Local Committees can show no claim. This would appear to have been overlooked when Act XX of 1863 was passed.

4. What seems to be required now, is to strengthen the hands of Local Committees and to bring under their control endowments of all kinds, whether originally supervised by Government or not, and to create a Central Committee in each district with very full and absolute powers of control over the Local Committees, and over the Managers of the various endowments. The proposals made by the Board of Revenue in paragraph 5 of their covering letter have the Lieutenant-Governor's general approval. The necessary expenditure incurred by the Central Committees and Sub-Committees should be provided rateably from the endowment funds, and the post of Secretary to each Central Committee should have a salary attached to it sufficient to secure the services of a competent and trustworthy man.

5. An examination of the tables attached to the Committee's Report has led the Lieutenant-Governor to doubt whether in divesting itself of the Orissa endowments, the Board of Revenue has sufficiently attended to the provisions of Section 21 of Act XX of 1863. That section empowered the Board to reserve under its control all endowments or parts of endowments designed for secular uses. It may be inferred from the tables annexed to the Report, however, that the transfers of the endowments therein mentioned, have been made absolutely and without sufficient inquiry as to the different purposes for which the funds are intended. On this point a reference will be made to the Board of Revenue, and the Lieutenant-Governor would suggest that if the fact should prove to be as above surmised, any amending Act might provide for the rectification of the oversight, and that it should at the same time define what are to be considered "secular uses" for the purposes of the Act. On this point paragraphs 14 and 20 of the Committee's Report deserve consideration.

6. It will be observed, that the Report deals only with the Hindoo endowments of the province of Orissa which are by far the most numerous and important of all the endowments in Bengal. Some further inquiry will be made as to the state of things elsewhere, and also as to Mahomedan Institutions, but early legislation for the purpose of giving a better protection to the numerous Hindoo endowments in Orissa seems very desirable. The principles which may be laid down in regard to them, will no doubt be found to be generally applicable.

The only matter of doubt appears to be whether the expenditure incurred by the Committees of Mahomedan endowments, can be met from the funds under their control, wuqf being under Mahomedan law inalienable. On this point I am to refer you to the papers forwarded with this Government letter No. 501, dated 5th February 1869. It will be for the Government of India to determine whether section 15, Regulation IV of 1793, is a bar to legislation on this matter in the present day. It seems probable that enlightened Mahomedans would not now object to such a proposal, and the best way perhaps to meet the difficulty would be to vest by law the Committees with the powers of Mutawali for certain specific purposes.

7. I am to add that the Lieutenant-Governor apprehends that though the proposed legislation would not in any way contravene Act XX of 1863, being indeed rather the complement of that law, yet as it would technically be considered an amendment of the Act, it would be beyond the competence of the local legislature.

14. In accordance with the undertaking given in paragraph 5 of the foregoing quotation, the Board of Revenue were asked to submit a return showing all the endowments—Hindoo, Mahomedan, Jain, or other—in the Lower Provinces, whether such had been under the control of the Board under Regulation XIX of 1810 or not, with careful specification of the uses to which they had been appropriated. It was represented, however, that the number of endowments which had been left entirely free of Government control was so vast, that the preparation of anything like a complete return would require a special agency and occupy many months, and by subsequent orders the enquiry was restricted to the case of endowments of which cognizance had been taken under Regulation XIX of 1810. The result of this enquiry was to show (as has been already noted) that, outside Orissa, only about 16 endowments had ever been brought under that regulation. Even in Orissa it appeared that comparatively few of the endowments had ever been controlled under that law, and what the Commissioner and the Native Commission, who were again consulted, urged was that, in any amendment of the law, it should be made to include all endowments not of a strictly family and hereditary character and designed for the benefit of individuals only.

15. The Native Commission took this opportunity to submit a supplementary report with the draft of a Bill for giving effect to their revised proposals. The Bill is printed as appendix A to this resolution.

In explanation of the principal provisions of the Bill, the Commission remarked—

18. Next, as to the agency by which the administration of the endowments is to be controlled. Whatever may be our views regarding the policy of Government in disconnecting itself with institutions of the kind under notice (we have already expressed ourselves clearly on the point, vide paragraph 19 of our previous report), it is, we are afraid, looking to section 22, Act XX of 1863, vain to expect that Government should recede from such policy and re-assume the superintendence of the endowments. If this be so, the agency provided for by Act XX of 1863 is best calculated to answer the purpose. Instead of there being, however, only local committees one for each institution and such local committees taking the place and exercising the powers of both the Board of Revenue and the local agents in Regulation XIX of 1810, as laid down in section 7, Act XX of 1863, there should be a central committee for the division which should take the place and exercise the powers of the Board in respect of all the institutions in the division, the local committees performing the functions of the local agents, each with regard to the particular institution placed under it. Our reason for recommending such a double system as this is, that on the one hand the requisite number of persons sufficiently qualified to be entrusted with the powers which ought to vest in the local committees, supposing there is to be no central committee, can hardly be expected to be found anywhere except at the divisional or district head-quarters, and that on the other hand a single committee sitting at the divisional or district station could but ill control the management of all the institutions in the division or district situated, as they are, in different parts of the country, some of them far distant from such stations. We prefer a divisional to a district central committee, as well with a view to complete centralization as in order to secure uniformity of system throughout the division in all matters connected with the institutions.

19. Now as regards the powers of the central committee. We do not propose that it should have larger powers of supervision and control than those contemplated by Act XX of 1863, which are the same as the Board of Revenue possessed under Regulation XIX of 1810. It is simply necessary to supply what is obviously an omission in the previous laws, viz., a clear definition of such powers. This we have done in detail in Appendix I. The only part of these powers which may seem sufficiently important to demand an explanation here, is the authority proposed to be given to the committee to remove trustees, and generally to confirm their appointment, and, in the case of the institutions of the kind specified in section 3, Act XX of 1863, to nominate them itself. It can hardly be said that our proposition goes ahead of Regulation XIX of 1810, which, though it did not expressly confer such authority upon the Board, evidently intended to do so by implication, as will appear from the portions of the law already quoted above. We are not singular in putting the construction we do upon them,

There are instances of trustees having been removed by the authorities, and that not only in the case of the institutions which would come under section 3, Act XX of 1863, to show that the law was always so interpreted. Indeed, it is hard to conceive how the authorities could, without exercising such powers, to quote the words of the Regulation again, "take care that the endowments were appropriated to the purposes for which they were intended" or "prevent misappropriation." If, therefore, the committee is to be expected to accomplish the same end, it follows that they must have the same powers.

20. We are conscious that, allowing due weight to the considerations we have above set forth, powers of removal, &c., are large powers to confer upon any person or body of persons, and the more so upon a quasi-judicial body such as the central committee is proposed to be. We have accordingly taken care to recommend the same safeguards as Regulation XIX of 1810 provided,—safeguards which we consider amply sufficient not only against intentional abuse of power but also against errors of judgment. The parties aggrieved by the committee's proceedings have the right to sue it in the civil court, and the civil court has the power not only to upset the committee's orders, but also to award costs and damages against the committee, should it see good reasons to do so. If, notwithstanding such provisions as these, calculated, as they are, almost to ensure uprightness and carefulness on the part of the committee, a few evils should arise, and we do not pretend to predict the contrary, they can only be looked upon as necessary evils.

21. The powers which we would give the local committees have also been set forth in the appendix above referred to. These are just sufficient to enable them to perform the duties we would impose upon them, which are much the same as those which devolved upon the local agents under Regulation XIX of 1810.

22. We futher think it necessary that the committees, both central and local, should be recognized as representatives as well of the endowers as of the persons interested in the endowments, as such interest is defined in section 15, Act XX of 1863, and as such should be authorized to institute proceedings in the courts. Such a provision is specially called forth by the necessity which, notwithstanding the supervision and control provided for, may arise, perhaps not unfrequently, for resorting to the courts for the purpose of recovering land or other property improperly transferred, or of preventing the transfer of such property. It is not that in recommending the provision we desire to provide against speculative contingencies. Alienations of endowment lands by the trustees, either under some pretence or other, or without any assigned cause, and sales of such lands by the civil courts in execution of decrees for debts against the trustees, have, especially of late, been rather frequent than otherwise, a result which we think to be due, though secondarily—the primary cause being of course the exceptionable conduct of the trustees—to the absence of any representative body, such as we have proposed, which would and could dispute the right of the trustees to alienate trust property, or contest the liability of such property to sale for their debts.

23. The mode in which the committees are to conduct their proceedings and execute their orders has likewise been described in the appendix. The rules of procedure have been drawn upon the model of those which generally regulate the proceedings of arbitrators, and the orders of the committee have been proposed to be carried into effect, when necessary, by the civil court in the same manner as its own decrees are executed.

24. The rules we have proposed relating to the mode of appointment and constitution of the committees, the removal of the members, filling up vacancies, &c., have been taken almost verbatim from those contained in the points in Act XX of 1863, the slight alterations made being rendered necessary by the double agency recommended. The general terms used in section 8 of that law, respecting the religious persuasions of the persons to be selected as members, need not be adopted in the case of the central committees, which might unobjectionably be composed of persons of only the Hindu and Mahomedan persuasions, inasmuch as all the endowments belong to one or the other of these two religions, Jain or any other similar persuasion being a sect of the Hindoo religion rather than a different persuasion. The number and extent of the Hindu endowments being by far the greater, the majority of the members should, in our opinion, be of the Hindoo persuasion. As to ascertaining the general wishes of the persons interested, as provided for in the same section, the measure is almost impracticable in the case of the central committee; and even if it were otherwise, we do not quite see the utility of making such a provision, considering that there do not exist such an intelligent public as the law would pre-suppose. The provision in section 8 has remained almost a dead letter.

25. In order to enable the central and local committees to meet the expenses incidental to the performance of their functions, we have proposed that they should be authorized to raise funds by proportionate assessments on the incomes of the several institutions under their superintendence, and that, in the event of the trustees or managers failing to pay their respective quotas, the committees should have power to assume the direct management of the endowment property for the purpose of realizing the same.

26. As regards the power the civil court is to have, we do not purpose to take away any of those which it possessed either under Regulation XIX of 1810 or Act XX. of 1863, or in the least to limit them, as will appear from the general provision we have inserted on the point in the appendix. We have thought it proper further to recommend that sections 14 to 20, Act XX of 1863, be retained with slight alterations.

27. Now, as to the extent of the operation of the amended law. The proposed Act should, in our opinion, be the general endowment law applicable to all endowments of the kind under consideration, though no institution should be considered as coming within its operation until an order of Government shall have specially extended it to the same.

16. The Board of Revenue approved generally of the proposals of the Commission. They were not, however, submitted at this time (January 1871) to the Government of India, partly because the information given with respect to some considerable endowments was very incomplete, and partly because intimation was received from that Government that they had decided to invite the opinions of other Governments and Administrations before taking action to amend Act XX of 1863. The question became also to some extent complicated by another suggestion made by the Commissioner of Orissa in connection with the Pooree Lodging-house Bill, that the Government might meet the practical necessities of Orissa by levying a fixed percentage upon all pilgrim endowments, to be spent by Government for the benefit of the pilgrims. The Commissioner was even sanguine that he could induce the muthdars to make voluntary annual contributions for this purpose, and he was allowed to try. The attempt seems to have been a failure, and the papers connected with the whole subject of endowments were then apparently allowed to lie by.

17. Attention was again drawn to them on the receipt of a circular from the Government of India, dated the 16th November 1874, enquiring what the practice was in Bengal as to the alienation of endowments to meet the debts of their temporary trustee or manager. The replies to this circular from local officers went to show that, while the rule of law is clear enough as to the illegality of alienation of trust property either in sales under decrees against the trustee personally or by voluntary transfers, they are in practice by no means uncommon, owing to collusion between creditors and debtors, and in Orissa have come to be regularly recognized. In submitting to the Government of India the Board's report upon this matter, Sir Richard Temple took the opportunity of pressing again upon that Government the necessity of amending Act XX of 1863, and, forwarding the whole of the more recent correspondence, drew attention to the draft Act submitted by the Native Commission in 1870, which seemed, he thought, calculated to meet the object in view.

18. In reply to this, the Government of India, on the 23rd March 1876, forwarded a copy of a correspondence with the Government of Madras regarding the amendment of Act XX of 1863. The conclusions come to by the Government of India are embodied in the following paragraphs of their letter No. 306, dated the 29th February 1876, to the Government of Madras:—

2. The Government of India agree with the Government of Madras that Act XX of 1863 has failed to prevent malversation of the endowments dealt with under its provisions, and that fresh legislation in the matter is necessary.

3. It must be understood, however, that the policy of which the Act of 1863 is the expression should, as far as possible, be maintained; and in this view it appears to the Government of India that there is more probability of a successful solution of the question in the scheme propounded by Sir William Robinson in his Minute of the 10th October 1874 than in any other scheme that has yet been devised. His proposals involve no direct interference in the administration of the endowments by the European officers of the Government, but provide that the duty should be entrusted to a strong Native Board exclusively devoted to the work, and armed with full powers to inquire into and obtain redress for abuses of their authority by the local managers of the trusts.

4. It is doubtful whether it will be possible to appoint in the districts efficient local committees, unless the European element be included in them; but, as suggested by Sir W. Robinson, there would seem to be no difficulty in providing for the effective discharge of most of the duties which would be assigned to district committees by the appointment of Inspectors acting under the orders of the Central Board. For the work to be done thoroughly the members of the Board and their staff must be well paid; and there seems to be no reason why their salaries should not be defrayed from the funds of the endowments. It will probably be better that the members should be appointed and removed by the Government, as any system of election for the first or future members of the Board would not be likely to answer well.

5. The appointment and removal of trustees might be vested in the Central Board, subject to rules to be approved by His Excellency the Governor in Council. It does not seem necessary to fix the number of trustees for each endowment; this must vary according to the nature and previous history of the trust.

6. There would seem to be no objection to provide for the application of the surplus funds of the endowments to useful public purposes, such as the establishment of a school for general education, or of a scholarship, or the construction of some beneficial local work.

7. I am to take this opportunity of acknowledging your letter No. 59,* dated 12th January 1875, relative to the sale of certain villages under judicial decrees for debts due by the manager of the property, notwithstanding that the estate had been held on a rent-free tenure for charitable purposes. In the opinion of the Government of India provision should be made for the protection from alienation, under decrees of courts, of inams granted for religious or charitable purposes.

* To the Department of Revenue, Agriculture, and Commerce.

8. I am to request that, with the permission of His Excellency the Governor in Council, a Bill, based upon the above suggestions, supplemented and modified according as local experience may suggest, may be submitted to the Government of India for sanction under section 43 of the Indian Council's Act and for transmission to the Secretary of State. Steps will then be taken here at the proper time to repeal Act XX of 1863, as far as the Madras Presidency is concerned, so as to remove the objection under section 42 of the Indian Council's Act as to the competency of His Excellency the Governor's Council to deal with this subject. I am also to request that the fullest information available may be supplied as to the actual facts of the misappropriation of the funds of the endowments. It is gathered from some expressions used in the proceedings of the Madras Board of Revenue, dated the 18th July 1874, that the Board and the Government had before them specific instances of misappropriation which were regarded as affording strong confirmation of the opinion on which the recommendation in favour of fresh legislation was founded, but the papers showing this have not been sent up.

19. The minute by Sir W. Robinson, to which allusion is made in the foregoing extract, proposed to follow, in dealing with these endowments, the model of the English Charitable Trusts Acts of 1853, 1855, and 1860. His views are set out in the following paragraphs of his minute:—

Following, mutatis mutandis, the model proposed (Charitable Trusts Acts of 1853, 1855, and 1860), the first step to be taken is that Government appoint and continue to appoint as vacancies occur three or more well salaried Commissioners of Religious Endowments, who with a Secretary, likewise appointed by Government, should constitute a Board to inquire into the condition and management of all religious endowments throughout the Presidency. I do not think that the retention of this degree of patronage would contravene the principle of perfect neutrality, which should characterise all Government action. The patronage should be exercised with the advice of the Board when once formed, and is simply, as it appears to me, a necessary guarantee for character and qualification. And in a country where religious factions affect men's minds, as it does here, I think that the Government must thus far act the part of a daysman between them.

N.B.—In England two of the Commissioners (and the Secretary I believe) must be lawyers of standing, and I am disposed to suggest similar qualifications here. I should at all events endeavour at the outset to place an English Barrister of standing on the Board for obvious reasons.

N.B.—I should be inclined to extend their powers of inquiry, &c., to all charities for whatever object existing.

N.B.—The correspondence shows how difficult is the question between the two sects of Vishnuvites and the various creeds amongst the Shivavites and other shades of belief which prevail in various parts of the country.

The Board should receive all requisite legal powers to enable them to execute their functions most effectively—including that of placing independent persons in a position to ascertain accurately the income and miscellaneous receipts (e.g. from pilgrim offerings and the like) of any institution into the affairs of which their inquiries may extend—under penalties for delays and obstruction whencesoever arising, which shall be sufficiently deterrent and prompt. The action of the Board should be of a summary but quasi-judicial character, and all their proceedings and the reports of the local Committees and Inspectors should be published for general information.

N.B.—The restriction in respect to examination of persons who claim or hold property adversely to the charity under inquiry, contained in section 16 of Charity Trust Act of 1853, has proved most inconvenient, and should be avoided in the proposed law.

N.B.—In England these are, I believe, annually laid before Parliament. Here it might be sufficient to publish them periodically, with appendices.

The registration of all religious endowments in the office of the Board—with full particulars of every kind—within a specified period by their respective trustees or managers should be made compulsory. And all trustees and persons acting in the management of any institution within the perview of the law should be obliged—under severe penalties—to submit, if required by the Board, a provisional budget estimate of receipts and expenditure for the following year for such orders as may be advisable, and at the close of the year to send in a statement of all receipts and disbursements for official audit by the Board.

The Board should be required to institute progressive inquiry into the management of all institutions within the scope of their functions, and, where not satisfied with the existing administration of the funds, &c., of any of them, to draw up—after disposing of objections and suggestions of parties interested in the charity—a scheme for the management of the institution and its funds; for the acceptance of those concerned (if willing to accept such proposals), or for submission to the courts of law for ratification or modification as the case may be—and the Board should be empowered to modify or obtain the modification of such schemes from time to time as may be found expedient. Wherever the scheme of the Board is unopposed their orders should be final, and perhaps considerable powers of provisional approval and execution of their order might be conceded to them even when there is a show of opposition (as in England) under the more recent extension of the Charity Commissioners Law (1860).

Most of the provisions of the Charity Trust Law of England respecting the powers of the Board are applicable and will prove useful. The principle of section 16 (application for opinion and advice and indemnity for acts on such advice) might be extended so as to constitute the Commissioners arbitrators and referees in all matters of doubt and dispute, and to make the provisional order valid unless reversed by competent judicial courts. The powers given in section 17 and sections 19 to 28 might, with suitable modification, be exercised with advantage by the Commissioners to be appointed under the proposed law.

Sections 17, 19, 20—Authorization of suits.
Section 21—Sanction of leases, &c., and repairs.
Section 22—Removal of officers.
Sections 23 to 27—Compromises, exchanges, &c.

I am satisfied that it would be highly beneficial to constitute the Board—under stringent provisions for the faithful execution of the trust—Official Trustees of Endowment Lands, in the manner provided in sections 47 to 50 of Charity Trust Act, 1853, and Official Trustees for the investment of all surplus funds, &c., and for the management of any funds which may be voluntarily transferred to them by persons acting in management of religious and charitable endowments.

Having constituted a Central Board, it becomes necessary to provide them with the means of local information and investigation, and with agency for fulfilling the requirements of the law. Most of those who have written on the subject have recommended the retention of the District Committees constituted under Act XX of 1863, and some would even extend the system and form "Local Fund Circle" Committees. I entertain the gravest doubts of the utility and expediency of these numerous permanent local vestries, and I think that the papers sufficiently prove that their constitution has neither been operative nor judicious, and that their action has been too often factious, meddlesome, and irritating. I should therefore greatly prefer the English system of inspectors, who under the orders of the Board pro re natâ would take up the investigation of each institution in its town for final disposal by competent authority.

20. The Madras Government appointed a committee to draft a Bill for regulating the control of Hindoo religious endowments upon the basis of the plan suggested by Sir W. Robinson. A copy of the Bill drawn up by that committee was received from that Government, and is printed as appendix B to this resolution. It was referred to the Board of Revenue and the Commissioner of Orissa for report. The Commissioner is of opinion that a Bill framed upon the model of the Madras Bill would be well suited to the circumstances of Orissa and the other provinces of Bengal, provided that its scope were enlarged to cover secular as well as religious endowments. He objects to the appointment of a European barrister upon the committee, and would leave the Government to select the committee and chairman, providing only that three out of four members be Hindoos. The Board also express themselves in favour of the general outline of the Bill as applicable to the circumstances of Orissa. But it is manifest that it is impossible to leave entirely out of sight in Bengal the Mahomedan endowments, and it is doubtful whether the very elaborate machinery of the Madras Bill is really necessary. It may be that some more simple modification and strengthening of the provisions of Act XX of 1863, as suggested by the Native Commission in 1870, would meet all requirements.

21. The Lieutenant-Governor has therefore decided to refer the whole question in this full and detailed manner for the consideration of the British Indian Association, the Mahomedan Literary Society, and the National Mahomedan Association, and of such other native associations and individuals as Commissioners and District Officers may think it desirable to consult. The opinions received through district officers should be carefully digested by Commissioners and forwarded to Government through the Board of Revenue with such further remarks and suggestions as the Board may find to be required.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

A. MACKENZIE,
Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

APPENDIX A.

An Act to amend Act XX of 1863.

1. Act XX of 1863, except section 22, and except in so far as it repealed other laws, and also except as regards acts done under the said Act, is hereby repealed.

2. This Act shall be called "the General Religious Endowment Act," and may be extended to any Hindoo or Mahomedan religious endowment by an order of the local Government published in the Official Gazette.

3. The word "endowment" shall include grants in land or money as well as offerings and presents of whatever description which have been made, or may hereafter be made for whatever purposes by any person to any temple, mosque, or other religious establishment or institution, together with land or other property purchased with the surplus profits of such lands, or with such money, offerings, or presents, and shall also signify such temple, mosque, or other religious establishment or institution itself.

4. The word "manager" shall include every person who, under the designation of trustee, superintendent, mutwalie, darogah, mahunt, udhicaree, or under any other designation whatever, has or may have the charge and administration of an endowment entrusted to him.

5. The word "civil court" and "court" shall mean the principal court of original civil jurisdiction in the district.

6. The local Government shall once for all appoint a committee consisting of five or seven persons in every division, to be called "the Central Endowment Committee."

7. The local Government shall also once for all appoint sub-committees, one for each endowment, consisting of three or more persons to be called "the Local Endowment Committee," except where there exist committees of management under section 7, Act XX of 1863, which committees shall, after the passing of this Act, be called "Local Endowment Committees" within the meaning of this Act.

8. The central endowment committee shall be the chief controlling authority in the division, and the local endowment committees shall act in subordination to it.

9. It will be the duty of the central endowment committee to superintend and control the management of the endowment, and to take care that the endowments are appropriated to the purposes intended by the endowers, and to no other.

10. It will be the duty of the local endowment committee to superintend and control the management of the endowment under its charge according to such rules as may be prescribed for that purpose by the central endowment committee, and to carry into effect all directions which the central endowment committee may give to it in connection with the said endowment, and it shall be the duty of each member of the local endowment committee to visit the endowment at least once a year.

11. It will be the further duty of the local endowment committee to report to the central endowment committee any instance of mismanagement or misappropriation of endowment, misconduct of managers, and the occurrence of vacancies in the office of manager, with full information of all circumstances connected with the mode of succession in vogue in each case, and in the cases in which the power of appointing the successor is vested by this Act in the central endowment committee, to propose a fit person for the office of manager.

12. The members of the central endowment committee shall be selected by Government from among persons residing in the division under the following restrictions, viz., if the total number of the members be five, three shall be Hindoos and two Mahomedans, and if the total number be seven, four shall be Hindoos and three Mahomedans.

13. The members of the local endowment committees shall be appointed from among persons professing the religion for the purposes of which the endowment was founded, or is now maintained, and in accordance, so far as can be ascertained, with the general wishes of those who are interested in the maintenance of such endowment. In order to ascertain the general wishes of such persons in respect of such appointment, the local Government may cause an election to be held under such rules (not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act) as shall be framed by such local Government.

14. The appointment of the members of both the central and local endowment committees shall be notified in the Official Gazette.

15. Every member, whether of the central endowment committee or of the local endowment committee, shall hold office for life, unless removed for misconduct, unfitness, or gross neglect of duty, and no such member shall be removed except by an order of the civil court.

16. Whenever any vacancy shall occur among the members whether of the central endowment committee or of the local endowment committee, a new member shall be elected to fill the vacancy by the remaining members of the committee.

17. No member, whether of the central endowment committee or of the local endowment committee, shall be capable of being or shall act also as a manager, except when an attachment shall have been made for the realization of sums assessed and remaining unpaid as hereinafter provided for in sections 28 and 29.

18. The central endowment committee shall have power to prescribe rules for the management of the endowments by the managers not inconsistent with the intentions of the endowers, whether expressed or implied, or with the provisions of this Act, and also for the superintendence of such management by the local endowment committees, and it will be the duty of the managers and local endowment committees to act up respectively to such rules.

19. It shall be the duty of the managers to keep regular accounts of the actual receipts from every source of income, and of the actual disbursements, and the central endowment committee and local endowment committees shall have power to call for and examine such accounts, and the managers shall be bound to submit their accounts to the said committees whenever called upon to do so.

20. The members of the central endowment committee shall be allowed access to all such public records as they may desire to see for the purpose of ascertaining any matters connected with endowments.

21. Any member of the central endowment committee shall have power to enter the premises of endowments for the purpose of making inquiries, provided there be no objection to his doing so on the score of his religion or caste.

22. The members of the local endowment committees shall have power to enter the premises of the particular endowment under their charge for the purpose of making inquiries.

23. The central endowment committee shall have power to examine witnesses on matters under inquiry before them, and may administer oath or solemn affirmation to such witnesses.

24. The central endowment committee may apply to the civil court for the issue of summonses to witnesses whom it may desire to examine, and who may not attend at its requisition, and the civil court shall, upon such application being made, summons such witnesses to appear before the central endowment committee. All the rules in force for the time being in the civil court, relative to the summonsing of witnesses, their attendance, diet allowance and discharge, shall apply to the summonsing of witnessess on the application of the central endowment committee.

25. In the event of the office of manager being vacant in the case of endowments which may at the time of the passing of this Act be under the control of committees appointed under section 7, Act XX of 1863, the central endowment committee shall have power to appoint a fit person to the office, having due regard to the nature and conditions of the endowment, and in all other cases the succession to the office, either by election or otherwise, shall be subject to the confirmation of the central endowment committee.

26. The central endowment committee shall have power to remove managers for misconduct, mismanagement, or misappropriation of endowment.

27. The central endowment committee may move the civil court to execute its orders, and the civil court shall, on receipt of the committee's application, issue process of execution. The rules for the time being in force relative to the execution of the court's own decrees, and resistance of its processes, shall apply to the execution issued under this section, except that no claims preferred by any parties shall be allowed to bar or defer such execution.

28. The central endowment committee shall have power to raise sums to form a fund to be called the "general endowment fund" from the several endowments under their control for the purpose of paying the salary of its establishment, and generally for carrying out the purposes of this Act, assessing each endowment in proportion to its estimated income. When it shall have determined the total probable expenditures on the said accounts for a given year, and the amount to be levied from each endowment, it shall notify the assessments to the managers, and call upon them to pay their respective quotas within a certain time, to be specified in the notice. In the event of a manager failing to pay the amount due from him within the said time, and on its being proved to the satisfaction of the committee that such manager has actually had the notice, and that he is in a position to pay, which circumstances shall be duly inquired into, the committee may attach and assume the direct management of the whole or any portion of the landed property belonging to the endowment concerned, until the amount unpaid by the manager shall have been realised from the proceeds of such land. Provided that no assessment shall be made nor any attachment take place except in accordance with a decision arrived at by the committee at a general meeting specially convened for the purpose.

29. The central endowment committee shall also have power to raise funds for the purpose of instituting or defending suits in the civil court, or instituting proceedings in the criminal or revenue court, or any other public offices. The funds required shall be levied from the endowment in the interests of which the suit, action, or proceeding shall have to be instituted or defended, and may be realized in the manner laid down in the last preceding section for the realization of the sums constituting the "general endowment fund:" provided that no assessment shall be made nor any attachment take place except in accordance with a decision arrived at by the committee at a general meeting specially convened for the purpose.

30. The central endowment committee and local endowment committees shall have power to institute and defend suits in the civil court, or institute other proceedings in the civil, criminal, or revenue courts, and other public offices, in the interests of the endowments, and shall, in the exercise of this power, be recognized by the said courts and offices as representatives of the endowers and also of persons interested in the endowments, except as against persons actually interested in the endowments.

31. The central endowment committee shall, for the purpose of transacting business, meet at least four times during the calendar year.

32. The members of the central endowment committee shall select a duly qualified person, who shall not be a Government servant, to act as Secretary. The Secretary so selected shall draw such monthly salary as the committee shall determine.

33. The central endowment committee shall perform the duties and exercise the powers laid down in this Act, except those provided for in sections 28 and 29, either at a full meeting or at a meeting at which not less than three of its members shall have attended, provided that in the latter case, if the matter to be disposed of relate to a Mahomedan endowment, no decision shall be passed unless at least two of the members present are Mahomedans, and if the matter to be disposed of relate to a Hindoo endowment, unless at least two of the members present are Hindoos. The decision of the majority of the members shall be the decision of the committee, and in the event of the votes being equally divided, the member presiding shall have a casting vote.

34. The members present at every meeting of the central endowment committee shall select one from among themselves to act as president of that meeting. The proceedings, including the examination of witnesses, shall be reduced to writing, and after the matter under inquiry shall have been fully discussed, each member present shall record his decision and sign it, and the decision finally arrived at in the manner laid down in the last preceding section, shall be recorded by the secretary and signed by all the members present.

35. The proceedings of the local endowment committee, including the statements of witnesses examined, shall likewise be reduced to writing, and the opinion of each individual member shall be separately recorded. The proceedings and opinions shall in every case be forwarded in original to the central endowment committee.

36. No inquiry shall be conducted, nor any report made by the local endowment committee except at a full meeting, or if the committee shall have been composed of more than three members, at a meeting at which at least three members shall have attended. The central endowment committee shall, on application, render the local endowment committee such assistance as may enable the latter duly to inquire into and report upon the matters which it may have to investigate.

37. Whoever shall resist either the central endowment committee or the local endowment committee in the execution of its duty, or in the doing of any act which it is authorized to do by this Act, shall be held as having resisted a public servant in the execution of his duty.

38. The civil court shall have power to try the merits of all acts done and all orders passed either by the central endowment committee or the local endowment committee, in regular suits instituted by parties who may feel aggrieved by them, whether they be managers or persons interested in the endowments, and to adjudicate upon all matters connected with the endowments. It may require the production of any documents, papers, accounts, proceedings, either in the possession of the managers, the central endowment committee, or local endowment committee.

39. Any person or persons interested in any endowment or the trusts relating thereto may, without joining as plaintiff any of the other persons interested therein, sue before the civil court the manager of such endowment or the member of any committee appointed under this Act or Act XX of 1863 for any misfeasance, breach of trust, or neglect of duty committed by such manager or member of such committee, in respect of the endowment, and the civil court may direct the specific performance of any act by such manager or member of a committee and may decree damages and costs against the manager or member of a committee (in the latter case such damages and costs shall be paid out of the estate unless the court shall see reason to direct otherwise) and may also direct the removal of such manager or member of a committee.

40. The interest required in order to entitle a person to sue under the last preceding section need not be a pecuniary or a direct or immediate interest, or such an interest as would entitle the person suing to take any part in the management or superintendence of the endowment; any person having a right of attendance, or having been in the habit of attending at the performance of the worship or service of any mosque, temple, or religious establishment, or of partaking in the benefit of any distribution of alms, shall be deemed to be a person interested within the meaning of this Act.

41. In any suit or proceeding instituted under this Act, it shall be lawful for the court before which such suit or proceeding is pending, to order any matter in difference in such suits to be referred for decision to one or more arbitrators. Whenever any such order shall be made, the provisions of chapter VI of the Code of Civil Procedure shall in all respects apply to such order and arbitration in the same manner as if such order had been made on the application of the parties under section 312 of the said Code.

42. Nothing in the last preceding section shall prevent the parties from applying to the court, or the court from making the order of reference under the said section 312 of the said Code of Civil Procedure.

43. No suit shall be entertained under this Act without a preliminary application being first made to the court for leave to institute such suit. The application may be made upon unstamped paper. The court, on the perusal of the application, shall determine whether there are sufficient primâ facie grounds for the institution of a suit, and if in the judgment of the court there are such grounds, leave shall be given for its institution. In calculating the costs at the termination of the suit, the stamp duty on the preliminary application shall be estimated, and shall be added to the costs of the suit. If the court shall be of opinion that the suit has been for the benefit of the endowment, and that no party to the suit is in fault, the court may order costs, or such portion as it may consider just, to be paid out of the estate. If, on the contrary, the court shall find that the cause of action originated in improper motives on the part of the party cast, it may direct that the costs and damages if any, shall be paid by such party.

BILL

Provide for the better administration of Hindu Religious Institutions in the Presidency of Fort St. George.

WHEREAS it is expedient to define the duties of Trustees of Hindu Religious Institutions in the Presidency of Fort St. George, and to provide for the registration and supervision of such Institutions and for the due administration of property belonging thereto; It is enacted as follows:—

Preamble.

CHAPTER I.—PRELIMINARY.

1. This Act may be called "The Madras Hindu Religious Institutions Act, 187

Short title.

It extends to the Presidency of Fort St. George, and applies to all Hindu Religious Institutions within the said Presidency.

Local extent and application.

And it shall come into force on the day of Commencement.

2. On and from that date, Act XX of 1863 shall be repealed so far as it affects Hindu Temples and Establishments in the Presidency of Fort St. George, and except so far as it preserves Regulation VII of 1817.

Repeal of Enactment.

3. In this Act, unless there be something repugnant in the subject or context, Interpretation Clause.

"Board" and "Commissioner" mean the Board and any Commissioner appointed under this Act,

"Religious Institution" and "Institution" include every Hindu pagoda, temple, shrine, devastanam, devasam, muttum, or other Hindu establishment or foundation of a religious character by whatever local designation known, and all property and endowments connected therewith, whether applied wholly to Hindu religious purposes or partly to religious and partly to charitable or other purposes, and every express or constructive Trust of a Hindu religious nature by which property or money is vested in the hands of any person or persons.

"Trustee" includes—

(a) all persons administering the affairs of, or having control over, a Religious Institution, or acting in the management thereof;

(b) all persons to whom the property of any Religious Institution was transferred under Act XX of 1863;

(c) all Dhurmakhartas, Mahunts, Uralers, Punchayets, Madhyasts, Adinakartas, Matadhipathies, Stanikas, Hakdars, Ballals, Muktassars, and the like, by whatever local designation such person may be known;

(d) the Official Trustees appointed under this Act; and (e) all persons holding any property in Trust for any Religious Institution.

"Person interested" includes all persons who have a right of attendance, or are in the habit of attending, at the performance of the worship or service of any Religious Institution. The interest need not be a pecuniary, or a direct or immediate, interest in the Institution, or such an interest as would entitle the person to take any part in the management or superintendence thereof.

"Officer" includes any person appointed under this Act, but shall not include any Trustee or other person acting in the administration of any Religious Institution, or any servant under his control.

"Civil Court" means the highest Court exercising civil jurisdiction in the district in which a Religious Institution is wholly or partially situated, and, for the town of Madras, the High Court in the exercise of its ordinary original civil jurisdiction.

CHAPTER II.—OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE BOARD AND TRANSACTION OF BUSINESS.

4. For the purposes of this Act, the Governor in Council shall appoint a Board consisting of three Commissioners, who must be persons professing the Hindu religion. And one of the said Commissioners shall be nominated Chairman.

Appointment of Board of Hindu Commissioners for supervision and control.

It shall also be competent to the Governor in Council to appoint a European Barrister of not less than ten years' standing to be a Commissioner under this Act, who shall receive such monthly salary not exceeding Rs. 1,000 as the Governor in Council may deem fit.

European Barrister-Commissioner.

Such Board may be called "The Hindu Religious Institutions' Board."

Board how to be designated.

24. All Registers prepared under Section 65, and all records of the Board's proceedings and orders, and all books of account, statements, and returns made to the Board, shall be kept at the office of the Board in the custody of the Secretary.

Record to be kept in the office under custody of the Secretary.

CHAPTER III.—OF TRUSTEES AND THEIR DUTIES.

25. All property belonging to a Religious Institution shall vest in the Trustee or Trustees of such Institution subject to the control and direction of the Board under this Act.

Property to vest in Trustees.

26. It shall be the duty of the Trustees of every Religious Institution to prepare and submit to the Board, within such reasonable time as the Board may prescribe after the date on which this Act comes into force, a complete and true account showing—

Trustees to furnish certain statements.

(1) the name and, so far as is known, the history of the Institution;

(2) the objects of the Institution, with copies of all grants, sasanams, shnnuds, title-deeds, and other documents relating thereto;

(3) all endowments belonging to the Institution, with full particulars as to the nature, extent, and value of the immoveable property of such Institution, how and when acquired, and how let, occupied, or employed;

(4) the existing dittam or scheme of administration and appropriation of funds;

(5) the names, so far as may be known, of past Trustees and the names of existing Trustees, how and when, and by whom, appointed;

(6) the names of all persons in receipt of any salary, emolument, or perquisite from the Institution, and the nature, tenure, and conditions (if any) of service in each case;

(7) the jewels, gold, silver and other vessels and utensils, and all other moveables belonging to the Institution with their estimated value; and

(8) all such further information as the Board may prescribe.

27. The affairs of every Religious Institution shall be administered and the funds thereof applied by the Trustee or Trustees with discretion, and in accordance with the terms of any existing or sanctioned dittam or scheme of administration or with the terms of the Trust.

Trustees to administer affairs and apply funds.

28. It shall be competent to the Trustees to exercise, subject to the provisions of this Act, all powers incidental to the prudent and beneficial management of the Institution, and to do all acts necessary for the due performance of the duties imposed upon them.

Trustees may exercise all powers incidental to beneficial management.

29. All servants belonging to a Religious Institution remunerated by fixed pay or otherwise deriving any benefit from such Institution shall be under the immediate orders and control of the Trustees, and shall be bound to obey all lawful orders and directions given by such Trustees.

Control of servants.

30. All property and title-deeds and documents belonging to a Religious Institution shall be in the custody or under the control of the Trustees.

Trustees to have custody of property and documents, &c.

31. It shall be the duty of the Trustees to provide for the proper cultivation and leasing of all lands and buildings belonging to the Institution, and for the punctual collection of all assessments, rents, and dues accruing therefrom.

Trustees to provide for cultivation, lease, &c., of lands.

32. It shall be the duty of the Trustees from time to time to submit to the Board proposals for revising, altering, modifying, or setting aside any existing dittam or scheme of administration, or for framing a new scheme where none exists or where the existing dittam or scheme may, from altered circumstances or other cause, require to be set aside.

Trustees to propose alteration of schemes or framing new ones.

33. It shall be lawful for the Trustees to apply to the Board for their opinion, advice, or direction respecting any matter connected with the administration of a Religious Institution or respecting any question or disputes relating to rites, ceremonial observances, and the like.

Trustees to apply for opinion or advice of Board.

Trustees to keep and maintain accounts.

34. It shall be the duty of the Trustees to keep and maintain full and true accounts of all moneys received and paid by them on account of the Institutions under their management, in books to be provided by them for that purpose.

Trustees to maintain buildings and lands.

35. It shall be the duty of the Trustees to maintain all buildings, lands, and other property belonging to the Institutions under their management in a state of proper preservation, so far as the funds at their disposal will permit.

Trustees to invest surplus funds beneficially.

36. It shall be the duty of the Trustees to invest or employ all surplus funds and accumulations in such manner as may be most conducive to the interests of the Institutions under their management, and, subject to the approval of the Board.

Trustees to recover property not in hand by needful process.

37. It shall be the duty of the Trustees, subject to the directions of the Board, to recover any property belonging to the Religious Institutions under their management which has been improperly alienated or is held to the detriment of such Institutions, and generally to protect the interests of such Institutions by legal proceedings or otherwise when necessary.

Trustees may deposit deeds, &c., for security in a repository provided by the Board.

38. The Trustees or other persons having the custody of any documents, jewels, or other property belonging to any Religious Institution may deposit the same for security in such place as the Board may direct.

Trustees to keep Board informed of all important matters.

39. It shall be the duty of the Trustees to keep the Board informed of all matters affecting the well-being of the Institutions under the management of such Trustees, and to make any inquiry which may be necessary into any matter connected with the due administration thereof, and to submit the information for the orders of the Board.

Indemnity to Trustees acting in good faith.

40. Whenever any discretionary authority vests in the Trustees of a Religious Institution and such Trustees exercise their discretion in good faith, and in all cases in which they act under the orders of the Board, they shall be deemed, so far as their personal responsibility is concerned, to have acted in accordance with the terms of the Trust.

The Trustees to refer differences of opinion to the Board. In cases of emergency the vote of the majority to prevail.

41. Whenever there is a difference of opinion among the Trustees of a Religious Institution touching any matter connected with the administration thereof, the Trustees shall obtain the opinion or advice of the Board touching such matter. Provided that, in cases of emergency in which it is not practicable to obtain such opinion or advice, the opinion of the majority shall prevail until it is reviewed by the Board.

Trustees to obey all lawful orders of the Board.

42. Every Trustee shall be bound to obey all lawful orders passed by the Board under the provisions of this Act.

Trustees may remove any servants for misconduct.

43. It shall be lawful for the Trustees to punish by a fine, or to suspend, remove or dismiss, any servant attached to a Religious Institution, or any person in receipt of any emolument or perquisite therefrom, for breach of trust, incapacity, disobedience of orders, neglect of duty, misconduct, or other sufficient cause, subject to an appeal to the Board as hereinafter provided.

Trustees may appoint servants.

44. It shall be lawful for the Trustees to fill up every vacancy caused by the death, resignation, or removal of any servant of a Religious Institution under their control by the appointment of a duly qualified person.

Where the office has been hereditary, preference shall be given to any person rightfully claiming under a right of hereditary descent.

All such appointments shall be subject to the orders of the Board on appeal or otherwise as hereinafter provided.

Trustees may propose abolition of any office as unnecessary or obsolete subject to Board's sanction.

45. It shall be competent to the Trustees from time to time to submit to the Board any proposal which the Trustees may deem necessary in the interests of any Institution for abolishing the office of any servant thereof, or of any person in receipt of any emolument or perquisite therefrom, wherever the office or any service which it may have been the duty of such servant or other person to perform may, from altered circumstances or other good and sufficient cause, have become no longer necessary.

Power to recover possession of property from a dismissed servant.

46. Whenever any servant or other person who has been removed, suspended, or dismissed as aforesaid has possession of or control over any immoveable or moveable property belonging to any Religious Institution, and refuses or neglects to relinquish possession of such property to the Trustees or to the successor of such servant or person, it shall be lawful for the Magistrate of the district or the Magistrate of a division of a district within whose jurisdiction such Institution is situated, on application made to him by the Trustees or any person duly authorized by them, and on the production of the order of the Trustees directing such removal, together with the certificate of the Board confirming such removal and setting forth that the property in question belongs to such Institution, to issue a warrant empowering any constable or other officer to enter upon the premises and to deliver possession of the property withheld to the Trustees or successor, and, if necessary, to remove such servant or other person from any part of such immoveable property.

The order of the Trustees and the certificate of the Board aforesaid shall be primâ facie evidence of the facts therein mentioned.

Power to recover property held over by lessees and others.

47. When any person shall hold or occupy any moveable or immoveable property belonging to any Religious Institution without the permission of the Trustees or under a lease or agreement which is ended or duly determined by a legal notice to quit, and shall neglect or refuse to quit and deliver up possession of the same, the Trustees or the Board or any other person duly authorized by them may apply to the Civil Court within whose jurisdiction the said property may be situated for an order to obtain possession thereof.

Court may require to show cause.

The Court upon such application may issue a summons directed to such person to show by what title he claims to hold or occupy the said property, and why he should not quit and deliver possession thereof. Such summons may be served in the manner in which summonses issued under the Civil Procedure Code are served.

Proof by the Trustees, &c., of his right to possession.

If the person summoned shall not appear and show cause to the contrary, and shall still neglect or refuse to quit and deliver up possession of the said property, the Trustees or the Board or any other person duly authorized by them may give to the Court proof of the right by which possession is sought for.

Issue of warrant to place the Trustees, &c., in possession.

Upon being satisfied with the evidence adduced, and upon proof of the due service of the summons, the Court may issue a warrant to its officer authorizing him to give possession of such property to the Trustee or to the Board or other person duly authorized by them. Such a warrant shall have the same force and validity as that issued in execution of a decree passed by the said Court.

Proviso not to bar a regular suit.

48. Nothing in Section 46 or 47 shall preclude any Magistrate or Court from referring the applicant to a regular suit, or any person aggrieved from seeking relief or redress in due course of law.

CHAPTER IV.—OF THE DUTIES AND POWERS OF THE BOARD.

Duties of the Board summarised.

49. The following are among the duties of the Board:—

(1) to make inquiries into any matters relating to any Religious Institution;

(2) to register all such Institutions;

(3) to appoint and remove the Trustees and servants of any such Institutions;

(4) to aid and control and direct the Trustees in all matters connected with their duties;

(5) to control the application and investment of funds, and to audit the accounts of the income and expenditure;

(6) to give opinions and advice in respect of the management and administration of Religious Institutions, and in respect of rites and ceremonies connected therewith;

(7) to arbitrate on all matters in dispute respecting rites and ceremonies connected with Religious Institutions;

(8) to confirm, revise, or modify the dittam or scheme of administration already existing, and from time to time to frame new schemes;

(9) to authorize and direct judicial proceedings in respect of any matters relating to Religious Institutions;

(10) to frame bye-laws for the purposes of this Act; and

(11) to perform all other acts which may be necessary for the purposes of this Act.

PART A.—As to inquiries.

Board to cause local inquiry.

50. The Board shall have power to cause local investigations to be made into the affairs of any Religious Institution for all or any of the purposes of this Act, and with a view to such inquiry the Board may depute—one or more of the Commissioners, or one or more duly authorized Inspectors, to visit such Institution and hold local investigations; and may associate with such Commissioner or Inspector for the purpose of such investigation one or more persons belonging to the district or locality in which the Institution is situated.

And the Board shall associate such persons for the purpose of any local investigation—

(1) if satisfied that such is the wish of a reasonable number of persons interested, or

(2) if so directed—

(a) by the Civil Court, or

(b) by the Advocate-General, or by such other officer as may be appointed for the purposes of Section 539 of the Code of Civil Procedure and acting under that section.

Power to require Trustee and others to furnish accounts, statements, &c.

51. The Board, or any Commissioner duly authorised by the Board in that behalf, may require written accounts and statements and answers to inquiries relating to any Religious Institution or its management, to be rendered to the Board or such Commissioner by all or any of the following persons; that is to say:—

the Trustees of any Religious Institution, or any servant thereof;

the Agents of such Trustees;

persons in possession of, or having any control over, any property or moneys belonging to any Religious Institution; persons in the beneficial receipt of any funds thereof or of any income or stipend therefrom;

any ryot, tenant, or lessee of land or other property belonging to any Religious Institution;

Persons having the possession or control of any documents concerning the aforesaid funds or any property thereof.

Power to require Trustees and others to attend and be examined.

52. The Board, or any Commissioner duly authorised, may require any such Trustees, Agents, or persons aforesaid to attend at such times and places as may be appointed in that behalf, for the purpose of being examined in relation to any Religious Institution, and to answer questions relating thereto, and to produce any documents in their custody or power relating to the said Institution, and may examine all such persons and any person voluntarily attending the said Board or Commissioner.

Officers of the Board to have power to search the records of Courts and Public Offices, and take copies.

53. Any Commissioner or Inspector, or other officer of the Board, shall be at liberty, subject to the bye-laws made in that behalf, to examine and search at all reasonable times the registers and records of any Court or Public Registry and Office of Record, and to take copies of, or extracts from, any decree record, or other document relating to any Religious Institution recorded, registered, or deposited therein, for any of the purposes contemplated by this Act.

Officers having custody of records to furnish copies to Board as required.

And all officers having the custody of any record, or other document aforesaid, shall furnish such copy or extract as shall be required by the said Board, Commissioner, Inspector, or other officer.

Power to require the transmission of document in which any Institution is solely interested.

54. The Board may require any person having the custody or control of any document in which any Religious Institution is solely interested to transmit the same to the office of the Board for examination, and the Board may either retain it or at any time deliver the same to the Trustees of the Religious Institution to which such document relates.

When the Board may detain such document.

Board may summon witnesses.

55. The Board or any Commissioner duly authorized may, for the purpose of any inquiry under this Act, summon and enforce the attendance of witnesses and compel them to give evidence and to produce documents in their custody or control, and if necessary may issue commissions for the examination of witnesses as if such Board or Commissioner were a Civil Court. Provided that it shall not be competent to the Board or Commissioner to attach the property of witnesses.

Court may enforce attendance of witnesses.

56. If a witness summoned by the Board or Commissioner absconds or keeps out of way to avoid the service of the summons, or, having been served with the summons, fails to attend, or refuses to give evidence or produce a document as therein required, or if any Trustee or other person refuses or wilfully neglects to comply with any requisition made by the Board or Commissioner under sections 52, 54, and 55, any Court or officer appointed by the local Government from time to time in that behalf may, on the application of the Board, Commissioner, or any other person authorized by them in that behalf, enforce the attendance of such witness and compel him to comply with the summons or requisition as if the summons or requisition had been issued or made by such Court or officer.

Inspector may examine Trustees and other persons, and require production of documents.

57. Any Inspector may, by notice in writing, require any of the persons specified in section 61—

(1) to attend before him for the purpose of being examined by him in respect of any Religious Institution at any time and place appointed by such notice, and

(2) to produce any document in the custody or under the control of such person, and relating to such institution.

Such Inspector may examine all persons attending in pursuance of such notice and all persons voluntarily attending before him.

Inspector how to enforce attendance of witnesses.

58. Any Inspector authorized to conduct an inquiry may call upon such officer or Court as the local Government from time to time directs in that behalf to issue summonses to any person, whose presence or testimony is necessary, or having in his custody or control any document which he is bound to produce, to appear before such Inspector either in person or by duly authorized agent as in the summons may be required, and at the time and place therein named.

The officer or Court shall upon receipt of the peon's fee payable in such cases issue a summons and cause it to be served upon the person whose appearance is so required.

Examination of persons unable to attend.

59. A person who by reason of bodily infirmity is unable without risk to his health or serious inconvenience to appear before the Inspector conducting the inquiry, a person in jail under civil or criminal process, and a person exempt by law or usage from personal appearance in a Court, shall not be required to appear before such Inspector.

In every such case the Inspector may either himself go to the house of such person, or to the jail in which he is confined, and examine him, or issue a commission for his examination.

Law as to summons, commissions, and witnesses.

60. The law in force for the time being as to summonses, commissions, and compelling the attendance of witnesses, and for their remuneration in suits before Civil Courts, shall, mutatis mutandis, apply to any summons or commission issued, and to any person summoned to appear under the provisions of this Act.

Power to administer oath.

61. The Board and every Commissioner or Inspector conducting an inquiry under this Act may at their or his discretion administer an oath to any person examined.

Record of substance of statement.

Such Board, Commissioner, or Inspector may also record a note of the substance of the statement made by each such person, and such statement shall be read over or (if made in a language with which such person is not acquainted) interpreted to him in a language with which he is acquainted, and if he admits the correctness of such a note, it shall be signed by such Board, Commissioner, or Inspector.

Every such note so signed shall be admissible in evidence for the purpose of proving that the statements therein recorded were made by the persons and under the circumstances therein stated.

Report of inquiry to be made.

62. Every Commissioner or Inspector making any inquiry under this Act shall make a full report thereof to the Board, and shall send to the Board all the records and proceedings connected with such inquiry.

Officers appointed under this Act to be deemed public servants.

63. Every officer appointed under this Act shall be deemed to be a public servant within the meaning of the Indian Penal Code.

All persons required under this Act to give information or produce documents shall be legally bound to do so.

PART B.—As to Registration.

Board to keep a register of Religious Institutions.

64. It shall be the duty of the Board to make inquiry and prepare a full and complete register of every Religious Institution.

Such register shall include the following particulars:—

(1).—The name and, so far as can be ascertained, the history of the Institution;

(2).—The names, so far as may be known, of past Trustees and the names of existing Trustees, and the mode of their appointment;

(3).—The nature and objects of the Institution, together with copies of all grants, sunnuds, title-deeds, and other documents relating thereto;

(4).—Statement of the nature, extent, and value of the moveable and immoveable property belonging to the Institution, and of the income derived therefrom;

(5).—The existing dittum showing the manner in which the income of the Institution is applied or apportioned among the various objects thereof; and

(6).—Such other particulars as the Board may prescribe.

Such register shall be sealed and signed by all the Commissioners.

Copy of register to be furnished to Trustees.

65. It shall be the duty of the Board to furnish to the Trustees of every Religious Institution a duly certified copy of so much of the register as relates to such Religious Institution; and the same shall be deposited in the office of the Trustees or such other place as may be prescribed by the Board.

Register to be open to inspection and copies to be given on payment of fee.

66. Such register and certified copy shall be open to the inspection at all reasonable times of persons interested, who shall be entitled to take or obtain copies thereof on payment of such fee as may be prescribed by the Board.

PART C.—As to Appointment and Removal of Trustees and Servants.

Vacancy in the office of Trustee to be reported to Board.

67. Every vacancy occurring in the office of Trustee by death, resignation, or otherwise shall be forthwith reported to the Board by

(1) the surviving Trustee; or by

(2) the chief ministerial servant; or by

(3) any person interested in the Institution concerned; or by

(4) any Inspector or other officer of the Board.

How a Trustee may be appointed.

68. A Trustee may be appointed by

(a) succession or election in accordance with Trust Deeds or usage; or by

(b) communities, families or co-Trustees or other persons in whom such right is vested; or

(c) in accordance with any scheme duly sanctioned under this Act and by which the Institution concerned is regulated; or by

(d) an order of a Civil Court; or by (e) the Board.

Appointments made under Clauses (a), (b), and (c) to be forthwith reported.

69. In cases coming under Clauses (a), (b), and (c) of the last preceding section, the appointment made shall be forthwith reported to the Board by the surviving Trustees (if any), or any person succeeding or appointed, or by the chief ministerial servant of the Institution; and it shall be competent to the Board, after due inquiry, and after hearing all objections made, to recognize such appointment in writing under their hand and seal. Until so recognized, every such appointment shall be deemed to be provisional.

Nomination by Board in certain cases.

Where no appointment has been made under Clauses (a), (b), and (c) within thirty days from the date of the occurrence of the vacancy, it shall be lawful for the Board, after due inquiry, to nominate a duly qualified person in conformity with local usage and, so far as may be practicable, with the wishes of the community interested.

Such nomination to be notified in the District Gazette.

70. Such nomination shall be notified in such manner as the Board may deem fit and in the local Gazette of the district in which the Religious Institution concerned is situated; and the Board shall, by a public notice, invite any objections or suggestions with reference to such nomination to be submitted to them within a time to be specified in the notice.

Nomination to be confirmed.

71. On the expiration of the period specified, it shall be lawful for the Board to hear and consider all objections and suggestions made to them, and to confirm the nomination already made, or to make such other appointment as may be deemed just and proper in the interests of such Institution.

Final appointment to be binding.

72. Such appointment shall be notified to the surviving Trustees or to the persons interested, under the hand and seal of the Board, and shall be binding upon all concerned.

Appointments by Courts.

73. All appointments made by a Civil Court shall be notified to the Board by such Court, and the Board shall give immediate effect to such appointments.

Proviso.

Provided that it shall be lawful for the Court to direct the Board to make such inquiry and obtain such information in respect of any such appointment as the Court may see fit to direct before making such appointment.

Provided further, that, when a Civil Court has entertained an application for the appointment of a Trustee, the Court may, if it see fit, direct the Board to stay all proceedings in respect of the appointment.

Effect of appointment of Courts.

74. No appointment made by the Board under this Act or by any Court shall have such retrospective effect as to invalidate any act done in good faith and in the performance of their duty by the Trustees theretofore in charge of the Religious Institution in respect of which such appointment has been made.

Removal of Trustees.

75. Every Trustee shall be liable to be suspended, removed, or dismissed by the Board for—

(1) breach of trust, misappropriation, malversation or other misconduct, of which such Trustee may be guilty in the performance of his duty, or

(2) wilful disobedience of any order or direction issued under the provisions of this Act, or

(3) wilful neglect of duty, or
(4) incapacity or unwillingness to act, or
(5) insolvency, or
(6) by an order of a Civil Court.

Board may hold inquiry into such causes for removal.

76. It shall be competent to the Board to hold or direct to be held by any Commissioner or Inspector an inquiry into any of the matters specified in Section 75 in respect to any Trustee of a Religious Institution, and for that purpose to take and record the necessary evidence. The provisions of Sections 51 to 62, both inclusive, shall apply to any inquiry under this section.

May pass orders or direct prosecution.

77. On such evidence being submitted to the Board, it shall be lawful for the Board to suspend, remove, or dismiss such Trustee or pass such other order they may deem fit, or to take or direct proceedings, civil or criminal, against such Trustee before a Court of competent jurisdiction.

Provided that where proceedings in respect of breach of trust, misappropriation, malversation, or misconduct are taken in any Civil Court against a Trustee, it shall be competent to such Court to refer the matter to the Board for preliminary investigation and report.

Courts may refer charges for preliminary investigation by the Board.

May make provisional arrangement for the management of the Institution.

78. In the case of the suspension, removal, or dismissal of a Trustee by the Board, it shall be competent to the Board to make provisional arrangements for the administration and management of the Religious Institution concerned pending the appointment of a successor.

Power to recover possession of property from a dismissed Trustee.

79. Whenever any Trustee who has been suspended, removed, or dismissed from his office under the provisions of this Act shall hold or occupy, either directly or through any other person on his behalf, any immovable or movable property belonging to a Religious Institution, and shall neglect or refuse to deliver possession of such property to the other Trustees or his successor or any person duly authorized by the Board in that behalf, it shall be competent to such Trustees, successor, or to the Board, or the person duly authorized by them, to apply to the Civil Court for a warrant requiring the said Trustee to deliver possession of the property to such Trustees or to the Board or other person aforesaid.

Court may issue warrant.

And it shall be competent to such Court to issue its warrant to any officer of the Court and give possession accordingly as if it were a warrant issued in execution of its own decree.

Board's application, &c, sufficient authority for the Court to act.

And for this purpose, the application, accompanied by the order of suspension, removal or dismissal, duly certified under the hand and seal of the Board, shall be the primâ facie evidence of the facts stated in the said order, and shall be sufficient authority for the Court to act as aforesaid.

Proviso as to seeking relief in due course of law.

Nothing in this section shall preclude the Court from adopting the procedure laid down in Section 48 of this Act in respect to the ejectment of tenants and others, or preclude any party affected from seeking relief or redress in due course of law.

Board may call upon Trustee to state reasons for removal of any servant.

80. It shall be competent to the Board, on appeal or otherwise, to call upon any Trustee to submit to the Board his reasons for suspending, removing, or dismissing any servant attached to a Religious Institution, or any person in receipt of any emolument or perquisite therefrom.

Board may confirm removal, &c.

81. On receipt of such report, it shall be competent to the Board to confirm the suspension, removal or dismissal, or to pass such other order in respect thereof as they may deem fit. The orders passed by the Board under this section shall be final.

Proviso.

Provided that in case the servant suspended, removed, or dismissed claims a hereditary right to the office, it shall be open to him to appeal from the order of the Board, within four months from the date of such order, to the Civil Court.

The Board may hear appeals against any appointment of servants.

82. It shall be competent to the Board to hear and consider any objections and appeals made or preferred to them touching any appointment made by Trustees under Section 44, and to call upon the Trustees for any information in respect thereof. The Trustees shall be bound to obey such requisition within a reasonable time.

The Board may confirm such appointment of servants.

83. On receipt of such information, it shall be lawful for the Board to confirm such appointment, or to pass any other order in relation thereto which the Board may deem fit. Such order of the Board shall be final.

Proviso.

Provided that where the appeal relates to a claim to a hereditary office, it shall be competent to the party aggrieved by any order of the Board to prefer an appeal therefrom within four months from the date of such order to the Civil Court.

Power of the Board to remove any servant.

84. It shall be competent to the Board of their own motion to remove or order to be removed any servant of a Religious Institution for good and sufficient cause, and it shall be the duty of every Trustee to give immediate effect to such order.

Board may abolish obsolete offices.

85. It shall be competent to the Board, from time to time, on the representation of a Trustee, or of a reasonable number of the persons interested, or of their own motion, to direct the removal of any servant of a Religious Institution or other person in receipt of any emolument or perquisite therefrom whose office may from any cause be deemed by the Board to be unnecessary.

And grant gratuity.

The Board may grant a gratuity or compensation, as they deem proper, to any servant or person removed from his employment under this or the preceding section, or to his legal representative.

Board to give effect to any order of Civil Court.

86. The Board shall give effect to any orders passed by the Civil Court, whether on appeal or otherwise, in respect of the appointment or removal or dismissal of any servant of a Religious Institution, or any person in receipt of any emoluments or perquisites therefrom.

PART D.—As to Control of Trustees and Funds.

Trustees not to make any sale, mortgage, &c., for more than one year.

87. It shall not be lawful for any Trustee of a Religious Institution to make or grant, otherwise than with the express authority of the Board, any sale or mortgage of any property belonging to such Institution or otherwise encumber the same, or to make any exchange thereof, or to conclude any lease of immoveable property for more than one year from the making thereof.

Board may authorize sale or exchange of lands.

88. If at any time it shall appear to the Board that the sale, mortgage, or exchange of any property belonging to a Religious Institution is expedient in the interests thereof, the Board may, on the application of the Trustees or of their own motion, authorize such sale, mortgage, or exchange, and may give such directions in relation thereto and for the due investment of the money arising from any such sale, mortgage, or exchange, and for the repayment of any loan as they may think fit.

Letting of lands on building, mining, or other leases, cutting of timber or making improvements.

89. If it shall appear to the Board that any lands of a Religious Institution may be beneficially let on building, mining, plantation, or other leases, or for cutting timber, or that it is expedient in the interests of such Institution that any well, tank, or channel and the like should be made or repaired or improved, or that any existing road or street should be repaired, or that any new road or street should be made, or any drains or sewers made, through any part of its lands, or that any new building should be erected, or that any existing building should be repaired, altered, rebuilt, or wholly removed, or that any other improvement or alteration in the state or condition of such lands or buildings should be made, it shall be competent to the Board, upon the application of any Trustee, or of their own motion, to pass such orders in respect of the matters aforesaid as the Board may deem fit.

Board may authorize application of funds.

And the Board may authorize the application of any moneys or funds belonging to such Institution for any of the purposes or acts aforesaid.

The Board may authorize the redemption of rent charge.

90. The Board may, whenever they deem fit, authorize the redemption by the owners, holders, or occupiers of any land belonging to a Religious Institution, of any rent charge, jodi, assessment or other periodical payment charged upon the land, or any fees or other contributions payable to such Institution by the payers of such fees or contributions, upon such terms and conditions as the Board may deem beneficial to such Institution, and may give directions for securing the due investment and application of the money arising from such redemption for the benefit of such Institution.

Apportionment of property to Religious Institution.

91. When there is any uncertainty as to the specific part of any property which is applicable to the purposes of any Religious Institution, or whenever it may seem to the Board expedient to do so, it shall be competent to the Board, after due inquiry, to determine and certify under their seal and signature what portion of such property shall thereafter be specially applicable to the purposes of such Institution, to the exoneration of the residue of such property.

Provided that any person interested may appeal against such determination to the Civil Court.

Mode of investing surplus funds.

92. It shall be competent to the Board to direct or authorize the investment of any surplus fund or accumulations belonging to any Religious Institution in the purchase of lands or Government securities or in such other manner as may be most conducive to the interests of the Institution.

Application of surplus funds.

93. It shall be lawful for the Board to apply any surplus funds or accumulations belonging to any Religious Institution to any educational or other purposes approved by the Board, which shall not be inconsistent with the objects of such Institution.

Report of such appropriation to be made and published.

Provided always that a special report shall be made of all such appropriations of surplus funds or accumulations to the Governor in Council for publication in the Fort St. George Gazette and in the Gazettes of the districts concerned.

Board to recover property improperly alienated.

94. Whenever the Board are satisfied that any property belonging to a Religious Institution has been sold, mortgaged, or otherwise alienated to its detriment, contrary to law and to this Act, or the terms of the Trust, it shall be the duty of the Board to take measures to set aside such alienations, and to recover possession of the property improperly alienated.

Provided that, in the absence of collusion, it shall be lawful for the Board to pay the value of any permanent improvements made to or upon the property by the alienee, his heir or representative.

Board may set aside leases.

95. Whenever it may be proved to the satisfaction of the Board that any property of a Religious Institution has been leased by a Trustee—

(a) for a longer term of years than is consistent with the proper management of such Institution, or

(b) for a term of lives showing an improvident alienation, or

(c) for clearly inadequate consideration, or

(d) with a stipulation for perpetual renewal or other improper condition, or

(e) for the private benefit of the Trustee, or any of his relatives or servants, or

(f) with a fraudulent intent, and in a manner prejudicial to the interests of the Institution, it shall be competent to the Board to take steps in order to set aside such lease, and recover possession of the property improperly leased or alienated.

Compensation for improvement.

Provided that, where there has been no collusion between the Trustees and the lessee in respect of the lease so set aside, it shall be lawful for the Board to grant such compensation as they may deem fit for permanent improvements to the property effected by the lessee during his tenure of the lease.

Leases, sales, &c., authorized by the Board to be valid.

96. All leases, sales, mortgages, exchanges, or other transactions authorized by the Board under this Act shall have the like effect as if they had been authorized or directed by the express terms of the Trust affecting such Institution.

Board to take charge of Escheats.

97. It shall be competent to the Board to take charge of all lands or other Endowments of any Religious Institution which from any cause may have escheated to Government and which may, from time to time, be transferred to the management and control of the Board for the purposes of this Act.

Board may apply funds arising therefrom to purposes of education, &c.

98. It shall be lawful for the Board, subject to the direction of the Governor in Council, to apply the funds arising from such lands or other Endowments to purposes of education or other objects conducive to the public good, health, or convenience.

Board to take charge of Charitable Institutions.

99. It shall be lawful for the Board to take charge of and bring under their management and control any Colleges, Choultries, or other Charitable Institutions and their Endowments which may, from time to time, be transferred to them by the Governor in Council; and the Board shall provide for the due administration of all such Institutions and Endowments.

Board to furnish to Government reports and returns of such Escheats and Institutions.

100. The Board shall furnish to the Governor in Council such periodical reports and returns in respect of all escheated lands or other Endowments and of all Colleges, Choultries, or other Charitable Institutions and their Endowments, which may have been transferred to their management under Sections 97 and 99 as may from time to time be directed by the Governor in Council.

Application of funds when the original object of the founder fails.

101. Whenever any object designated by the founder of a Religious Institution fails or becomes impracticable, or the terms of the deed or writing creating the Trust cannot be carried out, it shall be lawful for the Board—either of its own motion, or upon the application of a Trustee or any other person interested therein—to apply to the Civil Court to devote the funds to purposes of education or other objects conducive to public good, and such Court may make such order as it thinks fit on such application.

Board may sanction annual fee or honorarium to Trustees.

102. It shall be competent to the Board on application of the Trustees to sanction the payment to the Trustees of a fee or honorarium at the close of each year after the accounts of the Institution have been audited and reviewed by the Board and after the report prescribed by Section 23 has been duly published.

Such fee or honorarium shall be paid out of the balance, if any, which may be left at the close of the year after defraying all the expenses of the Institution.

PART E.—As to Accounts.

Board may call for Accounts.

103. It shall be the duty of the Board at the close of each calendar year to call upon and obtain from the Trustees of every Religious Institution a full and correct statement showing—

(a) the balance, if any, brought forward from the previous year;

(b) all receipts in cash or in kind during the year on account of such Institution, with the dates of such receipts;

(c) all payments made during the same period, with the dates of such payments;

(d) the balance at the credit of the Institution at the close of the year;

(e) all offerings, contributions and gifts, and other property which shall have been received or acquired for the institution during the year; and

(f) all debts due to or by such Institution.

Board may review.

The Board may, whenever they think fit, review the statement and give such orders and directions in respect thereof as to them may seem necessary.

And all such orders and directions shall be binding on and shall be obeyed by the Trustees.

Such review shall be published in the Fort St. George Gazette, and such portions of the statements as relate to the Religious Institutions in each district shall be published in the local Gazette of that district.

Accounts to be open to inspection of Board, &c.

104. All books and accounts of every Religious Institution, with all vouchers connected therewith, shall at all times be open to the inspection of the Board or any Commissioner or Inspector or other person duly authorized in that behalf, and the Board may call for and examine such books, accounts, and vouchers whenever they think fit.

Board to prescribe forms of books and accounts.

105. It shall be competent to the Board, from time to time, to prescribe the forms of books, accounts, and statements to be kept and furnished under this Act, and every Trustee required to keep and furnish such books, accounts, and statements shall be bound to use such forms.

Audit of accounts.

106. The Board shall, as soon as possible after the close of each calendar year, cause the accounts of receipts and expenditure of all Religious Institutions to be audited by an Inspector or other officer appointed by them for the purpose. Such Inspector or other officer shall, on the completion of the audit, submit a report to the Board on the state of the accounts and the result of the audit made by him. Such report may be published in the local Gazette of the district in which the Institution is situated, or in such other manner as to the Board may seem fit.

The Board may, whenever it shall appear to them necessary, appoint a professional Auditor to conduct any such audit, and such Auditor shall receive such remuneration as the Board may determine. Such remuneration may be paid from the funds vested in the Board, or from the funds of the Religious Institution whose accounts have been audited, as the Board may direct.

Board may take stock.

107. It shall be lawful for the Board, from time to time, to examine or cause to be examined the balance of cash remaining at the credit of any Religious Institution, and all other property belonging thereto, and to ascertain whether such balance and property agree with the entries in the accounts and books of the Institution. The Board may pass such orders in respect of the result of such examination or institute such inquiry or proceeding thereon as may be necessary.

Board may require Trustees to furnish back account.

108. Whenever the Board see reason to believe that a breach of trust has been committed by the Trustees of any Religious Institution, it shall be competent to the Board to call upon the Trustees to furnish accounts of previous years for a period not exceeding twelve years, and it shall be the duty of the Trustees to comply with such requisition.

Provided that in all such cases it shall be lawful to the Board to apply to the Civil Court for an order directing an account against the Trustees for such longer period as may seem fit to such Court.

May move Court to require Trustees to account.

PART F.—As to giving Opinions and Advice, and Arbitration.

Board to give opinion and advice.

109. The Board may, upon the application of the Trustees of a Religious Institution, or otherwise, give their opinion, advice, or direction respecting

(1) any matter connected with the administration thereof, or

(2) any question or dispute relating to rites, ceremonial observances, and the like, in such Institutions.

Board may make inquiry, &c.

110. The Board may, before giving any opinion, advice, or direction

(1) cause an inquiry to be made;

(2) cause the report of any previous inquiry to be deposited for local inspection;

(3) give notice of the same being deposited; and

(4) consider any statements or objections which may be made or transmitted to them, and thereupon record such opinion, advice, or direction as to the Board may seem fit.

Opinion or advice to be in writing, certified and sealed.

111. Such opinion, advice, or direction shall be certified in writing and sealed with the seal of the Board.

Indemnity to Trustees.

112. Every Trustee acting upon the opinion, advice, or direction of the Board shall be deemed to have acted in accordance with his Trust; and no order subsequently made by any Court shall have such retrospective effect as to interfere with the indemnity given by this section.

Act not to protect persons guilty of fraud or misrepresentation.

Provided always that nothing herein contained shall extend to indemnify any Trustee for an act done in accordance with the opinion, advice, or direction of the Board if the Trustee has been guilty of fraud or wilful concealment, or misrepresentation of facts in obtaining the opinion, advice, or direction.

Power to arbitrate in matters of ritual and the like.

113. In case any question or dispute respecting rites, ceremonial observances, precedence, and the like in connection with any Religious Institution shall arise, it shall be lawful for the parties to such question or dispute, Trustees, or person interested therein, to submit the same for the decision or arbitration of the Board.

Decision or award binding on Trustees, &c.

It shall be competent to the Board to make the requisite inquiry in respect to the matter submitted to them and give such decision or award as to them may seem fit. The decision or award shall be certified in writing under the seal of the Board and the signatures of not less than two Commissioners, and shall be binding on the Trustees and all persons concerned.

PART G.—As to Schemes.

Board may revise existing schemes.

114. It shall be competent to the Board to confirm, revise, modify, or set aside any existing dittam or scheme of administration relating to any Religious Institution.

Or propose new schemes.

Where there is no dittam or scheme of administration existing, or where an existing scheme has been set aside, it shall be the duty of the Board, upon the application of a Trustee, or any person interested, or of their own motion, to frame a new proposed scheme.

Notice to be published.

Every such proposed scheme shall, in the first instance, be published by notice in the district in which the Institution concerned is situated, in such manner as the Board may deem fit for securing due publicity.

Notice to invite objection.

Every such notice shall require any objection to such proposed scheme, or any suggestions in relation thereto, to be made known or transmitted to the Secretary within three months from the publication of such notice.

Board may modify or affirm scheme.

115. After the expiration of such period, the Board shall consider all objections and suggestions which may have been submitted to them, and may thereupon modify, alter, or approve such proposed scheme; and after all objections and suggestions shall have been disposed of, or if no objections or suggestions shall have been made, the Board may proceed to affirm such scheme, and to certify the same in the manner hereinafter mentioned.

Scheme when settled to be certified and deposited by the Board.

116. Every scheme finally settled by the Board shall be certified by the Board under their seal and the signatures of not less than two Commissioners, and a copy of such scheme shall be deposited with the Trustees, and also in some convenient place within the locality in which the Institution may be wholly or partially situated, and at the office of the Board.

Scheme to be binding.

And such scheme and any subsequent alteration or modification thereof shall be binding on all parties concerned, unless set aside by the Civil Court.

Reference to Court.

117. If, before giving any opinion, advice, or direction, or framing or settling any scheme of administration as provided in Section 115, the Board entertain any doubt on any question of law or usage having the force of law, it shall be competent to them to draw up a statement of the facts of the case, and refer the point on which doubt is entertained, with a statement of their own opinion, for the decision of the Civil Court.

Such Court shall upon hearing all parties interested decide the point so referred, and transmit to the Board a copy of its decision under its seal and signature.

Procedure on reference.

And on the receipt of such decision it shall be the duty of the Board to act in conformity therewith.

PART H.—As to Suits.

118. No Trustee of a Religious Institution shall institute a suit or other legal proceeding in respect of any matter connected with such Institution, or withdraw or compromise the same, without the previous consent, obtained in writing, of the Board.

Suits by Trustees.

119. If it shall appear to the Board that such suit or other proceeding may be instituted, it shall be competent to the Board to give a certificate under the signature of their Secretary to that effect.

Suits may be allowed to proceed.

120. Whenever it shall appear to the Board that the institution of legal proceedings is requisite with respect to any Religious Institution, the Board may direct such proceedings to be taken by any Trustee, or other person to be nominated for the purpose by the Board, in writing, under the hand of their Secretary, and give such other directions in relation thereto, as the Board may deem proper.

Power of Board to direct legal proceedings.

121. If in any case it shall appear to the Board to be expedient that proceedings should be instituted by the Advocate-General or other officer acting under Section 539 of the Code of Civil Procedure, the Board may certify such case, under the hand of their Secretary, to such Advocate-General or other officer, and furnish such statements and particulars as in the opinion of the Board may be requisite for the proper elucidation of the case.

Power of Board to certify certain cases to Advocate-General or Government Pleader for legal proceedings.

The Advocate-General or other Officer aforesaid may thereupon institute such legal proceedings in a Civil Court.

Advocate-General or Government Pleader may proceed thereupon.

122. No person shall institute any suit or other legal proceeding in respect of any Institution until the expiration of one month next after notice in writing shall have been delivered to the Board or left at their office explicitly stating the cause of action and the name and residence of the intended plaintiff, together with the name of the Institution in respect of which the suit or other proceeding is intended to be instituted.

Suits by other persons.

123. Nothing contained in this Act shall be held to restrain or limit the powers of the Advocate-General or other officer duly authorized in that behalf under Section 539 of the Civil Procedure Code.

Not to limit the powers of the Advocate-General.

Provided that it shall be competent to the Advocate-General or other officer authorized as aforesaid to refer any application made to him under the said Section 539 of the Code of Civil Procedure for previous investigation and report by the Board, and it shall be the duty of the Board to make such investigation and report with due care and expedition.

Law officers may refer applications to Board for previous investigation and report.

124. On receiving such notice as is provided in Section 122, it shall be competent for the Board, after making such inquiry as may be necessary, to give such directions in respect thereof to the Trustees of the Institution concerned as to the Board may seem fit.

Board may give directions.

125. If, before or after the institution of any suit or other legal proceeding, it appear to the Board that any claim or demand or cause of action may, with advantage to the Institution concerned, be compromised or adjusted, it shall be competent to the Board to effect or direct such compromise or adjustment.

Board may compromise.

And upon the due performance of the terms and conditions of such compromise or adjustment all further suit or other proceeding shall be barred in respect to the cause of action concerning which such compromise or adjustment has been made.

Such compromise to be a final bar to all actions, &c.

126. All costs and expenses incurred in respect of legal proceedings authorized to be taken under Part II of Chapter IV of this Act shall be chargeable, subject to the directions of the Board, to the Religious Institution on whose behalf such legal proceedings may have been instituted or defended.

Costs, &c., of legal proceedings chargeable to the Religious Institution concerned.

CHAPTER V.—OF OFFICIAL TRUSTEES OF RELIGIOUS INSTITUTIONS.

127. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in Act XVII of 1864, the Secretary to the Board for the time being, together with such other person as the Governor in Council may appoint, shall be Official Trustees of Religious Institutions, and shall, for the purposes of taking, holding, conveying, and administering property, be a corporation sole, and shall have perpetual succession.

Appointment of Official Trustees of Religious Institutions.

Provided also that any Hindu Commissioner appointed under Section 4 of this Act not being the Chairman shall be eligible for the office of Official Trustee under this section, and shall receive such monthly salary not exceeding Rs. 250 as shall from time to time be determined by the Governor in Council.

Any Commissioner eligible for the office.

128. The Official Trustee appointed by the Governor in Council other than a Commissioner shall be a person professing the Hindu religion. And he shall receive such monthly salary not exceeding Rs. 350 as shall from time to time be determined by the Governor in Council, and shall not hold any office connected with any Religious Institution.

Salary of Official Trustee appointed by the Court.

Qualification.

The Secretary to the Board may as ex-officio Trustee, under Section 127, receive such additional monthly salary not exceeding Rs. 250 as shall from time to time be determined by the Governor in Council.

Secretary may be ex-officio Trustee.

129. On the occurrence of any vacancy amongst the Official Trustees of Religious Institutions, it shall be the duty of the Board to report the same forthwith to the Governor in Council, and take all necessary steps for the conduct of the business until the vacancy is filled up in due course.

Board to report vacancy and provide for the duty.

130. The Official Trustees may, from time to time, subject to the orders of the Board, and with the previous sanction of the Governor in Council—

Appointment and removal of officers.

appoint such officers, auditors, and servants as may be necessary;

grant salaries, pensions, and other emoluments to such persons; and suspend or remove any such persons.

131. The Official Trustees shall have the possession, management, and control of all property which may become vested in them under this Act, and shall apply the income thereof to the purposes of the several Trusts committed to them.

Official Trustees to hold and apply all property.

132. In all matters affecting their Trusts the Official Trustees shall act under the immediate direction of the Board, who shall have the same powers of supervision and control over such Official Trustees as such Board have over other Trustees under this Act.

To act under the orders of the Board.

Provided that nothing in this section shall bar the action of any Civil Court having jurisdiction from exercising the same in respect of any Trust or property vested in the Official Trustees. And all orders of such Court shall be binding on the Board and on the Official Trustees.

133. If any person shall be about to grant, assign, or settle any property, moveable or immoveable, upon or subject to any Trust of a religious or charitable nature, it shall be lawful for such person, with the consent of the Board and of the Official Trustees, to appoint such Official Trustees by the deed or writing creating the Trust to be the Trustees of such settlement.

Official Trustees may, with consent, be appointed Trustees of Settlement by grant or, &c.

Upon such appointment the property so granted shall vest in the Official Trustees, and shall be held by them upon the Trust declared and set forth in the said deed or writing.

Vesting of property.

134. Whenever the Trustees of any Religious Institution desire to withdraw from the management thereof, and to vest the property of such Institution in the Official Trustees, or Board may apply to Court to vest property of Religious Institutions in Official Trustees.

where there are no Trustees existing, or where it is uncertain in whom the property of any Religious Institution is vested, or where the persons in whom such property is vested cannot be found, or are under age, or of unsound mind, insolvent, or otherwise incapable of acting, or where in consequence of differences among the Trustees of any Religious Institution, or by reason of other considerations affecting the beneficial management thereof, it is necessary to withdraw the Institution from the management of the existing Trustees, or where there may be other good and sufficient cause, the Board may at their discretion apply to the Civil Court to vest the property of such institution in the Official Trustees.

135. It shall be competent to such Court to make an order vesting the property in the Official Trustees either permanently or for a specified period, or to pass such other orders in respect thereof as may seem fit to the Court.

Court may vest property in Official Trustees upon such application.

Upon such order being made, the property of the institution shall vest in the Official Trustees, and shall be held by them upon the same Trusts on which such property was previously held.

Provided that any Court having jurisdiction may, without any application from the Board, appoint the Official Trustees to be Trustees of any Religious Institution or Trust, and thereupon the property of such Institution or Trust shall vest in the Official Trustees.

Or without application.

136. The Official Trustees may, under the orders of the Board, direct that all or any of the property belonging to a Religious Institution or Trust which may have become vested in such Official Trustees shall be placed under the management of any Trustee appointed to act in the administration of such Religious Institution or Trust, and the Trustee so appointed shall thereupon have the possession and control of such property as if it had vested in such Trustees.

Official Trustees may transfer any property to the actual Trustees of any Religious Institution.

137. All Trustees apppointed under the last preceding section to act in the administration of any Religious Institution shall have the same duties and responsibilities as Trustees under this Act, and shall be subject to the orders of the Board.

Duties and responsibilities of Trustees acting in administration of any Religious Institution.

138. The Official Trustees shall keep and maintain in respect of each Trust—

Official Trustees to keep inventories and accounts.

(1) correct inventories of all property which may from time to time become vested in them;

(2) true and correct accounts of all receipts and disbursements; and

(3) any other books and accounts which the Board may direct.

139. The said inventories, accounts, and books shall be kept in the office of the Official Trustees, and shall be at all reasonable times open for the inspection of the Board, or of any Civil Court, or of any person authorized by the Board or any Court in that behalf, or of any person interested.

Such records to be kept at the office subject to inspection.

140. It shall be the duty of the Official Trustees to close the accounts of each Trust on the last day of December in each year.

To close their accounts each calendar year.

141. The Official Trustees shall, in the month of April in each year, submit to the Board a full report on the several Trusts which may have become vested in them.

Report to be submitted to the Board.

The report shall be accompanied by accounts in such form and detail as may be determined by the Board, showing for each Trust—

(1) the balance, if any, brought forward from the previous year;

(2) all receipts in cash during the year in in respect of such Trust, with the dates of such receipts;

(3) all payments made during the same period, with the dates of such payments;

(4) the balance at the credit of the Trust at the close of the year;

(5) all property other than money which shall have come during the year into the possession of such Official Trustees or into the hands of any person employed by them; and

(6) all debts due to or by every Trust vested in the Official Trustees.

To be accompanied by a Schedule of Trust.

The report shall likewise be accompanied by a schedule of all Trusts and of the property connected therewith of which the Official Trustees shall have ceased to be the Trustees during the same period, specifying the nature and value of such property and the persons to whom it has been transferred.

Board to review and publish.

142. The Board may review such report, and pass such orders thereon as they deem fit.

To be published in the Gazette.

A copy of such report and accounts shall be published in the Fort St. George Gazette, and so much of the accounts as relates to each Trust shall be published in the Gazettes of of the districts in which the principal portion of the property belonging to such Trust is situated.

Account to be furnished to the persons by whom property was vested in Official Trustees.

In every case in which a Trust has become vested in the Official Trustees under Section 133, a copy of so much of the report and accounts aforesaid as relates to such Trust shall, on or before the 1st day of August next ensuing, be furnished, under the seal and signature of the Official Trustees, to the person by whom the Trust was vested in such Official Trustees or to his representatives.

Copies to be furnished to the Court.

In every case in which a Trust has become vested in the Official Trustees by order of any Civil Court, a copy of so much of the report and accounts and of the schedule as relates to such Trust shall, on or before the 1st day of August in every year, or such other date as the Court may direct, be submitted to such Court.

The Court may file and pass orders.

143. The Court shall cause the accounts and schedules submitted to it to be filed as records in the Court, and it shall be competent to the Court to pass such orders thereon as may seem fit. Such orders shall be binding on the Official Trustees and on the Board.

Investment of funds.

144. The Official Trustees shall cause all capital moneys received by them to be invested in Government securities, or as provided by the Trust, or as the Board or a Civil Court may direct.

To realize funds improperly invested.

145. If in any case the Trust funds or any part thereof shall at the time of vesting in the Official Trustees be found to have been invested otherwise than as provided by the last preceding section, it shall be the duty of the Official Trustees, within a reasonable time, to realize the funds so improperly invested, and to invest the same as provided in the last section.

To call for and recover all income due under securities.

146. It shall be competent to the Civil Court or any Court by whose order a Trust has been vested in Official Trustees by an order to authorize the Official Trustees to call upon any persons in whose name they are held for a transfer of, and to transfer, any securities, annuities or stock, to the Official Trustees, and to receive and recover, in trust for the Institution concerned, all dividends, interest, and income and arrears thereof due upon any such securities, annuities or stock.

It shall be the duty of all such persons to comply with the directions contained in such order.

May re-transfer Trust property to actual Trustee.

147. Nothing in Chapter V shall prevent the re-transfer of any Trust property which may have become vested in the Official Trustees to the original or any subsequently appointed Trustee, or to such other person as the Court which originally vested the property shall direct, unless otherwise provided in the deed or writing creating the Trust.

Application to the Court by whom to be made.

148. Any order of Court under Chapter V may be made on the application—of the Board, or of the Official Trustees, or of any person beneficially interested in any Trust property, or of any Trustee thereof.

Property subject to contribution.

149. The property of every Trust which shall become vested in the Official Trustees under the provisions of Chapter V shall be chargeable annually with a sum not exceeding 2½ per cent. of the gross annual income derived from such property, payable to the Official Trust Fund. The actual percentage to be charged in each year shall be determined by the Board in communication with the Official Trustees.

Provided that it shall be competent to the Board to exempt from the operation of this section Trusts whose gross annual income does not exceed Rs. 50.

Official Trust Fund Account.

150. Such sums shall be placed to an account at the Bank of Madras or such other Bank as may from time to time be determined by the Governor in Council, to be termed "the Religious Institutions' Official Trust Account," and shall be employed in defraying all expenses incident to the carrying out of the provisions relating to Official Trustees.

Cheques how to be drawn.

All cheques for the payment of money held upon such account shall be signed by at least one of the Official Trustees, and shall be a sufficient authority to the Bank to make such payments.

151. No Official Trustee shall be chargeable with, or accountable for, any loss or misapplication of the funds under his control, unless the same shall have been occasioned by his own neglect or default.

Indemnity to Official Trustees.

Chapter VI.—Of Appeals from the Orders of the Board.

152. The Advocate-General or other person empowered by Section 539 of the Code of Civil Procedure, or any Trustee or servant of a Religious Institution, or any reasonable proportion of the persons interested therein, or any persons whose rights are affected by any order of the Board, may appeal to the Civil Court against such order, except where otherwise provided for by this Act, within four calendar months from the passing of such order.

Orders of Board may be appealed against.

Provided that no appeal shall be entertained in respect of rites and ceremonial observances, and the like.

Except in respect of rites and ceremonial observances.

153. No appeal shall be preferred by any person without previous notice thereof having been given to the Board thirty clear days before the presentation of such appeal.

Notice of appeal to the Board.

It shall be lawful to the Board or any Trustee or other person duly authorized in that behalf to appear before the Court in support of the order appealed against.

Board may appear in support.

154. Upon such appeal being preferred, the Court may, at any stage of the proceedings, require from the Board their reasons for making the order appealed against, or may remit the matter for re-consideration or revision by the Board, with or without any declaration of opinion or instructions in relation thereto, or may make such other order in relation to the matter of the appeal as the Court shall think just. And the Court may certify the same to the Board, whose duty it shall be to conform thereto.

Powers of the Courts in respect to appeal.

155. The Court may pass such orders as to the costs incidental to the appeal and as to the security which may be required from any appellant, other than the Advocate-General or other officer aforesaid, as the Court may deem fit.

Costs.

156. It shall be competent to the Board or any of the persons mentioned in section 152 to prefer an appeal to the Court authorized by law to hear appeals from the decisions of any Courts subordinate to it against any decree or order passed under the provisions of this Act.

Board may appeal against decree, &c., of a Civil Court.

Such appeal shall be preferred within four months from the date of the passing of such decree or order.

Time for preferring appeals.

157. All applications and appeals made to any Court under this Act by the Board, or by the Official Trustees, or by any Trustee of a Religious Institution or other person duly authorized by the Board on that behalf, may be made by a petition bearing a stamp of the value prescribed by the law for the time being in force as to petitions to such Courts.

Applications and appeals to be by petition.

Chapter VII.—Of Bye-laws.

158. The Board may from time to time make, alter, or rescind bye-laws regulating the following matters or any of them :—

Power to make bye-laws.

(a) the distribution of business amongst the Commissioners;

(b) the delegation of any powers of the Board to Committees consisting of their body or to individual Commissioners;

(c) the procedure at the meeting of the Board or of any Committee of the Commissioners;

(d) the books and accounts to be kept at the head office of the Board;

(e) the preparation and submission to the Board of an annual budget of receipts and expenditure by the Trustees of the Religious Institutions under their control;

(f) the preparation of a general annual budget for Religious Institutions by the Board;

(g) the remittance to Madras of the annual payments fixed under Sections 5 and 149;

(h) the periodical accounts, reports, and statements to be rendered to the Board by the Trustees of Religious Institutions, and by the Inspectors, Auditors, and other officers appointed by the Board;

(i) the form and manner of applications to the Board for schemes, opinion, or advice;

(j) the mode of conducting local inquiries by Inspectors or joint agencies;

(k) the safe custody of the Trust funds and securities which shall come into the possession of Official Trustees; and generally for

(l) the due discharge of their duties by the Official Trustees; and the Board may by such bye-laws and rules amongst other things direct where and how the funds and securities and other property belonging to the Trusts of which the Official Trustees are the Trustees shall be kept, invested, or deposited, and how any remittances thereof shall be made; and

(m) generally for the conduct of all proceedings and business under this Act.

Bye-laws made under clauses (k) and (l) shall be published in the Fort St. George Gazette, and shall be binding on the Official Trustees; and the same shall be a full authority and indemnity for all persons acting in pursuance thereof.

Binding on Official Trustees.

Provided that no bye-law or alteration or rescission of any bye-law shall be of any validity except in so far as the same is consistent with the provisions of this Act, and unless it has been previously approved by the Governor in Council.

Chapter VIII.—Miscellaneous.

159. It shall be competent to the Governor in Council, from time to time at his discretion, and subject to such directions as he may see fit to give in that behalf, to transfer to the management and control of the Board for the purposes of this Act any lands or other Governor in Council may transfer escheats to Board.

Endowments of any Religious Institution which from whatever cause may have escheated to Government; and such lands or other Endowments shall thereupon vest in the Board.

Governor in Council may transfer Charitable Institutions.

160. It shall be lawful for the Governor in Council, from time to time at his discretion, and subject to such directions as he may see fit to give in that behalf, to transfer to th management and control of Board any Colleges Choultries, or other Hindu Charitable Institutions together with the lands or other Endowment belonging thereto, and thereupon such Institution and the lands or other Endowments aforesaid shal vest in the Board—anything in Madras Regula tion VII of 1817 notwithstanding.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

1. The object of this Bill is to provide for the better administration of Hindu charities in the Presidency of Fort St. George. The existing legislation specially applicable is contained in Act XX of 1863, under which the management of Hindu Temples and similar Institutions is committed to (1) hereditary or independent Trustees of the kind mentioned in section 4 of the Act, and (2) Trustees appointed by Committees of Management created by the Act; and power is given to any person interested to sue the Trustee in the Civil Court for any misfeasance, breach of trust, or neglect of duty committed by such Trustee; but no suit can be brought under the Act without the leave of the Court. It has been found that neither the general law nor the provisions of Act XX of 1863 are sufficient to secure the due administration of Hindu Charitable Trusts in the Presidency of Fort St. George, and there is reason to believe that great abuses prevail in the management of such Trusts, involving considerable breaches of trust and misappropriation of funds by persons having the control of such Institutions.

2. The Bill is divided into eight chapters.

Preliminary.

3. Chapter I states the title, extent, and commencement. It repeals so much of Act XX of 1863 as relates to Hindu Temples and Establishments, except so far as that Act preserves Madras Regulation VII of 1817. The Board of Revenue still superintend the management of Choultries and Chuttrums under Section 2 of the Regulation. So much of Act XX of 1863 as relates to Mosques or other Mahomedan Religious Establishments is untouched by the Bill. Section 3 defines "Board," "Commissioner," "Religious Institution," "Trustee," "Person interested," "Officer," and "Civil Court."

Of the Constitution of the Board and the Transaction of Business.

4. Chapter II provides for the appointment of a Board, upon the model of the Charity Commissioners in England, to be called the Hindu Religious Institutions' Board. The Board is to consist of four Commissioners: three of the Commissioners and the Secretary are to be Hindus, and the fourth Commissioner is to be a European Barrister The Commissioners and Secretary are to be appointed by the Governor in Council, and are to be paid salaries, to be fixed by the Governor in Council, not exceeding the amounts specified in the Bill. They are to have an office in Madras and to have a common seal. Inspectors, not exceeding five in number, as also additional Inspectors when required, are to be appointed by the Governor in Council. The cost of the establishment in Madras is to be paid by an annual contribution by every Religious Institution, to be fixed by the Governor in Council, not exceeding 5 per cent. of the gross annual income of the Institution. Section 9 authorizes the Board, with the sanction of the Governor in Council, to raise loans upon the security of the funds vested in them. Directions are given for regulating the transaction of business at meetings of the Board, and authorizing the Board to appoint and dismiss clerks and servants, and to fix their salaries and pensions. The Board (section 23) are expressly required to make a general report of all the proceedings in the month of April in every year to the Government. The report is to be published in the Fort St. George Gazette, and such portions of it as affect the Religious Institutions of any particular district are to be published in the local Gazette of that district.

Of Trustees and their Duties.

5. Chapter III deals with Trustees and sets forth their duties. The Trustees of every Religious Institution are required to furnish to the Board a complete and true account showing the history and objects of the Institution, with copies of all grants and title-deeds, a statement of all the property of the Institution and of its application, and to set forth the existing scheme of administration. If this duty be adequately performed, an authentic record will in time be established which will prove most advantageous in securing the due administration of charitable Trusts. There being no such record at present, the detection of the misuse of charity funds is beset with difficulty. Trustees are further required to apply the funds according to the Trust, or any sanctioned scheme of administration. All servants are to be under the control of Trustees. All property belonging to the Institution shall vest in and be under their control, and they are required to provide for the proper cultivation and leasing of all lands and buildings belonging to the Trust; and minute directions are given for the due performance of their duties. It will be part of their duty to submit proposals to the Board for altering schemes, and to keep the Board informed of all matters affecting the interests of the Institution. Trustees will be bound to obey all lawful orders by the Board, and they are authorized to fill up vacancies in the office of Trustee subject to the orders of the Board. They may dismiss servants subject to an appeal to the Board. They may apply to the Board for advice or opinion or directions respecting any dispute as to rites, ceremonial observances, or the like. Section 40 declares that when Trustees exercise their discretion in good faith, and in all cases in which they act under the orders of the Board, they shall not incur any personal liability. Power is given to recover possession of property from dismissed servants by summary proceedings before a Magistrate, and from tenants, whose tenancy has expired, by like proceedings in the Civil Court.

Of the Duties and Powers of the Board.

6. Chapter IV prescribes the duties of the Board and gives powers to enable them to perform the prescribed duties. Among the more important duties are the making and maintaining of a register containing all the information relating to Institutions which the Trustees are required to furnish by the preceding chapter, to appoint and remove Trustees and servants, to control the application and investment of funds and audit accounts, to give opinions and advice, and to arbitrate in cases of dispute in respect of rites and ceremonial observances, and to frame schemes of administration. Parts A to H contain provisions enabling the Board to fulfil the duties imposed upon them. Power is given to hold local investigations into the affairs of any Institution, and for this purpose to depute any Commissioner or Inspector. In some cases persons resident in the locality are to be associated with the Commissioner or Inspector holding the inquiry; and the Board, or any Commissioner, or Inspector duly authorized are entitled to require written statements or accounts from Trustees, Agents, and persons in possession of the property of the Trust, to summon witnesses and examine them upon oath and to require the production of documents.

7. Part C treats of the appointment and removal of Trustees. The occurrence of vacancies in the office is to be reported to the Board. The appointment of new Trustees is to be subject to the approval of the Board, except where the appointment is made by a Civil Court, and in certain cases the Board may appoint in the manner provided by Sections 69 to 72 of the Bill. Trustees are liable to dismissal by the Board for breach of trust, neglect of duty, incapacity to act, insolvency, or wilful disobedience of any direction issued under the Act, and the Board may hold inquiries into the conduct of Trustees and direct proceedings of a civil or criminal character to be taken against them. The Civil Court, on the other hand, may remit any case for investigation by the Board whenever a suit is brought against a Trustee for breach of trust or other misconduct. The property of any Institution unlawfully held by any Trustee who has been dismissed or suspended may be recovered by summary application to the Civil Court (section 79). The dismissal or suspension of servants is to be subject to the directions of the Board, and any servant asserting a hereditary right may appeal to the Civil Court from any order of the Board removing him from his office. The Board may remove any servant for good cause when the service is no longer necessary, subject to the right of appeal to the Civil Court in the case of a person holding a hereditary office.

8. Part D relates to the control of Trustees and funds. Trustees are prohibited from making any sale, exchange, or mortgage of Trust property, or from making leases of immoveable property for more than a year, without the express sanction of the Board, but the Board are empowered to make such alienations, or to let the property on building, mining, plantation or other leases, or to make improvements upon it. Where it is uncertain what specific part of any property is applicable to the purposes of any Institution, or whenever they may think fit, the Board may certify what part of the property is so applicable to the exoneration of the residue, but this power is subject to appeal to the Civil Court by any person interested. The Board may authorize the investments of funds in any manner deemed most beneficial, and may apply, subject to the obligation of making a special report to the Government, to be published in the Gazette, the surplus funds of any Religious Institution to any educational or other purpose not inconsistent with the objects of the Institution. Power is given to the Board to take measures to set aside improvident alienation of Trust property, and to make compensation to the alienees in respect of permanent improvements made upon the property. The Board may take charge of all lands or other Endowments of any Religious Institution which have escheated to Government and have been granted to the Board in pursuance of the powers conferred by the Bill upon the Government (section 159); and in such cases the Board may apply the funds to purposes of education or other objects conducive to the public good, health, and convenience. The Board may also take charge of and administer any Colleges, Choultries, and other Charitable Institutions which may be transferred to the Board by the Government under Section 160 of the Bill, notwithstanding anything contained in Madras Regulation VII of 1817. In all cases where the object of any Institution fails or becomes impracticable, or the Trust cannot be carried out, the Board may apply to the Civil Court to direct that the funds of such Institution may be applied to purposes of education or other objects conducive to the public good. The Board is also authorized to sanction the payment of fees to Trustees.

Accounts.

9. Part E provides for keeping accounts by Trustees. The Board may prescribe the forms of books of account to be kept and furnished by Trustees, direct audits of such accounts and examine the balance of cash and other property in the possession of Trustees.

10. Part F authorizes the Board to give directions, opinions and advice, or to act as arbitrators upon matters connected with the administration of Institutions and upon questions relating to rites, ceremonial observances, and the like. Before acting under this part the Board may hold inquiries and consider any statements or objections which may be made to the Board. Trustees acting in pursuance of the opinion, direction, or advice of the Board are indemnified, except where there has been fraud or wilful misrepresentation or concealment of facts in obtaining the same. In case of dispute arising with respect to ceremonial observances, precedence, or the like, the parties to the dispute may refer it for the decision of the Board, whose decision shall be binding upon Trustees and all persons concerned.

11. Part G treats of schemes. The Board may alter any existing scheme of administration or frame new schemes. Every proposed new scheme shall be duly published, and objections are to be sent to the Secretary within three months from publication of the notice. Upon the final settlement of the scheme it shall be certified under the seal of the Board: a copy shall be deposited with the Trustee, another copy at the office of the Board, and a third in some convenient place where the Institution is situated. The scheme so settled, as well as any subsequent alteration thereof, is to be binding upon all parties concerned, unless it is set aside by the Civil Court. Section 117 provides that if before giving any opinion, advice or direction, or settling any scheme, the Board entertain any doubt upon any question of law, or usage having the force of law, they may refer such question for the decision of the Civil Court, and the Court shall decide the question so referred upon hearing all parties interested.

12. Part H relates to suits. The Board are empowered to direct the institution, compromise, and withdrawal of legal proceedings in respect of any matter connected with the Religious Institutions under their control, and Trustees are prohibited from instituting legal proceedings or withdrawing or compromising the same without the written consent of the Board. Section 122 provides that no person shall institute any suit or other legal proceedings until after the expiration of one month after notice in writing shall have been given to the Board, stating the cause of action and the name of the plaintiff. But nothing in this part is intended to limit the powers of the Advocate-General or other officer under Section 539 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

Of Official Trustees of Religious Institutions.

13. Chapter V provides for the appointment of Official Trustees and defines their duties There are to be two such Trustees—one of whom is to be the Secretary to the Board. Any person who may be about to settle any property upon any Trust of a religious or charitable nature may appoint the Official Trustees to be the Trustees of such settlement, and in the circumstance mentioned in section 134 of the Bill, the Board may apply to the Civil Court to vest the property of any Religious Institution in the Official Trustees. Any Civil Court having jurisdiction may appoint the Official Trustees to be the Trustees of any Religious Institution. The Official Trustees are required to keep accounts and to submit to the Board a report on the several Trusts vested in them. Copies of the accounts and reports shall be published in the Fort St. George Gazette and in the Gazette of the districts to which the Trusts relate. A copy of so much of the reports and accounts as relates to a Trust shall be furnished to the person by whom the Trust was vested in the Official Trustees or to his representatives; and when a Trust has become vested in the Official Trustees by an order of any Civil Court, a copy of the report and accounts relating to such Trust shall be furnished to the Civil Court. The Official Trustees are required to invest all funds in their possession as required by the Board, and they may apply to the Civil Court to require any person in whose name any securities, annuities, or stock is held to transfer the same to the Official Trustees and to enable them to receive and recover all dividends, interest, or income due upon such stock or securities. Whenever property shall become vested in Official Trustees, the same shall be chargeable annually with a sum, to be determined by the Board, not exceeding 2½ per cent. of the gross annual income derived from such property, and the Official Trustees are to receive monthly salaries as provided in Sections 127 and 128.

Of Appeals from the Orders of the Board.

14. Chapter VI gives a right of appeal to the Civil Court against orders made by the Board, except orders relating to rites, ceremonial observances, and the like. Thirty days' notice is required to be given to the Board before the presentation of an appeal. A further appeal is given from the decision of the Civil Courts to the Court authorized by law to hear appeals from the decisions of such Civil Courts. Applications and appeals under the Bill may be made by petition bearing a stamp of the value for petition in such Courts. It is deemed expedient for the present to give a double, or in some instances a treble, appeal in consequence of the novel and extensive powers conferred on the Board and the complicated nature of the questions which may arise. If the Board should succeed in securing the public confidence, as is hoped, many of the checks upon the action of the Board, which are now thought to be necessary, may, it is believed, be removed by future legislation.

Bye-laws.

15. Chapter VII enables the Board, with the sanction of the Governor in Council, to make, alter, or rescind bye-laws for regulating the various matters mentioned in it.

Miscellaneous.

16. Chapter VIII authorizes the Government to transfer to the management of the Board any lands or Endowments of any Religious Institution which may have escheated to the Government, and of any Colleges, Choultries, or other Hindu Charitable Endowments notwithstanding anything contained in Regulation VII of 1817.

2	Bankoora, „ 26 „	Nil	Weather—cold in the night and morning. Midday hot and bright. Rain fell only in Gungajalghati. More rain is wanted everywhere. The crops are suffering, especially on the high lands, for want of rain. Epidemic fever is still raging towards the east.
3	Beerbhoom, „ 26 „		The crops are everywhere reported to be excellent, and the harvest promises to be a full one, even though the absence of rain is a disappointment.
4	Midnapore, „ 26 „		Weather—sultry. The state and prospects of the crops are favourable.
5	Hooghly, „ 26 „		Weather—clear throughout the week. No rain. Wind from south and north. The amun crop promises well. Kartic sali is in flower. The cultivation of potatoes is in progress. The prospects of all crops are generally good. Fever is prevailing everywhere.
	Howrah, „ 28 „		Weather—seasonable. Signs of cold weather. The prospects of the crops are good. Another fall of rain would do good. Prices continue high.
	Central Districts.
PRESIDENCY DIVN. 6	24-Pergunnahs (for week ending 25th).		The days are hot and the nights cool. The prospects of the crops are satisfactory, but rain is wanted. Ordinary fever is still prevailing in the sub-divisions of Barasat, Busseerhat, Satkhira and Baripore.
	Diamond Harbour (for week ending 24th).	1·42
	Baripore (for week ending 24th).	1·77
7	Nuddea, Oct. 25 '78	Nil	Weather—sunshiny and hot. The prospects of all crops are favourable as yet. A little more rain is required for amun and kalai, but no harm is done as yet.
8	Jessore, „ 26 „	Nil	Weather—clear and dry, and cooler than last week. The prospects of the amun paddy are good. Cultivation for the winter crops is going on.
9	Moorshedabad „ 27 „	Nil	Weather—fine and bright. The nights begin to be cool. Nothing new to report. Ploughing for winter crops is being vigorously carried on, and the amun continues to promise well.
RAJSHAHYE AND COOCH BEHAR DIVN. 10	Dinagepore, „ 25 „	Nil	Weather—cool and fine. The prospects of the crops are good.
11	Rajshahye, „ 26 „	Nil	Weather—fair and getting cool. The prospects of the standing amun dhan are said to be promising. The sowing of mashkalai has commenced. The price of common rice has fallen this week from 14 to 15 kutcha seers per rupee.
12	Rungpore, „ 25 „	Nil	Weather—getting cool. The state and prospects of the crops are good. Public health is good.
13	Bogra, „ 26 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable. A heavy fog on the morning of the 25th. The standing crops, except the amun in the east of the district, which was much injured by the inundation, are doing well and promise a good outturn. In some places amun is coming into ear. Mustard, sessamum and mashkalai are being sown. Rice is getting cheaper. The usual fever is prevalent in the district, especially, in the Panchbibi jurisdiction. Five cases of cholera have been reported from Bogra, of which two proved fatal.
14	Pubna, „ 26 „	Nil	Weather—clear, and cool at night. The state and prospects of the crops continue favourable. Prices remain high, and in Serajgunge there have been complaints of want. Health is generally good, but with some fever, and a case of small-pox.
15	Darjeeling, „ 26 „	Nil	Weather—alternately bright and cloudy. The prospects of the crops throughout the district are good.
16	Julpigoree, „ 26 „	Nil	Weather—getting cooler, but the sun is still very powerful. Jute has been cut and is yielding a good outturn. Haimanta dhan is reported as doing very well. Health of the people is generally good.
	Cooch Behar, „ 24 „	Nil	The mornings are beginning to be foggy. The sun is still powerful. A shower of rain will do much good to the late rice, though it may injure the tobacco seedlings which have not yet been transplanted. The fields are being prepared for the cold weather crops. The price of rice continues high as reported last week. The distress among the poor people in pergunnah Lal Bazar is confined to a few talooks. Rice is, however, procurable everywhere. Public health continues good.

PATNA DIVN.
25	Patna, Oct. 26 '78	Nil	Weather—hot and dry. Rain is now much wanted for rubbee sowings and for maturing the rice crop on the ground.
26	Gya, „ 26 „	Nil	The sky is clear. Maximum reading in the shade 96°. Rain is wanted almost everywhere in the district, and it is reported from Aurungabad and Imamgunge stations that the crops are drying up for want of it. With the exception of a few cases of fever and small-pox, the public health is generally good. A few cases of cattle disease have been reported from Lakhimpore.
27	Shahabad, „ 26 „	Nil	Weather—warm in the day with dry westerly winds; cool in the nights and mornings. No sign of rain. The aghani crop is withering, and the sowings of the rubbee crops are impeded for want of rain. The outturn of the aghani crop will be below the average unless there is immediate rainfall. The tracts irrigated by canal water are faring better. Flights of locusts are reported from the Buxar sub-division. Prices are increasing. Fever is prevalent.
28	Durbhunga, „ 26 „	Nil	Weather—cool and clear. The outturn of the amun rice crop is estimated at 14 annas, or, if rain should fall, a little more.
29	Mozufferpore, „ 26	Nil	Weather—cool and seasonable. The prospects of the rice crop continue good. The rubbee sowings are going on, and in many places the young crops are coming up well.
30	Sarun, „ 26 „	Nil	Weather—clear. No signs of rain. The mornings and evenings are cool. West wind is prevailing. Rain is badly wanted both for the rice crop, which on the high lands is fast drying up, and for the rubbee sowings. The moisture in the land is being affected by the west winds and prospects are the reverse of favourable. Locusts have been passing over in great numbers for the last three days. Prices of food-grains have greatly risen. Fever is still prevalent.
31	Chumparun, „ 26 „	Nil	Cold nights. No change to report. More rain is required for the dhan in the south and south-east of the district where the rainfall has been much below the average.
BHAGULPORE DIVISION.
32	Monghyr, „ 26 „	Nil	The rains have apparently ceased, and the cold weather has commenced to set. No apprehension apparently exists for the rubbee sowings. Cholera is slightly, and fever much, prevalent.
33	Bhagulpore, ...	.....	Return not received.
34	Purneah, „ 26 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable and dry. Easterly wind. The prospects of the rice crop are good. The sowing of the rubbee is progressing favourably. Fever is bad.
35	Maldah, „ 26 „	Nil	Weather—fair. The prospects of the crops are unchanged. Heavy exports keep prices high. Fever is prevalent as before.
36	Sonthal Perghs. „ 27 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable. All reports are cheering. A full crop seems assured now.

No.	District, and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date
ORISSA.
Orissa Divn. 37	Cuttack, Oct. 26 '78	Nil	Weather—fine and hot. The early sarad rice is in ear, and the late crop is in excellent condition. The cold-weather plants are coming on well. Cholera has ceased in the town, but prevails in different parts of the district.
38	Pooree, „ 24 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable. No rain fell at the Sudder station during the week. It is reported from all other parts of the district. The boghoo crop is being harvested. Beali and mandia have been harvested. Sarad rice is progressing well. The prospects of the miscellaneous crops are fair. Common rice sells at 17 to 26 Calcutta seers for the rupee, but in the salt tracts the price is 11½ seers only. Public health is good.
	Khoorda ...	0·23
39	Balasore, „ 25 „	0·01	Weather—seasonable. Early mornings cool and pleasant. The state and prospects of the crops are good; but a little more rain would do much good. Cattle disease and fever prevail.
CHOTA NAGPORE.
	South-West Frontier Agency.
40	Hazareebagh, Oct. 25 '78	Nil	Weather—seasonable. The rains have now entirely ceased and there is every appearance of the weather being settled for some time to come. A little of the rice crop sown on the high lands will probably be lost, but otherwise there will be a full rice crop throughout the district.
41	Lohardugga, „ 26 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable and sensibly colder since the last three days. No change to report. More rain is much wanted for the higher land rice and for the rubbee crops. Without rain the outturn of the rice will not be up to the average and there will be very little rubbee, particularly in Palamow.
42	Singbhoom, „ 25 „	Nil	Weather—very pleasant and seasonable. Rain has fallen in many parts of the district during the week. The condition of the crops is everywhere very satisfactory. Fever still prevails.
43	Manbhoom, „ 26 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable. The state and prospects of the crops are favourable on the whole; but rain is still wanted in almost all parts of the district for the higher transplanted lands. Report from thana Echagur states that want of rain is severely felt, and from thanas Simlapal, Supur, Jhurrea and Topechanchee, it has been reported that there has been no rain lately and that the crops will suffer if there be no rain shortly. There had been light rains at intervals in Manbazar and Gournagdee, but more is wanted. At Jhalda there had been a good shower on the 16th instant. The sub-divisional officer at Gobindpore reports—"Owing to there having been no rain, the paddy on the high lands have suffered a good deal; one heavy shower will greatly benefit the paddy on the low lands. The outturn of the high land paddy will probably be 12 annas in the rupee. Sugarcane is promising"

The mean pressure, temperature, &c, are deduced from observations made at 6h, 10h., 16h., and 22h.; the maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula

The direction and movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground

METEOROLOGICAL OFFICE, INDIA,
The 28th October 1878.

ALEXANDER PEDLER,
For Offg. Meteorological Reporter to the Government of India.

Report of Fluctuation of Traffic on the Eastern Bengal Railway for the five weeks ending 28th September 1878.

EASTERN BENGAL RAILWAY COMPANY, TRAFFIC SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE, SEALDAH TERMINUS.

Report on the Goods Traffic for the five weeks ending 28th September 1878.

No. 6, dated Calcutta, the 16th October 1878.

From—W. INNES, ESQ., Acting Traffic Superintendent,
To—The Agent, Eastern Bengal Railway, Sealdah.

THE total weight of goods carried over this railway during the above period was 9,98,591 maunds, which, as compared with the corresponding period of last year, shews a decrease of 4,29,927 maunds. This decrease is mainly in grain, including rice and seeds, jute in drums, foreign railway material; but there was a slight increase in hides, bales, jute, salt, tea, and tobacco.

Decreases.

Grain, including rice and seeds ... ... Mds. 3,86,952

This abnormal decrease is in consequence of the absence of demand for export this year.

Jute, drums of ... ... Mds. 70,785

I attribute this decrease to the fact of shippers having cleared off their old stock, and only the new season's just now coming down, and through a want of life in the market.

Foreign railway material ... ... Mds. 24,833

Last year, at this time, large quantities of material for the construction and maintenance of the Northern Bengal State Railway were being received; the line having been opened since then, this decrease was expected.

Increases.

Hides, bundles of ... ... Mds. 5,906

This increase is owing to an increased demand for Dacca slaughtered.

Jute, bales of ... ... Mds. 6,497

This increase is owing to the extension of work at the presses at steamer station.

Salt ... ... Mds. 22,439

This increase was expected, and is attributable to low rate of freight and facilities offered by this Company to salt merchants.

Tea ... ... Mds. 7,195

This increase is satisfactory, and is accounted for by the opening of the Northern Bengal State Railway.

Tobacco ... ... Mds 10,465

This produce still continues to increase consequent on the growing demand for the country weed.

I attach the usual statement of increases and decreases.

EASTERN BENGAL RAILWAY.

Report of Fluctuation of Traffic on the Tirhoot State Railway for the month of September 1878.

Increases.

Coal	Mds.	7,137

This coal is being worked up for brick-making at Mozufferpore and Durbhunga, principally for the new civil station there.

Food-grains	Mds.	13,310
Hides	„	734
Iron	„	1,054
Piece-goods		8,167
Saltpetre		8,924
Sugar		2,097
Tobacco		2,359

Taking into consideration the season of the year, the rains, and the approaching Doorga Poojah holidays, the business done in these staples of traffic may be taken as satisfactory.

Miscellaneous goods	Mds.	11,002

This is very satisfactory and shews a healthy impetus to trade.

Decreases.

Railway material	Mds.	6,267

Exceptional traffic depending upon railway works under construction.

Oil-seeds	Mds.	15,538

Last year's prices for this staple were much higher, and the demand in the Calcutta and other markets much greater than this year.

Salt	Mds.	1,459

This is import traffic, and at this season of the year it falls off.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

(No. 23.)

Bay of Bengal, Coast of Burma.

REPORTED SHOAL, NORTH-WEST OF CHEDUBA ISLAND.

Mr. W. E. Hutchinson, Commanding the British India Steam Navigation Company's steamer Avagyee, whilst on a voyage from Bassein to Kyouk Phyou, observed heavy rollers and breakers indicative of a shoal patch, with probably only 2 or 3 fathoms at low water, lying 8 miles to the north-west of Beacon island, Cheduba, coast of British Burma.

From the shoal, West point of Ramree island bears N. by E. ¼ E., and the north-west point of Cheduba island S. E. by S., which places it in latitude 19° 2′ N., and longitude 93° 21′ 30″ E.

CAUTION.—The whole of the neighbourhood of Cheduba and Ramree islands is imperfectly known, and careful navigation is necessary.

[The bearings are Magnetic : Variation 2° 55′ Easterly in 1878.]

By Direction of the Government of India,

A. DUNDAS TAYLOR, Comdr. (late I. N.),

NOTIFICATION.

The 22nd October 1878.—The following revised rules, which have been framed for the guidance of Benches of Magistrates established in Calcutta under section 9 of the Presidency Magistrates' Act IV of 1877 and sanctioned by the Lieutenant-Governor, are published for general information in lieu of those which appeared at page 661 of the Calcutta Gazette of the 30th May 1877.

1. The Bench shall try such cases as may be referred to it by either of the Stipendiary Magistrates, subject to the provisions of rule 8: provided further that no case triable by the High Court only shall be so referred.

2. Benches shall ordinarily sit for the first hearing of cases on the dates and at the time mentioned below. A special Bench may, however, be convened on any other day by either of the Stipendiary Magistrates.

(Here insert dates and time of sitting.)

3. A Bench shall ordinarily be composed of not less than three Magistrates when they are all Honorary Magistrates, or of two when one of them is a Stipendiary Magistrate and the other an Honorary Magistrate. The Honorary Magistrates will sit in the rotation arranged by the Commissioner of Police, but any Magistrate not named may sit, unless the Chief Magistrate otherwise directs.

The Stipendiary Magistrates shall be ex-officio members of benches.

When an Honorary Magistrate, named for a particular day, fails to attend owing to illness or from any other cause, the Chief Magistrate may, at his discretion, summon another member or direct that the Bench may proceed without the absent member; provided that no case set down for hearing before the Bench shall proceed unless a Stipendiary Magistrate, or, in his absence, two Honorary Magistrates be present.

4. The Chief Magistrate shall, if present, officiate as Chairman. In his absence the Junior Magistrate shall, if sitting, officiate as Chairman. In the absence of both the Stipendiary Magistrates, the Bench may elect its own Chairman.

5. The Chairman shall conduct the proceedings of the Court, and exercise all the functions in that behalf usually exercised by a Presidency Magistrate when sitting alone. He shall decide upon the admissibility of evidence, and maintain order in the Court; but it shall be open to any member of the Bench to put any question to the witnesses, either direct or through the Chairman as the latter may deem advisable, and to suggest any matter for the Chairman's consideration.

6. Each member of the Bench shall have a voice in the finding and sentence. In a Bench of three or other uneven number, the opinion of the majority shall prevail. When the numbers are even, the Chairman shall have a casting vote.

7. The Chairman shall generally record the evidence and judgment in cases in which a record of evidence and a judgment are necessary; but such duty may, with his consent, be performed by any one of his colleagues.

8. The Bench may hold one or more adjourned sittings, if this be found necessary for the disposal of business, or of part-heard cases; but it shall be open to the Bench at the close of its regular sittings either to refer unheard cases back to the Magistrate under whose order of reference they received them, or to postpone them to some other day as may seem most convenient. Any part-heard case postponed to a further sitting of the Bench may be proceeded with if any member of the Bench has been present at the previous hearing in the case, but subject to the provisions of section 156 of the Presidency Magistrates' Act.

Any part-heard case may, however, be sent back to the Magistrate under whose order of reference it was received, should it appear unsuited for trial by a Bench. In such cases the Magistrate shall recommence the trial.

Dated 21st October 1878.

No. 274.—Notification.—In exercise of the powers conferred on him by section 99 of Act III (B. C.) of 1876, the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to pass the following rules for the Sone Canals is supersession of the rules passed in Notification No. 259, dated 1st August 1876:—

The 11th, 18th, and 25th September 1878, and 2nd and 16th October 1878.

A draft of the rules now passed was published as provided in the aforesaid section of the said Act in the Calcutta Gazette of the dates noted in the margin.

F. T. HAIG, Col., R.E.,
Joint-Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal in the P. W. Dept., Irrigation Branch.

RULES UNDER ACT III (B.C.) OF 1876.

1. The Collector, before awarding compensation under section 16, or making a reference under section 17, of the Act, shall obtain the written opinion of the Superintending Canal Officer, which shall form part of the record of the proceedings.

2. Water shall not be granted where, in the opinion of the Divisional Canal Officer, oss from wastage is likely to occur.

3. Water shall not ordinarily be granted where the length of the village channel, from its head to its point of contact with the village boundary exceeds two (2) miles.

4. Water for irrigation shall not be supplied, except through a village channel so constructed and maintained, that, in the opinion of the Divisional Canal Officer—

(a)—the water will pass without wastage;

(b)—the existing necessary lines of communication, the flow of drainage water, and the passage of water for irrigation, will not be obstructed.

5. The Divisional Canal Officer may withhold or postpone the grant of water to any cultivator whose fields have not been prepared for irrigation by division into compartments not greater in area than one cottah or 1361·25 superficial feet, and by the addition of small water channels as is customary in irrigation from wells.

Rice fields are exempted from the operation of this rule.

6. The above rule shall only apply to those cases in which the non-observance of it has been discovered previous to the first watering of a crop; the water having been once given cannot be withheld for that crop, but a higher rate may be levied as provided in Rule 38.

7. Persons desirous (i) of constructing a village channel, or (ii) of taking water therefrom, or (iii) of taking water from any outlet provided by Government, shall prefer a written application to the Divisional Canal Officer, or to some officer duly authorised by him to receive such applications. In the first case (i), if the application be received by an officer subordinate to the Divisional Canal Officer, it shall be forwarded to him for orders.

8. An application under Rule 7 shall, if granted, and unless otherwise specially agreed upon, be subject to the following conditions:—

(a)—That the water supplied shall not be used for other purposes than irrigation, without the written consent of the Divisional or Sub-Divisional Canal Officer.

(b)—That the applicants appoint a headman, known or ascertained, to be a substantial person possessed of property, to attend to their interests, to receive and carry out the orders of the Canal Officers, to distribute the water among the shareholders in the village channel according to their shares, and to collect and pay in to the Collector, or other duly authorized person, all water-rates leviable on the lands watered from the village channel. His appointment shall be subject to the approval of the Divisional Canal Officer and of the Collector, and he shall be deemed to be a public servant within the meaning of the Penal Code.

(c)—That in any case where persons desirous of taking water fail to appoint a headman, or cannot agree among themselves as to the headman, the Divisional Canal Officer shall appoint a headman, whose appointment shall be subject to the approval of the Collector.

(d)—If the Collector and Divisional Canal Officer do not agree as to the appointment of a headman under Rules 8 (b) and 8 (c), the Collector shall refer the matter to the Commissioner of the Division, whose decision shall be final.

(e)—That the headman shall furnish security for the payment of all sums realized by him, the stamp and registration fees on security bonds being deducted from the percentage allowed under Rule 11.

(f)—That for each crop, previous to water being taken for any field, application shall be made in the prescribed form (Appendix A) to the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer or other officer authorized to receive such applications, and that no water shall be taken until after the receipt of a "permit" (Appendix B) from such officer.

(g)—That in any case where the Divisional Canal Officer, owing to the known recusancy of any village, or of any class of cultivators, anticipates that there is likely to be difficulty in the realization of the water-rates, he shall intimate the same to the Collector, in whose option it shall be to require payment of water-rates in advance.

(h)—That any other cultivators in the same village, able and willing to irrigate their lands from the village channel, may, subject to the approval of the Divisional Canal Officer, be admitted as shareholders in it, on paying their proportionate share of the first cost and maintenance thereof, to be determined by the amount of irrigable land held by them.

(i)—That all alterations in the number of shareholders, distribution of shares, or appointment of headmen, shall be reported to the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer for the sanction of the Divisional Canal Officer.

9. The Divisional Canal Officer is empowered to pay to the headman appointed under Rule 8 the fees detailed in the rule next following, subject to the condition of satisfactory performance of duty.

10. The allowance to the headman of a village channel for duties connected with that village channel, such as arranging that it shall be kept in proper repair, seeing that no lands obtain water without a regular "permit," distributing the water to the shareholders, seeing to the outlet being closed according to the orders of the Divisional Canal Officer, and generally assisting the officers of the Irrigation Department, shall be 4 per cent on the amount of canal-water rates assessed on the lands irrigated from the village channel under his charge. The Divisional Canal Officer may retrench the whole or any part of the fees under this rule in the event of the conditions not being complied with.

11. The allowance to the headman of a village channel for collecting the water-rates shall be 4 per cent. on the amount actually paid in by him. If the headman shall satisfy the Collector that arrears have not accrued through any negligence on his part, it shall be within the discretion of the Collector to pay him the allowance on the whole or on any part of such arrears.

12. Contracts between the Divisional Canal Officer on the part of Government and private individuals for the use of water as a motive power, or for any other purpose whatsoever not included in the published schedule of rates, shall, if for any period not exceeding one year, require the previous sanction of the Superintending Canal Officer.

If proposed for longer periods, such contracts shall be submitted for the sanction of the Lieutenant-Governor in the Irrigation Department.

13. Tanks may be filled with canal water without charge, and without reference to the area irrigated in any village, whenever water can be made available without injury to the cultivation dependant on any canal, under the following conditions:—

(a)—No tank shall be so filled unless the water is to be exclusively used for domestic purposes or for watering cattle or both.

(b)—No tank shall be so filled from which irrigation is practised.

(c)—No tank shall be so filled which, intercepting any line of drainage, is liable to overflow from accumulation of water derived from natural causes.

(d)—No tank shall be so filled except on the written order of the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer, issued on the written application of the parties concerned.

(e)—No tank shall be so filled unless the village channel used to fill it shall be shown to the satisfaction of the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer to be in a sound condition when the application is made.

(f)—The privilege herein accorded may, by written order of the Divisional Canal Officer, subject to revision by the Superintending Canal Officer, whose decision shall be final, be suspended for twelve months for breach of any of the above conditions.

14. The Divisional Canal Officer may, by written order under section 76 (a)(ii), stop the supply to any village channel when he is satisfied, after inspection by himself or by one of his subordinates, that the village channel is not maintained in proper repair. Immediate report of any such closure, with an explanation of the special ground for stoppage, shall be made to the Superintending Canal Officer.

15. The Divisional Canal Officer may, under section 76 (a) (iii), regulate the distribution of the available water in proportion to the average area irrigated from the several outlets, or in proportion to the quantities of water contracted for, and may close the outlets in rotation as shall be necessary.

Such periodical closures shall not extend beyond ten consecutive days, and shall be notified to the headmen of village channels. For longer closures the authority of then Superintending Canal Officer is required.

Nothing in the above rules shall be taken to affect the power of the Superintending or any Divisional Canal Officer to stop any supply of water in case of pressing emergency.

16. The water-gauges on distributaries, or other channels, shall be held to give authoritative data for all calculations of discharge required to verify claims for remission of water-rate on account of loss of water.

17. Claims to remission of water-rates, under section 76 (b), shall only be admitted on proof of actual loss caused by the stoppage of supply. On proof of such loss, the Divisional Canal Officer may remit the whole or any portion of the rates. All applications for remission of water-rates shall be made in writing by the parties concerned, either in person or through their headman, to the nearest Sub-Divisional Canal Officer, at least seven days prior to the cutting of the crop. On receipt of such application, the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer shall, after due local inquiry, forward the application with his remarks to the Divisional Canal Officer for decision.

18. Before awarding compensation under section 76 (c), the Collector shall obtain the written opinion of the Divisional Canal Officer, and such opinion shall form part of the record of the proceedings.

19. Under section 78 of the Act, the rates chargeable per acre on the different descriptions of crops are fixed for three years, viz. from 1st June 1876 to the 1st June 1879, and are as follow :—

WATER-RATES.

Sone Canals.

Class.	Nature of crop.	Flow irrigation per			Lift irrigation per			Per

NOTE.

1 Cottah ... ... = 1,361·25 s. feet.
1 Beegha ... ... = 27,225·00 „
1 Acre ... ... = 43,560·00 „

20. Up to the 1st June 1879 leases for three years may be granted at the following rates, provided that the area leased in any village shall not be less than the whole irrigable area in the case of khurreef cultivation, or half the irrigable area in that of rubbee cultivation. In the latter case the area must be as far as possible in one block. In certain cases it may, at the discretion of the Divisional Canal Officer, be comprised in two or at most three blocks—

Schedule of Rates.

	Per acre.	Per beegha.	Per cottah.
	Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P.
Rubbee, including bhadoi ...	2 4 0	1 6 6	0 1 2
Khurreef	1 8 0	0 15 0	0 0 9

21. Three-year leases will not be granted for sugarcane.

22. By irrigable area is to be understood, as a general rule, the extent of land for which water can be supplied at the rate of 80 acres in khurreef, and 180 acres in rubbee per cubic foot of available supply.

23. Leases for three years at the reduced rates may be given (1) on the application of all the cultivators of a village, on condition of their agreeing in such application to become jointly and severally responsible for the payment of all amounts due on account of water-rates; or (2) on the joint application of the cultivators and of some person hereinafter called the contractor, who may agree to collect and pay to Government, under section 82 of Act III (B.C.) of 1876, all sums which may be due under the application on account of water-rates. The application of villagers binding themselves jointly and severally will be in the form prescribed in Appendix C. The joint application of villagers and a water-rate contractor shall be in the form prescribed in Appendix D. Every application under this rule must be signed by each applicant in the presence of at least one respectable witness.

24. Contractors shall be entitled to collect water-dues at the rates given in the schedule attached to Rule 20 from the cultivators who have applied for the water supplied. Every due from a cultivator to a contractor on account of water-rates shall be deemed a sum due to Government under sections 82 and 85 of Act III of 1876.

25. A contractor (or in case there be more than one, each contractor severally and jointly) shall be responsible for all sums payable on the application (Appendix D), except such sums as may be remitted by competent authority under the rules in force, and shall be entitled to a deduction of 5 per cent. for cost of collection.

26. When the lease under Rules 20 to 25 is for the supply of water to khurreef crops, or to all irrigable rubbee crops in the village, a list in Form E should be submitted with the application, showing the number of each field in the map, the area of the field, crop to be grown, and amount payable, and this should be signed by each cultivator. Water will be supplied in accordance with this list during the period of the lease. Similar lists must be submitted each year before water is supplied to rubbee lands when the area leased is less than the whole area of irrigable rubbee land in the village. In such cases the fields receiving water may vary from year to year, but the total area for which the water-rates shall be calculated shall never be less than the area specified in the three-years' lease. Should more land be irrigated than is specified in the three-years' lease, the same shall be chargeable with annual water-rates.

27. No water shall be taken previous to receipt of a permit (Appendix B) signed by the Divisional Canal Officer. When an agreement has been made for the collection of the rates by a contractor, the Divisional Canal Officer shall, under section 82, furnish such contractor with a written authority to collect the amounts due by the cultivators according to the list furnished under Rule 26, one copy of which is to be sent to the Collector.

28. Every contractor shall nominate a headman to be approved by the Divisional Canal Officer to perform the duties specified in Rule 10. Such headman shall receive five per cent. on the assessment, but the Divisional Canal Officer may retrench the whole or any part of these fees if the duties are not properly performed.

29. If only a portion of a field be irrigated, the water-rate shall be chargeable on the whole field, unless such portion shall have been clearly demarcated, previous to the admission of the water, by a ridge not less than half a foot high.

30. When a portion of a field has been irrigated with canal water and a portion with well or reservoir water, the whole field shall be liable for canal water-rate, unless a clearly distinguishable boundary exists between the two portions.

31. If well or reservoir water is conveyed in the same channel as canal water, the whole of the irrigation from that channel shall be liable to canal water-rate. The headman will be held personally responsible for the due observance of this rule and of Rules 29 and 30.

32. Irrigation from natural or artificial escape channels, when the supply is permanent, shall be governed by the same rules as irrigation from other parts of the canal.

33. Irrigation from such channels, when the supply is intermittent, may be allowed at such reduced rates as shall from time to time be fixed by the Lieutenant-Governor.

34. Persons irrigating lands from a canal without a written permit for water for such lands, or taking water at times prohibited by proper authority, shall be chargeable with double water-rates on the area irrigated.

35. The charge leviable for water suffered to run to waste on uncultivated lands shall be calculated at the highest rate specified in the schedule, viz., five rupees per acre on the area flooded; provided that in every such case the Divisional Canal Officer may impose a lower rate if he thinks fit. The headman to be held responsible for the collection of the amount of charges so imposed.

36. If mixed crops be grown in the same field, the water-rate shall be calculated on the highest rated crop.

37. When the original crop sown in a field, irrigated by the canal water, fails and is ploughed up, and a fresh crop is sown in the same season, the water-rates shall be levied on the second crop.

38. When a field is irrigated which has not been prepared by division into compartments and by the addition of small water channels as prescribed in Rule 6, an additional charge may be imposed equal to half the amount of water-rate leviable on the field. In each case the Divisional or Sub-Divisional Canal Officer must certify that the field was not properly prepared for irrigation according to the terms of the rule.

39. The statements of the amounts demandable for water-rates levied under the rules in force shall be prepared under the supervision and signature of the Divisional Canal Officer in such form as shall from time to time be sanctioned by the Lieutenant-Governor.

40. All water-rates shall become due on the dates noted on the "permits," as herein below stated, and shall be paid within one month of such dates :—

Water-rate on sugarcane and spring crops, wheat, barley, peas, poppy, &c.,—15th April.

Water-rate on summer crops, cheena, &c.,—15th August.

Water-rate on bhadoi crops, early rice, Indian corn, murwa, &c.,—30th November.

Water-rate on annual and winter crops, aghani rice, joaur, &c.,—31st January.

41. In the case of lands held in bhaoli, the water-rate shall be recoverable from both the cultivator and the person or persons in receipt of the bhaoli rents, in the same proportion as the produce is divisible amongst them.

42. Collection of all water-rate shall be made by the Collector in accordance with the statement of demands furnished to him by the Divisional Canal Officer.

43. Objections to the demand addressed to the Collector shall, if remission be claimed on the score of short supply or of any matter affecting the Irrigation Department, be referred for orders to the Divisional Canal Officer. The collection of the demand shall not be suspended on account of any such objection.

44. Claims for remission referred by the Collector and admitted by the Divisional Canal Officer shall be reported by him for the sanction of the Superintending Canal Officer.

45. A remission statement signed by the Superintending Canal Officer shall be sufficient authority for a refund by the Collector.

46. If the Divisional Canal Officer reject the claim, an appeal may be made to the Superintending Canal Officer, provided that it is preferred within forty days from the issue of the order of the Divisional Canal Officer.

47. In special cases not otherwise provided for by these rules, and in cases in which water-rates are not recoverable owing to the absconding or bankruptcy of the defaulter, the Collector will obtain the sanction of the Commissioner of the Division to the remission of such sums as he may deem irrecoverable. The details of such remission shall be communicated at the close of each official year to the Divisional Canal Officer.

48. If a cultivator is dissatisfied with the entries made against him in the khatianni, whether as to the fact of the land having been charged "flow" instead of "lift," or as to the measurements and entries of class of crop, he must lodge a complaint, either personally or through the headman of his water-course, with the Divisional or Sub-Divisional Canal Officer at least seven days prior to the cutting of the crop.

49. No person shall, without the permission in writing of the Divisional or Sub-Divisional Canal Officer, pass, or cause any animal or vehicle to pass, on or across any of the works, banks, or channels of a canal or drainage work after he has been desired to desist therefrom, excepting by means of such bridges, fords, and ferries, and their approaches, as are provided by the Divisional Canal Officer.

50. No Canal Officer, unless specially exempted by the Lieutenant-Governor from the operation of this rule, shall have any interest in the distribution of water from any of the canals, or purchase or bid for any Government property sold thereon, either in his own name or in the name of another, or jointly, or in shares with others.

51. The ameen appointed to measure up the area irrigated in any village shall, before leaving it, make over the khusras to a mohurir, who will then compile the khatianni. A copy of the khatianni will be taken by the putwaree, who must as a rule make it himself; but if he cannot from any cause do so, the mohurir must make it, and the putwaree is to be held responsible that he gets a copy.

52. The copy of the khatianni thus made shall be hung up in some conspicuous place in the village, and slips in the prescribed form (Appendix F), showing the amount he will have to pay, area irrigated, &c., shall be prepared by the putwaree and given to each ryot.

53. The allowance to the putwaree for the above work shall be 2 per cent. on the collections, and shall be paid to him by the Collector on his being satisfied that the work has been properly done. No allowance will be made to putwarees in leases granted under Rule 25.

54. The measurements of each crop irrigated shall be made as soon as practicable, and every care should be taken to have the khatianni hung up in the village at least fifteen days before the crop is cut, so that the ryot may make his complaints, if he have any, in good time.

55. In case of any subsequent alteration of the khatianni owing to correction of clerical errors, &c., such alteration shall be at once communicated to the putwaree to enable him to correct the village copy and slips accordingly.

56. The zilladar shall submit his check measurements in a form (Appendix G) which shall be sent in for the inspection of the Divisional Canal Officer. The Sub-Divisional Canal Officer shall also check the ameens' measurements as often as he possibly can. If it be found that any ameen systematically makes wrong measurements, he shall be punished by dismissal, and shall be declared incapable of obtaining further employment under Government.

PART V.

Act of the Legislative Council of India.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

[Second Publication.]

The following Act of the Governor-General of India in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor-General on the 16th October 1878, and is hereby promulgated for general information :—

ACT No. XVI OF 1878.

An Act to amend Act No. IX of 1878 (for the better control of Publications in Oriental languages).

Preamble.

Whereas by Act No. IX of 1878 (for the better control of Publications in Oriental languages), section five, it is exacted that when any publisher or printer is called upon by a Magistrate or Commissioner of Police to execute a bond under that Act in respect of any newspaper, the publisher of such newspaper may deliver to such Magistrate or Commissioner an undertaking in writing to the effect that no words, signs, or visible representations shall, during the year next following the date of such undertaking, be printed or published in such newspaper which have not previously be submitted to such officer as the Local Government may appoint in this behalf, by name or in virtue of his office, or which on being so submitted have been objected to by such officer, and that when such undertaking has been so delivered, no such bond and no such deposit as is mentioned in section four of the said Act shall be required from the publisher or printer of such newspaper during the said year;

And whereas by the last paragraph of section eight of the same Act it is provided that the publisher of any newspaper may, on the publication of a notice in respect thereof under section six of the said Act, and before anything has become liable to forfeiture under the said section eight in respect of such newspaper, deliver to the ... trate of the District, or to the Commissioner ... Police in a Presidency-town, within the local lin... of whose jurisdiction such newspaper is publish... an undertaking as aforesaid, and, if such Ma... trate or Commissioner accepts such undertaking nothing shall become liable to forfeiture as afore... said between the date on which such underta... is so accepted and the end of the period for w... it is given;

And whereas by the same Act, section eighteen, it is enacted that when any publisher of a newspaper has given any undertaking as aforesaid, and during the period for which such undertaking is given, any words, signs or visible representations which have not been submitted to the officer appointed as aforesaid, or which on being so submitted have been objected to by him, are printed or published in such newspaper, such publisher and the printer of such newspaper shall be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to six months, or with fine, or with both;

And whereas it is expedient to repeal the enactments and proviso hereinbefore recited and the reference in section three of the said Act to the said section five; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Repeal of Act IX of 1878, sections 5 and 18, and parts of sections 3 and 8.

1. The following portions of the said Act repealed (that is to say) : sections five and eighteen, the last paragraph of section eight, and in section three, the words "and subject to the provisions of section five."

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT OF THE BOARD OF REVENUE ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE STAMP DEPARTMENT FOR THE YEAR 1877-78.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT.—MISCELLANEOUS.

Calcutta, the 21st October 1878.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The Report of the Board of Revenue on the administration of the Stamp Department for the year 1877-78.

Read also—

Resolution dated the 24th October 1877 on the report for the year 1876-77.

During the year 1877-78 the income from court fees and general stamps was for the first time credited to the Provincial Revenues, on the understanding that these revenues should pay to the Government of India on account of "Stamps" and "Law and Justice" the sum of Rs. 1,05,75,000, and thereafter a sum increasing by 2¾ lakhs every year for four more years. Whatever sum may be obtained in excess of the amount payable to the Government of India is so much gain to the Provincial Revenues, which are, on the other hand, bound to make good any deficit.

2. The financial results of the working of the Stamp Department for the year have been very favourable. The following statement exhibits the general result for all the provinces and departments which received their supplies of stamps, other than postage, service, and telegraph stamps, from the Stamp Office in Calcutta during the past year :—

3. Every province to which stamps were supplied from Calcutta shows a large increase of revenue. The increase for all provinces over the income of the previous year is 10·1 per cent., and in the Lower Provinces the increase is 13·2 per cent. The expansion of the stamp revenue in the Lower Provinces since 1872-73 is very remarkable. No fair comparison can be made between the revenue in 1877-78 and the revenue in 1862-63, as the rates of stamp duty were not the same in the two years.

4. The following table shows the gross revenue in the Lower Provinces from the sale of the several denominations of stamps during each of the last five years :—

Years.	Duties under General Stamp Act.					Duties under Court Fees Act.	Total under both Acts.
	Non-judicial stamp papers.	Special adhesive stamps.	Receipts, share transfer, and foreign bill stamps.	Hoondies or bills of exchange.	Total of general stamps.

Increase per cent.	8·1	10·5	9·7	25·3	9·4	14·6	13·2

5. It will be seen that there was an increase in the gross revenue from each class of stamps as compared with the receipts of the preceding year. The total increase was Rs. 12,39,968, of which, however, more than ten lakhs was contributed by court fee stamps, and the greatest portion of this increase was no doubt due to operations under the Land Registration Act. But putting aside judicial stamps, the increase in the receipts from every class of general stamps is marked; it does not in any case fall short of 8 per cent., and in the case of hoondie stamps, in which there was a serious falling off during 1876-77, the increase during the year under review was over 25 per cent.

6. In "Foreign Bill Stamps" only there was a falling off by Rs. 1,794 or 5·4 per cent., owing, it is believed, to the omission of native bankers to stamp their bills before they are negotiated. The prevention of fraud in connection with Foreign Bill stamps is specially difficult. The receipts from hoondies have increased 25·3 per cent., and from receipt, share, transfer, and Foreign Bill stamps 9·7 per cent. The increase shown in all classes of stamps used under the General Stamp Act is very satisfactory, as it is due almost entirely to greater general prosperity, and increased activity of trade. The receipts from general stamps in 1876-77 showed a considerable falling off from 1875-76, but the ground thus lost has been fully recovered in 1877-78.

7. The total receipts amounted to Rs. 1,06,31,662, which exceeds the aggregate sum required by the Imperial Government under "Stamps" and "Law and Justice" by Rs. 56,662, and under "Stamps" proper by Rs. 7,81,662. This result is gratifying, and holds out a prospect that the Provincial Revenues will be able to fulfil the conditions imposed by the Government of India, with a margin of profit, though, as exceptional causes have brought about the result, it cannot yet be safely affirmed that there may not be some difficulty in providing the large yearly increase of 2¾ lakhs of rupees.

8. As usual, the receipts in Calcutta were the highest, but in each of thirteen districts the receipts exceeded three lakhs of rupees: —

Districts.	General stamps.	Court fee stamps.	Total.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Calcutta	8,20,175	8,72,742	16,92,917
24-Pergunnahs	1,15,157	4,06,346	5,21,503
Mymensingh	1,17,514	3,44,963	4,62,477
Jessore	84,183	3,65,627	4,49,810
Dacca	1,19,278	3,27,611	4,46,889
Backergunge	79,391	2,99,824	3,79,215
Mozufferpore	61,401	2,91,324	3,52,725
Burdwan	64,224	2,68,075	3,32,299
Patna	91,481	2,34,029	3,25,510
Tipperah	62,830	2,57,881	3,20,711
Midnapore	61,604	2,56,094	3,17,698
Chittagong	69,551	2,36,905	3,06,456
Nuddea	54,589	2,48,326	3,02,915

9. In 1875-76 nine districts returned receipts exceeding three lakhs, and in 1876-77 the number fell to six, but it has this year risen to thirteen. Midnapore, Backergunge, and Chittagong, which last year produced less than this sum, have resumed their places; and Mozufferpore, Patna, Tipperah, and Nuddea have also come up to the standard. In 1875-76 there were thirteen districts in which the receipts exceeded one lakh of rupees, in 1876-77 the number was fourteen, but this year it has risen to thirty-one.

10. The receipts from sales of postage, service, and telegraph stamps in Bengal, Assam, the North-Western Provinces, Oudh, British Burmah, and Bhopal also show a large increase, as will be seen from the comparative table below:—

	Postage.	Service.	Telegraph.	Total.
1875-76	17,22,063	4,33,263	15,81,671	37,36,997
1876-77	17,47,331	4,58,061	20,04,380	42,09,775
1877-78	19,57,416	4,78,312	22,28,958	46,64,686
Increase in 1877-78 over 1876-77	2,10,082	20,251	2,24,578	4,54,911

11. In addition to the above, postage and telegraph stamps of the values mentioned below were supplied during the year by the Superintendent of Stamps, Calcutta, to Bombay and Madras to replenish the stocks in those Presidencies:—

To Bombay.

	Rs.
Postage stamps	50,000
Telegraph „	1,25,000

To Madras.

Telegraph stamps	3,35,000

12. The actual sales of stamps in Bengal, exclusive of postage, service, and telegraph stamps, amounted during the year to Rs. 1,06,31,662, as shown in paragraph 4 above. But the gross revenue, including duty on unstamped paper, adjudication fees, penalties, &c., amounted to Rs. 1,06,60,392. The charges were Rs. 2,38,069, and the refunds Rs. 50,725, leaving a net stamp revenue of Rs. 1,03,71,598, as shown in the following comparative statement of the results of the last five years:—

Year.	Gross receipts.	Deduct			Net revenue.
		Charges.	Refunds.	Total.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1873-74	82,36,706	2,24,871	81,182	3,06,053	79,30,653
1874-75	88,51,630	2,12,629	40,599	2,53,228	85,98,402
1875-76	92,31,195	2,28,676	55,427	2,84,103	89,47,092
1876-77	94,18,536	2,26,004	39,083	2,65,087	91,53,449
1877-78	1,06,60,392	2,38,069	50,725	2,88,794	1,03,71,598
Increase of 1877-78 over 1876-77 ...	12,41,856	12,065	11,642	23,207	12,18,149

13. In the above table, the sale proceeds of plain paper used with court fee labels are excluded from the gross receipts, and the charges do not include the expenditure on account of recovery of stamp duty in pauper suits, which is now adjusted under Law and Justice, and the work in connection with which has been transferred to the Legal Remembrancer.

14. The table below shows the number of cases in which duty was realized by civil courts and collectors respectively, under sections 20 and 24 of the General Stamp Act, and the amount of duty received :—

	Number of cases in which duty was realized by		Duty realized by Civil Courts.	Collectors.	Civil Courts.	Collectors.
1876-77	1,185	983	819	3,721
1877-78	709	1,036	1,907	3,325

15. No change has been made in the different kinds of stamps in use. But as the impressed paper prepared in England is more suitable for hoondi or bill stamps than the paper now used, which is stamped in the Superintendent's office, the Board have proposed that a supply of hoondi or bill stamps be obtained from England. This proposal is under the consideration of the Government of India.

16. The obsolete bi-colour judicial and non-judicial stamped papers, the obsolete Punjab tulubana stamped paper, and the blue and black non-judicial stamps of the value of one anna, have been profitably utilized by printing on them the different kinds of licenses required under the Bengal License Act.

17. The rates of discount allowed to purchasers of stamps, both judicial and non-judicial, have, during the year, been revised, and in place of the nine varying rates which have hitherto prevailed, only three rates have been laid down, namely $1\frac{9}{16}$, $3\frac{1}{8}$, and $4\frac{11}{16}$ per cent., representing respectively 1, 2, and 3 pice per rupee. This change will tend to simplify calculations and reduce the unnecessarily high rates of discount heretofore allowed for some classes of non-judicial stamps.

18. The prosecutions for infractions of the stamp law were attended with favourable results. Out of 269 persons who were tried during the year, 223 were convicted and only 46 acquitted. The fines realized amounted to Rs. 2,591-2, out of which the sum of Rs. 152-8 was paid to informers.

19. The suggestion of the Commissioner of Dacca for securing a better observance of the law in the matter of receipt stamps will be submitted for the consideration of the Imperial Legislative Council along with the report lately called for on the revised Stamp Bill.

20. The Lieutenant-Governor will await a further report from the Board on the practice referred to in paragraph 64 of the report, and which is said to prevail in Purneah, by which both the stamp and registration laws are evaded.

21. The Stamp Department has been successfully managed during the year by the Board of Revenue. The commendation bestowed by the Board on the stamp reports submitted by Mr. Mangles, Commissioner of the Presidency Division, and Mr. Peacock, Commissioner of Dacca, is noticed with satisfaction, and the Lieutenant-Governor is glad to learn that the officers named in paragraph 68 of the report have deserved favourable mention, and that Mr. J. B. Roberts continues to give satisfaction in the performance of his duties.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

D. BARBOUR,

Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT OF THE BOARD OF REVENUE ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE EXCISE DEPARTMENT FOR THE YEAR 1877-78.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT—MISCELLANEOUS.

Calcutta, the 28th October 1878.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The report of the Board of Revenue on the administration of the Department of Excise in the Lower Provinces for the year 1877-78.

The full and careful statement of the excise system in Bengal, and of the principles on which it was proposed to conduct the future administration of the Excise Department, given by the Board of Revenue in the Report for 1876-77, has rendered it possible to greatly reduce the size of the Report for 1877-78.

2. During the year under review the local Government was for the first time financially responsible for the Excise Revenue, and the result has been in every respect satisfactory. Provincial Revenues were, under the contract entered into in respect to the establishment of Provincial Finance, bound to pay to the Government of India Rs. 64,00,000 on account of Excise Revenue, and the receipts have amounted to Rs. 68,66,130.

3. The following statement shows the total collections of the year 1877-78 under each head, as compared with those of 1876-77, and with the average collections of the five years from 1872-73 to 1876-77 :—

The increase shown under all the chief heads is gratifying, since it is due to higher rates of duty, to improvements in the system of excise, and to the increasing wealth of the people.

There is no more certain indication of the increasing wealth of the country than the steady progress of the excise revenue, and that progress in Bengal has been most marked since the famine year of 1874-75. In that year the excise revenue was in round numbers 56¼ lakhs, in 1875-76 it was more than 60¾ lakhs, in 1876-77 it was nearly 62½ lakhs, and in 1877-78 it was 68⅔ lakhs. No doubt much of the increase this year is due to greater attention to the administration of the department, for, otherwise, in the face of the high prices of food which have ruled throughout the year, a falling off in the consumption of taxed spirits and drugs might have been expected.

4. Simultaneously with the increase of revenue there has been a decrease not merely in the ratio of cost of collection to receipts, but even in the actual cost of collection. In 1874-75 the cost of collection was Rs. 3,00,083, in 1875-76 Rs. 2,98,115, in 1876-77 Rs. 2,96,532, and in 1877-78 Rs. 2,91,249. During the same years the percentage ratios of cost of collection to receipts were 5·3, 4·8, 4·7, and 4·2.

There are, however, great differences in the relative cost of collection in the various districts, and the subject is one which should receive early attention.

In some districts the cost of collection exceeds 10 per cent. of the total revenue, and this by no means represents the whole of the facts of the case. The revenue from opium and ganja is collected with a minimum of trouble and expense, and if it be excluded, the cost of collection will be found excessive in many districts.

5. An important feature of the Excise Administration of recent years has been the partial substitution, as regards country spirits, of the outstill for the central distillery system. The principle of the latter system is theoretically perfect, inasmuch as it imposes on each gallon of spirit that passes into consumption a rate of duty proportioned to the amount of alcohol it contains, but in practice it does not work well, except in the neighbourhood of large towns, and there is no doubt that the limitation of the stills to one or two centres in each district has led to much illicit distillation in places at a distance from these centres, and the outstill system has been found preferable in remote, backward, or sparsely populated tracts, as well as along the borders of foreign states.

The satisfactory nature of the change is shown by the fact that in 18 districts where the outstill system has been introduced with partial effect the average number of shops under the central distillery system from 1872-73 to 1876-77 was 1,419, and the average annual receipts were Rs. 5,00,317, while in 1877-78 the number of such shops was only 1,134, and the receipts were Rs. 5,08,200.

The average number of shops in the same districts under the outstill system was 871 in the five years 1872-77, and the average receipts Rs. 2,47,154, while in 1877-78 the number was only 782, while the receipts were Rs. 3,34,453.

6. It is extremely creditable to the administration of the department that, while the consumption of country spirits under the central distillery system in 1877-78 was less than the consumption in the previous year by 81,301 gallons (3·3 per cent.), the revenue should have increased by Rs. 2,10,248 (9 per cent.)

7. The average annual consumption of rum during the five years 1872-77 was 81,198 gallons. In 1876-77 the consumption was only 48,663 gallons. In 1877-78 it rose to 62,018 gallons; 3,031 gallons of this increase is due to the import of Madras rum into Orissa.

It is believed that the revenue from rum consumed in Bengal is being affected by the importation of rum which has already paid duty in the North-West Provinces, and a reference has been made to the Government of India on the subject.

8. The following statement shows the revenue in 1876-77 and 1877-78 from imported wines, spirits, and fermented liquors:—

	1876-77.	1877-78.
	Rs.	Rs.
Wines and liquors	3,19,070	3,29,687
Spirits	9,83,210	10,64,630
Beer and other fermented liquors ...	34,563	39,549

The duty on imported wines, spirits, and fermented liquors is treated as Customs Revenue, and is not credited to the Provincial Revenues.

9. The average annual revenue from tari in the five years 1872-77 was Rs. 6,11,710. In 1876-77 it was Rs. 6,23,085, and in the year under review Rs. 6,36,693. Nearly two-thirds of the whole tari revenue is obtained in the Patna Division. Considerable amounts are also collected in the Presidency and Bhagulpore Divisions.

There is some ground for believing that the revenue from tari might be considerably raised. The rate of license for each shop is separately settled every year, and as the number of shops in the chief producing districts is very large, it may be feared that sufficient attention to prevent collusion cannot be given to each case by a trustworthy and responsible officer, and consequently it was suggested to the Board of Revenue in December last that the tari revenue might be increased by letting to one person not a single shop, but a circle of some extent within which he would possess the monopoly of sale. If each circle contained only three shops, the number of separate cases to be dealt with yearly by the excise officers would be reduced to one-third of the present number. This practice has been followed with much success in Burmah. If in addition the right of sale was given for three years, the total number of cases would be reduced to one-ninth of what it now is, and as a matter of convenience it could be arranged that one-third of the licenses would fall in yearly. Under this system the revenue would benefit by the circle license-holder being in a better position to make terms with the owners of the trees from which the tari is extracted, and by the greater amount of time and attention which the superior officers of the department could give to each case. At present the letting of the tari shops is often left practically to a mohurir so poorly paid as not to be above temptation, while the sub-divisional or other excise officer is content if the revenue of the year shows a slight increase, or, at any rate, is not less than that of the preceding year. The want of elasticity in the revenue from tari as compared with that from country spirits is clearly shown by the following figures :—

Year.	Revenue from
	Tari.	Country spirits.
	Rs.	Rs.
1872-73	6,04,701	21,21,268
1873-74	6,20,841	23,35,380
1874-75	6,02,724	22,28,066
1875-76	6,07,172	25,10,064
1876-77	6,23,085	26,25,399
1877-78	6,36,693	28,90,460

The Lieutenant-Governor is confident that this subject will receive the Board's careful attention, and that improvements similar to those lately introduced in other branches of the department will be effected in the system of collecting the tari revenue.

10. There was a slight increase of the revenue from pachwai during 1877-78, but no special remarks on the subject are called for.

11. Ganja is doubtless the most injurious of all the articles which contribute to the excise revenue; it is therefore a matter of some regret that the amount consumed should have risen from 7,458 maunds in 1876-77 to 8,196 maunds in 1877-78, or by nearly 10 per cent. Government has for years discouraged the consumption of ganja, and though the amount consumed increased by nearly 10 per cent. in 1877-78, the amount of revenue in the same year increased still more, viz. by 15·7 per cent. The amount of revenue in 1876-77 was Rs. 11,97,116 and in 1877-78 Rs. 13,85,657.

The rates of duty on ganja have been still further raised from 1st April 1878, and arrangements are in progress for checking the importation of Gurjat ganja into Orissa. So long as the consumption of ganja has a tendency to increase, the rates should be periodically raised.

12. The revenue from churus, siddhi or bhang, and majum is not of importance, and though the changes of system now under consideration may lead to an increase, such increase cannot be expected to be of large amount.

13. The average annual income from opium consumed in the Lower Provinces during the five years 1872-77 was Rs. 11,83,278. In 1876-77 it was Rs. 12,35,585, during the year under review it was Rs. 13,15,292. There was an increase of consumption as compared with the previous year to the extent of 31 maunds, and of revenue to the extent of Rs. 79,707. The increase of consumption was only 1·7 per cent., while the increase of revenue was 6·4 per cent. This favourable result is due to the increase of the price of opium from December 1877, and a still further increase may be expected in the current year arising both from the increased price and from the settlement of opium shops by means of the auction system.

The income from opium consumed in the districts in which the poppy is cultivated continues to be insignificant. The question of how to obtain a fair revenue from the opium consumed in those districts has long occupied the attention of many officers of ability and experience, but without receiving a satisfactory solution. The Lieutenant-Governor awaits with interest the result of the enquiries now being made by the Board. It seems probable that a moderate increase of revenue would be obtained by the introduction of a modified system of farming.

The result of the enquiries regarding the alleged importation of opium from Bhootan should be reported for the information of Government. The Lieutenant-Governor is disposed to think that very little opium can possibly enter Bengal from this route. Opium is not grown anywhere in the neighbourhood of Bhootan, and it could hardly stand the long land carriage for China, even if there were men in Bhootan of sufficient enterprise and capital to enter into such a trade.

14. License fees for the sale of madut and chundu increased from Rs. 80,522 to Rs. 87,332 or by 8·4 per cent.

15. The Lieutenant-Governor has observed with satisfaction that though only Rs. 199 was written off as irrecoverable in 1877-78, the outstanding balance at the close of the year did not exceed Rs. 8,660, of which Rs. 5,001 has since been recovered.

The number of persons arrested in 1877-78 was 2,916 as against 2,420 in the previous year. 2,032 convictions were obtained in 1876-77, and 2,491 in 1877-78.

16. The Lieutenant-Governor has again to express the satisfaction with which he has noticed the progress which is being made in improving the administration of the Excise Department. Heavier rates of duty are being imposed, and the rapidly increasing revenue is collected punctually and with greater economy every year. The present report might with advantage have been a little fuller, but the want of completeness is probably due to the Secretary having been on leave for a portion of the year. There are also inaccuracies in the figured statements attached to the Board's report which ought to have been avoided. Thus in Appendix B, table No. I, the incidence of the excise revenue per head of population is given for Darjeeling as Rs. ·04 instead of Rs. ·42. For Sarun it is Rs. ·67 instead of Rs. ·07. For Bhagulpore Rs. ·01 instead of Rs. ·10. For Cuttack and for Pooree Rs. ·01 and Rs. ·09 instead of Rs. ·10 and Rs. ·07. For Singbhoom and Manbhoom Rs. ·4 instead of Rs. ·04. For the whole Patna Division it is Rs. ·26 instead of Rs. ·11. For the whole of Bengal Rs. ·14 instead of Rs. ·11. For all Bengal (including in the excise revenue the import duty on wines, spirits, &c.,) it is Rs. ·16 instead of Rs. ·13.

In table No. II the incidence per head of population of the duty from spirits is given for the districts of Patna and Mozufferpore at Rs. ·1 and Rs. ·62 instead of Rs. ·19 and Rs. ·02. In the same table the incidence per head of the revenue from all spirits is given at Rs. ·05 for the Sonthal Pergunnahs, while in table No. IV the incidence in the same district of the revenue from country spirits alone is given as Rs. ·1.

These instances of inaccuracy and carelessness should not have been allowed to occur.

17. The Commissioners named in the margin have been commended by the Board for their attention to their excise duties, and the Lieutenant-Governor has observed with pleasure the names of the Revenue and Police officers whose conduct is favourably noticed in paragraphs 97 and 99 of the Report. These will be duly recorded in the Appointment Department.

Mr. R. L. Mangles.
Mr. G. N. Barlow, C. S. I.
Lord Ulick Browne.
Mr. E. W. Molony.

The thanks of Government are due to the Board of Revenue for the many and valuable improvements which have been made in the administration of the department and which have already borne such good fruit.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

D. BARBOUR,

Offg. Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE MUNICIPALITY OF THE SUBURBS OF CALCUTTA FOR THE YEAR 1877-78.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT—MUNICIPAL.

Calcutta, the 4th November 1878.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

Letter No. 60MM, dated the 16th September last, from the Commissioner of the Presidency Division, submitting the Administration Report of the Municipality of the Suburbs of Calcutta for the year 1877-78.

Read also—

The Resolution on the Administration Report of the said Municipality for 1876-77.

Constitution of the Municipality.—During the year under review there were 42 Municipal Commissioners, of whom 13 were ex-officio and 29 ordinary Commissioners. Nine general meetings were held during the year, but only 18 Commissioners on an average attended each meeting.

2. Division of the Municipality into Wards.—An important change was effected during the year by dividing the large and thickly populated area comprising the Municipality into six wards, and placing each ward under a separate Committee. This change was made in accordance with the provisions of section 50 of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1876, and obviously tends to give the rate-payers a more direct interest in the management of municipal affairs. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to learn that the scheme already gives promise of success.

3. Income.—The gross receipts of the Municipality during the year amounted to Rs. 4,40,171, or Rs. 12,029 less than the estimate, but Rs. 12,117 more than the income of the previous year, as appears from the table below:—

Gross income during—

1875-76.	1876-77.	1877-78.	Increase over 1876-77.
Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
4,34,396	4,28,054	4,40,171	12,117

This favourable result was attained notwithstanding the abolition, under the present Municipal Act, of fees for licenses, which brought in during 1876-77 Rs. 5,251, and in the previous year Rs. 9,273.

4. The increase was under the following heads:—

	1875-76.	1876-77.	1877-78.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
House-rate	2,40,317	2,41,345	2,46,030
Horse and carriage tax	25,372	31,267	32,434
Registration of hackeries	15,153	7,765	10,183
Night-soil fees	73,559	77,787	86,942

This shows a steady progress in the house-rate. The demand for the year under review was Rs. 2,52,261, and the balance of the previous year was Rs. 13,601, making a total of Rs. 2,65,862. Of this amount Rs. 2,46,030 were collected, leaving an outstanding balance of Rs. 19,832 on the 31st March 1878.

5. Collection.—The assessment on houses and lands in a portion of the Municipality was revised during the year, resulting in an increase of Rs. 1,775 and a decrease of Rs. 1,718, or a net increase of Rs. 57 per quarter over the demand of last year.

The decrease in the assessment was due partly to the revision of the boundaries of the Municipality, sanctioned under Government notification dated the 10th September 1877, by which a number of buildings were excluded from municipal limits, and partly also to remissions and reductions on appeal.

6. Horse and Carriage Tax.—The horse and carriage tax yielded Rs. 32,434, against an income of Rs. 31,000 during 1876-77, and of Rs. 25,372 during the previous year. The estimated income under this head for the year under review was Rs. 35,000, but owing to the introduction of the tax into the North and South Suburban Municipalities, the receipts did not come up to the estimate.

7. Ferries.—The income from ferries shows a falling off, owing to the transfer of Watgunge Ghât, which yielded a large revenue, from the charge of the Municipality to that of the Port Commissioners.

8. Expenditure.—The total expenditure for the year amounted to Rs. 4,33,242, or Rs. 64,327 less than the estimate. More than one-half of this saving, it is stated, occurred in the allotment for the construction and maintenance of roads. It is satisfactory to note that this saving was not secured by neglecting necessary works, as 18 miles of road were re-metalled against 19 miles during the previous year; the saving was due to the fall in the price of stone-metal during the year from Rs. 35 to Rs. 24 per 100 cubic feet, or rather to the Commissioners securing ship ballast, instead of indigenous metal, which was used in former years.

9. No notice has been taken in the report of the remarks of the late Commissioner of the Division, and the suggestion contained in paragraph 1 of the Government resolution on last year's report, regarding the system under which contracts are given and stores purchased. The present Commissioner has rightly drawn the attention of the Municipality to the matter; he should also, in his capacity of an ex-officio Commissioner of the Municipality, personally see that tenders are invariably invited by advertisements in newspapers, and contracts given only with the approval of the Commissioners.

10. Audit of accounts of the Municipality.—It is not clear from the report that the accounts of the Municipality for the past year were audited. It appears that the amount of fees payable to the auditors was not disbursed during the year: and although the amount was paid to the auditors in 1876-77, the accounts of that year do not bear the certificate of the auditors, as those of the previous year. The Commissioner should instruct the Chairman to get the accounts of the last two years audited with as little delay as possible, and in future to obtain from the auditors, and attach to the annual report, a special report on the state of the accounts of the Municipality. It is of great importance that Municipal expenditure should be carefully audited, and the Commissioner is requested to report without delay what arrangements the Municipal Commissioners propose for this purpose in future. If satisfactory arrangements are not made by the Commissioners, the Lieutenant-Governor will be compelled to issue the necessary orders under section 73 of the Act.

11. Water-supply.—The question of supplying the Suburbs with pure and wholesome water is still not finally settled. The Commissioners have been in correspondence with the Calcutta Corporation about the extension of the Calcutta supply to the Suburbs. It is understood that the Calcutta Municipality have included the Suburbs in their scheme for the extension of the water-supply in that town. In the meantime it is hoped that the Calcutta Municipality will be able to remove the restrictions lately placed on the use, by the inhabitants of the Suburbs, of the hydrants along the line of the Circular Road, on payment to it, as is proposed, of a monthly sum to be agreed upon by the two municipal bodies.

12. Lighting.—During the latter part of the year negotiations were carried on with the Oriental Gas Company for lighting the principal streets in the Suburbs with gas. The negotiations have since been brought to a close, and already the Baliaghatta, Manicktolah, and Ballygunge roads are lighted with gas.

13. Conservancy.—The general conservancy of the town appears to have been fairly attended to. 1,18,543 cart-loads of street refuse, and 87,160 cart-loads of silt, were removed and utilized in filling up holes and pits and raising low lands. By this means 18 foul tanks were filled up and 59 beeghas of jungle land cleared and raised. 13,003 dead animals were removed from the streets and bye-lanes; 390½ maunds of putrid articles of food for human consumption were seized, condemned, and destroyed.

14. The conservancy of the Tolly's Nullah, which runs through the most populous and important part of the Municipality, appears to have been carefully attended to, and steps have been taken to improve its sanitary condition. A considerable number of persons were prosecuted for committing nuisances on its banks. The insanitary condition of the Circular Canal and its neighbourhood has also lately been the subject of correspondence between the Public Works Department of this Government and the Municipalities of Calcutta and the Suburbs. A comprehensive scheme for the improvement of this canal, and for the addition of locks which shall make it passable for steamers is being carried out by the Public Works Department. The Superintending Engineer of the Presidency Circle has been instructed to prepare a detailed scheme, in communication with the Chairmen of the Calcutta and Suburban Municipalities, for relieving the canal of the influx of storm-water and sewage from the Calcutta drains.

15. Drainage.—The drainage of the Suburbs is very defective, and although the Commissioner of the Division last year suggested to the Municipality the necessity of taking the matter into their consideration, it has not been referred to in the present report. The Lieutenant-Governor agrees with Mr. Peacock in thinking that a comprehensive and complete scheme should be drawn up, consisting, if possible, of several component parts, to be taken up and carried out one after another according to their respective urgency, as funds are forthcoming. If required, the Lieutenant-Governor will be glad to help the Commissioners in raising the necessary funds for carrying out a matured scheme of drainage.

16. Improvement of bustees.—Intimately connected with the conservancy and drainage of the Suburbs is the question of the sanitary improvement of bustees. Mr. Sterndale, the late Vice-Chairman, recorded a note on the subject, containing proposals for improving the sanitary state of the Suburbs; but the Municipal Commissioners seem to have taken no steps to carry out those proposals. Mr. Sterndale's proposals are to fill up the existing holes, pits, and low swampy lands by street sweepings, to be covered by a layer of earth; to get the work done by the establishment of coolies in the afternoon under the supervision of the municipal overseers, on payment to them for overtime work; and to charge the owner of the land for the cost of the operation. This is precisely what is done in Calcutta, and the Lieutenant-Governor does not think that there will be any difficulty in carrying out the scheme in the Suburbs. His Honor therefore trusts that, during the ensuing cold weather, the Commissioners will take up this subject in earnest. The co-operation of landowners should be invited, but if the invitation is not responded to, it will be open to the Municipal Commissioners to enforce the provisions of sections 264 to 267 of the Municipal Act.

17. House scavengering and removal of night-soil.—The working of this department was not satisfactory in a financial point of view. Much difficulty was felt in collecting the night-soil fees, which, under the system hitherto in force, took the form of a voluntary cess. The collections were not satisfactory, and the receipts fell short of the expenditure by Rs. 1,895. On the representation of the Commissioners, therefore, a short Act (No. VI of 1878) has since been passed by the Bengal Legislative Council authorizing the levy of fees by 1st class municipalities for the cleaning of privies; and as the provisions of the Act have been extended to a part of the Suburbs with effect from 1st October 1878, it is hoped that there will now be no difficulty in effecting a thorough reorganization of the department.

18. General health and vital statistics.—The general health of the Suburbs was not satisfactory during the year Sickness was more or less prevalent in all the fourteen police sections into which the Suburbs are divided. The registration of births and deaths was conducted as heretofore by the Inspectors of Police, but the result shows that there is still great room for improvement. The number of births registered during the year was 4,158, which gives an average birth-rate of 16·16 per thousand of the population per annum. The total number of deaths was 15,194, against 13,234 in the previous year; the ratio per 1,000 of population being 59 08, against 51·46. If any reliance can be placed on the registration, this is a very high death-rate, but until proper measures are taken on an extensive scale to improve the sanitary condition of the Suburbs, but little improvement can be expected in this respect.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

D. BARBOUR,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops.

Statement showing Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops in the different Districts of Bengal, as reported to Government during the week ending the 2nd November 1878.

No.	District, and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
	BENGAL.
	Western Districts.
BURDWAN DIVS. 1	Burdwan, Nov. 2 '78	1·75	The rain in the end of the week was most beneficial. Sufficient rain has now fallen in the Sudder sub-division. The prospects are excellent. A bumper crop is being anticipated.
	Culna ...	0·50
	Cutwa ...	0·5
	Bood-Bood ...	0·35
2	Bankoora, „ 2 „	0·57	Weather—bright and clear, except on the 31st October and the day preceding The aus crop reaped seems to have been a fair one. The late rice crop will suffer from the want of rain. Fever continues bad in the east.
3	Beerbhoom, „ 2 „	Nil	The weather was cloudy during most of the week, but no appreciable rain fell. The state and prospects of the crops continue good. The crops on the high lands will not be so good as they promised, but the main crops are in very good order.
4	Midnapore, „ 2 „	0·74	Weather—cloudy, with occasional showers; apparently now clearing. The state and prospects of the crops are favourable. The recent showers did all that remained to secure an excellent crop.
5	Hooghly, „ 2 „	1·03	Weather—cloudy and showery. Wind from the north. The prospects of the amun crop are generally fair. The late rain has been beneficial to the crops. The lands are being ploughed for the rubbee crops, and in places sowings have commenced. Fever is reported to be prevalent everywhere.
	Howrah, „ 4 „	1·38	Weather—too wet and cloudy to be seasonable. The rain has been rather more than was wanted, but the prospect of the rice crop continues good.
	Central Districts.
PRESIDENCY DIVS. 6	24-Pergunnahs Nov. 2 '78	0·79	Weather—cool at night. Rain fell during the latter part of the week. The state and prospects of the crops are favourable. The rain has done much good to the crops. Ordinary fever continues generally.
7	Nuddea, „ 2 „	0·09	Weather—cloudy. The mornings and evenings are cool. The state of all crops continues favourable. Prices are slightly lower in some places, though still high.
	Chooadanga ...	0·07
	Ranaghat ...	1·47
	Bongong ...	1·19
8	Jessore, „ 2 „	2·16	Weather—fine at first. The latter part of the week was damp, with frequent light showers. The prospects of all crops are good, and the light rains of the last few days have been of great benefit.
	Jhenida ...	0·66
	Magoora ...	0·61
	Narail ...	0·70
	Khoolna ...	0·77
	Bagirhat ...	0·50
9	Moorshedabad „ 2 „	0·13	Weather—fine. The nights had begun to be cool, but for the last few days have been warmer again, and the weather has been muggy. In some parts of the district the sowing of the rubbee crops has commenced. Amun continues to promise well. Prices of food-grain are still high.
RAJSHAHYE AND COOCH BEHAR DIVS. 10	Dinagepore, „ 1 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable. The ground is being prepared for the cold-weather crops. The amun plants are looking well.
11	Rajshahye, „ 2 „	Nil	No rain during the week throughout the district. The state of the dhan crop continues to be satisfactory, but rain is still required. The rubbee crops are being sown, and the young plants are thriving. Kalai is also in good condition The price of common rice continues to be 15 kutcha seers per rupee at Nattore. Public health is good.
12	Rungpore, „ 1 „	Nil	The weather has become slightly cloudy and warm again. The state and prospects of the crops are satisfactory. Mild attacks of fever are somewhat common, and a few cases of cholera have been reported.
13	Bogra, „ 2 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable. In the eastern part of the district the outturn of amun will not be more than six annas, and some distress among the poorer classes is anticipated. In the khiar land the prospects are good, but a little rain would be beneficial. Mustard and pulses in Shariakandi are reported to have been partially damaged by insects. Mulberry is being reaped. Prices in the district range from 9 to 13 seers per rupee. Cattle disease has broken out in the east of the district, and there are some cases of cholera in thanas Bogra and Shariakandi.

No.	District, and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
	Central Districts.*—(Contd.)
Rajshahye & Cooch Behar Divn.—contd. 14	Pubna, Nov. 2 '78	0·07	Weather—cool and for the most part dry and cloudy. The amun crop is fast ripening. It is likely to be a very fair crop, but not one of the best. The winter crops are now coming up. There has been fever about, and two fatal cases of cholera in thana Shahzadpore.
15	Darjeeling, „ 1 „	Nil	Weather—fair, and clear days. The harvesting of bhadoi dhan has been completed. The haimanta dhan promises well. The prospects of the other crops are generally good.
16	Julpigoree, „ 2 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable. A good fall of rain would now do much good to the standing crops. The general health of the district is better than it usually is at this season of the year, which is generally unhealthy.
	Cooch Behar, Oct. 31 „	Nil	The cold weather is just beginning to set in. The sun during the week was not so powerful as in the previous week. The prospects of rice are good Tobacco seedlings are being transplanted. The price of coarse rice varies from Rs 3-8 to Rs 3-12 in the town. In pergunnah Lal Bazar the price has come down from Rs. 4-6 to Rs. 4. Public health continues good.
	Eastern Districts.
Dacca Divn 17	Dacca, Nov. 2 '78 Manickgunge ...	0·63 0·07	Weather—seasonable, but still somewhat warm. The state and prospects of the crops are fair.
18	Furreedpore, Nov. 3 „	0·11	Weather—rather cloudy and warmer than last week. There has been slight rain. The state and prospects of the crops are excellent. The harvesting of some crops is going on.
19	Backergunge, Oct. 31 „	0·07	Weather—cloudy and very hot. Light showers fell on the 30th and 31st October. The amun crop is progressing favourably. In the Bhola sub-division more rain is wanted. In parts of Perozepore grubs have done some damage to the rice crop. Prices are stationary. Fever has made its appearance in the Sudder, Perozepore, and Patuakhally sub-divisions.
20	Mymensingh, Nov. 1 „	0·03	Weather—seasonable. The rice crop is very good, except on low lands. The harvest is commencing.
21	Tipperah, „ 1 „	0·02	Weather—generally fair, but sky cloudy and temperature high. Amun dhan is in good condition.
Chittagong Divn. 22	Chittagong, Oct. 31 „	Nil	Weather—fine till 30th ; 31st also lowering; storm impending. The crops are very fine. Prospects are excellent
23	Noakholly „ 31 „	0·73	Weather—unusually warm. A sharp squall, accompanied by heavy rain, passed over the station on the 30th. The prospects of the crops are favourable. The rain has done good to the crops which, on the higher lands, were becoming dry. Prices of grain have fallen.
24	Chittagong Hill Tracts „ 29 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable. Heavy fogs up to 8 A.M. in the morning. Land is being ploughed for mustard. The hillmen are now engaged in collecting cotton. The prospects of the plough cultivators' crop are good
	Hill Tipperah, „ 30 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable. The prospects of the crops are good.
	BEHAR.
Patna Divn. 25	Patna, Nov. 2 '78	Nil	Weather—hot and dry. The hot weather of the past month has damaged the rice crop on the higher lands The general outturn is estimated at 12 annas for the district. Rain is now much wanted.
26	Gya, „ 2 „	Nil	Mornings cool, and hot weather during the day. The maximum reading of the thermometer in the shade 90°. Rain still continues to hold off, though clouds occasionally gather and disperse. A good shower of rain is wanted everywhere. The crops still continue very good, and there is every prospect of a successful harvest. The public health is generally good. The health of the plough cattle is also good.
27	Shahabad, „ 2 „	Nil	Weather—warmer than last week. No rain during the week, but light clouds have appeared. No improvement in the prospects of the crops. Paddy is suffering from want of rain. Rubbee sowings are going on, but not to the full extent from want of moisture in the soil. Fever is still prevalent.
28	Durbhunga, „ 2 „	Nil	Weather—cool in the mornings and evenings. The prospects of the crops are generally good, but rain is required.
29	Mozufferpore, „ 2 „	Nil	Weather—hot and cloudy. The rubbee sowings progress satisfactorily. The prospects of the rice crop and of rahur and root crops are good. An early fall of rain would do much good in some localities.

No.	District, and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
BEHAR.—(Contd.)
PATNA.—(Contd.) 30	Sarun, Nov. 2 '78	Nil	Weather—clear. No signs of rain. The mornings and evenings are cool. West wind prevailing. The prospects are getting worse and worse for want of rain. All the high land paddy has been burnt and the plants are being cut for fodder for cattle Rubbee is coming up fairly; but rain is badly wanted to promote the growth. Prices are rising. Fever is still prevalent.
31	Chumparun, „ 2 „	Nil	Cold nights No change in the prospects to report. The want of rain for the dhan in the south and south-east of the district continues. Prices at the head-quarters have risen.
BHAGULPORE DIVISION. 32	Monghyr, „ 2 „	Nil	The weather has become hot again. Rain is much wanted in Begoosorai for the rubbee crops. Accounts from elsewhere are good, but the rice is being here and there irrigated by hand
33	Bhagulpore, „ 2 „	Nil	Weather—warm and cloudy. The state and prospects of the crops are excellent. Prices are falling in the north of the district. Fever is prevailing.
34	Purneah, „ 2 „	Nil	Weather—fair and seasonable. The crops are good. The rubbee sowing is progressing favourably. Fever is still bad.
35	Maldah, „ 2 „	Nil	Weather—fine and getting cool. The reports about the crops are still good. The price of rice is high on account of heavy exportations. Fever is still prevalent.
36	Sonthal Perghs. „ 3 „ Deoghur ...	0·06 0·73	Weather—cloudy and unusually warm All accounts continue good. In some places a light shower would have benefited the dhan on very high land, but the absence of rain will not prevent the gross outturn being exceptionally good.
ORISSA.
ORISSA DIVN. 37	Cuttack, Nov. 2 '78	1·75	Weather—cloudy and rainy. The rainfall has been highly beneficial to the crops. The early sarad is ripening, and reaping has commenced in a few irrigated tracts. The late sarad is in excellent condition, and is in ear in some places. A portion of the cold-weather crops in Kendrapara sub-division has been destroyed by a swarm of locusts which visited that place on the 25th October. Cholera continues.
38	Pooree, Oct. 31 „	6·34	Weather—rainy and cloudy. Heavy rain fell during the week. The laghu crop has been harvested. Sarad rice is progressing well. Miscellaneous crops, such as gram and urhur are promising. Beali and mandia are being harvested. Common rice sells at $11\frac{13}{16}$ to 21 Calcutta seers for the rupee. Public health is good.
39	Balasore, Nov. 1 „	5·54	The weather was fine and apparently settled until the 29th October, when rain commenced, which has continued almost up to the time of report. This rain has averted heavy loss, which was expected in the northern and central parts of the district, and more rain is not required. Malarious fever has broken out in the vicinity of the Suburnarekha river.
CHOTA NAGPORE.
	South-West Frontier Agency.
40	Hazareebagh, Nov. 1 '78	0·03	Weather—seasonable. Cloudy, with easterly winds. There is no alteration to report. The cloudy weather is unfavourable, as tending to produce blight, but otherwise prospects are much the same.
41	Lohardugga, „ 2 „	0·27	Weather—unsettled, with heavy clouds hanging about. A little rain has fallen during the week, but not sufficient to do much good. The prospects of the rubbee crops are very indifferent everywhere, and from the Palamow sub-division it is reported that the paddy has suffered severely from drought, and that the general average yield will not exceed 8 annas
42	Singbhoom, „ 1 „	0·26	Weather—cloudy, with drizzling rain. The state and prospects of the crops are very satisfactory. There has been rain almost all over the district. The Deputy Commissioner, who has been on tour in south Kolhan, writes—"The dhan crop has everywhere been good, but some damage has been done in some "pirs" to that transplanted on the high lands by the recent drought, and in other "pirs" a bug called by the natives gondi has entered the grain before it has ripened. The estimated loss is about two annas. The rubbee crops everywhere are splendid, especially the Sirgoojah. It has rained steadily for three days." The District Superintendent, who was on tour in the east of the district, also reports very favourably of the crops there; and reports from the west of the district are also very favourable. Fever still prevails.
43	Manbhoom, „ 2 „	0·19	Weather—cloudy in the morning and sunny in the rest of the day. The state and prospects of the crops are favourable on the whole. There will be short-coming of about two annas crop only owing to want of rain during the latter end of October.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h., 22h.; the maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction and movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

Reports of fluctuation of Traffic on the East Indian Railway for five weeks ending 28th September 1878.

EAST INDIAN RAILWAY, TRAFFIC MANAGER'S OFFICE, JAMALPORE, THE 24TH OCTOBER 1878.

Remarks on Traffic of East Indian Railway for five weeks ending 28th September 1878.

THE approximate figures for the period are—

	Coaching.		Goods.		Total.
	No.	Rs.	Mds.	Rs.	Rs.
1878	637,174	7,80,556	47,01,278	18,93,786	26,84,342
1877...	641,583	8,12,656	64,24,352	20,45,062	28,57,718
Increases	.....	.....	.....	.....	.....
Decreases	4,409	32,100	17,23,074	1,51,276	1,70,376

The small decrease shown arises from fluctuations in pilgrim traffic.

In merchandise traffic it will be seen the decrease in weight carried is as much as 27 per cent., while earnings have fallen only 7½ per cent.; while the decrease in the earnings on grain is four lakhs, or nearly three times the net decrease in the total.

The principal staples affected are—

Increases.

Betel-nuts.	Ghee.	Other metals.	Salt.
Coal.	Hides.	Piece-goods and twist.	Saltpetre.
Cotton.	Iron.

Decreases.

Commissariat beer.	Gunny.	Seeds.	Sugar.
Government stores.	Jaggree.	Stone.	Tea.
Grain.	For Railway material.

Increases.

Betel-nuts ... ... Mds. 4,241 Rs. 4,093

This is a slight reaction from a depressed trade, which has no doubt felt some relief from the improving state of things in the North-Western Provinces.

Coal, upwards ... ... Mds. 25,498 Rs. 3,614 downwards ... ... ,, 4,08,498 ,, 53,052

The increase in upward coal is not large, but it is satisfactory as comparing with a period which itself showed an increase of maunds 96,000; Rs. 40,000 over the corresponding month of 1876.

The increase in downward coal was very large, stocks being accumulated before the holidays, which fell early this year.

The same remarks may also be applied to—

Iron ... ... Mds. 12,734 Rs. 13,846
Other metals... ... ... ,, 6,136 ,, 9,668
Piece-goods and twist ... ... ,, 97,312 ,, 1,34,740
Salt ... ... ,, 82,577 ,, 26,805

in all of which a brisk trade is carried on just before the suspension of business which the Doorga Poojah holidays bring about.

Cotton ... ... Mds. 30,025 Rs. 41,064

This is a somewhat satisfactory rally after the long depression. The new crop is believed to be a good one, and a little business may be expected; but if the accounts of late as to the American cotton harvest are to be credited, it is hopeless to expect that Bengal cotton can gain a European market in any large quantity.

Ghee ... ... Mds. 13,696 Rs. 28,134

This increase is partly from Behar to Howrah, but mainly from Allahabad and Cawnpore.

Hides ... ... Mds. 12,614 Rs. 7,939

The demand for Patna and North-Western hides is still active, and supplies keep arriving to an extent wholly unexpected by dealers.

Saltpetre ... ... Mds. 11,419 Rs. 5,942

This is merely a set-off against the decrease shown in the previous month.

Decreases.

Grain and pulses ... ... Mds. 19,45,841 Rs. 3,93,500 Tons. 71,400

Made up as under—

Rice	Tons.	—16,300	Rs. —98,300
Wheat	,,	—5,200	,, +26,500
Other grains	,,	—17,700	,, —1,39,700
Pulses	,,	—32,200	,, —1,82,000
Net decrease	,,	—71,400	,, —3,93,500

Gunny ... ... Mds. 40,857 Rs. 28,050

This is a natural consequence of the reduced traffic in grain and seeds.

Jaggree ... . Mds. 26,505 Rs. 6,145
Sugar ... ... ,, 27,310 ,, 6,691

The decrease in jaggree is mainly at Cawnpore and Benares, and that in sugar is also in the eastern portion of the North-Western Provinces, where there was so distinct a failure of the crop.

Foreign Railway material... .. .. Mds. 4,730 Rs. 13,697

This is a very slight fluctuation, and lies mainly with the material sent up from Bombay for Agra Scindia (State Railway) Bridge last year.

Seeds ... ... Mds. 2,50,396 Rs. 70,686

This reaction from the abnormal seed traffic which distinguished the latter part of 1877 continues. Stocks of oilseeds are but small up-country, and the offer of a special quantity rate at Patna produced no effect whatever.

Stone ... ... Mds. 55,213 Rs. 4,241

This is mainly in the despatch of road-making stone from Luckeeserai to Patna. It will be seen that the effect on earnings is very small.

Tea ... ... Mds. 9,817 Rs. 6,008

This is the effect of the opening up of the Northern Bengal State Railway, and the wretched state of maintenance of the old Darjeeling-Caragola road.

The Darjeeling tea must be expected now to take the new route.

The train mileage for the period has been—

	Coaching.	Goods.	Total.
1878	233,070	348,527	581,597
1877	222,520	442,813	665,333
Increase	10,550	.....	.....
Decrease	.....	94,286	83,736

Earnings per train mile—

	Coaching.	Goods.	Total.
	Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P.
1878	3 6 3	5 11 6	4 9 10
1877	3 10 5	4 9 11	4 4 9
Increase	.....	1 1 7	0 5 1
Decrease	0 4 2	.....	.....

The traffic on the Jubbulpore line—

	Coaching.		Goods.		Total.
	No.	Rs.	Mds.	Rs.	Rs.
1878	22,684	73,335	4,13,209	1,15,370	1,88,705
1877	30,107	77,737	12,04,480	2,98,149	3,75,886
Increase	.....	.....	.....	.....	.....
Decrease	5,423	4,402	7,91,271	1,82,779	1,87,181

There is here too a falling off in coaching earning owing to a fluctuation in the pilgrimage traffic, and there is of course a wide interval between the merchandise earnings of September 1877 and September 1878 ; but a comparison with 1876, when the weight was maunds 2,40,000 and the earning in merchandise traffic only 69,000, shows how the traffic of this line is really growing.

The train mileage on the Jubbulpore line has been—

	Coaching.	Goods.	Total.
1878	22,883	28,658	51,541
1877	23,277	74,831	98,108
Increase	.....	.....	.....
Decrease	394	46,173	46,567

and the earnings per goods train mile are thus Rs. 4-0-5 against Rs. 3-15-9.

N. L. C. CARTER, Acting Traffic Manager.

Report on the Fluctuations in Traffic on the Northern Bengal State Railway for the month of September 1878.

General Remarks.

The total traffic lifted during the month shews a falling off of 4,618 maunds as compared with last month; this comparison is however misleading, as there was one working day more in August, and the net decrease therefore stands at about 2,000 maunds. Food-grain, under which head we carried in May last 128,619 maunds, has, for the periods under review, fallen to 9,015 maunds.

Increases.

Gunny-bags ... ... Mds. 66

The demand during the month for machine-made gunnies for export appears to have led to slightly increased rates being obtained, and there was consequently more enquiry for hand-made bags.

Hides ... ... Mds. 13

The traffic in this staple, as I have explained in previous reports, is most fluctuating; in fact it does not appear to be influenced by the ordinary rules of trade; an unfavourable market often resulting in an increase in despatches, and vice versâ.

Piece-goods ... ... Mds. 447

The extra weight carried in this staple is due to stocks being sent forward in view of the cessation of business during the Poojahs.

Railway material ... ... Mds. 7,294

This increase is principally due to the arrival of the machinery for the Saidpur locomotive shops.

Tobacco ... ... Mds. 4,316

The traffic in this staple is steadily on the increase, more especially from Rungpore, and, as soon as the roads are passable, large quantities are, I am led to believe, likely to be despatched from Haldibari.

Decreases.

Ale ... ... Mds. 433

The falling off in this traffic is accounted for by the despatch of commissariat beer having ceased.

Food-grain ... ... Mds. 7,853

The same causes that have affected this traffic since June continue still to influence it; we may, however, with the termination of the rains, look forward confidently to a speedy revival.

Ginger ... ... Mds. 1,717

There has literally been nothing doing in this staple in the Calcutta market during the month, and this has for a time checked despatches.

Jute ... ... Mds. 702

Although there has been no decided decline in the price of this article, sales have with difficulty been effected, and holders are no doubt waiting a favourable turn in the market.

Seeds ... ... Mds. 778

The traffic carried under this head has been almost entirely in linseed and mustard seed for sowing purposes, and the decrease in the weight lifted is the natural result of this operation being at hand.

Sugar ... ... Mds. 759

There has been less demand for this article in the Calcutta market, and the prices ruling during the month have been somewhat unfavourable to despatchers, who are no doubt holding back in the hope of obtaining better rates.

Tea ... ... Mds. 2,612

The decrease in the weight carried under this head is accounted for by the cart road between our Siliguri station and the gardens having been breached in several places at the beginning of the month; the result is merely a postponement of the traffic.

Other goods ... ... Mds. 1,891

This is principally made up of small through consignments; and the state of the road, which so prejudicially affected the downward despatch of tea, no doubt for a time caused a stoppage in despatches from Calcutta by the carrying companies, who held off until there was some prospect of carting the goods away from Siliguri.
